He laid the con...tions in Somerset before the re...rm leader, and asked him if they ...d not offer his encouragement for ...he formation of a Colby club. The ...upshot of that conference was that Senator Colby agreed to launch the purification movement in Somerset, and steps were immediately taken to bring it to a head.

Robert Clark, Jr., was secured as chairman of the proposed club. Mr. Clark, however, was compelled to leave town in a business trip, and a committee of three well known anti-organization men took up the active work of organization. The three were W. W. Webb, Dr. T. H. Cooley and E. D. Hutchinson.

They consulted with former Senator Lewis A. Thompson of Somerville, and he joined the movement. Plans will be made for the speedy organization of the club. Nothing has been done yet of a definite nature, but the men at the head of the movement are keeping themselves in touch with the situation, ready for a full plunge into the campaign as soon as it is laid out.

It is supposed that A. V. D. Honeyman, now that he has returned from Europe, will be drawn into the movement. The proposed club will, it is assumed, as a matter of course, be firmly anti-Reed.

AFTER AUTOMOBILE SPEEDERS IN DUNELLEN

ROAD TO BE MARKED OFF AND MARSHALS WILL WORK STOP-WATCHES.

The Dunellen authorities have taken steps to stop the speeding of automobiles in that place. The main street of the borough offers an inviting straight stretch, immediately after the autoists clear Plainfield, with its restrictions, and the citizens have suffered so much from speeding that action is felt to be imperative.

A section of the road will be marked off and two or three borough marshals will take their stand along the way with stop watches. They will note the number of every car as the machines go by, and a comparison of figures will enmesh the speeders who may have broken the law in a legal net. The violators will be arrested on sight.

The marshals will not be uniformed and the section of the road chosen for their operations will not be marked in a way to be noticed by outsiders, so that the autoists will have no way by which they can spot the spotters, as they did when the police here went after them. The borough authorities are getting ready for some prosecutions under the crusade. Borough Counsel Von Minden has posted himself thoroughly on the new law, and every autoist who may be arrested will be prosecuted with a vigor calculated to disgust him with speeding in Dunellen. It is the general aim of the borough authorities to make Dunellen so hot for the speed cranks that they will mark it dangerous and either slow down in passing through or go over some other way.

PRIMROSE MINSTRELS TO RE-ORGANIZE HERE

TROUPE WILL GIVE A SHOW IN LOCAL THEATRE ON JUNE 28.

George H. Primrose's big minstrel organization, considered one of the best touring the country at the present day, is to reorganize in Plainfield for the coming season and incidentally give its first performance in the New Plainfield theatre. The arrangements were agreed upon yesterday by Manager Counihan and Mr. Primrose and the troupe will come to this city on June 20 prepared for one week of hard rehearsing. On Wednesday night, June 27, the entire company will give a big "fire-works" parade, as Mr. Primrose calls it, and the next night a public exhibition will be given. Arrangements had previously been made for the show's appearance on October 16 and this will stand just the same.

Mr. Primrose is no stranger to Plainfield as he has frequently appeared here in performances and when George Thatcher lived on West Seventh street, he was a frequent caller there when off the road. In recent years he has been associated with Lew Dockstader, but severed business relations with him two seasons ago to take out his own company. It numbers eighty people and includes two Plainfielders in the working force, Henry Ackerman, head stage carpenter, and Peter Winn, electrician. Last year the rehearsals were held at Jacobs' theatre, Elizabeth, but hearing that Plainfield again had a playhouse, Mr. Primrose decided that this city would be a better place for the present time.

The performance on June 28 is a "special" affair and has nothing to do with the formal opening of the house on August 10.

Nurses' Lawn Fete.

The nurses' lawn fete for the benefit of Somerset Hospital, Somerville, will be given as usual this year under the management of the Women's Auxiliary on the afternoon and evening of June 7 on the lawn at the former residence of former Senator William J. Keys. The place will be illuminated by electric lights furnished gratuitously by the Public Service Corporation. There will be music by the Citizens' band, of Somerville.

Coal Bill Discount.

At their meeting last night, the coal dealers decided on a twenty-five cent discount per ton on all coal delivered in June, if bills are settled within ten days of delivery. The price of coal was maintained at $6.50 a ton for egg, stove and chestnut coal, and at $5 for pea.

Warren Township School Closing.

The Warren township school will close for the summer today. The exercises are to be held tonight and addresses will be given by Principal H. C. Krebs, of the borough schools, and S. S. Swackhamer.

FREEHOLDERS FIGURE ON $296,000 FOR YEAR

UNION CO. BOARD INCREASES APPROPRIATION $45,000 OVER LAST YEAR.

The Union County Board of Freeholders held a special meeting yesterday afternoon at the courthouse at Elizabeth to decide on the amount of money to be raised by taxation to run the county for another year. The amount fixed was $296,000, which is an increase of $45,000 over last year's appropriation.

The greater part of this increase is due to the passage of new laws by the last Legislature, the enforcement of which will entail much additional expense. Last year at this time the county had a balance in the treasury of $34,000. This year the balance is only $15,000.

A committee of five was appointed to report the cost of building a new bridge across the Elizabeth river at First street, Elizabethport, to enable that section of the city to have direct trolley communication with the village of Tremly and the towns of Roosevelt and Sewaren. Two committees were also appointed to report the cost of repairing bridges in Rahway and Westfield.

He declares that in the future he will have nothing more to do with snakes.

Enrollment Blanks Being Circulated Throughout County—Plan Mass Meeting.

The Colby spirit seems to be spreading vigorously in Union county. Reports from the different centers encourage the leaders greatly.

In this city over 200 names have been enrolled by the Colby league, although the blanks have been in circulation but a few days. Elizabeth has enrolled the same number, and Summit's branch has a charter list of 250.

Enrollment blanks will be circulated in Rahway and some of the smaller towns of the county today. Steady growth of the League membership is expected.

One of the matters of importance which is being discussed by the League leaders is the date of the Colby-Record mass meeting in Elizabeth, which was scheduled for sometime next month. President William N. Runyon says that he hoped to be able to have a time settled upon at the meeting of the executive committee this week, but owing to the death of Mr. Colby's daughter, it was now doubtful when Mr. Colby would be able to make a date to appear at a meeting there. This matter has been held over until the next meeting of the committee, which will be at the call of the chair.

"BOB" FITZSIMMONS HELPING THE CARNIVAL

WILL MAKE A HORSE SHOE AND EXHIBIT HIS LION "SENATOR."

Eager to add his little mite toward making the hospital carnival a great, big success, Pugilist "Bob" Fitzsimmons today hit upon a couple of schemes that received the sanction of Mayor Fisk and will be put in effect tomorrow. This afternoon "Bob" will make a large horse shoe, twenty-five inches in length, embellish it with gold, stamp his name on it and then have Mrs. Fitzsimmons decorate it with a handsome bow of red and white satin ribbon, the Red Cross colors. This will be put on exhibition at the Carnival tonight and chances on it, ranging from one cent to $5, will be sold. The scheme has been so arranged that every person buying a ticket will get full value for the money and the prospect of getting the "Fitz" trophy will no doubt result in a quick sale of all the numbers.

The former world's champion pugilist holds the title of the "Champion Horse Shoe Maker," having turned out a shoe in the best time ever known. He learned the blacksmith trade with his brother in New Zealand and since gaining fame as a fighter has frequently turned his ability at making shoes to good account. Shortly after the disaster at Galveston, Tex., he turned out one for a sufferer's benefit at Jersey City that netted $1,001. The one he is to make for the Carnival will be exactly like it, with the exception of the ribbon, which the other did not have.

The other scheme which "Bob" thought up and suggested to Mr. Fisk was to bring down to the Carnival tomorrow afternoon and night his pet lion, "Senator," and put him on exhibition. "Senator" is but twenty-two months old yet weighs 500 pounds and is a splendid specimen of the "King of Beasts."

"H'If you'll put 'im in a tent," said Bob to Mr. Fisk, "H'll come down and 'bark.' H'anything, ye know, to 'elp along the good cause."

Accordingly, a place will be fixed for "Senator" and tomorrow afternoon and night, visitors to the White Ci[illegible]

IT'S "JUDGE NEWCORN" NOW, IF YOU PLEASE

ASSEMBLYMAN TAKES OATH OF OFFICE AS DISTRICT JUDGE.

William [illegible] appointed judge, Esq., who was [illegible] Court to be estab[illegible] new District received his commi[illegible] ing, and later in the [illegible] Plainfield, into offices by County Cl[illegible] mon C. Calvert, at Elizabeth.

Judge Newcorn has communi[illegible] with Councilman Leslie M. Dan[illegible] chairman of the finance committee, regarding quarters for the new court, it being up to the Common Council to provide them. While it is not definitely known there is an opinion that the Common Council rooms will probably be used for the purpose for the present, at least. These rooms are exceedingly well adapted for holding court.

It was reported here today that Judge Newcorn has selected John Carty, son of Thomas Carty, of Orchard place, as clerk for the new court. This position pays $600 a year. Mr. Carty has been employed by a New York broker. It is known that he was a candidate for the place. The selection of a constable for the court has not yet been announced.

WM. M'ELROY MUST EXPLAIN WHERE HE GOT QUANTITY OF JEWLLRY.

Pending an investigation by the police to find out where he secured a quantity of cheap jewelry found in his possession, William McElroy, of this city, was held for a further hearing by Magistrate Moore, in the Second district police station, Philadelphia, Tuesday. Hhe was arrested, while intoxicated, at Eleventh and South streets, where he was making frantic efforts to climb a trolley pole for the edification of a crowd. In his antics several bits of jewelry fell from McElroy's pockets, and when taken [illegible] the station and searched the [illegible] and three nickel watches, a [illegible] cheap rings, as many plated [illegible] half a dozen teaspoons, a [illegible]t knife, a couple of shirt [illegible] brooch and other small ar[illegible]

On Friday, June 22, the University Colored Quartette, which visited Plainfield a short time ago, will give a musical entertainment. Some time in the near future, members of the club are to give a mock trial, "A Breach of Promise" and after that "The Merchant of Venice."

"As You Like It" Postponed.

Owing to the unsettled condition of the weather Miss Hartridge has decided to postpone the presentation of the play, "As You Like It," by the pupils of her school, to Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The play will be given at the John Taylor Johnston estate on East Front street. Miss Palmer's recital, which was to have been given at the Hartridge School, this afternoon, has been postponed to Wednesday afternoon, June 6, at 4 o'clock.

Grand Master to Visit Lodge.

Grand Master F. P. Fowler, of the Grand Lodge, A. O. U. W., of New Jersey, will pay a fraternal visit to Columbia Lodge, No. 58, tonight, and have something to say regarding the action taken at the last session of the Grand Lodge in providing an emergency fund.

The Elks did their second [illegible] hard labor as boomers, and did [illegible] well. They turned out in large numbers, and the workers kept things hustling, while the unassigned members rambled about with money in each hand.

These Elks served on the attractions:

Exalted Ruler William Runyon, James Dodd, George Schoonmaker, G. O. Stevents, Alex. Findlay, S. F. T. Wilbur, W. L. Hetfield, Jr., Herbert Buxton, Carroll Runyon, T. M. Muir, John Cose, John P. Emmons, Frank Boos, J. J. Slevin, John Conway, Clarence Teel, Thomas Hanna, Edward A. Laing, John H. Worth, Erwin Neighbour, John Bowman, H. B. McDonald, John A. Bullard, E. D. Cutting, John Auten, William Townley, Walter Apgar, William Counihan, Harry Van Emburgh, A. R. Fisk, W. C. Smith, J. C. Blimm, Alfred Prudhon, Lewis Bellis, Ralph P. Bache, Fred Nelson.

All the shows played to good-sized audiences. The circus, as usual, was crowded. All nights, light or heavy, find the sawdust ring a potent attraction that cannot be resisted. The vaudeville show did a big business.

Chairman Fisk gave a new turn to the appearance of the Eureka Trio last night. He took them from the concert garden and put them on at the semi-open ice cream tent. They drew a lot of people, and the ice cream sales took a big jump. They will be kept at the tent for the rest of the carnival. That arrangement gives the carnival visitors a chance to hear fine singing and string music, from a comfortable seat, for ten cents, with a plate of ice cream thrown in.

Gene Tracy, the Orangeade man, was officially declared the best baker on the grounds by Chairman Fisk, last night. Gene is certainly great. He has a bewilderingly periphrastic flow of circumlocutory eloquence, and shouts it out without fanning for breath or ideas. Mr. Fisk has kept Gene on the jump to draw crowds to the different attractions, and Gene is looking for a tongue-tied partner to help him out at the orangeade stand. Gene has all the brains necessary for business and the only thing the partner will need is money. "Money," confided Gene to a reporter last night, "is the sine non sequitur."

The Knights of the Golden Eagle will go on duty again tonight, and the Juniors will take charge of the wind-up tomorrow. The pupils of the Plainfield Business College, who did such good service Wednesday afternoon, will be in charge again tomorrow afternoon, by special request of the carnival committee.

Unprecedented Sale of Women's Suits.

Beginning Saturday Morning at 9:30.

Gladsome news is this for all women who are looking for a handsome Summer Suit at a low price. Only through the most tremendous efforts, the pulling of every wire and the utilization of our power to command the lowest prices could we secure this lot of splendid, fashionable Summer Suits at a price that would bring them to you at little, if any, more than actual cost of the trimmings.

$18 and $25 Women's Summer Suits will go for $6.50

Another style with Eton trimmed with handsome braids in three widths—very elaborate and showy, with silk Princess girdle; lined with silk peau de cygne; materials are light-colored serge; to this lot we have added a number of broken sizes of taffeta and moire suits which will prove of extraordinary value.

Moderate changes for alterations. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Good News for Men

Men's $9.98 Suits for $7.50

Men's $15.00 Suits for $10.00

Men's $18 to $23 Suits for $15.00

Until recently the suits we here offer were sold at prices ranging from $9.98 to $23—prices that were entirely fair for clothing of such exceptional quality as we sell.

There is only one reason for this cut in the prices, and that is the suits are broken sizes—you cannot find a full line of sizes in each style, but the choice is wide enough to satisfy all who come.

The fabrics are cassimeres, cheviots and fancy worsteds, all in the most fashionable patterns and shades, and the workmanship on every suit is of the best, equal in all particulars to the best custom work—all hand padded and cut in the most stylish models—suitable for young men as well as the middle aged, and equaling suits that good dressers would willingly pay $15 to $30 for.

DIAMOND DUST.

As the prize ginger cracker team the All Nationals will take the championship. Harry Blimm is hot on their trail for a game.

"Grandmother" Courtney was several degrees slower than when he played here three seasons ago. In the afternoon game he was relegated to the outfield.

You can also put Turkey McGoey down in the broken glass list. Outside of finding fault with the umpire he did nothing except to strike out and let balls go through his fingers.

Jack O'Neil created a record for heavy hitting by cracking out four two baggers and getting a free pass, which equals 1,000 per cent.

And Willie Deegan also had his batting eye. Out of four times at the bat he had a triple and double decker to his credit.

George Mallen captivated the crowd in the afternoon game by two sensational catches in center garden. George's left leg is still out of gear.

Hank Mathewson has yet a little to learn about the art of twirling. He pitched a fairly good game in the morning but the errors behind him were responsible for the one-sided result.

It was the biggest slugging bee ever enjoyed by the natives and will last for a couple of weeks.

Jack O'Neil and Kid Brogan were hypnotized by Mathewson in the morning game but conditions were reversed in the P. M. slaughter.

McGrath is more fitted to take Pat Kerwin's position on the street brigade than to play ball or manage a team. McGrath was a very disgusted man at noon Wednesday when he threatened to cut their money in half. He would have been fully justified in sending them back to New York by freight without rations.

Tommy Curley is recovering his nerve and is beginning to hit the ball.

It was discovered Wednesday that Plainfield has two "no hit" pitchers on its staff.

"Auntie" Donahue has also gone back since his visit to Plainfield last season. His exhibition on the initial bag in the morning game was very porkish indeed.

The Plainfield Baseball Association will hold a meeting at the Hotel Iroquois Monday night at 8 o'clock. It is important that the members attend.

The Holy Cross team defeated the Norwood A. C., Wednesday, on Cricket Field in a one-sided game by the score of 25 to 5. Bud Klien and Charles Loizeaux, assisted by substitutes, formed the battery for the Norwoods, while Ira Vail was on the slab for Holy Cross, backed up by "Old Faithful" Earl Moran.

Tomorrow afternoon on Crescent Oval the crack team representing St. John's Catholic Club, of Jersey City, will oppose the locals. Although the St. John aggregation is comparatively unknown in this section it is nevertheless a strong aggregation and up to this season represented Nyack, N. Y., on Saturdays. This year the team is playing on the road Saturdays and in Jersey City on Sundays. For several seasons the St. John's have been recognized as the semi-professional champions of Jersey City and is the same club that graduated Bill Heffron, who is now playing right field for Plainfield. Heffron has a large following in Plainfield and the team will bring a crowd of rooters along to whoop things up a little. Manager Daab has arranged a series of three games with the team to be played in Hoboken for the championship of Hudson county.

Who said the Plainfields couldn't bat? Sergeant Leonard declared that hits were flying around with as much freedom as bullets did at San Juan eight years ago this Fourth of July.

After being shut out of getting a swat in the morning game Kid Brogan got real mad and stung the ball for keeps in the afternoon. Five bingos. Just think of it. If that happened in Japan the kid would be breveted Most High Jago of the Order of the High Kite.

The St. Johns will bring along with them a twirler named Williams, who bears a reputation down there just like Phil. Smith enjoys in Plainfield.

(Other sporting news on page eight).

Mr. Bartle, of German Valley, who has been visiting his daughter, Mrs. F. D. Woodhull, of West Front street, has returned home.

Mrs. Guy Hillman, of West Front street, who has been seriously ill, is now considered out of danger and is steadily improving.

BIGGEST UNDERTAKING.

The carnival, which closes tomorrow night, after a twelve days run, is the biggest thing ever undertaken and carried on successfully by the people of the city and borough. Even with all the bad weather the patronage has been most surprising. The Memorial day attendance aggregated more than 16,000, but that was by no means the banner day so far as receipts are concerned.

One of the gratifying features has been that everything that Plainfield business houses could supply was bought from them. Another is the remarkable way in which the people generally have taken hold of the undertaking, contributing their services and doing all in their power to make the receipts as large as possible. A third good thing is that the net receipts will be spent right here in the city, inasmuch as the enterprise is for the sole benefit of the hospital.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—Cather's auction sale of horses, wagons, autos., etc., tomorrow, 10:30.

—Miss Ada Decker, of West End avenue, has given up her position as bookkeeper for W. W. Wilson.

—There are forty-two patients at Muhlenberg Hospital, the highest number on record at the institution at one time.

—The monthly meeting of the Common Council will be held Monday night, when some business left over from last month, as well as considerable new business will be disposed of.

—The Plainfield Board of Health will hold its monthly meeting on Tuesday afternoon, June 5, when there will be a report on the condition of the Ruggles property in the West End.

Preparing to Open Summer Camp.

The Plainfield Union, King's Daughters, are making preparations to open the summer camp for the babies on Johnston's Drive. The committee in charge of the camp find that several improvements will be necessary before the place is opened for the season. The camp will be conducted this year the same as in past seasons and Miss Olive DeLany, the trained nurse, will care for the sick babies as before.

F. H. Andrews at P. H. S.

Frederick H. Andrews addressed the pupils of the Plainfield High School this morning, his remarks being directed especially to the members of the senior class, using as a text the Proverb, "Weigh your steps well." He particularly cautioned the boys and girls about to graduate to consider the words of the Proverb well and in going out into the world he wished them all the success possible.

"The Gospel On Wheels."

"The Gospel on Wheels" will be the subject of a talk to be given at the Park Avenue Baptist church Sunday night by C. H. Rust, of New York, district secretary of the American Baptist Publication Society. There will be special music by the choir, assisted by the Sunday-school orchestra. On Sunday, June 10, this church will take a collection for the chapel car work.

Chairman of Committee.

The Republican Club, of New York, has organized its campaign committee at this early date will ex-Assemblyman Edward R. Finch as its chairman. Mr. Finch is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Finch, of Park avenue, this city. A familiar name on the committee is that of Alexander Gilbert, of West Eighth street, president of the Market and Fulton Bank, New York.

BUSY SEASON FOR CO. K

Review, Parade, Team Matches and Encampment to Take Up Its Time.

A CRACK COMPANY

Go To Trenton On June 11; Newark, June 9; Elizabeth, July 4; Sea Girt, July 14.

Since the opening of the new armory at Trenton there have been an unusual number of reviews of the Second Regiment, it affording the regimental officers and other military dignitaries a good opportunity to see the regiment and watch the progress of improvement. Co. K, of this city, has received orders to appear at Trenton on Monday night, June 11, for another regimental review with the Second Regiment. Thus far the local company has turned out the greatest number of men and made the best showing.

On Saturday night, June 9, the company team will visit the First Regiment Armory at Newark, and shoot matches with teams from Co. I, of the First Regiment, and Co. C, from the Fourth Regiment. Two weeks ago the local team won its matches at this armory against one of the crack teams of the State, and it is believed that the Plainfield boys will again be victorious in the coming matches.

On Wednesday, July 4, Co. K, together with the other companies in the Second Regiment, will go to Elizabeth, to attend the exercises in connection with the unveiling of the Soldiers and Sailors' monument, the corner-stone of which was laid on Memorial Day morning by the Masons of the Fifth Masonic District. It is proposed to make this an auspicious occasion and a great many State dignitarnes will be present, including possibly Governor Stokes.

On Saturday, July 14, Co. K will leave for Sea Girt, where it will be in camp for two weeks. Preparatory to that trip the members will begin next week practice shooting at the local armory so that when they get on the range at Sea Girt they will be able to qualify. The armory will be open several nights each week for practice and there will be coaches present to give instructions to the less experienced members. At the meeting of the company Monday night it is expected that several recruits will be received into membership.

In addition to the fact that the company has such an efficient commander in Captain W. B. Martin, who is not only a strict disciplinarian, but a crack marksman, the members themselves are taking unusual interest in their work. Co. K is rated as one of the best in the State Guard.

CHARLES K. IANSON DEAD.

Passed Away in Muhlenberg Hospital This Morning After Few Weeks' Illness.

Charles K. Ianson, one of the oldest residents in the city, died at Muhlenberg hospital this morning, after an illness of a few weeks with a complication of troubles. He was in his eightieth year and had lived in Plainfield since about 1865. He was employed for a long time by the New Jersey Central in the construction department.

There are surviving a widow, one daughter, Mrs. Edwina Moore, of Plainfield, and three sons, one living in Somerville, one in Newark and the other in Plainfield. Mr. Ianson was a member of the First M. E. church and enjoyed a wide local acquaintance.

For Saturday. "Peddie Trunks" at Special Prices.

You seldom have a chance to buy a Trunk under price right in the middle of the busy season, but it was our good fortune to secure from "Peddie" a big lot of Trunks of a pattern they were discontinuing, for about one-third less than the regular prices. The Trunks are strong and durable in every way and up to the "Peddie" standard, have enameled duck covering, imitation linen lining, hard wood slats firmly riveted on, cast brass trimmings, excelsior lock, imitation rawhide binding, three strap hinges and double sole leather straps.

WILL FORT TAKE DIXON'S PLACE NOW?

ESSEX JURIST TEMPORARILY ASSIGNED TO HUDSON CIRCUIT.

Jersey City, June 1.—Chief Justice Gummere has assigned Supreme Court Justice J. Franklin Fort to sit in the Hudson circuit tomorrow, and this leads the members of the Hudson bar to believe that the Essex jurist, who is very popular here, will be permanently assigned to the bench of the late Justice Jonathan Dixon. During the six weeks that this circuit has been without a presiding justice much business has accumulated, and it is understood that one of the first acts of Justice Fort will be to receive the grand jurors and charge them relative to the alleged unlawful conditions existing at "Little Coney Island" in the northern section of the county. Evidence against the resorts of this place has been obtained by members of the Women's Vigilance League, and the same will be presented to the grand jury.

Justice Fort's only previous experience in the Hudson circuit was when he sat for two weeks at the opening of the last December term. At that time Justice Dixon went to the Middlesex-Monmouth circuit to try the New Brunswick election cases for Justice Fort, and the latter opened the term here. In that brief time he made many friends among Hudson lawyers, and it is said he then expressed himself as liking the circuit.

EDITORS ENTERTAINED BY JERSEY CENTRAL DAY'S SAIL ON "ASBURY PARK" ENJOYED BY 150 GUESTS.

The Jersey Central gave its fifth annual "blow-out" to the editors of daily and weekly papers along its lines yesterday, a day on the palatial steamer "Asbury Park" being the entertainment afforded. In addition to the officials of the road, there were 150 editors and their wives in the party which made the trip up the East river as far as Williamsburg bridge and then up the Hudson as far as Peekskill. On the return trip, an excellent opportunity was afforded to view the warships of Admiral Evans' squadron anchored in the North river.

During the day a delightful luncheon was served. After the "feed," P. Hall Packer, of the Seabright News, acted as chairman on the adoption of resolutions praising the roads for its hospitality. Speeches were made by several of the guests and rousing cheers given for the host. The music was furnished by the Neptune High School orchestra, of Asbury Park, consisting of fifty pieces.

Ever since W. G. Besler and his staff have taken hold of the road, the most cordial relations have existed between the Central and the newspaper fraternity and the affair yesterday cemented the bonds. The day was all that could be desired and combined with the sweet music, enjoyable trip on the water and the delicious luncheon, the editors had a fine time. Mr. Besler, himself, was with the party for part of the time, being put ashore in the afternoon in order that he might fill some pressing business engagements.

The guests had been conveyed to the boat at Jersey City by vestibuled trains and when they returned in the same way at night they were shouting for the Jersey Central. The day had been a particularly enjoyable one to the editors, among whom were A. L. Force, of The Daily Press, and wife, and George W. Day, of the Dunellen Call, and his wife.

The officers of the road forming the reception committee consisted of W. G. Besler, vice president and general manager; C. M. Burt, general passenger agent; C. W. Huntington, general superintendent; W. C. Hope, assistant general passenger agent; H. E. Ruhe, district passenger agent, Allenton; I. E. Whyte, district passenger agent, Asbury Park; C. J. Gummersbach, district passenger agent, Scranton; C. K. Armstrong, district passenger agent, Newark; W. H. Hayden, advertising agent.

NEGRO ESCAPES THE WOMEN GUARDS

When a trained nurse opened yesterday afternoon a linen closet in the residence of J. W. Ballentine, on East High street, Somerville, she was confronted by a negro, who fell to the floor in a fit.

The screams of the woman brought a number of servants to the scene. There were no men in the house at the time, and the women pluckily surrounded the negro and waited for him to come to. When the fits subsided the negro was taken to a portico in the rear of the house, where he rested in a chair.

Dr. William H. Long was summoned to treat the man. The physician at once discovered the negro was feigning, and, under the pretext of getting a restorative, quickly returned to his office and telephoned for the police.

During his absence, the negro pushed aside the women who surrounded him, jumped from the portico and sprinted across lots in the direction of Clark's woods, at the edge of the town. Dr. Long pursued the negro on a bicycle and saw him disappear. The physician soon was joined by Policemen Martin and Henderson, who searched the woods. The man escaped.

He was seen an hour later by a farmer running in the direction of the Watchung Mountain. It is believed the negro is in the mountains, and an attempt will be made to capture him. It is believed the negro secreted himself in the house for the purpose of robbery.

Fireman Resigns.

Mrs. Humphrey, wife of Captain Chauncey Humphrey, of San Francisco, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Waring, of Park avenue.

SALESMEN WANTED
For several really high-grade specialty salesmen—the kind no salary offer would ordinarily interest—we have very attractive openings. We know of men who are earning from $5,000 to $6,000 annually, simply selling dealers for a large and well known manufacturer of a well advertised staple. To any successful salesman who is now selling a general line and who can bring profitable and attractive side line, an excellent position will also be made.

GOTHAM'S AMUSEMENTS.

Lyric: 42d St. West of Broadway, Telephone, 1646 Bryant. Evenings at 8:15. Regular matinees Wednesday and Saturdays. Henry E. Dixey in Grace Livingston Furniss' dramatization of Harold McGrath's novel, "The Man on the Box."

Casino: Broadway and 39th St. Telephone, 1646 Bryant. Evenings 8:15. Thursday and Saturday matinees. "The Social Whirl," a musical comedy by Charles F. Doty, Joseph Herbert, and Gustay Kerker. Cast includes Adele Ritchie, Joseph Coyne, Ross and Fenton. Maude Raymond, Frederic Bond, Ada Lewis and 100 others.

What promises to become one of the popular features at "Brighton Beach Park" this summer is the "Pike," which branches off the esplanade at right angles and follows the line of the ocean front for nearly a quarter of a mile. On either side will be shows of all kinds, a regular street faid, and it will be a difficult person indeed who cannot find a great deal which will amuse them. There are laughter making devices, rifle shooting, illusions, a dog, pony and money show, which is called "Monkeytown" and in which the little animals give a reproduction of the famous "Fighting the Flames" act which has attracted so much attention in other localities. Then there is the famous Mexican midget, Chiquita, who is said to be the most perfectly formed little bit of femininity in the world. Another attraction which seems certain to attract a lot of attention is the collection of pythons and boa constrictors which are exhibited by Professor Lewis. The smallest of these reptiles is said to measure twenty-four feet in length and to weigh over three hundreds pounds and there are fifty-two of them besides a most interesting collection of smaller reptiles. The "Pike" and the Ferari Wild Animal Kingdom, which opened to the public on Saturday, were well patronized. On June 14, the Pawnee Bill Wild West and Far East show takes possession of the big arena which has been prepared for its reception.

At the Savoy theatre, "The Girl Patsy," was the cause of a great deal of criticism pro and con. Acton Davies, dramatic critic of The Sun, said, "It created no enthusiasm." Roland Hennessy, dramatic critic of The News, said: "Miss Mary Ryan's acting is simplicity in itself without seeming endeavor to be tragic, but the effect is overwhelming, and the audience gave her round after round of applause." One thing is certain. The public is more than pleased with the play. As one critic said: "The Girl Patsy" can be put down as one of the best of the plays produced in 1906, and will unquestionably add greatly to the fame of its author, Jane Mauldin Feigl, and little Mary Ryan, the pathetic girl in rags." The Savoy theatre, which is one of the best of the Frohman houses, has inaugurated bargain matinees for Wednesday and Saturday during the summer run of "The Girl Patsy." These prices will be just one-half of the regular charges.

WITH Princess or close-fitting gowns nothing will give such a beautiful contour to the figure as the worn in place of a corset cover. A perfect bust supporter and corset cover combined. Made of most durable fine batiste, lace trimmed and lightly boned. Comes well above the top of corset in back, holding the flesh and shoulder blades in place. Easily laundered. Worn with charming effect under the sheerest lingerie waists. Sizes 32 to 48 inches bust measure.

MRS. APPLEGATE WELL AGAIN!
"I have had a bruised leg and foot for several years, caused by the brass eyelets of my shoe, which became very sore and painful especially at night. It itched, burned and ached me till it nearly set me crazy. I used everything I found and was suggested to ease it and nothing gave me any relief till I found and applied Axienza Cream, which I think is a wonderful remedy for all sores and inflammation of the skin. The hard knots on my legs were as painful as bee stings, with discolored and purple spots. A running sore on my instep size of a half-dollar; the toe of my foot a festering sore clean around to my heel. The bone was sore for a whole year and very painful. I used five and one-half jars of Axienza Cream and healed the sore all up. The foot remained tender and I continued to use to strengthen and toughen the skin until now it is entirely well." MAY GET OLD WESTFIELD TEAM TOGETHER FOR SERIES

GEO. MALLEN IS PLANNING A TOOTHSOME BASEBALL DISH.

There is a possibility that Plainfield and Westfield will meet in an old-fashioned baseball struggle in July and August. George Mallen, captain of the Mt. Ararat combination under Charles Denman, has an idea that he can get practically the whole of the old team together and he has begun laying fences to put the scheme into operation.

George spoke of the plan after the game Decoration Day afternoon. He believes Westfield will support a fast team for two months, with a five-game series with Plainfield in the schedule. The enthusiasts would be more apt to back it in a case like this, where it would be gotten up for the one purpose of trimming Plainfield. Of course, George himself is not figuring on financing the team. That is a little too stiff a proposition for a humble centerfielder, however earnest and industrious he may be. But there are a few sports still in Westfield, and it is counted a certainty that they would come up with the coin if George got a line on the players and a series with Daab.

More of this thing will be heard. It is not a pipe-dream put out to while away an evening hour. Mallen is in deadly earnest in his planning, and the plan itself looks very feasible, indeed. Watch out for some sizzling sport in the dog days.

GOLF HONORS FOR PYNE, EX-INTERCOLLEGIATE.

Morris County Player Leads Big Field in Qualifying and First Rounds.

Percy B. Pyne, 2d, of the Morris County Golf Club, led the field in the eighteen hole medal play qualifying round of the seventh annual championship tournament of the New Jersey State Golf Association, which began yesterday over the links of the Morris County Golf Club. The former intercollegiate champion went out in a capital 37 and back in an even 40 for a 77, two strokes better than Marshal Whitlach and E. A. Freeman, who returned 79 each.

Out of a total of seventy-eight entries there were sixty-five starters. Eleven of the championship division represented either Morris County or Montclair Golf clubs. As if not content with these honors, the same clubs also had a close contest for the team championship. In the play-off Morris County won. There was not a single entry in the tournament from this city, despite the fact that Plainfield has some of the best golfers in the State.

Edgar, chairman.

The Plainfield Country Club will enter several teams in this tournament and judging from recent play is likely to secure a leading position. In the tournament at the club this week the Plainfield tennis players did good work, showing a marked improvement over previous efforts.

BRONZE ATHLETIC TROPHY OFFERED BY W. G. BESLER

IN THE BASEBALL CHAMPIONSHIP OF CENTRAL R. R., A. A.

For the purpose of promoting competition in athletics in a healthy and sportsmanlike way, W. G. Besler, of North Plainfield, vice-president and general manager of the New Jersey Central, has presented to the New Jersey Central Athletic Association a beautiful piece of bronze, for an inter-department baseball championship trophy of the organization to be known as "The Besler Bronze." The presentation was made in the office of Mr. Besler in Liberty street, New York, and in the course of his remarks said "that he hoped such competition would create something more valuable, namely, esprit de corps among the members of the various departments of the railroad that would stand for better sport, better fellowship, and more than either, better service for the company in whose service all the members are."

Pierre P. Garven, president of the association, who is also Mayor of Bayonne, and one of the attorneys for the road, accepter the gift, expressing the thanks of the officers and members, not only for the handsome trophy, but for the support and assistance the company had so generously given in helping to make the association a success and thanked Mr. Besler especially for the personal interest he had manifested.

Nine teams have entered the contest for the "Besler Bronze," and a spirited struggle is anticipated. The teams are from Pier 10, North river; Pier 32, North river; Central Building, New York; Transportation Department, Car Service Department, Car Inspectors, Police Department, Jersey City Freight Office and Elizabethport Transfer Clerks.

The athletic association was organized less than two years ago and today has a membership of about 300, composed most entirely of employees of the New Jersey Central. The association has a splendid athletic field over 550 feet square at Communipaw, and hope to erect thereon within a year or two a commodious clubhouse. The officers, in addition to President Garven, are Harry J. Northrop, vice-president; Joseph S. Dunham, treasurer, and Louis Hooker Palmer, secretary. The board of governors is composed of Edward Dunn, chairman; F. E. Highbie, F. T. Dickerson, A. E. Owen, J. H. Moore and W. J. Dougherty.

GREAT MEN OF SOMERSET

S. S. Swackhammer Tells Mt. Bethel Graduates of Them In Address.

GROWTH OF CHARACTER

Strong Men Come From the Fields and Woods; Narrow Streets of the City Cramp the Soul.

Former Assemblyman S. S. Swackhamer made the chief ad lress at the graduation exercises of the Mt. Bethel School last night. His subject was "The Farmer Boy and the School." He drew an inspiring picture of the strength that springs from the rural life, and to point the lesson of it he read a roster of the freatest men Somerset county has sent out into the world.

Mr. Swacknamer spoke substantially as follows:

"How blest the farmer's simple life;
How pure the joy it yields;
Far from the world's temptestuous strife,
Free in the scented fields.

"By the tall, dark mountains, by the deep-toned seas, by the purling rivulet and the majestic river, in the dim woods and the open fields, we 'look through Nature, up to Nature's God.'

"Emerson says: 'Only as the masters of the world have called Nature to their aid, have they reached the height of magnificence. This is the meaning of their hanging gardens, villas, islands, parks and preserves, to back their faulty personality with these strong accessories.'

"The narrow walls of the city cramp the soul, and even the city dog, for want of room, has learned to wag his tail up and down. It was under an apple tree in his uncle's orchard that Sir Isaac Newton discovered that Law which permeates the Universe and controls alike the pebble and the constellations. It was a solitary peasant girl who read the horologue of the stars, and blushing at the cowardice of a vacillating Dauphin, led him to victory and a crown. It was on the banks of the quiet Avon, that Shakespeare, that matchless painter of the human soul, worked the miracle of the imagination and 'forestalled and beggared posterity.'

'Within the sound of the booming waves, 'on the beachy margin of the sea,' Demosthenes pointed those arrows of his invective before which the tyrant of Macedonia trembled and grew pale. It was amid the shaggy forests of German, that Martin Luther forged the thunderbolt of the Reformation which tore the shackles from the human conscience.

"But turning from general history, let us localize the subject, for Somerset county has produced men of character and brain, men distinguished for genius and achievement.

"Witness William Paterson, the first Attorney General, a member of the convention which met at Philadelphia in 1787, where he and Edmund Randolph were the leading spirits in the framing of the Federal Constitution; a United States' Senator and Governor of New Jersey, who produced the most perfect system of statute law to be found in any State of the Union; who was placed on the Supreme Court bench of the United States by George Washington, and who enrolled among his law students Governor Throop, of Georgia, and the celebrated Aaron Burr.

"Witnes Samuel L. Southard, the intimate friends of James Monroe, who as United States Senator, drew the Missouri Compromise which passed on motion of Henry Clay, and who left the office of Governor to enter the United States Senate of which he became the presiding officer and so continued to the time of his death.

"Witness William L. Dayton, United States Senator, Attorney General and Minister to France (by appointment of Abraham Lincoln), a noted journalist, an able advocate and a skillful diplomat.

"Witnes Andrew Kirk Patrick, lawyer and jurist, Chief Justice of New Jersey for twenty-one years, noted for his opinions which were of deep learning, sound reasoning and polished language; the Judge who decided the famous case of Arnold vs. Mundy and laid down the doctrine which has become established law, that navigable rivers, where the tide ebbs and flows, the ports, bays, coasts and seas, including both the waters and the land under the waters, for the purposes of passing and repassing, navigation, fishing, fowling, sustenance, and all other uses of the water and its products, are common to all the people of New Jersey. And that the proprietors of New Jersey did not, under the grant from the Duke of York, take such a property in the soil of the navigable rivers in this State, that they could grant several fisheries therein.

WANTS THE BUILDING ORDINANCE REVISED

MAYOR SMALLEY SAYS IT IS NOT STRINGENT ENOUGH.

Mayor Smalley has his axe out for boroughites who want to use the sidewalk for building purposes and at last night's council meeting, he instructed Counsellor Charles A. Reed to revise the building ordinance.

"It's an all right ordinance," said the executive, "but it's powers are limited and it doesn't cover half enough territory. It should take in the entire residential section of the borough and the authorities should have the right to stop people from getting into the street with small structures and thus depreciating the value of property in the neighborhood. We had an instance of this kind on Duer street a short time ago when a man tried to build a store with the porch encroaching on the sidewalk. It would not only have been in the way but would have spoiled the appearance of that entire section. I want the ordinance amended so as to enable us to deal rigidly with such cases, not only an Somerset street but in the outlying districts."

Councilman Krewson wanted to know how far the building extended in Plainfield.

"So far as I know," said the mayor, "it goes out to the baseball grounds. "Those who keep track of local events and happenings saw the joke and there was a good laugh.

In the regular order of business, J. V. E. Vanderhoef was granted permission to make repairs to the residence at 39 Prospect place and J. C. Manning, acting for C. Frank French, received a permit to build a one-story brick store on Somerset street adjoining Mr. French's building at Somerset place. The New York and New Jersey Telephone Co. was granted the right to open parts of Craig place and Somerset street to lay conduits and lights were ordered placed on Walters street and one on Watchung avenue between Pearl and Chatham street. On a resolution introduced by Councilman McGee it was voted to have all bills against the borough to be in the hands of the clerk before the last Friday of each month.

TALENTED ARTIST RETURNS FROM FRANCE.

Mrs. Florence Howe Hall's Daughter Studied Under Great Menard.

Miss Caroline Minturn Hall was one of the passengers on the steamer Vaderland, which arrived from Antwerp a few days ago. She will spend some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David P. Hall, of Madison avenue, before going to Newport, where she will be the guest of her grandmother, Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, for the remainder of the summer. Miss Hall has now completed her art studies in Paris, and has brought to this country all her pictures and studies with the exception of those now on exhibition at the new salon in the French capitol.

The Paris correspondent of the Chicago Evening Post speaks thus of Miss Hall and her work now at the Salon: "In the department of designs and cartoons two drawings for pictures—"Evening Over the Chaos" and "The Oaks," by Caroline Minturn Hall, attracts attention. Miss Hall is one of the promising young American painters. She has been for three years a pupil of the great Menard and the growth of her work from year to year is worthy of such a master. As she is the granddaughter of Julia Ward Howe and the niece of Laura E. Richards, the author of "Captain January," one expects extraordinary work from this talented young woman..

Mission Band Meets.

The Young Women's Mission Band of Trinity Reformed church held its last meeting for the season in the parlors of the church yesterday afternoon. LAUNCH SUMMIT BRANCH

Colby Organization Starts Under Powerful Influences in Lawrence's Stronghold.

JUDGE RUNYON SPEAKS

Hamilton Wright Mabie Chairman of the Meeting—Gathering of the Best Men of the City.

City Judge William N. Runyon, as president of the Union County League for Equal Taxation, went to Summit last night to help start the branch of the Colby organization there. It was launched with a fine degree of enthusiasm. Y. M. C. A. Hall, where the meeting was held, was well filled, and the audience was made up of the best men of the city and the surrounding district.

Hamilton W. Mabie was chairman of the meeting, and he made a ringing speech. Mayor Fagan delivered the address of the evening.

The branch was organized for separate work in each of the two wards of Summit. Charles H. Grant is chairman for the First ward and Ernest E. North for the Second.

Judge Runyon spoke after Mayor Fagan. He was enthusiastically greeted, after Mr. Mabie had introduced him as "the man who had been tested." He urged the new branch to work hard and to stand fast in the faith that victory must and would be theirs. The old political leaders of Union county, he said, were not at the head of the party because of their brains or their genius, and there was nothing to do but come out at the primaries and vote to beat them.

The Republican party in this State, the Judge said, was suffering from fatty degeneration of the conscience. He laughed at the claims to credit made by the State leaders now because of the remedial legislation passed by the last Legislature.

"I will give them credit for passing those laws," he said, "when I hear that the trustees of the Carnegie Hero Fund have given a medal to a Kansas farmer for hustling his family into the cellar before the cyclone hit them." Laughter and applause made it impossible for the Judge to proceed for almost a minute.

He recounted again, as at Elizabeth, the interview he had early in his conversion with a machine leader, who declared that every small tradesman who enrolled in the reform movement would be attacked in business. The Judge said he did not intend to ask any man who might be attacked to hold himself open to assault, but would take a simple assurance of support at the polls without seeking for enrollment. The names on the rolls were no indication of the strength of the revolt against the machine.

The movement was not started, the Judge said, for the purpose of slashing the party ticket if things did not come out as the followers of the new idea hoped; nor was it started to assail corporations, as such. It was launched to shatter the great evil of special privileges for the corporations and to make them the equal of the individual before the law, and no more.

The Judge read over the aims and principles of the organization, and in commenting on the demand for popular choice of United States Senator, he observed dryly that he didn't believe either of the present representatives of the State of New Jersey in the upper house would be holding their positions if the people had had anything to do with the selection. The sally was greeted with much laughter and sustained applause.

Judge Runyon closed his speech with an earnest plea for hard work on the part of every recruit.

Endeavorers Entertained.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the First Presbyterian church was entertained last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Odgen Meeker at New Market. After playing games refreshments were served and at a late hour the Endeavorers returned by stage to their homes. Those in the party included T. Edwin Burroughs, Miss Helen Burroughs, Miss Leah Hammond, Miss Winifred Hammond, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Ballentyne, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Hummer, Miss Lizzie Wilcox, Miss Bertha Wilcox, Stanley Karner, Miss Emma Korff and Miss Marion Englehardt.

Dr. Richards Will Preach.

In connection with the commencement exercises of New York University, the baccalaureate sermon will be preached tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock in the auditorium by Rev. Dr. William R. Richards, of the Brick Presbyterian church, New York, succeeding his long pastorate over the Crescent Avenue church, of this city.

WILL SPRING SURPRISE

Feature of the Carnival Wind-Up Announced by Mr. Fish.

LAST NIGHT LIVELY.

"Bob" Fitzsimmons Shakes the Striking Machine With His Mightiest Blow—Runabout Goes to Woman.

Attendance figures at the Carnival jumped last night. The pleasant weather brought out a good crowd, and business flowed through all the channels on the grounds.

The Knights of the Golden Eagle were again in charge of the attractions, and, as last week, they did splendid work. The force was practically the same, and the barkers went to their original stands with the patter ready for service.

One of the liveliest Carnivaliers was "Bob" Fitzsimmons. Fitz cruised about the grounds, with a big train of admirers, and brought business to every attraction at which he paused. He had a lot of fun with the striking machine. He scared the concessionaire by landing mighty blows on the plug that shook the machine from basement to garret. He wielded the mallet with one hand and banged the bell with every whack Fitz generously donated the cigars to the convalescent ward of the Hospital, but Mr. Fisk insisted on his taking them as mementoes of a pleasant occasion.

Two big prizes were received by customers of the Carnival Store. Mrs. William Coleman got the rubber-tired runabout, and Miss Goddard, of East Ninth street, got the phonograph. A. E. Force, of the White Store, who is in charge of the Carnival mart, announced this morning that three of the biggest prizes were still to be distributed. The $1,000 automobile has not been given yet, and the baby carriaeg and Singer sewing machine still await claimants

Two big features will mark the wind-up of the Carnival tonight For one thing, "Bob" Fitzsimmons will have his lion, "Senator," on exhibition, and a big bronzed horseshoe he made especially for the purpose will be disposed of The shoe measures twenty-five inches and is decorated with ribbons tied by Mrs. Fitzsimmons The shoe is on exhibitiion at the Irish booth in the women's pavilion.

The second great feature is a mystery Mr. Fisk knows what it will be, but he won't tell. "Between 10 and 11 o'clock I will spring a big surprise," he said this morning, and that is all anybody but himself knows about it. That it will be worth waiting to see, however, goes without saying.

The Juniors will have charge of the attractions tonight.

E. L. ELECTION.

Angus P. Atwood Chosen President of a First M. E. Society.

Reports of the various committees and the election of officers comprised the chief business transacted at the annual meeting of the Epworth League of the First M. E. church held in Vincent chapel, last night. The committee reports showed that the past year was one of gratifying success, spiritually and in other ways. The treasurer reported a balance with all bills paid and the membership of the league has steadily increased.

All of the officers, except the second vice president, chairman of the world evangelism, were elected last night, and this one selection will be made on Sunday. The officers chosen follow:

President, Angus P. Atwood; first vice president, chairman of spiritual work, Maurice McGrath; third vice president, chairman mercy and help committee, Mrs. Thomas MacDonald; fourth vice president, chairman of the literary and social committee, Miss Helen Whitney; secretary, Arthur Bingaman; treasurer, George M. Rittenhouse, Jr.

"Bobby" Leach To Go Up.

"Bobby" Leach, the veteran balloonist, will leave his lunch wagon in the hands of his chief assistant for the next two weeks while he fills an engagement in Providence, R. I. He will make ascensions every day. Mrs. Leach will go with him.

Grand Jury Very Busy.

The Union County Grand Jury is exceptionally busy at this term. Thus far it has considered about 115 cases and a peculiar feature about it is that in enarly every case the person is a foreigner, requiring the constant attendance of interpreters in court.

CONSOLIDATION NOT DEAD

Subject Suddenly Shows Signs of Life at Borough Council Meeting.

ANOTHER COMMITTEE.

Matter Reconsidered on Councilman Smith's Motion and He, Councilmen Lee and Krewson Put on Committee.

To all intents and purposes having been disposed of for a long time to come at a meeting a few weeks ago, the question of consolidating the two Plainfields was suddenly revived at last night's regular session of the borough council. Incidentally the resurrection put a little ginger in the meeting and it proved to be somewhat like those of three and four years ago when harmony stayed out in the hall.

Councilman Smith did the trick by getting up and declaring that in his opinion the request of the Board of Trade to have three members appointed to confer with three from the city council in regard to consolidation, had not been given full consideration. When the communication was received, Mayor Smalley named a committee of three to discuss the advisability of doing as requested and these three reported back unfavorably. Accordingly, the matter was dropped.

Mr. Smith asserted that many boroughites had spoken to him about this disposition of the letter and he asked that the communication be reconsidered. He was supported by Messrs. Van Arsdale and Lee, who said it would be no more than an act of courtesy to have such a committee confer with the city representatives and they were willing to have it talked over.

Councilman Van Winkle, who was chairman of the three appointed, stated that his committee had talked the matter over thoroughly and that their decision was reached after considering all sides of the question. He added that the subject of consolidation brought up at this time might lead to confliction with the sewer question, some people believing the borough was seeking to bring it about solely for the purpose of getting access to the city beds without paying. The question of reconsideration as suggested by Smith was put to a vote and carried, Councilmen Van Winkle and Krewson alone voting against it.

When this was passed, Mr. Smith offered another resolution to the effect that the committee of three be appointed to confer with the committee from the City Council. This was also put to a vote and went through despite "no" from Messrs. Van Winkle and Krewson.

"Since you have paved the way," said Mayor Smalley, "there's no time like the present so I'll appoint the committee at once. I think it would be good policy to name members who were opposed to consolidation when it was agitated before, so I'll make Mr. Lee chairman and ask Mr. Smith and Mr. Van Winkle to serve with him."

The appointment was accepted by the first two, but vigorous objection came from Mr. Van Winkle. He was firm in his decision not to serve and the matter was at a standstill until Councilman Krewson made some remark about the vagueness of the Board of Trade's plan and added that he would "like a little light on the subject."

"Why to be sure," quickly replied the mayor, "and I'll give you a chance to get some by appointing you in Mr. Van Winkle's place. You can have your credentials at once."

"I didn't mean it that way," said Mr. Krewson, but he had to join in the laugh with the other councilmen and the appointment stood.

The committee will await the action of the City Council, which received the Board of Trade letter and has done nothing as yet.

Colored Woman Drops Dead.

Mrs. Mary Dillar, colored, a widow, was found dead in her room at the home of her brother, John Starr, 325 Cottage place, this morning. Heart disease was the cause. An hour before the body was discovered the woman was up and about, apparently in her usual health. Dr. Pittis was called in, and notified County Physiciann Westcott. The latter found nothing suspicious in the death.

MISS COLE'S GIFT TO NEW BRUNSWICK CHURCH

SCOTCH PLAINS WOMAN PRESENTS MEMORIAL WINDOWS.

The beautiful stained glass windows given by Miss Emilie S. Coles, of Scotch Plains, daughter of the late Abraham Coles, M. D., LL. D., are now in position in the First Reformed church, New Brunswick, and are greatly admired. Four were put in the past week and four more will be placed in position during August.

The announcement by Rev. Dr. Pockman, the pastor, has aroused great interest. He has informed his people that one of the widows contains a real ruby forming the centre of a flower. In a few words Dr. Pockman described where the ruby could be found and it has since been greatly admired by every one.

The windows are of great beauty, the colors being exceedingly rich and harmoniously blended. They represent four periods in the life of Christ—the babe in Bethlehem, the wise men bringing gifts to the child Jesus, Jesus going up to the temple at the age of twelve and Christ blessing little children.

Dr. Pockman nas given the highest praise to Miss Coles for her gift, explaining that she presented the windows to the church in the hope that they would be object lessons to the children and would bring the life of Christ home to them when they could not remember the preacher's words.

At the service when the windows were unveiled, the hymns written by the late Abraham Coles, which were on the bannerets given to the Sunday-school at its anniversary, were sung by the congregation.

MISS PENNINGTON BRIDE OF A. W. LONG.

Groom Is a Preceptor at Princeton University.

Miss Catherine Colt Pennington, of Paterson, and Augustus W. Long, of Princeton, were married at noon today at the home of the bride's uncle, Albert H. Atterbury, of West Seventh street. Rev. Dr. Samuel M. Studdiford, formerly pastor of the Third Presbyterian church, Trenton, but now retired, performed the ceremony. Owing to the recent death of the bride's mother, the affair was a quiet one. There were about sixty guests from New York, Paterson, Princeton, Trenton and this city.

The bride was attended by Miss Mildren Wood,, of Princeton, and Miss Adrienne Holmes, of Paterson, as bridesmaids. The best man was Nicholas Stahl, one of the masters at the Lawrenceville Academy.

The bride is a member of an old New Jersey family, her great grandfather being Governor Pennington, and her great-greatgrandfather being Elisha Boudinot, for a long time a distinguished member of the New Jersey Supreme Court and otherwise prominently identified with State affairs.

The groom, who was from North Carolina, is preceptor in English at Princeton University, which position he has held for a long time.

Following the ceremony a wedding luncheon was served and during the afternoon the couple deft on a wedding journey. They will make their home in Princeton.

They will then arrange a pleasure trip for the summer which will include Switzerland, Germany and France. Mrs. Bostwick, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eoff, and her husband will accompany them on the trip. Mr. and Mrs. Eoff and son plan to sail from Liverpool for home on September 19. Although they tried several weeks ago, it was impossible for them to secure passage on any steamer leaving New York at this time for Gibraltar, and were obliged to sail from Boston.

SUBMIT SEWER REPORT

Committee From Borough Council Details Result of Its Investigation.

PUBLIC MEETING NEXT

Friday, June 15, the Date Set and the People Will Be Asked to Air Their Views on the Subject.

The sewer investigation committee of the borough council, recently appointed by Mayor Smalley, made its first report to that body at the regular meeting last night. It was given in a clear and concise form and in the belief that the taxpayers would fully understand it and vote accordingly, it was decided to hold a public meeting in the council chambers Friday night, June 15. This is one of the most important steps yet taken by the officials and what follows in the effort to secure the necessary system will depend upon how the report is viewed by the people. In detail, as presented by Chairman Van-Arsdale, it was as follows:

To the Mayor and Council of the Borough of North Plainfield.
Gentlemen:

Your committee delegated to investigate and report upon the proposition to establish a system of sewerage for the borough begs to report as follows:

Numerous meetings have been held by the committee and considerable investigation and study has been given the subject in the course of which the engineer, Mr. Pierson, has furnished maps and profiles, the result of surveys, and plans and estimates showing a feasible system of sewers in the borough and the probable cost of the same.

These maps, plans, estimates, &c., are available for inspection at your convenience.

In its consideration of the subject your committee has been greatly assisted by Mr. J. O. Osgood and others who have advised with them.

As a result of our investigation your committee believes that the outlet of any system adopted must in a general way follow the direction of the flow of the streams, Green brook and Stony brook, and that it will be found necessary in any event to carry the outfall sewer to some point southwest of West End avenue and that in considering the subject it will be found most convenient, at least for preliminary consideration to assume that the outfall sewer must extend to Rock avenue, the southwesterly boundary of the borough, at a point near the Plainfield disposal plant.

Upon this assumption we are able to give some figures which will to some extent show the relative cost of emptying the borough sewage upon the Plainfield beds (if a satisfactory arrangement with the city can be made) and of establishing an independent disposal plant of our own either within or beyond the borough limits:

Thus it is estimated that a satisfactory system of sewers covering about sixteen miles of our streets (there are something less than fourteen miles of water mains) and about two miles of outfall sewer to Rock avenue, can be installed complete, with 180 manholes, 15 flush tanks, 12 lampholes and 800 specials and including engineering and incidentals for $65,000; also that a disposal plant capable of taking 350,000 gallons daily can be constructed for $35,000; also that the necessary land will probably cost $15,000; making a total cost assuming that disposal plant were located at Rock avenue of $115,000. If the plant is located below Rock avenue the cost would be increased by about $8,000 for each additional mile but if a point is found where natural materials suitable for, sewer beds is found this would be reduced considerably. If having reached Rock avenue a pumping plant is built to pump the sewage to the Plainfield beds the cost of such plant would be about $3,500. Electric power to operate such pump would cost each year about $500.

Assuming that an agreement with Plainfield can be reached and that the borough should discharge upon the city beds one-fourth of the total number of gallons discharged thereon by the city and borough jointly we reach the following conclusion:

Total cost of Plainfield disposal plant including land, $145,500; less land not used for disposal purposes, &c., which possibly may be deducted, $25,500; dividing this by four leaves amount in which the borough must pay interest, $30,000; add original cost of pumping plant, $3,500; total, $33,500; interest at 4 per cent. per year on $33,500, $1,340; cost of power for pump, $500; one quarter of operating expenses of Plainfield plant yearly, $610; total, $2,450. Say in round figures that it will cost us to discharge on the Plainfield beds each year $2,500; $2,500 is the Princess: Broadway and 29th St. Telephone, 2848 Madison. Evenings at 8:15. Best seats $1 at Thursday and Thursday matinees. Season closes Thursday, June 7. Henry Woodruff in "Brown or Harvard," a college comedy by Rida Johnson Young.

Henry Woodruff, star of that most successful of all college plays, "Brown of Harvard," was the victim of a burglary in New York recently in which he lost many valuables including a pearl and opal pin which was an engagement present to him from Anna Gould (Countess de Castellane). The engagement of Mr. Woodruff and Miss Gould, which was broken in order that she might wed Boni, was one of the society and theatrical sensations in New York ten years ago.

"Seeing New York" is the title of the chief feature of the entertainment for the summer in New York city's most beautiful and comfortable hot-weather playhouse, Wistaria Grove, on the New York theatre, which will open for the season on Tuesday night, June 5. It is a topical review of metropolitan life, treated from the viewpoint of broad comicality, and in a scenic way is quite comprehensive. Among the stage-pictures in the amusing skit are the orange-room of the Hotel Astor, the Casino in Central Park, Red Mike's celebrated saloon and "honkatonk" in Avenue A, and the world-famous Flatiron building, which now occupies a storied place in the picturesque side of New York city activity. At the head of the cast of "Seeing New York" are Al Leech, the star of Girls Will Be Girls," and Carrie De Mar, the star of "Mama's Papas." Others are Clifton Crawford, the author of "Nancy Brown;" Cheridah Simpson, the primadonna of "King Dodo" and "The Prince of Pilsen;" Charles McCarthy, for years Edward Harrigan's chief support; John E. Brennan, the celebrated Hi Holler of "'Way Down East;" the Three Rosebuds, a trio of capital soubrettes; Thomas Fortune, the tenor, and Fleurette De Mar, the dancer. Preceding the performance of "Seeing New York" every night will be a vaudeville bill of mixed American and European novelties. Salerno, heralded as the greatest juggler who ever crossed the Atlantic; the Dandy Dixie Minstrels, a score of talented negro comedians and singers; the six Proveanies, a sextet of fearless cyclists, the Spissel Brothers and Mack, a popular team of comedians, and the Yamatama Brothers, Japanese acrobats, are included in the opening bill. Performances will be given on the roof every Sunday night, when special programmes of vaudeville will be offered. The resort is under the management of William A. Brady and Joseph Hart.

SOCIAL LION ON $60 PER MONTH.

Pittsburg Bank Swindler Identified as Telegraph Operator.

Pittsburg, June 2.—Residents of the fashionable residence suburb of Coraopoplin were shocked when "Samuel F. Fletcher," arrested Tuesday as an expert bank swindler, was identified as Boyd H. Stoneroad, for five years a most respected citizen of that borough. Stoneroad, according to the police, has robbed banks all over the country of thousands of dollars.

L. T. Neel, cashier of the First National Bank of Bentleyville, received a letter on May 25, from the Mercantile National Bank, of Cleveland, informing him that a certificate of deposit for $3,200 had been issued to Samuel F. Fletched, who would present it for payment at the Bentleyville bank. The next day Fletcher, or Stoneroad, appeared with the certificate. He got $600 cash and a draft on the Diamond National, of this city, for $2,600. Immediately after he left, Neel became suspicious and called Cleveland by telephone. He learned the Mercantile bank had been absorbed by the National Bank of Commerce. He notified detectives and the Diamond National Bank of the swindle. The draft was deposited in a bank at Ambridge, near Coraopolis for collection and came to the Diamond. Detective Rice went to Ambridge and arrested the man when he called for his money.

Stoneroad is a telegraph operator at $60 a month, but he has lived in elegant style, was prominent in society, and spent money readily but not ostentatiously. The proceed of his swindlings, the police say, he invested in gas, oil, mining and bank stocks. Few of them proved good investments. He is an expert penman, and one of his feats is to write the Lord's Prayer on his little finger nail.

None of his fellow-townsmen believe he is guilty, and insist it is a case of mistaken identity. He has a wife and three children, and the wife maintains he is innocent. His brother is a member of the Pittsburg police force. He has never before been suspected of any wrongdoing.

All Goes to University.

San Francisco, June 2.—By the terms of the will of the late Theodore Kearney, the noted raisin-grower of Fresno, who died suddenly several days ago on the steamship Caronia, on the way from New York to Queestown, his entire estate, valued at $750,000, is bequeathed to the University of California, for the establishment of a viticultural station at Fresno.

Your committee would further report, that owing to the steady increase of indigent patients chargeable to the county, Mr. N. R. Leavitt was retained to investigate into the financial liability of the patients declaring themselves indigent and chargeable to Union county. He began his investigations March, 1903, and since that time he has investigated into the financial ability of all the patients now a charge against Union county and those that have been committed since that time, and as a result of these investigations Mr. Leavitt has turned into the county treasury the sum of $4,547.30. Your committee would further report, that at the time these investigations began this county had on its books only one case where payment was being made for a supposedly indigent patient; that at the present time this number has been increased to twenty-three, who are regularly paying a fixed amount for the board and maintenance in the asylum, and a majority of this number have had their funds so placed and who are under bond that the county for some time to come will receive payment for the amount spent by this county for their support.

Your committee would further report that it commends the efforts made by the Hon. B. A. Vail, Judge of the Court of Common Pleas, who commits patients to the New Jersey State Hospital, in his investigations of the length of residence of said patients in this county, and who follows the law strictly in only charging patients to this county who have resided therein for the full period of ten years.

TIME IS THE TEST.

The Testimony of Plainfield People Stands the Test.

The test of time is what tells the tale. The public soon find out when misrepresentations are made, and merit alone will stand the test of time.

Plainfield people appreciate merit, and many moths ago local citizens publicly endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills; they do so still. Would a citizen make the statement which follows unless convinced that the article was just as represented? A cure that lasts is the kind that every sufferer from kidney ills is looking for.

Mrs. John Driscoll, of 217 Grant avenue, Plainfield, N. J., says: "Several years ago I made a statement for publication regarding the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills, and said statement still holds good in every particular. If I were to make a single change in it, it would only be to make it stronger, for during the past few years I have known many people to use Doan's Kidney Pills, and have yet to hear of a case in which the remedy failed to do the work it is claimed to do. My own case was a dull aching pain in the small of the back and in the sides. It clung to me incessantly and hard work seemed to increase it. I was subject also to hard backaches, and spells of dizziness when stooping. I was generally weak and depressed. I tried plasters and used many different remedies without finding relief, and being finally led to get a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Randolph's pharmacy, began using the remedy, finding, at length, the relief I have described in the testimonial I gave for publication in 1898."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Plainfield, N. J., June 2, 1906.

Must New Jersey—beg pardon, the G. O. P. leaders—choose from among Stokes, Record and Dryden for the United States Senatorship? Is there no better material in this great State?

Hamilton W. Mabie has joined the ranks of the Colbyites, having made his appearance at the meeting in Summit last night. Verily the list is growing, and the noteworthy thing about the roll is that it contains the names of so many sterling men in the higher walks of life.

Judge Runyon provoked a laugh at the Colby meeting last night when he dryly remarked that the Republican organization should deserve thanks for passing good laws at the last Legislature when a Carnegie hero medal is awarded the Kansas farmer for getting his family in the cellar before the tornado came. Mr. Runyon must be studying politics.

SEWER REPORT SUBMITTED

interest at 4 per cent. on $62,500. In other words it seems that we will be obliged to pay if we use the Plainfield beds, the interest on say $62,500. While on the other hand it seems that we can establish a plant of our own at a cost which will vary, depending upon whether we locate it within the borough or a mile or two beyond the borough limits, between $50,000 and $70,000.

There are many phases of this subject to be carefully considered before any definite action is taken, and a change of plans may also considerably change the figures given. Your committee feels that before any plan is adopted an expression of public sentiment should be sought on the whole subject and particularly upon the question of whether we should strive to use the Plainfield plant or build one of our own and if the latter, then where it should be located.

Your committee therefore recommends that a meeting of the public be called at which our tax-payers and voters be asked to express themselves on this most important subject.

Dated June 1st, 1906.

Respectfully submitted.

When the report had been read and the agreement made on the date for the public hearing, Mr. Lee suggested that the fact be advertised in the two Plainfield newspapers.

"Why not the North Plainfield Review' as well?,' suggested Councilman Van Winkle.

"I don't see any use in wasting the borough's money that way," retorted Mr. Lee. The other councilmen with the exception of Mr. Van Winkle and Mr. Krewson, seemed to agree with him as on voting the borough weekly was passed by.

BARTENDER TO SPEAK.

Man Whose Picture Was in Rogues' Gallery to Talk at Y. M. C. A.

John Callahan, who was at one time a Minneaopils bar-tender and who is now successor to the late S. H. Hadley as superintendent of the Wesley Mission on the Bowery, will tell the story of his conversion at the Y. M. C. A. meeting tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

He is said to tell in a most interesting way of his efforts aided by Governor Atgeld to have his picture removed from the rogues' gallery of the Illinois State penitentniary and of his experiences fith his former associates in the Chicago Tenderloin district. The story that he relates is said to be more interesting than a novel and to be stranger than fiction.

The Rev. Joseph Livingston, rector of St. Phillip's church, Charlestown, W. Va., will preach at Grace church Mission tomorrow morning and night.

and Calhoun, and was nominated for Vice-President of the United States on the ticket with Henry Clay, who was distinguished for his consummate ability as an acute and broad-minded statesman and of whom Daniel Webster said, 'There is not a man of purer character, of more sober temperament, of more accessable manners, and more firm, unbending, uncompromising principles than Theodore Frelinghuysen.'

"Witness Frederick Frelinghuysen, the astute lawyer, the ripe scholar, the urbane United States Senator, who in 1879, during President Grant's administration, declined a nomination of Minister to the Court of St. James.

"Witness John P. Stockton, the great attorney general, whose brilliant career attracted universal attention and whose profound learning and impassioned eloquence were everywhere recognized.

"Witness Dr. Talmage, the world renowned pulpit orator, who like the great apostle to the Gentiles, reasoned of temperance, righteousness and a judgment to come; and who being dead, yet speaketh to the millions of mankind. But the history of Somerset county is so replete with the names of noted characters; men of genious and high attainment, that the mere calling of the roll of fame would exhaust the time which I should occupy.

"But my young farmer friend says he is too young for great exertions and achievements. It is said that at 32, Alexander the Great wept for another world to conquer. At twenty-six the Earl of Chatham was the greatest statesman of all Europe and the Prime Minister of that Empire on whose territory the sun never sets. And Henry Clay, the mill boy of the slashes, who could charm a Senate and melt all hearts into his own, was permitted to violate the Constitution of the United States and to enter the Federal Legislature at the age of twenty-nine.

"With the public school maintained and conducted as it is in Somerset county today, there is no excuse for the youth who fails to acquire an education which will thoroughly equip him for the battle of life. There are splendid opportunities, but unless a young man feels himself tugging at the chain which binds him to the earth; unless he feels within him the flutter of wings; unless he hears voices calling to him over the mountains, nobility is dead within him, and failure is his fate. The elements of success lie not alone in the school and the university; they exist in the mind, in the conscience, in the will. Shakespeare has said, 'The flighty purpose never is o'ertook unless the deed go with it. The seal which Sir Walter Scott used for his letters was the figure of a sun going down behind the hills, under which were the words, 'The night cometh.' "

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

May 27: "The Philippines—Unparalleled Results"—Ps. xcvii; Isa. xl, 1-5—"Doors Wide Open Now May Close Unless Speedily Entered."

By REV. WALTER J. YATES, D. D.

But a little while since these islands were to us scarcely more than a name. We knew they were under Spanish control, with a native population little touched by the influence of Christianity and civilization. The city of Manila was associated with material from which our best cordage was manufactured. Our best gazetteers gave little information, and persons who had been there except as sailors were hard to find.

To try to establish Protestant Christianity in those parts a score of years since would have been a task more hopeless than any mission ever undertaken by any church.

He who has eyes to see has no difficulty in discerning the providence of Almighty God in the political movements of the far eastern world in the past few years. The unintended happened when the Philippines passed into the possession of the United States. This is far more than a political question. What the United States should do or can do with these people and for them in the matter of government is of great importance. But vastly more momentous is the religious problem. Monarchy or republic, freedom of franchise or minority tutelage slaks into insignificance before the question of Christianization.

Shall these peoples be brought into light and liberty? Now is the opportunity. The reply cannot be given in acts of congress, in military movements, in commercial transactions or social changes.

The change from one form of religion to another will be of little consequence. Heathenism baptized is not largely better than unbaptized heathenism—not enough superior to pay for the cost of the process.

But here is the veritable "white man's burden" of which Kipling has prophesied.

What opportunity! What responsibility is ours!

Mine eyes have seen the glory
Of the coming of the Lord.
* * * * * * *
As ye deal with my contemners
So with you my grace shall deal.

Rarely has the church of God seen such rapid results and never greater harvests for the seed sown than our own Methodist Episcopal church is now gathering in this archipelago. The story thrills with all the fascination of romance and makes a chapter in church history of great significance.

Our leagues should give an evening to the presentation of this subject. Books can be had from our Book Concern giving account of our church work. Magazine articles, letters in the daily and weekly press, will supplement these. A homemade map will aid to fuller comprehension of the field. Our mission rooms at New York will furnish reports from our missionaries. Divide the work among half a dozen of the young people and present the subject in a public service. It will work a great change for good in those who present the various topics and will benefit beyond easy computation those who hear.

What shall the future disclose? Who can foresee? That China is on the verge of profound changes seems probable. Japan is transforming with wonderful rapidity. Why is the United States thrust so conspicuously forward in that part of the world where she has never thought of bearing prominent influence on affairs of the past? Is this God's call to the church to enter these open doors? So it seems. Let us know the situation, discern intelligently our work and do it with diligence and discrimination.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning June 3.

By REV. S. H. DOYLE.

Topic.—Faith; what it is, what it does.—Heb. xi, 1-40; xii, 1, 2.

"Faith is the substance of things hoped for and the evidence of things not seen." This is the definition given by the writer of Hebrews in the chapter selected for our study. According to this definition, we have in faith what is real, though not yet ours, and also the evidence that things unseen do really exist. The faith spoken of in this chapter is not what we mean when we speak of Christian faith, which involves primarily faith in Jesus Christ as our Saviour. Faith here is a general belief in God, and in this chapter we have a splendid array of illustrations of such a faith in the lives of men. Individual faith in God characterized all the heroes of the Old Testament named in this category of those who accomplished great deeds and endured great hardships in life. Abel believed in God, as was proved by his offering of an acceptable sacrifice unto God. Abraham believed in God and manifested his belief by leaving his own country at the call of God and going to abide in one in which he was a stranger. The faith of Moses in God was illustrated in his willingness to leave the court of Pharaoh and give his life in the service of God and of his countrymen. So down to the last patriarch mentioned in this list of ancient worthies faith was the mainspring of their lives. Faith in God should be the basis of every human life. To believe in Him and to trust in Him mean the best and truest success in life and the surmounting of difficulties that would otherwise be impossible.

The achievements of faith are numerous and far reaching in their application to various phases of life. The most casual review of what faith did, as set forth in this chapter, is sufficient evidence of this fact, and it also teaches us what faith does and may still do today.

1. Faith makes our sacrifices and services acceptable to God. Abel's offering was accepted because of his faith, and "without faith it is impossible to please Him." To make any sacrifice or to do any service for God that will please Him demands faith on our part. Not to believe in God and to serve Him acceptably is evidently an impossibility.

2. Faith makes us obedient to God. Faith in God led Abraham to obey God. Every one who really believes in God should obey Him. It seems incredible that men can believe in God and yet not obey Him. Faith and obedience should go hand in hand, and in this way we shall best serve God and shall receive His blessing as Abraham did.

3. Faith helps us to overcome difficulties. This is written in the lives of all these heroes. Great difficulties stood in the way of their service of God, but they were rolled away in the presence of faith. "Seeing Him who is invisible," to whom "all things are possible," difficulties apparently insurmountable were easily overcome; and they came off "more than conquerors." If you want to successfully meet the trials and temptations of life hold fast your faith in God. "Commit thy way unto the Lord; trust also in Him, and He will bring it to pass."

BIBLE READINGS.

Deut. xxxii, 30; Matt. viii, 1-10; ix, 1-8, 27-31; Mark iv, 36-41; xi, 22; Luke xvii, 5, 6; xxii, 31, 32; Gal. ii, 20; Heb. xi, 1-6.

A Motto For Christian Endeavor.

Christian Endeavor has no disposition to rest on its laurels. Spain, who once held both sides of the Mediterranean, stamped on her coins the pillars of Hercules, with the motto, "Ne plus ultra," but when Columbus discovered the new world that motto was changed to "Plus ultra"—there's more beyond! Let that be the motto of Christian Endeavor.—Rev. F. D. Power, D. D.

Notes From Foreign Fields.

A Junior society among the aborigines of New South Wales took a special part in a recent Christian Endeavor convention there.

Each of the Christian Endeavor soldiers returning to Japan from Manchuria was given a Christian Endeavor pin by the Japanese union.

There are now seven Christian Endeavor organizations in Allahabad, India, one having been formed recently in the Baptist church.

Sixty per cent of the 500 Scotch societies are in the United Free Churches. Sixty-nine per cent of the active members are members of the church, and 697 joined the church last year. Fifty new societies were organized last year.

The number of societies in Russia has increased within the year from eighteen to forty-eight. This includes the societies in Finland, which have increased from fifteen to twenty-two. Of the remainder three are British-American and twenty-three are in the Russian Baltic provinces.

Rev. Horace Dutton writes from Christiania that the Christiania City mission has taken up Christian Endeavor work in earnest and that all is hopeful. They have adopted for the name of the society two words which mean "Following Christ," preserving the familiar letters "C. E."

There are now 350 Endeavor societies in China under twenty-four mission boards. General Secretary George W. Hinman in a message from the sixth national convention at Ningpo to the European convention at Berlin said, "The results of the Christian Endeavor movement in the churches of China have more than justified the expectations of those who believed that it was just as applicable to mission churches as to those in Christian lands."

THE SPENDERS

A TALE OF THE THIRD GENERATION

By HARRY LEON WILSON

Copyright, by Lothrop Publishing Company.

"I will, ma'am, in a few words. My granddaughter, you may have heard, is engaged to an Englishman. He's next thing to broke, but he's got a title coming. Naturally he's looking fur money. Naturally he don't care fur the girl. But I'm afraid she's infatuated with him. Now then, if he had a chance at some one with more money than she's got, why, naturally, he'd jump at it."

"Aren't you a little bit wild?"

"Not a little bit. He saw you at Newport last summer, and he's seen you here. He was tearing the adjectives up telling me about you the other night, not knowing, you understand, that I'd ever heard tell of you before. You could marry him in a jiffy if you follow my directions."

"But your granddaughter has a fortune."

"You'll have as much if you play this the way I tell you. And—you never can tell in these times—she might lose a good bit of hers."

"It's very peculiar, Mr. Bines—your proposition."

"Look at what a brilliant match it would be fur you. Why, you'd be Lady Casselthorpe, with dukes and counts takin' off their crowns to you. And that other one—that Milbrey—from all I hear he's lighter'n cork—cut his galluses and he'd float right up into the sky. He ain't got anything but his good family and a thirst."

"I see. This Mauburn isn't good enough for your family, but you reckon he's good enough for me? Is that it, now?"

"Come, Mrs. Wybert, let's be broad. That's the game you like, and I don't criticise you fur it. It's a good game if that's the kind of a game you're huntin' fur. And you can play it better'n my granddaughter. She wa'n't meant fur it—and I'd rather have her marry an American, anyhow. Now you like it, and you got beauty—only you need more money. I'll put you in the way of it, and you can cut out my granddaughter."

"I must think about it. Suppose I plunge in copper, and your tip isn't straight. I've seen hard times, Mr. Bines, in my life. I haven't always wore sealskin and diamonds."

"Mrs. Wybert, you was in Montana long enough to know how I stand there?"

"I know you're A 1, and your word's as good as another man's money. I don't question your good intentions."

"It's my judgment, hey? Now, look here, I won't tell you what I know and how I know it, but you can take my word that I know I do know. You plunge in copper right off, without saying a word to anybody or makin' any splurge, and here—"

From the little table at his elbow he picked up the card that had announced him and drew out his pencil.

"You said my word was as good as another man's money. Now I'm going to write on this card just what you have to do, and you're to follow directions, no matter what you hear about other people doing. There'll be all sorts of reports about that stock, but you follow my directions."

He wrote on the back of the card with his pencil.

"Consolidated Copper, remember—and now I'm a-goin' to write something else under them directions.

"'Do this up to the limit of your capital and I will make good anything you lose.' There, Mrs. Wybert, I've signed that 'Peter Bines.' That card wouldn't be worth a red apple in a court of law, but you know me, and you know it's good fur every penny you lose."

"YOU THINK IT OVER."

"Really, Mr. Bines, you half-way persuade me. I'll certainly try the copper play—and about the other—well—we'll see; I don't promise, mind you!"

"You think over it. I'm sure you'll like the idea—think of bein' in that great nobility, and bein' around them palaces with their dukes and counts. Think how these same New York women will meach to you then!"

The old man rose.

"And mind, follow them directions and no other—makes no difference what you hear, or I won't be responsible. And I'll rely on you, ma'am, never to let anyone know about my visit, and to send me back that little document after you've cashed in."

He left her studying the card with a curious little flash of surprise.

CHAPTER XXIII.

THE AMATEUR NAPOLEON OF WALL STREET.

At the beginning of April, the situation in the three stocks Percival had bought so heavily grew undeniably tense. Consolidated Copper went from 109 to 103 in a week. But Percival's enthusiasm suffered little abatement from the drop.

"You see," he reminded Uncle Peter, "it isn't exactly what I expected, but it's right in line with it, so it doesn't alarm me. I knew those fellows inside were bound to hammer it down if they could. It wouldn't phase me a bit if it sagged to 95."

"My! My!" Uncle Peter exclaimed, with warm approval, "the way you master this business certainly does win me. I tell you, it's a mighty good thing we got your brains to depend on. I'm all right the other side of Council Bluffs, but I'm a tenderfoot here, sure, where everybody's tryin' to get the best of you. You see, out there everybody tries to make the best of it. I told that to one of them smarties last night. But you'll pull them in their place all right. You know both ends of the game and the middle. We certainly got a right to be proud of you, son. Dan'l J. liked big propositions himself—but, well, I'd just like to have him see the nerve you've showed, that's all."

Uncle Peter's professions of confidence were unfailing, and Percival took new hope and faith in his judgment from them daily.

MRS. APPLEGATE WELL AGAIN!
"I have had a bruised leg and foot for several years, caused by the brass eyelets of my shoe, which became very sore and painful especially at night. It itched, burned and ached me till it nearly set me crazy. I used everything I found and was suggested to ease it and nothing gave me any relief till I found and applied Axienza Cream which I think is a wonderful remedy for all sores and inflammation of the skin. The hard knots on my legs were as painful as bee stings, with discolored and purple spots. A running sore on my instep size of a half-dollar; the top of my foot a seething sore clean around to my heel. The boss was sure for a whole year and very painful. I used five and one-half jars of Axienza Cream and healed the sore all up. The foot remained tender and I continued to use to strengthen and toughen the skin until now it is entirely well." Four Points of Comfort

The kitchen, the lavatory, the laundry and the bath room may be cool, pleasant places, even on hot summer days, if a gas water heater is used. Why? Because a gas water heater does away with the necessity of hot coal fires. You can heat sufficient water for both laundry or kitchen work in a very short time with one of these heaters because the heat is concentrated in one spot. It heats the water but leaves the house cool.

Order a gas heater to-day and pass the summer in comfort. Price $8.50.

THE PRUDENTIAL LIGHTENS TAXATION.

IN 1898 the cost of outdoor poor relief in Newark was less than a third of what it was in 1880. This decrease is in part attributable to the influence of The Prudential as a teacher and promoter of thrift through Industrial Life Insurance.

The modern trust company is organized, primarily, for the purpose of administering estates. It is empowered by law to act in all respects as might an individual, but possesses every quality of desirability that an individual lacks. The fees are never more than are allowed to an individual. Furthermore, owing to its excellent facilities for handling the business and for making prompt and proper investments of surplus funds, it can often reduce the expense of administration and thereby increase the value of the estate.

RECEPTION TO GRADUATES

Principal and Mrs. I. W. Travell Tendered It Saturday Night.

LARGEST SENIOR CLASS

Class of 1906 Spent Enjoyable Social Time in P. H S. Audjtorium —Class Roll Call.

A reception, the first of its kind in recent years, was given to the class of 1906 of the Plainfield High School Saturday night in the auditorium of the school by Principal I W. Travell and his wife. The affair was in the form of an "at home," and lasted from 8:15 to 10:30. Mr. and Mrs. Travell were assisted in receiving by Lindsey Best, of the faculty, and his wife, and also by Miss E. M. Howard, Miss Iola Moore, and S. B. Howe, Jr., of the school faculty.

The students gathered early for the most part and after the receiving had been completed, the evening was given over to dancing, music for which was furnished by Miss Mabel Maxson, of the faculty, assisted by Clarence Heaume, violin, class 1906, and Percy Mygrant, cornet, class of 1909. The affair was a most successful one in promoting sociability among the students, and with this aim it was given. The social time came to an end with an old-fashioned cotillion, led by Louis De Brigard, into which everyone joined. Refreshments were served between the dances.

FISKS GIVES HOME TO SICK CHILDREN

SISTERS OF C. J. FISK SET ASIDE PART OF ESTATE FOR CONVALESCENTS.

Riverbend, a big rambling country house on the Fisk Riverside estate at Wilburtha, on the Delaware River above Trenton, is gay with childish laughter, and the patter of little feet, the place having been converted into a convalescent home for poor children from the crowded hospitals of New York.

The successful establishment of the home which was opened May 15, is due in part to the Misses May and Evelyne Fisk, sisters of former Mayor Charles J. Fisk, of this city, and daughters of the late Harvey Fisk, the New York banker, who make their home at beautiful Riverside, which was built at Wilburtha some years ago by their father. The Misses Fisk modestly disclaim credit for this philanthropic enterprise. They say they have simply given the use of the big house to an association known as "The Riverbend Home for Convalescent Children," composed principally of New Yorkers, who wish to give the convalescent little ones the air and sunshine which it is impossible for them to have in the stifling tenement districts in the city.

The establishing of the canvalescent home was decided upon last winter and was started by the complete renovation of the place. Its rooms were furnished for the accommodation of the children. Nature has supplemented the renovation by surrounding the home with the most picturesque scenery to be found in this locality. The home overlooks the Delaware River from a knoll just below Scudders Falls.

In order that every contingency in the convalescence of the young patients may be providd for, there have been installed in the home a trained nurse, an assistant and a housekeeper. The head nurse is Miss Mary Kilson, of the Presbyterian Hospital, New York. Regular visitations to the home are being made by Dr. Paul L. Cort, of Trenton. The little inmates of the homes are supplied with fresh vegetables, eggs and milk from the Fisk estate.

Already more than a score of children discharged as cured from New York Hospitals have been cared for at the Fisk home, and have been sent back to their parents well and strong.

MRS. MEYERS ESCAPES INJURY IN RUNAWAY.

Her Narrow Escape on West Second Street Witnessed by Many.

The successful effort of a driver for the U. S. Express Company to avoid a collision with a runaway team attached to one of the heavy delivery wagons of the Eastern Bottling Comnapy, probably saved the life of Mrs. William Meyers, of Watchung avenue, this morning. She was seated in her buckboard on East Second street, opposite the Hotel Iroquois, hen the Eastern Bottling Company's team came through Second street on a dead run, having been frightened by a drill engine at the company's plant.

At Park avenue and Second street, the U. S. Express Company driver saw the runaway team approaching and urged his horse on to escape a collision. The runaway swerved to the right and ran up on the sidewalk, crashing into a teleprone pole. The heavy wagon struck the rear wheel of the buckboard, wrecking it, but otherwise no damage resulted. Mrs. Meyers kept her seat in the wagon and was uninjured. If the runaway team had had a clear road it would have undoubtedly crashed into the buckboard and resulted in heavy damage if not a fatality.

Many people saw the runaway and expected to see Mrs. Meyers badly injured.

Hunt Club Entertains Farmers.

Following the steeplechase races at the Driving Park, Saturday afternoon, the Watchung Hunt Club tendered a dinner to the farmers over whose land they have ridden in the weekly hunts. There were about fifty presents and it was served by Caterer Timbo in the large room beneath the grandstand. After the last course had been served, Dr. Knott introduced Charles D. Freeman, president of the club, and the latter made a neat speech. He was enthusiastically cheered by the farmers who have none but the best of feeling toward the organization and who have given the members full access to all the ground they own.

Twenty More Indictments.

The Union County Grand Jury came into court this morning and returned twenty additional indictments to Judge Atwater, making thirty-four in all since it entered upon its duties. The jurors then returned to complete their labors.

ESTABLISHES HIS COURT

District Judge Newcorn to Sit For First Time on Tuesday, June 12.

NAMES ANOTHER CLERK

Horace Adams, City Cmmitteeman, Takes Place of John Carty—Rules of Court Announced.

Plainfield's new district court is now practically open for business, although Judge Newcorn has decided that the first session will not be held until Tuesday, June 12, owing to the fact that five days must elapse between the time of serving of summons and the day of trial. There are now several cases pending trial in the district court which local lawyers are holding in abeyance until Judge Newcorn is ready for them.

Judge Newcorn has communicated with Chairman Leslie Daniel, of the councilmanic finance committee, and some action will be taken at the June meeting of the Common Council tonight toward establishing quarters for the holding of court. It is more than likely that the Common Council rooms will be decided upon as the place as it is not in use day times and this selection would save the city some money.

Horace G. Adams, of Johnson avenue, has been appointed clerk in place of John Carty. Mr. Adams is a machinist by trade and is employed at the Walter Scott Printing Machine Works. He is a Republican and for several years has been an active worker, not only at election time, but as a member of the Republican City Committee.

CARNIVAL'S BIG PROFITS

C. J. Fisk's Enterprise May Net $10,000 For the Hospital.

MR. BEATON GENEROUS

Winner of Auto Has It Auctioned Off for Benefit of the Institution—Mr. Fisk Pleased.

"I don't know what to say except that it was a grand success, it ended in a blaze of glory and those who contributed services and articles cannot be thanked half enough," was the way former Mayor Charles J. Fisk expressed himself this morning, when asked for a statement regarding the close of the Carnival. He was found on the grounds still working as hard as ever in directing the dismantling of what had been booths and buildings, but he wore one of the happiest smiles that has brightened his countenance in weeks. The big affair has been a great load on his shoulders and the fact that it passed off without a serious accident of any kind and with great financial benefit to Muhlenberg hospital has repaid him for his labor.

"Although I have not received all the accounts as yet," he continued, "I should say the net profits will be between $8,000 and $10,000. The Women's Auxiliary building returned the wonderful gross of $8,000, of which about $5,000 will be profit. Every department showed splendid results and it looks as if the gross returns from all sources would reach $22,000. It's wonderful when you stop to think about it and it shows that the people of Plainfield are heartily in sympathy with the movement to help Muhlenberg. I wish I could mention the name of every person who volunteered to help out but it would be impossible; still, they have my sincere thanks and those of every member of the general committee."

The crowd at the grounds Saturday night was another record breaker and it was one of the "bound-to-stay" kind. When 12 o'clock came several thousand people were still looking and spending money. The surprise which Mr. Fisk had announced was the appearance of several well known Plainfielders who took charge of the different booths in the Auxiliary building and auctioned off what goods remained. Among them were Judge Runyon, Haroid Scott, Lemuel Serrell and Edgar Serrell, and the crowd simply couldn't resist bidding. Practically everything was disposed of at good prices and very little remained when a large force of workmen started dismantling things early this morning.

The automobile in the post office was won by George A. Beaton, of West Seventh street. He immediately turned it back and it was bought at auction by Edward S. F. Randolph for Morris Brothers for $500. Andrew [illegible] bid in the piano and Mrs. William Coleman secured the runabout. "Bob" Fitzsimmons' big horse shoe was awarded to ticket No. 250, but so far the holder has not been located.

Mr. Fisk has made the request that all those having accounts to settle do so at once as he wishes to have a complete statement of the net profit ready for the Board of Governors at their meeting Monday night.

YOUTH MISSING.

Sixteen-Year-Old George Stevens Disappeared Six Weeks Ago.

Mrs. Anna Mitchell has asked the police to look for her 16- year-old son, George Stevens, who disappeared from home six weeks ago. She is afraid he has met with some accident, because he gave no indications of waywardness or a longing for wandering.

It is said the boy hung around the circus that was here several weeks ago. Stevens is described as five feet ten inches in height, slimly built and of light complexion, with blue eyes. When last seen here he had on a short overcoat, a dark suit and a cap. He has scare over his right eye and his body bears the scars of bad burns.

Timbo Gave Satisfaction.

Thomas Timbo had charge of the restaurant privileges at the Watchung Hunt Club's second annual steeplechase on Wednesday and Saturday. His services gave the best sort of satisfaction to the club's committee and it is quite probable that he will be given the privileges at all meets of the organization in the future.

Successful Bidders.

W. T. Kirk has received the entire contract for the iron work on the Scott avenue bridge, his bid being $370.06, and not $3,706 as stated on Saturday. Joseph Kingston has received the entire contract for the mason work, including abuttments. His bid for the mason work was $80 and for the abuttments $7 per cubic yard.

GENTLEMAN RIDER HURT

Mr. Singleton Van Schaick Thrown at Watchung Races and Has His Hip Broken.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Second Day of the Meet Ends in Blinding Rain—"Ringer" in the Farmers' Race.

A heavy shower which came up just before the last event on the card was called and an accident to Singleton VanSchaick, of Huntington, L. I., marred the last half of the Watchung Hunt Club's two-day steeplechase meeting, Saturday afternoon. Half the spectators had scurried away before the final race was called and while it was in progress, the riders could not be seen except when directly in front of the grandstand because of the heavy downpour of rain. It was during this number, a steeplechase of three miles, that Mr. VanSchaick's mount, "Adjutor," slipped as he was jumping a trough in the course. The rider was pitched to the ground and the animal rolled over him, breaking his hip and leaving him semi-conscious.

The only other starters in the race, which was for the Oak Tree cup, were Charles Pfizer, Jr.'s "Bacchanal," ridden by Fletcher Harper, of New York, and Louis Batjer's "Tobossa," carrying the owner. VanSchaick was alongside of them when he went down and as both were occupied in watching the course, they took no particular notice of his fall. The blinding rain hid him from the spectators and officials and he remained on the ground until just before Harper and Batjer returned on the second round. He was then struggling to one side and called to them to keep on; that he was all right. When he failed to appear after the finish, grooms rushed over to where he was and they found him helpless. He was carried to a nearby residence, the scene of the accident being on the side of the hill just below Judge Steele's summer Muhlenberg hospital.

Harper brought "Bacchanal" under the wire first and was declared the winner of the cup. Batjer rode neck and neck with him at the finish but was ruled out of second place because of leaving the course for a short distance at one of the turns. He was not aware that he had hone so until informed by the clerk. He played in hard luck in this way in the previous race, coming in second also.

The feature of the day was a steeplechase for the Master's Cup, in which there were seven entries. Charles W Fisk's "Applejack," which was beaten in the Watchung Cup on Wednesday because of the rider mistaking the course, was a hot favorite with odds at 2 to 1. He got away a little late, but soon got in the lead and held it, with Charles D. Freeman's Strongheart. The latter lost his chance by "running out," although he stayed in the race and crowded Applejack to the finish, the latter getting first under the wire. George White, Jr.'s, Castlebar was given second place. It was one of the prettiest races ever run on a local track and when the winner swept passed the grandstand on the home stretch he was greeted with a tremendous cheer. Mr. Fisk, who is the son of former Mayor Charles J. Fisk, is a clever rider, not only showing ability on the track but exhibiting splendid horsemanship in sending his mount over the barriers.

The officials of the meet charge that S. A. Sabacher, of near Alton, and James Johnson, a groom, arranged a scheme to win the Farmers' race, open only to work horses the property of farmers in the vicinity of Plainfield, and it would have succeeded but for a bookmaker. While Singleton VanSchaick's head groom was away from the stable, it is alleged, they took out his pony "Katie," which won the Netherwood Cup Wednesday, but was not entered in anything Saturday, and brought her to the post as a "farm" horse. She was at first barred and then allowed to compete, Sabacher posing as the owner. Naturally she went ahead as soon as the flag fell, the groom riding held her in so as not to get too far in the lead and finished a little ahead of the nearest competitor.

Katie, under the name of Lucy, was declared the winner and it was thought everything was perfectly straight until the bookmaker, who had been hard hit through tips given by the groom and Sabacher, learned of what had been done. "Lucy" was accordingly disqualified when the clerk of the course was informed, and all bets were declared off.

The summary of the races follow:

First Race.—Westfield Cup; for galloways, 15 hands and under; five furlongs, on the track. First, Blue Print, Singleton VanSchaick, Huntington, L. I.; second, Heen, Peter

SMALLEYS TO BUILD SAUSAGE FACTORY

TWO-STORY STRUCTURE TO BE ERECTED ON SITE OF BLACKSMITH SHOP.

Smalley Brothers, North avenue butchers, who are the owners of the property now occupied by J. E. Flannery on East Third street as a blacksmith shop, have had plans prepared for the erection of a two-story building, 22x50, on the site, where the firm will cut Jersey pork and manufacture sausage. It is expected that work on the new building will be started August 1. In the meantime the old buildings, which are among the landmarks of the city, will be torn down. Mr. Flannery has occupied the property for a great many years.

Smalley Brothers will equip the building with the latest machinery. This arrangement will not make any change in the firm's detail business on North avenue and the meat market will be continued as at present. Lack of room in the North avenue building has compelled the firm to establish additional quarters.

TWO HOUSES HIT BY ONE LIGHTNING BOLT.

Chimney on One Shattered; the Other, Next Door, Suffers Much Less.

During the electrical storm Saturday afternoon, a bolt of lightning struck the house of Theodore Mason, 127 Watchung avenue, and paid a freakish call at A. H. Enander's plumbing shop next door. Not much damage was done, but the Mason family and the family of Mr. Enander, who live in a house adjoining the roof, were frightened.

The bolt struck the chimney on Mason's house with a terrific clap of thunder, and the bricks tumbled to the ground at the side of the house, close to the street. The sidewalk had been cleared of pedestrians by the downpour, and no one was hurt. From the Mason chimney, the bolt skipped to the Enander roof, shot into the garret, out into the store beneath through a small hall in the plastering on the wall, and then on outside through the glass transom over the store door, leaving a perfect hole about eight inches in diameter in the glass.

Saved by a Hair——

The wife of a Kansas farmer, so the story goes, got tired of asking him to fix some things about the house that needed fixing, and one day after he had come home from town told him she had done the work herself.

"And you know," she said, "the drawer that was locked for over a month, and which you said couldn't be opened except by a locksmith? Well," triumphantly, "I opened it."

"Well, well! How in the world did you do it?"

"With a hairpin. And the oven door," she continued, "has been slipping around one one hinge for ever so long, just because you were too lazy to fix it, but it's all right now."

"Well' I'm glad you had it fixed."

"Had it fixed! I fixed it myself—with a hairpin. And then that crayon portrait of mother that stood in the corner for almost six solid weeks because you never would bring me any picture books—I got it up with a hook I made myself—out of a pairpin."

"Well, well," was all he could say.

"And there's Willie. You've been coaxing him and bribing him for over a year, trying to break him of biting his nails, and I broke him in a week."

"With a hairpin?" he inquired meekly.

"No!" she snapped. "Don't be a goose! With a hairbrush."—Kansas City Journal.

Comfort the Thing in Men's Dress.

Comfort is the watchword of the present season. It is, of course, an ideal worth considering, if not the highest ideal. Propriety is an element in sartorial art, as in other kinds, and a fashion utterly at variance with the physical requirements of mankind cannot be a good fashion. There is an obvious fallacy, however, in the assumption that everything is justified by the idiosyncrasy of the individual. To say that a silk hat hurts your head is no excuse for wearing anything else with a frock coat. On the other hand, that "sweet disorder in the dress" which Herrick praised may be consistent with the strictest sartorial morality; for such disorder may as easily be the fruit of artistic impulse as of loose principles. A man without a waistcoat is a beautiful or a disgusting object according to the kind of coat and shirt he wears.—Providence (R. I.) Journal.

HOW THEY SING IT IN BOSTON.

Every one labors except our distinguished progenitor.
He reposes in a recumbent position within our residence through the day,
His pedal extremities idling upon the bronze of the steam radiator,
Serenely engaged in extracting nebulous atmosphere from a tobacco receptacle of mundane matter.
Our maternal mentor receives soiled linen for the purpose of cleansing it,
And in this connection I should include filial Ann.
Indeed, everybody is engaged in some variety of occupation in our domestic habitat—
Excluding, as primarily suggested, our distinguished progenitor.

SETON HALL'S BIG DAY

Program Complete for Golden Jubilee Exercises on June 12 and 13.

TO HOLD A BANQUET

Distinguished Prelates and Laymen to Attend the Ceremonies—Commencement on June 13.

Seton Hall is preparing to celebrate its golden jubilee on June 12 and 13. The note of preparation has invaded the college buildings, where scholastic quietude has long dwelt. Monsignor John A. Stafford, president of the institution, has arranged an elaborate programme to mark the fiftieth year of the existence of the college.

The first day of the celebration will be known as alumni day. Sons from Seton Hall will gather on this occasion, and the song "Setonia," written for the alumni by Francis M. Reilly, '04, and music by Rev. Edward M. Farrell, will be sung. The day will open with a solemn pontifical mass for deceased alumni. Bishop Sebastian G. Messmer, of Milwaukee, who was a professor at Seton Hall for eighteen years, was to have been the celebrant, but he sent word Tuesday that he will not be present, having sailed for Europe. Bishop John J. O'Connor will officiate instead. The archpriest will be Rev. William P. Cantwell, of Long Branch; deacons of honor, Dean B. J. Mulligan, of Camden, and Rev. Maurice P. O'Connor, of Harrison; deacon of mass, Rev. J. J. Boylan, of Jersey City; subdeacon, Rev. Thomas J. Kernan, of Passaic; masters of ceremonies, Rev. George L. Fitzpatrick, of Hoboken; Rev. William B. Masterson, of Bayonne; censer bearer, Rev. William P. Smith, of Elizabeth; acolytes, Rev. William D. Duffy and Rev. C. J. Kane, of Jersey City.

At 12:30 Monsignor Stafford will welcome them at a banquet. Around the board will gather Bishop Bernard J. McQuaid, of Rochester, the first president of Seton Hall; Bishop James Augustine McFall, of Trenton, and Bishop O'Connor, of this diocese, both graduates of the college in 1873, the latter being the honor man of the class; Rev. Dr. Henry A. Brann, of New York, first vice president of Seton Hall; Dr. Albert J. Reynaud, of New York; former District Attorney Eugene A. Philbin, of New York; former United States Senator James Smith, Jr., Prosecutor John A. Coyle, of Lancaster, Pa.; Thomas B. Kernan, a lawyer of New York, and numerous clergymen and laymen prominent in every walk of life.

The sporting blood of the old timers will be aroused at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon, when the Seton Hall nine will play a game of baseball with Manhattan College. After the game supper will be served in the dining halls of the college, and a smoker will follow for the alumni association and guests.

Commencement day will be held June 13. In the morning the trustees of the college will meet and in the afternoon commencement exercises will be held in the Newark theatre at 2:30. Bishop O'Connor will preside at this function.

Besides the ten graduates, seated upon the stage will be the members of the faculty, Monsignor Stafford, Rev. John A. Dillon, vice president of the college; Rev. Charles H. Mackel, dean of the faculty; Rev. James F. Mooney, Rev. Edward M. Farrell, Rev. Lalor McLaughlin, Joseph Arnold, Michael Cary, Austin Gibbons, John Hanrahan, John Matthews, Rev. Thomas P. O'Donnell, Messrs. Kirk, Woods and Tichler, the trustees, and others.

Degrees will be conferred and medals and honors awarded to the students, besides the presentation of diplomas to the graduates. Orations will be delivered by John J. Stafford and Maurice P. Spillane. The glee club will sing under the direction of Rev. Father Farrell.

Bishop Bernard J. McQuaid, the first president of Seton Hall, will deliver the address to the graduates.

U. S. ARMY OFFICER WEDS A FILIPINO.

Lieut. R. C. Corliss Finds a Bride in Far-Away Lague Province, Luzon.

Denver, June 4.—First Lieut. Robert C. Corliss, of the American army, serving in the Philippines in the scout regiment, a remarkably handsome young man, has taken to himself a Filipino bride, according to advices received in army circles. The ceremony was performed March 22 at Bingan, Lagua Province, Luzon Island. The name of the bride is Marie Nuqui. Second Lieut. Ernest Stecker, of the scouts, was best man and the ceremony was performed by a Catholic priest.

All that is known of the Lieutenant's love affairs in the Orient was told this morning by his father, Major-General Augustus Corliss, retired, who lives in Denver. He said:

"When I left the Philippines my son was in love with a Spanish girl, but he must have changed his mind, for the name of his wife certainly indicates that he has married a native Filipino."

SOFTNESS OF SEALSKIN.

Is Rivaled by Human Hair Where Dandruff is Eradicated.

Sealskin is admired the world over for its softness and glossiness; and yet the human hair is equally as soft and glossy when healthy; and the radical cause of all hair trouble is dandruff, which is caused by a pestiferous parasite that saps the vitality of the hair at its root. Newbro's Herpicide is the only preparation that is fatal to the dandruff germ. Without dandruff there is no falling hair, but a luxuriant growth of glossy, soft hair is certain. Scouring the scalp won't cure dandruff. Kill the dandruff germ. Thousands of women owe their beautiful suits of hair to Newbro's Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

THE MUCK RAKER.

Governor Hanly, of Indiana, like a good many million people in these United States, does not fear the effect of exposing corruption wherever it may be found. Being a sensible man he knows that the only way to stamp out abuses and bring about reforms is to show up all the crookedness and punish the guilty.

In a recent speech, the Governor said:

"I do not look with pleasure either upon "muck" or the "muck" raker," but either is better than the "muck bed." And as long as the "muck bed" remains I hope the "muck raker" will continue to expose it and to lay it bare, that the people may come to hate it, to despise the greed that feeds it, and to forsake every man whose hands are soiled with pollution."

The "muck" raker" has toiled on from one year's end to another. Today he has the respect and confidence of those who believe in public and private honesty, for he is doing a good work. His enemies are the enemies of society.

TOWNSHIP COMMITTEE'S DUTY.

It is quite probable that the Warren township committee realizes full well the value good roads bear to any rural district, and, therefore, will not lose sight of the fact that it will be greatly to the advantage of the farmers to improve the highways in the vicinity. The Sterling road, for instance, is in very bad shape, as is also the Warrenville road. Particularly is this the case on the approaches to North Plainfield township. Somerset county's Board of Freeholders has already consented to the necessary improvement of the Sterling road but before anything can be done, the Warren township committee must ratify its action. In doing so, the committee would merely perform its sworn obligation; to do otherwise would be a gross disregard of public duty.

'SENATOR' NEARLY HANGS

"Fitz's" Pet Lion Would Have Lost His Life at Carnival But For Alfred Marsh.

IT TRIED TO ESCAPE

Leaped Over Fence and Shortness of Rope Held Him Suspended —Rescuer to Get a Horse Shoe.

Pugilist "Bob" Fitzsimmons' pet lion "Senator," which was taken to the Carnival grounds for the purpose of exhibiting him, created a small-sized uproar Saturday afternoon by nearly hanging himself in an effort to get out of his temporary quarters. "Lanky Bob" brought him down from the Dunellen farm and tied him to a cable stretched across the floor used originally for dancing. It was thought he would be perfectly safe there as the platform was surrounded by a high board fence and it was impossible for anyone to disturb him.

His master had no sooner gone, than "Senator" started in to investigate things and he discovered a box that someone had left against one side of the fence. He leaped on this and to him it looked like an easy thing to jump over the top of the barricade and reach the other side. The scheme might have worked but for the fact that his chain was not long enough and when he sprang over, he was brought up with a jerk and left him hanging a foot or two from the ground.

Instantly "Senator" set up a howl that frightened nearly everyone within hearing half to death and brought a crowd of men to him on the run. It would have been an easy matter to rescue him by releasing the chain but there was the fear that when he got down he might take it into his head to select a small boy for a meal or start out on a general rampage, so he continued to hang. It looked as though "Senator's" existence was about to be terminated when Alfred Marsh thought of letting up on the cable and did so. He was none too soon as the lion was almost gone when his feet reached the ground. Marsh completed the rescue by dashing a pail of water in his face and reviving him fully. He was then taken in hand by a canvasman with the carnival circus, who knows something about animals, and led back to the inclosure. "Senator" didn't try any more investigating and remained quietly in a corner until "Fitz" returned. The former world's champion was profuse in his thanks to Marsh and is to make him a special horse shoe as a reward.

"Fitz" and the lion proved to be a big attraction Saturday night, and people packed the pavilion time and again to see them. The fighter generously remained there with Mrs. Fitzsimmons until after 11 o'clock and they alternated in making "Senator" do all his best tricks. Manager "Bill" Counihan did the barking on the outside and the line of talk he handed out amused the crowd almost as much as the exhibit inside. He painted the "act" in such glowing colors that the crowd simply couldn't resist and the dimes rolled to him in a steady stream. He turned in a clear profit of $155 and both he and Mr. and Mrs. Fitzsimmons were warmly thanked by Mr. Fisk.

DAAB'S MEN WIN TEN-INNING GAME

DEFEAT CUBAN STARS BY 3 TO 2 IN RATTLING CONTEST.

Willie Deegan was in invincible form at Hoboken yesterday and twirled a splendid game against the Cuban Stars, Hoboken winning in a ten inning contest by the score of 3 to 2. It was the fastest game played in Hoboken this season Owing to the illness of Jack O'Neil, Sherwood, of the Bronx, played behind the bat and caught Deegan's curves in fine style. That batting of Henriques, Reardon and Curley and the fielding of Brogan wert salient features of the game The Cuban Stars will be the opponents of the Plainfields at Crescent Oval Saturday afternoon.

COLBY BOOM IN PASSAIC.

First Gun Fired—Record and Marelli Make Speeches.

Passaic, June 4.—The first formal gun of the new idea Colby movement was fired Friday evening, when a mass meeting was held in this city under the auspices of the Republican Representative Government League. Senator Colby was prevented from attending by the death of his daughter. Assemblyman Marelli, of this county; James Blauvelt, a municipal ownership enthusiast of Paterson, and Corporation Counsel George L. Record made speeches.

Louis R Cowdry, one of the leaders of the new idea in this city, presided at the meeting. A part of the hall was set apart for the members of the Travelers' Club, an organization composed of young people of the city. Introducing Mr. Marelli, Mr. Cowdry began the latter's boom for State Senator, and the candidate for Senator McKee's place accepted the nomination gracefully, pledging himself to stand only for those things which meant good government, not controlled by trusts and corporations. He told of some of the scenes enacted in the legislative halls. The Legislature, he said, was controlled by the corporations, railroad and insurance men, who comprise "the system" of the state. Everything possible was done, he declared, in the interest of the corporations, but to deceive the people no one was told outright how to vote by the men back of the system. The legislators were made to understand, he said, that if they do not vote as the system wants them to they will die a political death.

The Annual Rest.

The longing to get away from bricks and mortar, not to say work, grows stronger every day, and it is a longing which it is well for all to follow. Every one is tired and every one can prolong their life and postpone Dr. Osler's working-age limit by taking advantage of the season now at hand to seek pastures new and visit scenes that not only rejuvenate and broaden the perspective of life but also improve the knowledge of men and places. Now is the time to put work aside and prepare for the annual rest. A trip abroad will be time well spent, and the best health insurance. The comparatively slight expense of a trip to Europe by the Anchor Line route makes it one of the most practicable and beneficial ways of spending a vacation. The new twin-screw steamships of that line are marvelous of twentieth-century progress and the accommodations and comforts for all classes of passengers the most advanced and complete to be found in ocean travel. Everything for the safety, pleasure and enjoyment of the tourist is provided in the fleet of Anchor Line steamships. An illustrated book of tours can be had free by addressing Henderson Brothers, 17 and 19 Broadway, New York.

FIRST NOT TO CAMP AT SEA GIRT IN FALL.

First Regiment's Tour Abandoned Because 'Twill Be in Regular Army Maneuvers.

Trenton, June 4.—The First Regiment, of Newark, will participate in the regular army maneuvers to be held at Mt. Gretna next fall and will not go into camp at Sea Girt as was originally planned. The regiment, however, will have the customary rifle practise, two companies going on the ranges at a time.

This was decided upon by the State Military Board at a meeting today, and was in response to the invitation of the War Department that the National Guard of the State take part in the maneuvers. It was first planned to have the maneuvers at Plattsburg, the selection of Mt. Gretna being made later.

As a result of to-day's decision there will only be four weeks of camp at Sea Girt instead of five. The last regular army meet of the kind was at Manassas, two years ago. This year the New England States will be especially represented.

A GOLDEN AGE.

I've read the advertisements
'Bout the things you ought to take
For instantaneous relief
From every pain an' ache.
No matter what the trouble,
They will cure it, safe and quick.
The expense is jest a trifle,
What's the use of being sick?

And in the next-door column
The financial folks explain
How ten dollars is invested
To bring thousands, all clear gain.
They show you calculations
Which are absolutely sure
To lead the way to fortune.
Where's the sense of being poor?

I'm mighty glad I'm living
In a lucky time like this;
The chances are so many
That I can't tell which to miss,
And I want the world to join me
I my gratitude intense.
We can all be rich and happy
At a nominal expense.
—Washington Star.

LITERARY.

Recreation is the keynote of the June Good Housekeeping, which is a Recreation number, bringing to home people a whiff of sea and mountain breezes and hundreds of valuable suggestions for the summer outing, along with the usual wealth of practical household lore. How women may travel safely and comfortably without male escort, as proved by experience, is set forth in Tales of Feminine Travelers, by Isabel Gordon Curtis. An illustrated story of summer vacation in a barn, by Anna Page Scott, is entitled Berkshire Barnacles, and the Lure of the Road is the true narrative of a young couple's journey on foot and by freight car from Columbus, O., to Boston. Mary Heaton Vorse writes pointedly of Tourist Manners, saying some needed things. Summer Tours is the title of a group of illustrated articles uonp the wonders of our own country and the way to reach them. Simeon Ford, boniface and humorist, is the subject of an illustrated interview by George Wharton James. H. W. Hillman tells the story of "An Electric Day," a typical day in his own home, where the cooking and many other processes are accomplished by electricity. Tom Masson contributes a charmingly humorous little essay, Being a Bride.

It isn't often that you get hold of as good a story as Stewart Edward White's "Buried Treasure," in McClure's for June. Here we have a good, old-fashioned, romantic adventure yarn. The setting is happy and the characters are unusual, and the action moves along like a limited express train. The title suggests the main motive, but this treasure is buried in about the most inaccessible place in the world, somewheres back from the beach in Lower California. The man who has the map is an unscrupulous sailor named Handy Solomon, who has no conscience and only one hand. In place of his missing member he wears a long, curved, sharp-pointed hook which he uses with more evil effect than another man would manage a knife or a gun. He persuades three miners to accompany him in the search for pirate gold. By this time you are prepared for the cold-blooded murder which follows and for the horror of the long fight against thirst and hunger which ends in the escape of the sailor and the bare rescue of the others. For sheer dramatic force there hasn't been a story that could touch this in a long time.

Mr. Schurz was a man of genius; but he was a man in whom high intellectual powers were combined with moral qualities even more rare. Though distinctively a thinker and man of culture, he was a born fighter; when the cause was there to be fought for, the courage and resolution were never lacking. But he never fought simply for love or for fight; the key of his whole career is consistent devotion to a clear ideal, and faithful adherence to a body of political doctrines and moral convictions which formed part of his very being. A rare union of clearness of intellect with spiritual ardor, coupled with an extraordinary command of the resources of his adopted as well as of his native language, stamped his speeches and writings with that combination of lucidity and animation which, along with the evident and complete sincerity, gave them their peculiar efficacy as a political force. As an example of what may be achieved by sheer force of character and intellect, the career of Schurz has been of inestimable value to thousands of young Americans in the present and the past two generations.—From "Carl Schurz," by Fabian Franklin, in the American Monthly Review of Reviews for June.

The Cynic.

"Here's an example of devotion. A widow saves up for ten years after her husband's death and then puts up a magnificent monument to him, though it takes all her money."

"Bet ten dollars she did it to spite her second husband."—Cleveland Leader.

The Calendar of Despair.

"Do you believe every dog has his day?"

"Yes, but I'm afraid my day is the 29th of February in a year that isn't leap year."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

CANVASS OF CANDIDATES.

At considerable expense American Spectator has obtained opinions and expressions of the same from all of the truly prominent candidates for Presidential nomination. These are all ingenuine, having come to us over our own private line, the least longest wire in the world. The pithy, epigrammatic summing up will, of course, be thoroughly appreciated. The following terse expressions are in answer to our query, "Will you be a candidate?":

Taft—My candidacy is a weighty problem, and there is a heavy responsibility attached.

Cannon—I will if I do.

Bryan—The third is the lucky trial. I shall not get out of communication with my friends.

Shaw—I have always universally considered myself a strong candidate.

Hobson—Of course, it is an office of limited responsibilities—but——

Fairbanks—You'll really have to ask Mrs. F.

Funston—Am too busy to think of it, but they do say I was born in Ohio.

Foraker—I may have to do it just to get that Roosevelt fellow out.

Roosevelt—Didn't I say all along that there would be no third term for me. After what's happened I suppose you'll believe it now.

Col. Bingham—Dammit, no!

Root — ——.—American Spectator.

Helping Him Out.

"I know I'll never be able to say that toast gracefully at the dinner tonight," said the out-of town guest.

"Oh, that'll be all right," said his friend. "I'll fix it up with the host to call on you late in the evening. You can get off any old thing then and nobody'll care."—Detroit Free Press.

THE SPENDERS

By HARRY LEON WILSON

Copyright, by Lothrop Publishing Company.

Nevertheless, as the weeks passed, and the mysterious insiders succeeded in their design of keeping the stock from rising, he came to feel a touch of anxiety. More, indeed, than he was able to communicate to Uncle Peter, without confessing outright that he had lost faith in himself. That he was unable to do, even if it were true, which he doubted. The Bines fortune was now hanging, as to all but some of the western properties, on the turning of the three stocks. Yet the old man's confidence in the young man's acumen was invulnerable. No shaft that Percival was able to fashion had point enough to pierce it. And he was loth to batter it down, for he still had the gambler's faith in his luck.

"You got your father's head in business matters," was Uncle Peter's invariable response to any suggestion of failure. "I know that much—spite of what all these gossips say—and that's all I want to know. And of course you can't ever be no Shepler 'less you take your share of chances. Only don't ask my advice. You're master of the game, and we're all layin right smack down on your genius fur it."

Whereupon the young man, with confidence in himself newly inflated, would hurry off to the stock tickers. He had ceased to buy the stocks outright, and for several weeks had bought only on margins.

"There was one rule in poker your pa had," said Uncle Peter. "If a hand is worth calling on, it's worth raising on. He jest never would call. If he didn't think a hand was worth raising, he'd bunch it in with the discards, and wait fur another deal. I don't know much about the game, but he said it was a sound rule, and if it is sound in poker, why it's got to be sound in this game. That's all I can tell you. You know what you hold, and if you don't a hand to lay down, it must be a hand to raise on. Of course, if you've been trash and ignorant in your firs calculations—if you'd made a fool of yourself at the start—but shucks! you're the son of Daniel J. Bines, ain't you?"

The rule and the clever provocation had their effect.

"I'll raise as long as I have a chip left, Uncle Peter. Why, only to-day I had a tip that came straight from Snepler, though he never dreamed it would reach me. That Pacific Cable bill is going to be rushed through at this session of congress, sure, and that means enough increased demand to send Consolidated back where it was. And then, when it comes out that they've got those Rio Tinto mines by the throat, well, this anvil chorus will have to stop, and those Federal Oil sharks and Shepler will be wondering how I had the face to stay in."

The published rumors regarding Consolidated began to conflict very sharply. Percival heard them all hungrily, disregarding those that did not confirm his own opinions. He called them irresponsible newspaper gossip, or believed them to be inspired by the clique for its own ends.

He studied the history of copper until he knew all its ups and downs since the great electrical development began in 1887. When Fouts, the broker he traded most heavily with, suggested that the Consolidated company was skating on thin ice, that it might, indeed, be going through the same experience that shattered the famous Secretan corne, a dozen years before, Percival pointed out unerringly the vital differences in the circumstances. The Consolidated had reduced the production of its controlled mines, and the price was bound to be maintained. When his adviser suggested that the companies not in the combine might cut the price, he brought up the very lively rumors of a "gentlemen's agreement" with the "non-combine" producers.

"Of course, there's Calumet and Hecla. I know that couldn't be gunned into the combination. They could pay dividends with copper at ten cents a pound. But the other independents know which side of their stock is spread with dividends, all right."

When it was further suggested that the Rio Tinto mines had sold ahead for a year, with the result that European imports from the United States had fallen off, and that the Consolidated could not go on forever holding up the price, Percival said nothing.

The answer to that was the secret negotiations for control of the European output, which would make the Consolidated master of the copper world. Instead of disclosing this, he pretended craftily to be encouraged by the mere generally hopeful outlook in all lines. Western Trolley, to, might be overcapitalized, and Union Cordage might also be in the hands of a piratical clique; but the demand for trolley lines was growing every day, and cordage products were not going out of fashion by any means.

"You see," he said to his adviser, "here's what the most conservative man in the street says in this afternoon's paper. 'That copper must necessarily break badly, and the whole boom collapse I do not believe. There is enough prosperity to maintain a strong demand for the metal through another year at least. As to Western Trolley and Union Cordage, the two other stocks about which doubt is now being so widely expressed in the street, I am persuaded that they are both due to rise, not sensationally, but at a healthy upward rate that makes them sound investments!'

"There," said Percival, "there's the judgment of a man that knows the game, but doesn't happen to have a dollar in either stock, and he doesn't know one or two things that I know, either. Just hypothecate 10,000 of those Union Cordage shares and 5,000 Western Trolley, and buy Consolidated on a 20 per cent. margin. I want to get bigger action. There's a good rule in poker: if your hand is worth calling, it's worth raising."

"I like your nerve," said the broker.

"Well, I know some one who has a sleeve with something up it, that's all."

By the third week in April, it was believed that his holdings of Consolidated were the largest in the street, excepting those of the Federal Oil people. Uncle Peter was delighted by the magnitude of his operations, and by his newly formed habits of industry.

"It'll be the makings of the boy," he said to Mrs. Bines in her son's presence. "Not that I care so much myself about all the millions he'll pile up, but it gives him a business training, and takes him out of the pinhead class. I bet Shepler himself will be takin' off his silk hat to your son, jest as soon as he's made this turn in copper—if he has enough of Dan'l J.'s grit to hang on—and I think he has."

"They needn't wait another day for me," Percival told him later. "The family treasure is about all in now, except ma's amethyst earrings and the hair watch chain Grandpa Cummings had. Of course I'm holding what I promised for Burman. But that rise can't hold off much longer, and the only thing I'll do, from now on, is to hock a few blocks of the stock I bought outright, and buy on margins, so's to get bigger action."

"My! My! you jest do fairly dazzle me," exclaimed the old man, delightedly. "Oh, I guess your pa wouldn't be at all proud of you if he could see it. I tell you, this family's all right while you keep hearty."

"Well, I'm not pushing my chest out any," said the young man, with becoming modesty, "but I don't mind telling you it will be the biggest thing ever pulled off down there by any one man."

"That's the true western spirit," declared Uncle Peter, beside himself with enthusiasm. "We do things big when we bother 'em at all. We ain't afraid of any pikers like Shepler, with his little two and five thousand lots. Oh! I can jest hear 'em callin' you hard names down in that Wall street—Napoleon of Finance and Copper King and all like that—in about 30 days!"

He accepted Percival's invitation that afternoon to go down into the street with him. They stopped for a moment in the visitors' gallery of the stock exchange and looked down into the mob of writhing, disheveled, shouting brokers. In and out, the throng swirled upon itself, while above its muddy depths surged a froth of hands in frenzied gesticulation. The frantic movement and din of shrieks disturbed Uncle Peter.

"Faro is such a lot quieter game," was his comment "so much more calm and restful. What a pity, now, 'tain't as Christian!"

MRS. APPLEGATE WELL AGAIN!
"I have had a bruised leg and foot for several years, caused by the brass eyelets of my shoe, which became very sore and painful especially at night. It itched, burned and ached me till it nearly set me crazy. I used everything I found and was suggested to ease it and nothing gave me any relief till I found and applied Azienza Cream which I think is a wonderful remedy for all sores and inflammation of the skin. The hard knots on my legs were as painful as bee stings, with discolored and purple spots. A running sore on my instep size of a half-dollar; the toe of my foot a seething sore clean around to my heel. The bone was sore for a whole year and very painful. I used five and one-half jars of Azienza Cream and healed the sore all up. The foot remained tender and I continued to use to strengthen and toughen the skin until now it is entirely well." DIAMOND DUST.

Miss Somerville is enjoying playing in her own backyard this season very much.

Freeholder Sam Wilbur has been spending his spare time at Lake Hopatcong, reading baseball dope and waiting for bites.

According to reports from Hotel Iroquois the All Nationals were pretty thin baseball players but their appetites were two inches thick.

Ten Highlanders batted above the .300 mark last week. No wonder they are winning.

Those two base drives of Jack O'Neil's drove the recollection of old time fans back to the days of Gentle Willie Murphy.

Word received from Billy Dalton, who is running a ball team himself this season, say he is making money hand over fist. He is one of the few of independent managers getting rich.

Starting in with the Cuban Stars next Saturday the Plainfields will face some stiff propositions during the month of June.

If that Westfield baseball rumor is as true as the five-legged calf story from East Bound Brook there will be some real sport in these diggings before Christmas comes.

It begins to look that Happy Pete Kiernan will be unable to play at all this season. Pete is in bad shape and appeared very much discouraged when he visited Manager Daab in Hoboken recently.

It must have broken Linderman's heart to shell back that hundred plunks to Manager Hussey, of the Ridgewood team. He was ordered to do so by the Equitable or quit his job. Even the Equitable has no use for grafters, it appears.

But lo! Baseball managers may come and baseball managers may go, baseball goes on forever.

If you don't believe it drop a line to Pop Anson or a postal card to John Murray or Hervey Doane.

Umpire Jack Merrity can justly be termed the Demosthenes of the baseball yard.

Wail in Eden.

Cain and Abel were both grumbling.

"What is the trouble, my sons?" asked Adam, as he dug a few more fishing worms. "You both seem out of sorts."

"Enough to put any one out of sorts," growled Cain.

"What is it?"

"Why, here it is the spring of the year, and not enough kids around here to get up a baseball team."

And to console them Adam had to take both on his fishing trip.—Chicago News.

The fellow who says the Plainfields can't bat has another guess coming. A total of 19 runs and 23 hits is sufficient to make a New York league pitcher go broke.

Metcalf's major league aspirations received a dampening by the performance and it is safe to say he will not dream of southern training grounds with the Yankees for some moons to come.

Joe Alberts expects to beak in with Somerville. The auburn haired Scotch Plains idol started out with the Loughlin Lyceums in Brooklyn on Sundays and is keeping up a fast gait.

Former Manager George Johnston got back in the game at Scotch Plains on Decoration Day in the game between the married and single men. For a fellow of his size he put up a fast exhibition both at the bat and in the field. Ed Hand, another of the old vets, also looked well back in harness.

This is no kid. Lawyer Billy Nash has received an offer from the Garwood management to play on its county league team. Billy thinks more of his position selling grandstand tickets at the Oval and has declined with thanks.

The income of Jackey Wahl, of Westfield, will show a slight shrinkage this season. For the past seven years Mr. Wahl has fattened his purse considerably by publishing the official score card at that place.

Somerville shut out the All Stars, of Newark, Saturday, by the score of 6 to 0.

The Westfield team and the Palmers, of Elizabeth, were only able to play three innings at Recreation Park, on Saturday, when the storm stopped the contest. Although the Palmers were padded for the game, the score stood 3 to 1 in favor of the home team, when the umpire called it off.

It is important that the members of the Plainfield Baseball Association attend the meeting to be held at the Hotel Iroquois tonight at 8 o'clock.

The Elizabeth Stars defeated the Amsterdams yesterday 6 to 5. Denning Taylor, of New York, was in the box for Amsterdam.

RAIN STOPPED RUTGERS PREP.-P.H.S. GAME

P. H. S. LEAD 1-0. WHEN SHOWER CAME IN FIFTH-INNING.

Rain put an end to a game between Rutgers' preparatory school and Plainfield High School Saturday afternoon, that promised to be an exciting one. The game was played on Union Oval, New Brunswick, and it was not until the beginning of the fifth inning that it began to rain hard enough for the umpire to call the game. At that time P. H. S. led in the scoring, 1 to 0, and their hopes for a victory were bright.

Stuart Freeman was in the box for Plainfield High School and he seemed to be in fine form, for not a man on the Rutgers team secured anything in the semblance of a safe hit. All the preparatory school boys could do was to raise easy infield flies and knock slow grounders Five men failed to solve Freeman's twisters in the four innings that were played.

Plainfield High School started off well in the first inning, finding Cox's curves easy from the beginning. The local nine should have had several more runs to its credit but foolish base-running spoiled chances to score The only run of the game, and that by the Plainfielders, was scored in the opening inning VanDeventer, first up, was out, short stop to first. Then Douglass hit for two bases to deep left, and he scored on a line hit to center by Brakeley. Brakeley stole second and third, but Davis and Mehaffey were unable to hit Brakeley in, for they struck out. Plainfield High School had men on base every inning thereafter. Rutgers had but three men up in each of the first three innings, and four men faced Freeman in the fourth.

Just as S. Freeman was coming to the bat for Plainfield High School in the fifth a few drops of rain fell, and Rutgers' captain at once spoke to and insisted upon the umpire calling the game. He continued to do so for several minutes until the rain came down harder, finally having the game called It is possible that the fifth inning could have been played out and thus the game would have been decided and the score allowed to stand as final, had the wrangling with the umpire been omitted. Probably fear of defeat led Rutgers to attempt the delay of a final score in the game.

Want Games.

The "Loraines" have a few open dates which they would like to fill with teams offering suitable guarantees. They have written challenges to the following clubs: Marquettes, Uticas, Pleasantville, Alaskas, Stapleton, Yonkers, Cedars, Elizabeth, Stars and Ridgewood teams, and if the dierent home managers would only use courtesy towards the travelling team managers, they will do away with any further annoyance from them by sending a postal in answer stating they received letter and are booked for the season. All letters or teams desiring to book this team may do so by stating open dates and guarantee offered. A. R. Hilsinger, No. 63 Morningside avenue, New York city.

WON ABBREVIATED GAME

Plainfield Had the Only Run When Rain Ended the Contest.

SMITH HELD ST. JOHNS

Visitors Found the Young Twirler Too Strong For Them—Crowd Got Very Wet in Grandstand.

With a run garnered in the second inning, the Plainfield nine got away with the rain-stopped game against the fast St. John's team, of Jersey City, Saturday afternoon. Just four and one-half innings, a game, were done when the heavy downpour came.

Smith's pitching had the visitors tight at every stage, and he was faultlessly supported. Lewis pitched well, but the locals hit him twice in the second, when hits were bad for his mates.

There was a small crowd at the game, but the visitors brought an enthusiastic bunch of rooters with them and the grandstand was full of sound as the game went on.

Leonard started the run home in the second after Reardon made the first out, short to first. He hit a Texas leaguer to right. Heffron made first on an error by short, Leonard going to third. Heffron was caught stealing. Curley came to the scratch with a single to left field, and Leonard scored. Curley went to third on the left fielder's error, but O'Neil struck out.

In the fourth innings St. John's came their closest to scoring. With one down, Harder drew a base on balls. Coyle popped out, but Lahey got the only hit of the visitors, and Harder went to third on the hit. Gill walked, and the Jersey City rooters breathed hard. Lispenard cut their breathing short by fanning.

Smith fanned the side in the next inning, and then came the deluge. Umpire Merrity didn't have to call the game. Bleacherites and players chased for the grandstand hot-foot, and crowded up to the back seats. The stand was very little protection against the driving sheet of water, and it was a drenched crowd that made for the cars when the let-up came.

The score:

Saturday's Game Counts.

Considerable discussion is going on among the sports interested in the base hit pools over Saturday's game. Under the rules it was a "full game," the visitors having played five innings and the locals four, which makes a 4½ inning contest. Three hits were made by Plainfield, one each by Bertwhistle, Leonard and Curley.

THE RAIN STOPS PLAY

Play at the Park and Westfield Golf Clubs Also Marred by the Storm on Saturday.

Among the many sports that were suddenly terminated on Saturday was that of golf at the Plainfield Country Club. There was a large field that started in the various events, but the driving storm sent a majority of the players to cover before they could make the eighteen holes. At the Park Golf Club the storm interfered with the play to such an extent that there were only two scores returned from the President's and club trophies and these did not count, the rule being that six scores must be posted in these events.

One of the leading events at the Plainfield Country Club was the weekly competition for the Golf Committee cup, but only four scores were returned. Charles A. Stover won first honors and three points with a net score of 82, while Edward A. Stevenson won two points with a score of 86 and Henry D. Hibbard and D. W. Taylor divided the one point, each making a score of 88. These scores were returned:

Charles A. Stover, 92, 10-82; Edward A. Stevenson, 106, 20-86; Henry D. Hibbard, 93, 5-88; D. W. Talor, 101, 13-88.

Another event of interest was the initial play for the bogie June handicap, to be played for every Saturday during the month. Charles A. Stover also won this event, being 1 up on bogie. At the end of the month those who have won a leg on the cup will play off at match play for the trophy. Owing to the storm the mixed foursome was postponed to a future date.

Of the total number of thirty-two who qualified during May for play in the June handicap cup competition at the Westfield Golf Club, the sixteen who qualified on Saturday to continue at match play next Saturday, were unable to make low scores owing to the storm. Those who qualified are as follows:

C. L. Lyons, 119, 18—101; F. B. Simpson, 108, 16—92 J. A. Woodward, 90, 4—86; J. B. Barr, 92, 7—85; W. P. Howe, 98, 5—93; F. P. Condit, 91, 4—87; R. I. Townley, 91, 3—88; R. B. Carroll, 85, 0—85; R. H. Middleditch, 106, 14—92; C. Kirchner, 104, 6—98; W. J. Bogart, Jr., 87, 0—87; A. D. Tuttle, 96, 4—92; C. E. Cruse, 96, 0—96; J. A. Worth, 94, 8—86; R. L. Van Dyke, 93, 12—81; J. B. McCullon, 97, 16—81.

Mrs. H. W. Thayer won the putting contest for women with a score of 24. The other scores were Miss Hegeman, 26 Miss Bedell, 27; Mrs. W. I. Davis, 28, and Miss Kimball, 30.

The standing for the Golf Committee cup at the Plainfield Country Club is as follows:

BOARD OF EDUCATION RETIRES MISS FORCE

SHE HAS TAUGHT IN THE CITY SCHOOLS FOR THIRTY-SEVEN YEARS.

The city Board of Education at its meeting, last night, retired Miss Emma Force, who has been a teacher in the local schools for the past thirty-seven years. The action of the members was taken at her own request as she wishes to devote her entire time to the care of her invalid mother, but under the provisions of the State law she will receive an annuity of one-half the average of her salary for the past five years for the remainder of her life. The board passed the following resolution in connection with the retirement:

"Resolved, That in pursuance to her request Miss Emma Force be placed on the pension list, to be paid an annuity of one-half the average of her salary for the past five years, payment to be made in the same way and at the same time as the salaries of the other teachers; that the clerk of the board be directed to express to Miss Force the board's appreciation of her long and efficient services."

Miss Force has been in the Franklin school during the greater part of the thirty-seven years and she has always been a great favorite with students. There are many business men in Plainfield today who were taught by her and they remember her as a conscientious, pains-taking instructor. She had a way of making herself the friend of every boy and girl in the class and the majority of the friendships have remained. There is only one other teacher in the city corps who has been in the service longer than Miss Force, Miss Ellen Niles, of the High school.

At Church Sesquicentennial.

Representatives of the Crescent Avenue and First Presbyterian churches attended the services in the "Old First" Presbyterian church, Fifth avenue and Twelfth street, New York, yesterday, in celebration of the 200 anniversary of the organization of the First Presbytery in America. Addresses were made by Rev. Dr. Duffield, Dr. Moffatt and Dr. Roberts.

J. B. Higgins' Record.

J. B. Higgins, of West Front street, yesterday completed twenty-five years' employment at the Potter Press Works. During that time he was never late a single day. Mr. Higgins has worked at the same bench during the quarter of a century, and he lost very little time, even in the way of vacations.

A. L. Andrews, of Grove street, has gone West on a business trip. He is accompanied by his daughter, Miss Andrews.

TRAIN SERVICE POOR COMMON COUNCIL TOLD

115 CITIZENS PRESENT PETITION AND COMMITTEE IS TO ACT.

In the hope of securing a more satisfactory train service between Plainfield and New York during the middle of the day, a petition in five parts, signed by Elston M. French and 115 other interested persons, was presented to the Common Council at the June meeting, last night. The petitioners asked that the Council take the matter up with the officials of the New Jersey Central with a view to remedying the existing trouble.

The petitioners complained that the express trains leaving New York during the forenoon and which previous to December last stopped at Plainfield have been taken off and that since December no express trains from New York stop here between 11 o'clock in the morning and 2 o'clock in the afternoon. This arrangement was found to be unsatisfactory to those who desire to bring prospective real estate purchasers to Plainfield. The petitioners also complained of a similar condition of affairs existing in the schedule of trains from Philadelphia to New York during the forenoon and early afternoon. There are several fast trains, but they only stop here on signal to take on passengers for the west or allow western passengers to get off.

The communication was similar to one presented to the Board of Trade at a recent meeting, but that body, so far as known, has taken no action looking to a betterment of the service.

President Mellick referred the matter to the public affairs committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Dietz Serenaded.

Upon their return from their wedding trip last night, Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Dietz were given a reception and serenade at their home in Rahway, which was attended by many Plainfielders, as well as guests from Newark, New York and Rahway. A quartette of college chums, William Ulrich, Herman Ulrich, John Hochle and James Oppenheimer, rendered several selections. Dancing and instrumental music also helped to pass a pleasant evening. A company of thirty young people serenaded the bride and groom and were rewarded by a bounteous supper. Mr. and Mrs. Dietz received many handsome gifts.

SHAKESPEARE AS OF OLD

Hartridge School Pupils Present "As You Like It" on Greensward.

ON MR. MALI'S GROUNDS

Production Creditable In Every Way—Young Players Know Their Lines and Read Them Well.

With pupils of the Hartridge School in every part, Shakespeare's "As You Like It," was presented on the lawn of the John Taylor Johnston place, East Front street, yesterday afternoon. The performance was witnessed by a society gathering numbering close to 500.

The scene was laid at the side of the brook, in one of the prettiest parts of the grounds. As in all open-air Shakespearian productions, there were no waits between acts, the play going on steadily, from start to finish.

The production was highly creditable. The members of the cast knew their lines thoroughly, and read them well. The costuming was all that could be desired. The girls in male parts took their roles gracefully.

Three old English glees were sung in the play. Dorothy Tremaine sang two and wee Robert Miller sang the other. Pretty dances were executed by the Loves and Cupids and the shepherdesses and foresters at the end of the last act. The incidental music was played by the Schumann String Quartette, of Newark, with Miss Seward, of the faculty, at the piano.

The cast:

Duke, Frederica R. Mead; Frederick, Edith Mellick; Amiens, Dorothy Tremaine; Jaques, Virginia M. Ross; Orlando, Frances D. Stiles; Le Beau, Margaret B. Buttfield; Touchstone, Ann R. Waldo; Corin, Constance Pittis; Silvius, Helen Burke; Charles, Marjory Douglas; Adam, Louise Fox; William, Alice H. Smith; Rosalind, Evelyn Butts; Celia, Katherine McCutchen; Phebe, Helen Joy; Audrey, Helen Besler; Lords: Margaret Buttfield, Abbie Holstein, Beatrice Hedges; ladies: Frances Iredell, Helen Riordan, Miriam Howe; Foresters: Marjory W. Brown, Shirley H. Curry, Mary Rushmore, Marjory Douglas; Shepherdesses: Frances Hyde, Gladys Chase, Edith Foster, Helen Harrington; Pages: Robert M. Miller, Orton O. G. Dale, Roger D. Mellick; Hymen, Winifred Rapalje; Loves: Katherine Drayton, Dorcas Bomann, Louise Patterson, Janet Lane, Elizabeth Browne, Helen Terry, Mildred Miller; Cupids: Stanley W. Burke, Allen V. Heely, Jack P. Stevens, James H. Ackerman, Dale Warren, Seward Lyon, Bruce Buttfield.

Miss Marguerite Walbridge, of the faculty, coached the members of the cast. The dancers were trained by Miss Laura M. Kennish, also of the faculty.

TRUSTIES ESCAPE FROM RAHWAY REFORMATORY

ONE PRISONER COULDN'T SWIM AND WAS CAPTURED BY THE GUARDS.

Michael Creig and John Martin, of Trenton, and Frank Bacon, of Bayonne, all young men and inmates of the Rahway Reformatory, escaped from the institution at 5 o'clock this morning by vaulting a high fence in the rear of the engine room. Martin was captured soon afterwards, but his companions got away and are still at liberty.

The three men were "trusties" at the reformatory, in fact Martin was to have been paroled in July. They were employed in the kitchen doing various things and were allowed almost every privilege.

One of the guards saw the men jump the fence and the reformatory whistle was blown immediately. All of the guards assembled and started in pursuit of the prisoners, who had but five minutes headway. The men were chased to the Rahway river, where Creig and Bacon jumped in and made their escape before the guards reached that point. Martin being unable to swim was cornered by the officials and returned to the reformatory. A search is still being made for the missing pair.

This is the second time within a year that three men have escaped from the reformatory. In the first instance the men were all captured.

PLAN BIG MASS MEETING

Colbyites to Start Assault on Local "Machine" in The New Theatre.

LA FOLLETTE MAY COME

Hamilton Wright Mabie Likely To Preside Over the Gathering—Executive Committee Members Will Meet Tonight.

Arrangements for the first big mass meeting of the Colbyites in this city will be made tonight. City Judge Runyon, president of the Equal Taxation League, and R. Henry Depew, president of the Plainfield Protective Association, and H. L. Hall, members of the league executive committee, will meet to plan the meeting.

Speakers of national prominence will be secured. The meeting will be held in the New Plainfield theatre, and the leaders of the new idea expect to fill it to the doors.

Judge Runyon is much interested in Senator Colby's announcement that Senator La Follette, of Wisconsin, is coming to New Jersey. If the famous leader of the new idea in the Middle West comes to New Jersey, the Judge will work to get him to speak here. It is expected that Hamilton Wright Mabie, the essayist and literary critic, who lives in Summit, will be chairman of the meeting. He presided over the meeting at Summit last Friday night, and declared himself a follower of the new idea in a ringing and forceful speech.

TWO VICTIMS OF HARD LUCK IN CITY COURT

YOUTH AND YOUNG MAN HELPED BY CHIEF AND JUDGE.

Rescue work was the feature of the city court session this morning. In two of the three cases, the principals were young victims of hard luck, and the inquisition gave way to steps for helping the unfortunates.

The most pitiable of the two cases was that of a fifteen-year-old boy, Charles Beckham. He was found sleeping in a wagon last night by Patrolman Keefe. The boy had scarcely clothes enough to cover him, and the tale he told in the court moved Judge Runyon and Chief Kiely deeply. He said his mother died in Pennsylvania where he was a child and his father deserted him shortly afterwards. Since then he has made his living as best he can. Recently he worked for a farmer in Dunellen, and he says it was the best job he ever had. The boy told his story in a way to leave no question as to its truthfulness.

Chief Kiely took charge of the boy with big-hearted energy, and saw to it that he had a whopping breakfast right off. The meal over the Chief took him to John J. Kenney's store and got him a pair of stout shoes.

The Chief put the boy to work about headquarters. He will be taken care of until work can be found for him.

John Devine, 22 years old, was the other victim of hard luck. He was taken from the fast Philadelphia, westbound, train on a wire from the Central police force at Jersey City, where he sneaked aboard he train.

Devine said he was caught in the San Francisco earthquake and beggared, and he described the city and the excitement there with a wealth of circumstance and detail that left no room for doubt as to his truthfulness. He had received transportation from 'Frisco to St. Louis, from where he beat his way East. He came originally from Philadelphia, and he was trying to get within reach of friends there when the railroad police had him arrested.

The Chief gave him a breakfast, and Judge Runyon started a collection that speedily reached a sum sufficient to buy Devine a ticket to Philadelphia.

CELLAR FULL OF COAL.

And Mrs. Freeman Couldn't Explain Where It Came From.

Mrs. Emma Freeman, colored, was arrested by Detective McCarthy yesterday, charged with stealing coal from the railroad. The officer discovered a lot of coal in the woman's cellar, the presence of which she could not satisfactorily explain.

She was arraigned in the city court. She told Judge Runyon that somebody, she didn't know who, put the coal in her cellar. Her story struck the court as too fishy for consideration and a fine of $8 was imposed.

Newman Brothers are now receiving shipments of fresh Jersey strawberries every morning. They are the delicious kind that everybody likes.

LOSSES LED TO SUICIDE

H. H. Powers, Former Boroughite, Kills Himself in Brooklyn.

UNDONE IN WALL ST.

Once a Wealthy Broker, Reverses Swept His Fortune Away and Broke Down His Spirit.

Henry H. Powers, until a year ago a resident of North Plainfield, a former member of the New York Stock Exchange, committed suicide yesterday morning at his home, at 1289 Bergen street, Brooklyn, by shooting himself in the head. He was 58 years old, and leaves a wife and five children. Depression over losses in Wall street led to the act.

Powers years ago was one of the wealthiest brokers in Wall street. As he often said, luck one day went against him and he kept going down steadily until his fortune dwindled almost to nothing. He sold his seat in the Stock Exchange and then sold his mansion in Lefferts place, Brooklyn, and moved the borough, where he and his family lived eight years. The home was at 63 Grove street. About a year ago he moved back to Brooklyn.

In spite of all his reverses Powers went to Wall street every day. His losses were so great lately that they made him desperate. On his way home on Saturday he bought a revolver. Sunday night he slept in a room on the first floor. When he failed to come down to breakfast one of his daughters went to see what the cause was. Upon being admitted to the room Powers told her he was very ill and wished to have his breakfast in his room. The little girl had no sooner told her mother than they heard a pistol shot, and upon rushing upstairs found the man dead. Mrs. Powers, who has been ill some time and barely able to get about, collapsed.

CITY FATHERS ACT ON CONSOLIDATION

PUBLIC AFFAIRS COMMITTEE TO CONFER WITH BOROUGH COUNCILMEN.

Following the example of the North Plainfield Council in the movement to bring about the consolidation of Plainfield and North Plainfield as suggested by the Board of Trade. Herbert Buxton, chairman of the public affairs committee, offered a resolution at the meeting of the Common Council last night, providing that the public affairs committee confer with a similar committee from the North Plainfield Council. The resolution was adopted.

A communication was received by the Common Council at its regular May meeting from the Board of Trade asking that a consolidation committee reappointed. A similar request was sent to the Borough Council. At the time the Plainfield members referred the matter to the public affairs committee for a later report. The Borough Council at first held the appointment up showing no disposition to undertake the matter at the time.

Last Friday night, however, the Borough Council did appoint a committee and it is now expected that the two committees will soon get together and outline a plan of action.

MUST NOT INJURE TREES.

Building Movers Warned by West Sixth Street Property Owners.

Through Lawyer George W. V. Moy, I. N. VanSickle and Frank W. Runyon, of Madison avenue, this morning served notice on Mobus Brothers, who are moving the former Boice house from Park avenue to Essex street, that under no circumstances must they injure the property of the complainants. The structure is being taken through West Sixth street and the thoroughfare has many handsome shade trees that might be damaged. Mr. VanSickle and Mr. Runyon both have trees which are great ornaments to their grounds and they issued the notice in order to protect them. They ask that the limbs of the trees be tied up and thus guard against tearing the bark.

The house was purchased by Tallany Brothers from Mrs. Boice, who wanted the ground to enlarge the lawn about her premises.

COUNCIL CHAMBER FOR DISTRICT COURT

JUDGE NEWCORN TO SIT IN THE CITY FATHERS' ROOMS TEMPORARILY.

Former Assemblyman William Newcorn, the newly-appointed judge of Plainfield's district court, informed the Common Council, last night, as to his appointment on May 28 last, to the office and his selection of Horace G. Adams as clerk of the court. He also stated that he was sworn in by Judge Atwater, and that he had administered the oath to Clerk Adams, who had furnished bonds in the sum of $3,000, which were approved by Judge Atwater. The Judge told the Common Council that in accordance with the law it must provide quarters for the court and also supply books, stationery and proper furniture.

The communication was referred to the finance committee. Later in the evening Chairman Daniel offered a resolution, which was adopted, providing that the Common Council rooms be used as a district court until further notice.

The matter being settled it remains for Judge Newcorn to complete his arrangements for the holding of the first session of court on Tuesday, June 12.

FAVOR FOR WINDHAM FROM COMMON COUNCIL

WALDORF GIVEN PERPETUAL RIGHT TO COVER ITS PAVEMENT.

In an attempt to secure for Henry Windham, proprietor of the Waldorf Hotel, permission to erect a canopy from the curb to his cafe on East Front street, Councilman Frank Randolph caused considerable discussion at the June meeting of the Common Council last night. The effort at once raised the old question of granting a permit to Charles P. Sebring to erect an iron awning in front of his property on West Front street, occupied by George Watts, the butcher. Mr. Daniel, who opposed favorable action to the petition of Mr. Windham, could not see what right the members had to discriminate between West and East Front street.

Mr. Randolph moved that the petition be granted, adding that it had Chief Doane's approval as building inspector. He also said that the canopy Mr. Windham proposed to erect would be similar to the one now used by Woodhull & Martin at the firm's main entrance to its store.

Mr. Hibbard opposed Mr. Windham's petition on the ground that he did not believe it to be right to put public property to private use and besides such a canopy would be more or less of an obstruction on the sidewalk.

Mr. Gloak explained that Mr. Windham proposed to erect a canopy and not an awning, whereupon Mr. Hibbard wanted him to explain the difference. Mr. Daniel also sought further information as to the kind of an awning proposed, but Mr. Randolph was not prepared to give the information in detail. Then Mr. Daniel objected on the ground that the permission was to be granted in perpetuity. To meet that objection Mr. Randolph offered to amend his motion so as to provide that the permission be given for one year from the present date.

A vote was then called for on the question, but Mr. Daniel stated that the motion could not be amended after it was passed, and Mr. Randolph withdrew his amendment. On the vote, Councilmen Buxton, Gloak, Mellick, C. C. Randolph and Frank Randolph supported the motion, while Councilmen Daniel and Hibbard voted in the negative. Mr. Windham will, therefore, be permitted to erect a canopy as he desires.

Duped Washington Valley Folks.

Residents of Washington Valley were visited yesterday morning by a woman who solicited subscriptions for an alleged sick family living at Scotch Plains. She showed a paper bearing the name of W. H. Rogers with a good-sized contribution opposite. This served to get her something like $20 when it was discovered that Mr. Rogers' name was forged and that the sick family was a myth. An attempt was made to arrest the woman but she got away.

Miss Katherine Ball, of Rockview avenue, who has been spending the winter in California and Oregon, has returned home. Miss Ball was in California at the time of the earthquake and witnessed the San Francisco disaster, but escaped all harm.

Going After the Ice Dealers and the Telephone Company.

CITY WEIGHER OF COAL

Council To Be Asked To Appoint One, To Shut off Short Weight Tricks—Consolidation Endorsed.

Investigation of the telephone service, the ice supply, the municipal water-plant question and coal-weights, will be undertaken by the Plainfield Protective Association, now that the Public Service Corporation has been practically disposed of. The new lines of activity were laid out at the third general meeting of the association last night. Also, consolidation was approved by formal vote.

The meeting was not largely attended, but the members present were very much in earnest, and there was an animated discussion on every subject brought up. The session lasted for two hours.

President Depew, at the beginning of the meeting, made formal report on the drop in rates promised by the P. S. C. Much better gas and electricity were promised, he said, in connection with the greater concession. He received a letter yesterday, he said, in which he was apprised of the fact that new transformers would be in operation in the power-house in a few weeks. Furthermore, the company had promised to receive and investigation complaints, hereafter, instead of keeping a bouncer busy.

Mr. Depew said that he had suggested to the P. S. C. the advisability of putting cards beside the meter, on which the man who made the reading could sign his name to the figures he entered on his book, but the corporation officials couldn't see their way clear to ordering that. Some check on the readings was needed, Mr. Depew said, and he suggested that the members take their own readings nightly, and register them on blanks furnished by the association. Considerable discussion arose from that suggestion. It was finally decided that the devotion of the members to the meter readings would be too uncertain, and in place of the nightly readings, it was decided to send cards noting the amounts of the lighting bills each month to the secretary. This will enable the association to see what the average bill was or should have been for a certain period. The cards, with printed forms on them, will be furnished by the association.

In the course of the discussion, it was brought out that the new level rate was not only raising the price of the lighting in the few private houses where the special rate had been in force, but in the business places as well. Mr. Depew stated that the adjustment of the rate was understood to apply only to private consumers, and discussion of the measure of protection to be accorded the big consumers of light began at once. W. L. Saunders was of the opinion that big concerns could fight their own battles, but D. E. Titsworth insisted that the big consumers were entitled to every bit of assistance and protection the association could give them, and L. V. F. Randolph agreed with him. It was finally agreed that whenever a large consumer laid a complaint before it, the Association acts for the complainant.

William L. Stillman pointed the way to the first of the new campaigns. He said that short weights in coal had been detected in certain directions, and he moved that the association seek to have the council take advantage of the law covering the case and appoint an official coal weigher. The scales, he said, would cost nothing, if a certain concern got the appointment as weighers. The new move was enthusiastically received, and at Mr. Saunders' suggestions, the executive committee was instructed to ask the co-operation of the Board of Trade in securing the appointment.

The telephone service in this city was marked for investigation after the members had agreed that it was very poor. Mr. Depew said he understood the cause to lie in the fact that the company paid very cheaply for help at the local exchange, and that as soon as an operator learned the business she went off after another position, so that there was a constant string of untrained workers. L. V. F. Randolph said the company strung wires where they pleas-

THE POPULAR SAILOR.

Nine-tenths of the hats you see this spring are sailors.

The other tenth are sailors of another style.

In fact, the sailor hat seems to be heading straight for its own destruction, by way of an overdose of popularity.

At the fashionable milliner's there are sailors at $40 per. On the 99-cent counter in the department stores the sailor reigns supreme.

Every woman you meet wears a sailor in one shape or another. It may be flat and pammed down over her brows, kicking up its heels festively behind. Or it may be small and saucy, and wink its other eye at you as it sails past, floating high on the crested waves of a marcelled head. Or it may batten drunkenly down over one ear, ogling crazily out of its peacock eyes.

For nearly all the sailors hilariously wave a many-orbed peacock's tail as they go. This flaunts out behind at angles that to say the least, are funny.

Those that don't have peacock feathers have striped ribbon. Count 'em. You'll see 'em on the street by the millions. The rest—oh, well, the rest have to be content with buckles and bows and sundry little makeshifts, says the Philadelphia Bulletin.

No age is too mature, no fairness too fat and forty, to forego the sailor hat, it seems. Behold it reposing jauntily over the face of the fresh young girl, and with equal assurance careening mildly over the left eyebrow of the heavy woman with a countenannce like a full red moon, where its diminutive unfitness doth cause the polite to turn away and smile, albeit the less careful giggle openly.

No doubt the sailor is the thing this spring, for all ages, shades, styles and circumstances. But there are a few women who have sworn a mighty vow to wear soup-plates, tomato cans, bureau scarfs, table dollies—anything on their heads but sailor hats, just for the sake of variety!

NO MORE JAP STEWARDS.

When the battleships Connecticut and Louisiana go into commission, the Government will put in force a new regulation forbidding aliens from being employed as stewards and wardroom servants. This class of men, together with a few musicians, represent all the foreigners now in any of the crews, and it is proposed to displace them with Americans. The stewards and servants are now mostly Japanese; their places will be taken by negroes. The bandmen are in most cases Italians, but as there have been established schools of instruction for musicians, the necessity of employing foreigners will be removed. When this policy is carried into effect, the small percentage of aliens that now appear on the rolls will be eliminated.—Navy League Journal.

Reliable Money Lenders

MOVING TIME IS HERE.

Many people who have been dissatisfied with their apartments during the past winter would like to move to better themselves, but cannot afford to.

Why not come in and talk with us? If you owe a little back rent or grocery bill or the doctor or coal man, or you need money for rent in advance, it might possibly be an advantage to get a small loan, say $10, $25 or possibly $50, of us, and then pay it back in small amounts, either weekly or monthly, to suit your convenience. We loan from $10 up—any sum—any time. The possession of household goods, piano, or horse and wagon, are sufficient evidence of your ability to pay. A postal will bring us to your door.

WHAT THE HAND TELLS.

The shape of the hand shows the disposition and character of the possessor; the lines reveal his fortune. The shape can easily be learned; the lines are a matter of long and careful study and are always changing. A quick glance at the shape of the hand, the ends of the fingers and the way they unconsciously fall, will reveal more than five years of intimacy. After observing the following rules, if you are deceived, it is nobody's fault but your own.

The Fingers.

When the fingers are square at the end, the tendency is wholly toward the practical or business side; if, however, they are rounded, then the artistic emotional and imaginative side will be prominent. If they are both square and round, "the mixed hand," both qualities will be apparent, but the shape of the first finger will determine which rules.

The smaller the thumb the less character. All idiots have very small thumbs. The more it stands out from the hand, the more ability and success.

If the thumb turns toward the hand, it shows a saving, economical disposition, if it turns back and is smaller at the end, it signifies more extravagance and weaker will.

The first finger represents the person, the second is the finger of destiny, while the third shows the influence of circumstances and other people. When the first finger is longer than the third, the individual always rules and is not easily controlled. A long first finger is also a sight of a selfish nature.

If the first finger be shorter than the third, other people or circumstances will be too much "en evidence," and such a hand should follow its own impressions and not be advised too much by others. When the fingers are all wide apart, there is great independence; when held close together, quite the opposite. A long third finger is often a sign of great luck in all games of chance.

The Hand.

When the fingers are long and the palm short, there is a great eye to small details; "fussy people" have this hand. When the palm is longer than the fingers, there is more power to plan than execute, and details are dealt with as a whole. It is unusually a hand that thinks quickly and is impatient and in a hurry.

A soft hand shows a love of ease and indifference to work; if it be full, it plans a plenty for others to do. When the hand is full and rather hard ("the insistent hand,") there will be great executive ability and "something doing" all the time. Failure and success, both of a marked character, are for this hand.

A hard, thin, much lined hand, shows great nervousness and not a very happy disposition. The long narrow hand is of the arbitrary type and is inclined to be cruel and despotic.

Very large hands over-do, very small hands hope, but do not fulfill, and deformed hands show a deformed nature. A hollow, concave palm, the "Fatal Hand."

Yes, the hand points the way, which the wise endeavor to follow.

TO KILL THE DANDRUFF GERM.

Is the Only Possible Way of Having An Effective Cure.

If you see a woman or a man with luxuriant glossy hair, you may be sure neither has dandruff to amount to anything. In nearly every case where women and men have thin brittle hair, they owe it to dandruff. There are hundreds of preparations that "claim" to cure dandruff, but not one but Newbro's Herpicide tells you that dandruff is the result of a germ burrowing into the scalp, and that permanent cure of dandruff and its consequent falling and baldness, can only be had by killing the germ; and there is no other preparation that will destroy that germ but Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, and you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

SAYS EVERY BELIEVER BELONGS TO GOD

REV. MR. MUSSON PREACHES ON THE DIVINE OWNERSHIP OF MAN.

At the communion service at Faith chapel Sunday morning, Rev. J. W. Musson preached a sermon on the ownership of man by God. Taking as his text, Psalm 119; 94, "I am thine, save me, for I have sought thy precepts." He spoke substantially as follows:

"The one thing which distinguished the nation of Israel from all the other nations of the earth was the fact that they belonged to Jehovah. He was their God and they were His people. It was for this purpose that He delivered them from their cruel bondage in Egypt. It was this relationship which was established by the covenant at Mt. Sinai, and it was because of this fact that He so patiently bore with their waywardness, and so freely lavished His love upon them. And, while this relationship which Israel as a nation sustained to Jehovah had its place in God's plan, and was the method which God used to preserve the worship of Himself in the world, it typified a closer and more real relationship which exists between God and His spiritual Israel.

"Every one whose heart is filled with love to God and whose life is spent in serving God, belongs to Him in a far grander sense than Israel did of old. There is no more helpful or inspiring thought for the Christian's meditation than this, that we belong to God; that we are His property, and that he regards us as among His choice possessions.

"In the prophecy of Malachi we read these words: 'They shall be mine, saith the Lord of Hosts, in that day when I make up my jewels.' The word 'jewels' is more accurately translated in the Revised Version, 'peculiar treasure.' God's people are His 'peculiar treasure;' He loves them with a peculiar affection and regards them with peculiar delight.

"There are three ways in which this relationship has been established:

"First, we are God's by His gracious design. It is the Father's will that all men should come into His full possession, and recognize His divine ownership.

"Second, we are God's by purchase. We are called God's redeemed ones. To 'redeem' means to buy back that which has been forfeited. So it is written, 'We were redeemed, not with corruptible things such as silver and gold but with the precious blood of Christ.'" And as that which is redeemed belongs to the One who redeems it, the Apostle says, 'Ye are not your own, ye are bought with a price.'

"Third, we are God's by dedication. Having been brought to appreciate God's grace in providing the plan and in giving the raisom for our redemption, we voluntarily turned to Him and said:

" 'Just as I am, thy love unknown,
Hase broken every barrier down;
Now to be thine, yea, thine alone,
O Lam of God, I come, I come.'

"Thus, we solemnly dedicated ourselves to His service. So that we can say with the Psalmist, 'O Lord, I am thine.' Thine, because thou did'st design the plan of redemption; Thine, because thou did'st purchase me with thy precious blood; Thine, because led by thy spirit. I have dedicated myself to thy service. This fact that we belong to God carries with it a privilege and an obligation.

"It is the duty of an owner to protect his property. The Psalmist realizes this fact and so he says. 'I am thine, save me. He based his plea for help upon the fact that he belonged to God.

"But this divine ownership brings to us not only a privilege but an obligation. If we claim to belong to God we must give evidence of this fact by seeking God's precepts.

" 'I am thine, save me,' said the Psalmist, "for I have sought thy precepts.' Just before Wendell Phillips died he said to a friend: 'When I was a lad of fourteen years I heard Lyman Beecher preach on this subject, "You belong to God." I went home, locked the door of my room, threw myself on the floor and prayed, "O Lord, I belong to thee; take what is thine own." From that day to this I have found much comfort in the thought. Whenever tempted to sin I have said, "I belong to God, I cannot do that," and when ever discouraged in life I have said, "I belong to God and He will take care of me. And He has.' "

WHY ASK CHILDREN?

The wisdom of permitting the public school children of the city to contribute to the fund for the rebuilding of San Francisco's schools may be questioned. On sober thought it does not seem proper to raise that or any other similar fund from among the pupils. Necessarily the contributions come indirectly from the parents and many of them will be impelled to give just because they know that children of richer parentage will make donations. Naturally it will be admitted one child does not desire to see another give more than he does. Therein the trouble lies.

Some more satisfactory method should be devised in place of this round-about way of getting a fund together.

THE CAMPAIGN IS BEGUN.

As might be expected under the circumstances, John F. Dryden has announced his candidacy for re-election to the United States Senate. Col. Kuser, his son-in-law, acts as spokesman for the insurance president in throwing down the gauntlet for George L. Record, who made his announcement some days ago.

The colonel claims that every regular political leader in the State and every possible regular aspirant for the office have given promises of support. Among the list he cites former Governors Griggs, Murphy and Voorhees as well as Governor Stokes. In fact he intimates that he has pledges from every one of them that there will be no opposition to Mr. Dryden's candidacy.

The campaign has begun—now for the thunder of the guns.

IS THERE AN ICE TRUST?

The suggestion that the Plainfield Protective Association, which has undertaken an investigation of the ice question, study out just what the commodity costs the wholesale and retail dealers is a good one. Publicity of the widest form should be given the findings, for otherwise the task mapped out will be of no direct benefit.

Last night it was alleged by members of the organization that a combination of dealers regulates prices. Moreover it was openly asserted that one man was paid $1,000 to stay out of the business. These charges should be thoroughly sifted and the findings laid before the public. If no better prices can be obtained, then the suggestion that a mutual ice company be established will be the only recourse.

Work Started on Sanitary Sewers.

Foster Callahan, the contractor from Elizabeth, who has the work of building the extension to the sanitary sewer, has commenced operations on East Sixth and East Seventh streets and Leland avenue and with favorable weather the contract will be completed on time. Owing to a little misunderstanding Mr. Callahan's bond for the faithful performance of his work was not passed upon until yesterday, but that was attended to at the meeting of the Common Council, last night, and everything is now in readiness to push the work.

VanSchaick Leaves Hospital.

Singleton VanSchaick, the steeplechase enthusiast who received a broken hip in an accident at the Watchung Hunt meet, Saturday afternoon, was removed yesterday from Muhlenberg Hospital to his home at Fair Ground, near Huntington, L. I. He is doing very nicely and his wife preferred to have him where she could personally care for him.

Miss Wickersham, of East Seventh street, will soon sail for Europe, taking with her a niece and nephew, Miss Dorothy Hibbard and Master Lyman Hibbard, of East Seventh street.

PASSAGE OF ORDINANCES

Measures For Sewer System Extension, Grading and Sidewalks Taken Up.

REPORTS ARE READ

Transfer of $1,800 From General to Fire Fund—$200 For Town Improvement Association.

The regular order of business was suspended at the June meeting of the Common Council, last night, to allow for public hearings on the proposed ordinances to establish the south-side sanitary sewer; to establish the grade in a portion of Leland avenue, and to provide for the repair and improvement of sidewalks in the East End of the city. No one appeared to speak for or against the ordinances and during the evening they were read and adopted on first and second readings and ordered advertised.

In the absence of President R. I. Tolles, who was detained at home by illness, the chair was occupied by Councilman Mellick. Councilmen Montgomery and Tyler were also absent from the meeting. Not a single member of the license committee was present and it was necessary to authorize members of other committees to sign necessary bills.

J. Clarence Ogden having secured an equity in the property, 921-925 Park avenue, offered the city $735 for its interest in the property and for the conveyance of the deed to him, the city having acquired the property at a tax sale. In accordance with a resolution offered by Mr. Daniel, the proposition was accepted and the mayor and clerk were authorized to arrange for the transfer provided the money is paid within fourteen days.

The offer of the Town Improvement Association of Plainfield and North Plainfield to care for the city park until November 1, 1906, providing the usual appropriation of $200 was made, was accepted in a resolution offered by Mr. Daniel.

Understanding that the city is desirous of selling the property in Plainfield avenue, owned by the late Charles McCarthy, which was bought in at a tax sale, Bridget McCarthy, a sister of the dead man, made a proposition to the city, in a communication, offering to pay an amount equivalent to all claims against the property to get possession of it. The matter was referred to the finance committee.

The Board of School Estimate, through the secretary, F. T. Woodhull, informed the Common Council that it had determined that the amount needed for school purposes for the ensuing year, exclusive of that apportioned by the county superintendent of schools, would be $73,000. The communication was filed and action will be taken on the matter later in the month.

David C. Smalley and Charles McGinley, owners of the adjoining property, petitioned the Common Council to close Church street from East Third street to the railroad, a short distance. The petition was made in view of plans Mr. Smalley has to build in the vicinity. The matter was referred to the fire and building committee.

LOCAL PUPILS TO AID

Will Contribute Money For Rebuilding of San Francisco's School Buildings.

COMMENCEMENT PLANS

Board of Education Informed That All Plans Are Complete—$73,000 Needed For Expenses Next Year.

Pupils in the Plainfield public schools are to be given an opportunity to join in the movement to aid San Francisco restore its educational facilities. A great many of the schools in the city were destroyed by the earthquake and fire and a national movement has commenced to help rebuild them, the losses being too great for the citizens to bear at this time. In order to secure quarters of even a temporary character an appeal has been made to all the school children in the country and the communication was read by Leander N. Lovell at the regular meeting of the Board of Education last night.

In submitting the letter, Mr. Lovell said the matter was one that impelled favorable action on the part of the local board and his remarks were seconded by Superintendent Maxson. The latter stated that other schools throughout the country were already engaged in soliciting funds and in many cases money had been forwarded. Accordingly a resolution was passed, giving the superintendent the power to receive contributions from the pupils and send them on as as he deemed best.

In the absence of Secretary Woodhull, Mr. Abbott read a communication from the executors of the estate of the late George Updike, stating that a scholarship for Rutgers college had been placed at the board's disposal and was to be awarded by it to the most deserving student desiring to enter that institution. The communication, which was signed by C. W. and William S. Updike, executors, was placed on file and their wishes will be complied with.

It was reported by Mr. Abbott that all arrangements had been completed for holding the annual commencement exercises of the High school. They will take place in the First Baptist church on June 21 and the speaker will be Dr. J. H. Canfield, former chancellor of the University of Nebrasaka and at present head of the library at Columbia University.

Superintendent Maxson reported that the State had doubled the appropriation for the manual training and cooking departments, making the amount on hand for these purposes $800 and $600 respectively. In conection with this matter he stated that a room in the Whittier building had been prepared for the cooking department. The manual training work is to be carried on in the basement of the new High school. Mr. Maxson was empowered to fit up these departments with the necessary equipment at a cost not to exceed the appropriation.

On behalf of the Board of School Estimate, Mr. Lovell announced that the school appropriation for the coming year would be the same as last, $73,000. To meet the increased cost of supplying books, paper, etc., the annual tuition fee for school children living outside the city limits was raised from $48 to $52 with no reduction in case of illness.

The matter of appointing the school medical examiners was referred to President Probasco with power.

MANY MORE STREETS TO BE MACADAMIZED

PUBLIC HEARING ON ORDINANCE SET FOR MONDAY, JULY 2.

For the purpose of improving certain streets and portions of streets with macadam, Mr. Gloak, chairman of the street and sewer committee, introduced an ordinance at the meeting of the Common Council, last night. It was adopted on first and second reading, ordered advertised and Monday night, July 2, was the time fixed when a public hearing will be granted.

The ordinance provides that the macadam work shall be done equal to that on Carlton avenue, between Putnam and Watchung avenues, and must be completed before October 15. There is to be an issue of three regular municipal bonds, $1,000 each, to run for three years, at five per cent. interest, and the Common Council reserves the right to redeem them at any time prior to that term. In cases where the damages shall exceed the benefits as determined by the commissioners to be appointed by the Court of Common Pleas to assess benefits and damages, the city is to pay the excess.

The streets to be macadamized include Berckman street between South avenue and East Seventh street; Richmond street, between Putnam and Watchung avenues; Kensington avenue, between Watchung and Prospect avenues; Division street, between West Fifth and West Sixth streets; John street, between West Fourth and West Seventh streets. The streets are to be macadamized to a width of sixteen feet, eight feet on either side of the centre.

In addition to the above ordinance, Mr. Gloak introduced another one which was adopted on first and second readings and ordered advertised, which provides for the macadamizing of Division street, between West Sixth and West Seventh streets. The property-owners are to pay into the city treasury the sum of $167.40 before the work is started.

Mr. Gloak offered a resolution, which was adopted, giving to the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company permission to continue its work of laying underground conduits in Watchung avenue, Park avenue, Plainfield avenue, East Sixth street, West Eighth street, Grant avenue, West Seventh street and Madison avenue.

ed, and ought to be checked in that. F. E. Kinsman, who served on a merchants' committee for the regulation of telephone service in New York, agreed that the subject ought to be investigated.

Mr. Randolph brought up the water question. He said the members required intelligence on the matter to enable them to vote rightly on it. The executive committee was instructed to secure necessary data.

Mr. Saunders offered the following resolution:

"Whereas, Plainfield and North Plainfield are geographically, commercially and socially one,

"Resolved, That this Association in the interests of economy, public welfare and progress favors the consolidation of the city and borough under one government."

Having decided that the question involved was not a political one, the members voted in favor of the resolution unanimously.

Ice was the last subject considered. President Depew brought it up, and a lively spirit of interest was immediately manifested. Before the matter was referred to the executive committee, suggestions were offered that a co-operative plant be built, and that the committee study out just what the ice costs the dealers and publish the facts, so that the consumers can see for just how much profit they are being worked. It was charged that a combination of dealers controlled the price, and that one man was paid $1,000 a year to stay out of business.

The next meeting will be held at the call of the chair.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

The official board of the First M. E. church will meet in Vincent chapel tomorrow night to transact some business.

At the close of the service in the Christian church on Grove street, tonight, the women of the church and mission will meet and plan for a strawberry and ice cream festival to be held on Monday night, June 11.

At a business meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society of Trinity Reformed church, last night, it was decided to change the regular meeting night of the society from Monday night to 6:45 o'clock Sunday night, preceding the preaching service. The change will be given a three months' trial commencing with Sunday night.

Re-Appointed Medical Inspectors.

TWO NEW FIREMEN NAMED BY THE MAYOR.

His Appointments Are Confirmed by the Common Council.

Owing to vacancies that existed in the regular force of the fire department, Mayor Buckle made two appointments at the June meeting of the Common Council, last night, and both were confirmed. Frank Ingraham was appointed to take the place of Walter Harrison, resigned, and Louis J. Kelly was appointed to take the place of Frank Hart, also resigned.

Mr. Hibbard wanted to know whether the appointees were formerly call-men, and Mr. Mellick, chairman of the fire committee, explained that they were not. He said that after a conference with Chief Doane it was learned that with the exception of one man, no member of the call force would accept a regular position, and in the case of the exception the man had not passed the physician's examination.

Why Do You Blow Your Nose?
Because it gives you relief and rids you of foul secretions not otherwise removable.

When you get a cold on your lungs the same state of affairs exists, the same matter forms, the same stopping up occurs.
Why not "blow" your lungs? You cannot.
But nature can and she does it with a cough. The foolish rush for a cough syrup full of opium or other narcotics to "stop that cough."
50 per cent. of all cases of Consumption are born of decomposing matter clogging the lungs where the cough has thus been stopped.
Piso's Cure for Consumption stops the cough but not by putting it to sleep. It clears the lungs of phlegm and matter and removes the cause.
It aids nature, tones, heals and soothes the lungs.
The Piso Company has issued a wonderful little book that is yours for the asking, free. It teaches, in the plainest and most easily understood manner, the simple and easy rules to be followed by a person with Lung Trouble, as to foods, drinks, sleep, exercise, sunshine, ventilation, fresh air, dress, etc., etc. (Illustrated.) Address the Piso Co., 198 Piso Building, Warren, Pa.

When you want to buy, is not as simple an affair as buying a paper of pins or a bag of salt. There is much about a carriage, buggy, runabout or other pleasure vehicle for style and pleasure, that must be considered. Don't buy a carriage you can't see or try. Catalogue carriages look nice on paper, but they don't wear well on the road. Our carriages come from the foremost makers, and have all the new desirable features. You will find quality and price right.
Come and try one on the road and buy it with a guarantee.

CHAPTER XXIV.

HOW THE CHINOOK CAME TO WALL STREET.

The loss of much money is commonly a subject to be managed with brevity and aversion by one who sits down with the right reverence for sheets of clean paper. To bewail is painful. To affect lightness, on the other hand, would, in this age, savor of insincerity, if not of downright blasphemy. More than a bare recital of the wretched facts, therefore, is not seemly.

The Bines fortune disappeared much as a heavy fall of snow melts under the Chinook wind.

That phenomenon is not uninteresting. We may picture a far-reaching waste of snow, wind-furrowed until it resembles a billowy white sea frozen motionless. The wind blows half a gale and the air is full of fine ice crystals that sting the face viciously. The sun, lying low on the southern horizon, seems a mere frozen globe, with lustrous pink crescents encircling it.

One day the wind backs and shifts. A change portends. Even the herds of half-frozen range cattle sense it by some subtle beast knowledge. They are no longer afraid to lie down as they may have been for a week. The danger of freezing has passed. The temperature has been at 50 degrees below zero. Now, suddenly it begins to rise. The air is scarcely in motion, but occasionally it descends as out of a blast furnace from overhead. To the southeast is a mass of dull black clouds. Their face is unbroken. But the upper edges are ragged, torn by a wind not yet felt below. Two hours later its warmth comes. In ten minutes the mercury goes up 35 degrees. The wind comes at a 30-mile velocity. It increases in strength and warmth, blowing with a mighty roar.

Twelve hours afterward the snow, three feet deep on a level, has melted. There are bald, brown hills everywhere to the horizon, and the plains are flooded with water. The Chinook has come and gone. In this manner suddenly went the Bines fortune.

April 30, Consolidated Copper closed at 91. Two days later, May 2, the drop of 40 points. Roughly the decline meant the loss of $100,000,000 to the 15,000 shareholders. From every city same ill-fated stock closed at 51—a of importance in the country came tales more or less tragic of holdings wiped out, of ruined families, of defalcations and suicides. The losses in New York city alone were said to be $50,000,000. A few large holders, reputed to enjoy inside information, were said to have put their stock aside and "sold short" in the knowledge of what was coming. Such tales are always popular in the street.

Others not less popular had to do with the reasons for the slump. Many were plausible. A deal with the Rothschilds for control of the Spanish mines had fallen through. Or, again, the slaughter was due to the Shepler group of Federal Oil operators, who were bent on forcing some one to unload a great quantity of the stock so that they might absorb it. The immediate causes were less recondite. The Consolidated company, so far from controlling the output, was suddenly shown to control actually less than 50 per cent. of it. Its efforts to amend or repeal the hardy old law of Supply and Demand had simply met with the indifferent success that has marked all such efforts since the first attempted corner in stone hatchets, or mastodon tusks, or whatever it may have been. In the language of one of its newspaper critics, the "trust" had been "founded on misconception and prompted along lines of self-destruction. Its fundamental principles were the restriction of product, the increase of price and the throttling of competition, a trinity that would wreck any combination, business, political or social."

With this generalization we have no concern. As to the copper situation, the comment was pat. It had been suddenly disclosed, not only that no combination could be made to include the European mines, but that the Consolidated company had an unsold surplus of 150,000,000 pounds of copper; that it was producing 20,000,000 pounds a month more than could be sold, and that it had made large secret sales abroad at from two to three cents below the market price.

As if fearing that these adverse conditions did not sufficiently insure the stock's downfall, the Shepler group of Federal Oil operators beat it down further with what was veritably a golden sledge. That is, they exported gold at a loss. At a time when obligations could have been met more cheaply with bought bills they sent out many golden cargoes at an actual loss of $300 on the half million. As money was already dear, and thus became dearer, the temptation and the means to hold copper stock, in spite of all discouragements, were removed from the paths of hundreds of the harried holders.

Incidentally, Western Trolley had gone into the hands of a receiver, a failure involving another $100,000,000, and Union Cordage had fallen 35 points through sensational disclosures as to its overcapitalization.

Into the maelstrom of a panic market the fortune had been sucked with a ness so terrible that the family f advising member was left da d incredulous.

For ys he clung to the ticker tape a life line. He had committed illions of the family as highly r he had staked $100 on the tur card or left ten on the change- r his waiter.

Then I seen his cunningly built foundat ested upon with hopes so high fo months, melt away like snow w e blistering Chinook comes.

It has thought wise to adopt two som differing similes in the foregoin order that the direness of the trag may be sufficiently apprehended.

The m ing of the first of the two last awf ays, he was called to the office of uts & Hendricks by telephone.

"Somet g going to happen in Consolidated t day."

He had rried downtown, flushed with confidence. He knew there was but one thing could happen. He had reached the office at ten and heard the first vicious little click of the ticker—that beating heart of the stock exchange—as it began the unemotional story of what men bought and sold over on the floor. Its inventor died in the poorhouse, but capital would fare badly without his machine. Consolidated was down three points. The crowd about the ticker grew absorbed at once. Reports came in over the telephone. The bears had made a set for the stock. It began to slump rapidly. As the stock was goaded down, point by point, the crowd of traders waxed more excited.

As the stock fell, the banks requested the brokers to margin up their loans, and the brokers, in turn, requested Percival to margin up his trades. The shares he had bought outright went to cover the shortage in those he had bought on a 20 per cent. margin. Loans were called later, and marginal accounts wiped out with appalling informality.

Yet when Consolidated suddenly rallied three points just at the close of the day's trading, he took much comfort in it as an omen of the morrow. That night, however, he took but little satisfaction in Uncle Peter's renewed assurances of trust in his acumen. Uncle Peter, he decided all at once, was a fatuous, doddering old man, unable to realize that the whole fortune was gravely endangered. And with the gambler's inveterate hope that luck must change, he forebore to undeceive the old man.

Uncle Peter went with him to the office next morning, serenely interested in the prospects.

"You got your pa's way of taking hold of big propositions. That's all I need to know," he reassured the young man, cheerfully.

Consolidated Copper opened that day at 78, and went by two o'clock to 51.

Percival watched the decline with a conviction that he was dreaming. He laughed to think of his relief when he should awaken. The crowd surged about the ticker, and their voices came as from afar. Their acts all had the weird inconsequence of the people we see in dreams. Yet presently it had gone too far to be amusing. He must arouse himself and turn over on his side. In five minutes, according to the dream, he had lost $5,000,000 as nearly as he could calculate. Losing a million a minute, even in sleep, he thought, was disquieting.

MRS. APPLEGATE WELL AGAIN!
"I have had a bruised leg and foot for several years, caused by the brass eyelets of my shoe, which became very sore and painful especially at night. It itched, burned and ached me till it nearly set me crazy. I used everything I found and was suggested to ease it and nothing gave me any relief till I found and applied Azienza Cream which I think is a wonderful remedy for all sores and inflammation of the skin. The hard knots on my legs were as painful as bee stings, with discolored and purple spots. A running sore on my instep size of a half-dollar; the top of my foot a seething sore clean around to my heel. The bone was sore for a whole year and very painful. I used five and one-half jars of Azienza Cream and healed the sore all up. The foot remained tender and I continued to use to strengthen and toughen the skin until now it is entirely well." LITERARY NOTES.

"Recreation" for June. The June number of this always refreshing magazine deserves special mention. The illustrations, every one of them, certainly have been selected and placed by an expert who put considerable love into his work. The make-up of the magazine as a whole is much superior to what it has been in the past; the articles and stories are a better selection and edited with more skill, and the cover design for the first time takes rank with those of the best magazines. In all, it is a clever piece of magazine-making and there is reason to expect that this and future numbers will be among the best sellers on the news-stands. The cover design, by Frank Tenney Johnson, is in full colors. The leading article, "With the Free in Arizona," by Julian A. Dimock, relates much of interest about the Navaja Indians and is illustrated from remarkably good photographs. George Carling's article, "Trying Out a Motor Canoe," while instructive, is at the same time a good story. There are two illustrations from photographs. "Calling on the Marsh Birds," by Bonnycastle Dale, is the story of the author's photographing the shore birds of Canada; it is illustrated from excellent photographs of the wild birds.

The American Boy is bidding high for public favor when it runs, as it does in its June number, stories by Edward Stratemeyer, Horatio Alger, Jr., Clarence Hawkes, the blind naturalist, J. L. Harbour, Tudor Jenks, Ernest Gilmore, Will Levington Comfort, Helen Leah Reed, and Fred Myron Colby. Among the matter of special interest in this number, outside of stories by the prominent writers named, are sketches of Senator Beveridge, Auguste Rodin, John Christian Watson, Prof. John Milne, and the late Paul Laurence Dunbar; the story of a Wild Elk Round-Up; instruction as to How to Play Baseball, and How to Select and Use Firearms with Safety; a description of Uncle Sam's Flag Shop; a biographical sketch of Henry Ward Beecher; and many items under the head of Puzzles, Mechanics, Chemistry, Biography, Stamps, Coins, Photography, and other hobbies in which boys are interested. There are in addition over 70 illustrations. Subscription price $1 a year. The Sprague Publishing Co., Detroit, Mich.

THE "FAN."

Just now he doesn't care,
Though nations rage;
He has no thoughts to spare
For history's page.
Diplomacy's shrewd art
Moves not his soul —
One passion has his heart
In its control.

Though thrones meet dire mischance,
He would not turn
His head and give a glance
Their fate to learn;
Fo vain ambitions he Cares not a pin—
He only wants to see
The home team win.

A GRAND RECORD OF BENEFICENCE.

THE PRUDENTIAL, during the thirty years of its existence, has paid to policyholders in the State of New Jersey alone the sum of nearly

EIGHTEEN MILLION DOLLARS.

A striking proof of the usefulness of this institution.

The modern trust company is organized, primarily, for the purpose of administering estates. It is empowered by law to act in all respects as might an individual, but possesses every quality of desirability that an individual lacks. The fees are never more than are allowed to an individual. Furthermore, owing to its excellent facilities for handling the business and for making prompt and proper investments of surplus funds, it can often reduce the expense of administration and thereby increase the value of the estate.

DIAMOND DUST.

The Cuban Stars, which met its first defeat of the season Sunday at Hoboken in a ten inning struggle by the score of 3 to 2, will be the opponents of Manager Daab's aggregation again Saturday afternoon on Crescent Oval. Without doubt this is the biggest attraction offered to local fans this season and the cranks should turn out in force to lend encouragement to the association which is supplying baseball to Plainfielders this season. Now that the carnival is over the management is confident that the people willl turn out in big numbers. The Cubans won the championship in the Havana League last winter and is recognized as the fastest combination that has ever come over from the island. The magnificent game put up by the dusky stars on Sunday show they are constituted of the best timber in the baseball woods.

Jack Merrity is umpiring at Princeton this afternoon.

Kid Brogan arises to remark that Jimmy Bertwhistle has the Statue of Liberty skun to death when it comes to dancing and making base hits.

Lew Wiltse has shaken the dust of the Tri-State regions from his feet and is said to be humming that old song, "Back to Baltimore."

The Scotch Plains nine will cross bats with the Olympic Field Club, of Elizabeth, Saturday afternoon. The 'Plainers have a comely lot of players and from accounts had the Clinton Avenue team going Saturday when rain put a halt to the contest.

Baseball needs advertising the same as any other business. That's how Charlie Denman made a success of the Westfield team for so many seasons.

Mike Leonard is making a reputation for himself as a pinch hitter and can generally sting 'em out when a bingo is needed. Tommy Curley, too, is placing the hits with due regularity.

The infield has started playing with clock-like precision and are several degrees faster than last year's champions.

The St. Johns, of Jersey City, are anxious for a return game. Naturally they feel somewhat swelled up over their performance of last Saturday.

The baseball association at its meeting last night decided to have the games called at 3:30 p. m. sharp instead of 3:45 o'clock.

P. H. S. to Meet Rahway Again.

The Plainfield High School baseball team will cross bats with the Rahway High on Crescent Oval tomorrow afternoon. This will be the second game in the series of three, Plainfield having won the first.

MRS. N. P. ROGERS IN INTER-CITY CONTEST

PLAINFIELD'S CRACK GOLFER MAY BE ON PHILADELPHIA'S TEAM.

Intercity golf, especially of note when teams of women are to compete, will be the attraction at the fine links of the Nassau Country Club today and tomorrow. The Boston and Philadelphia teams, each made up of fifteen selected players, will meet today, and the winners will oppose the Metropolitan team, holders of the intercity cup, on Wednesday. Each member of the team to win out will receive a souvenir prize, for the first, the gifts of the Boston Women's Golf Association.

Miss Pauline Mackay, national and Massachusetts champion, will lead the Boston team, which will have also the strong assistance of Miss Fanny Osgood, the Misses Curtis, Miss M. B. Adams, Miss Louisa Wells, Miss Allen, the Misses Phelps, Miss Phipps, Miss Harley, Miss Porter and Miss Grace Keyes. Mrs. C. F. Fox, Mrs. Hilderbrandt Fitzgerald, Mrs. R. H. Barlow and Mrs. M. C. Work, will be the Philadelphians and also among young girls Miss F. C. Griscom, the Misses McNeely, Miss Florence Ayres, Miss K. North, Miss G. Gilbert and Miss L. Windle. The fifteen of the Women's M. G. A. will be selected by Mrs. E. F. Sanford from the following, who have sent acceptance: Mrs. Charles T. Stout, Miss Georgianna Bishop, Mrs. E. A. Manice, Mrs. N. Pendleton Rogers, Mrs. Myra D. Paterson, Miss F. Louise Vanderhoff, Mrs. C. L. Tiffany, Miss Marie Bryce, Mrs. S. F. Lefferts, Miss E. Hurry, Miss Mix, Mrs. T. H. Polhemus, Mrs. H. F. Whitney, Miss G. Travers, Miss Milne, Mrs. C. N. Fowler, Jr., Mrs. Horace Conner and Mrs. Sanford.

Thursday and Friday the inaugural championship of the Eastern Women's Golf Association will be decided. It will be at two rounds of medal play, in the afternoons. Thursday morning there will be an approaching and putting contest and on Friday morning a driving contest.

GOLD WASHING TEST AT MR. WILBUR'S HOME.

Demonstration Made Yesterday for Benefit of Probable Investors.

A gold washing test was made at the home of Freeholder S. P. T. Wilbur, of Westervelt avenue, yesterday afternoon. Fifty pounds of dirt and gravel which had been shipped from Colombia, S. A., where the Certigue Mining and Dredging Company is located, were used. The dirt and gravel was placed inside of three separate bags and securely sealed. Within was a certification as to where the contents were obtained and by whom. The washing was done by Jack L. Fox, employed by Ricketts & Banks, chemists assayers and mining engineers, of New York, and it was a novelty to a majority of those present.

The rough material was placed in a large pan and washed in a tub filled with water. It required but a few minutes to reduce the dirt and gravel when fine particles of gold dust could be seen at the bottom of the pan. In the several washings gold appeared each time and in several instances in good quantities. It was afterwards dried and the dust was taken to New York where it will be assayed.

It is estimated that the property owned by the company will turn out gold to the value of $24 per cubic yard, and it is said to be located in one of the richest mining districts in the country. Considerable quantities of platinum is also found in the washings. William E. Bruce, who found the property, and who is one of the directors of the company, was present yesterday, as was also Louis W. Groat, president; Edson D. Scofield, another director.

Mr. Wilbur has identified himself with the company and invited a number of friends to his home yesterday to see the washing. Among them were Former Mayor O. L. enkins, Councilman R. I. Tolles, George J. Tobin, William M. Sanford, J. A. Staats, William Pangborn, besides the representatives of the company.

Brogan Sent to Hartford, Conn.

Brogan, second baseman for the Plainfield team, who has been held on the reserve list by Manager Murray, of the Jersey City Eastern League team, has disposed of the promising young player by sending him to Hartford, Conn., where he will play with the league team in that city. Brogan left today to join the Hartfords. Of course, Manager Daab regrets to lose this player, but he has several good candidates to select from and a strong man will be found at the second station of the infield.

Secured Siche Gas Machine.

The twenty-five light Siche gas machine, which the company donated the hospital carnival, was nought in Saturday night by Luther Morris, of the firm of Morris Brothers. Mr. Morris will have it placed in his home at Liberty and Front streets and the Siche concern will connect it up free of all cost.

DRYDEN FOLLOWS RECORD.

To Seek Another Term as United States Senator.

WILL MAKE A CANVASS.

Active Campaign Will Be Begun as Soon as Congress Has Adjourned — Col. Kuser Speaks For Him.

United States Senator John F. Dryden yesterday formally announced his desire to succeed himself for a full term of six years, and his intention to begin, as soon as Congress adjourns, an active campaign in every county of the State for the election of legislators favorable to his candidacy. The announcement was made through Colonel Anthony R. Kuser, son-in-law of Senator Dryden, and one of Mr. Dryden's chief lieutenants in the campaign of 1902, when he was elected to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator William J. Sewell.

The formal announcement would not be made at this time, Mr. Kuser said, were it not for the fact that some doubt appeared to exist as to Mr. Dryden's candidacy, and that the regular Republican organization desired to go on record with a candidate in opposition to George L. Record, the accepted candidate of the Colby, or "new idea," wing of the party. Frank O. Briggs, chairman of the State Republican committee, said last week that he expected an early declaration from Mr. Dryden, and that an address to the voters of the State would be issued as soon as the situation concerning the regular candidate for the office of United States Senator was made clear.

"How about the State leaders?" echoed Mr. Kuser, in response to a query. "Well, in the first place, the entire Congressional delegation, including Senator Kean, have assured Mr. Dryden of their support. I have talked with most of them, and what Senator Kean said is practically the sentiment expressed by all.

"Where does Governor Stokes stand?" repeated Mr. Kuser; "well, I have his positive assurance volunteered on more than one occasion that he was for Mr. Dryden, believed he should be re-elected and that under no circumstances would he be a candidate against him.

"The Governer," he continued, "was one of the first to pledge his support, and later, when it was intimated that he was a tentative candidate for the office himself, Governor Stokes again assured me positively that he was for Mr. Dryden and would not be a candidate against him.

"You will remember," said Mr. Kuser, "that Mr. Stokes and former Governor John W. Griggs were Mr. Dryden's foremost rivals for the office in 1901. Mr. Griggs is equally as positive in his assurance of support now as Mr. Stokes. He has said to me that Mr. Dryden's record in Congress entitles him to a re-election; that he will not under any circumstances be a candidate against him, but, on the contrary, stands ready to do all in his power to insure his re-election.

"The same applies with equal force to former Governor Franklin Murphy, who assures me that he is ready and willing to do all in his power to aid Mr. Dryden's election, and I understand former Governor Foster M. Voorhees entertains similar views."

YOUNG ZELAYA'S BRIDE WANTS MARRIAGE ANNULLED.

Romance Outlived Wedding Only Two Weeks—Nicaraguan President's Son Accused of Neglect.

After a honeymoon of less than two weeks Mrs. Marguerite Zelaya, whose marriage to his son President Zelaya, of Nicaragua, tried to prevent by having the young man kidnapped, returned to her father's home in Washington, D. C., and now she has asked that her marriage be annulled. Young Zelaya attended Cedarcroft Academy here until a year ago.

The father of Mrs. Zelaya, the Rev. Dr. I. O. Baker, pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran church, said last night that young Zelaya shamefully abused his wife. According to Dr. Baker the young South American's love cooled after a few days and he neglected his wife and began leading a life which brought remonstrances from the Nicaraguan Consul at New York, who threatened to inform his father of his escapades.

Dr. Baker said Mrs. Zelaya would ask for an annullment of her marriage on the ground that the young man swore falsely when he said he was twenty-one years of age. It will be contended that he is under age and consequently incapable of making a valid contract.

The couple were married March 24. They left immediately for New York on a honeymoon trip which was to have included a trip to Nicaragua, but Zelaya, according to Mrs. Baker, treated her so badly that she returned to her father's home before the steamship sailed.

Included in Neuman Brothers' big display of fruits are luscious Florida peaches. They are only one of the specialties they have each day.

QUAKE STOPS WEDDING.

Gypsy Princess' Fiance a Loser in the San Francisco Disaster.

A hundred gypsies, attired in all the colors of the rainbow, gathered in St. Mary's Roman Catholic church at Elizabeth yesterday morning to witness the marriage of Princess Ruth, daughter of King John Evans, of their tribe, to Claude Kavanaugh, of Oakland, Cal., a former gypsy and now a wealthy orange grower on the Pacific coast.

But the gypsies were disappointed, as neither the prospective bride nor bridegroom put in an appearance. After waiting until 11 o'clock the Rev. Father Francis O'Neill dismissed the gypsies by announcing that the wedding had been postponed until Sept. 4 next.

It was said later that the reason for the postponement was because Kavanaugh was a heavy loser in the recent earthquake.

Produce Exchange Election.

The "reform" element in the New York Produce Exchange won a victory yesterday by electing almost its entire ticket as follows: President, William Harris Douglas; vice-president, Charles Rabadan; treasrer, Edward C. Rice; managers (for two years), Paul F. Gerhard, A. J. Toomey, Walding Ring, C. C. Rubins, William M. McCord and William H. Smith.

Miss Margaret Benford Married.

Miss Margaret Benford, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Benford, of Cottage place, and George Conklin, of Dunellen, were quietly married in the rectory of St. Mary's church, Saturday night. The bride's brother, Peter Benford, and his wife, attended them. A short reception was held at Mrs. Benford's home and a more extended one is to take place inside of two weeks.

Cases In New Court.

Two suits were started in the new district court this morning. The first one was that of Elisa Genot against James Trimmer, for possession of premises. F. J. Blatz is lawyer for the plaintiff. The other case was Henry L. Lanning against D. F. Updike, on contract, over a note. H. C. Runyon is the plaintiff's lawyer. Constable Manley served the papers.

ALLEGED GIRL SLAYER TO REMAIN IN JAIL.

Prosecutor to Take No Action in Accused Somerville Woman's Case Until Grand Jury Meets.

Somerville, June 5.—Prosecutor John F. Reger said yesterday that he will take no action, until the grand jury meets, in the case of Miss Florence Illario, the young woman who is in jail here charged with shooting and killing Alex. Dipaolo, a politician prominent in Italian circles here. The girl will remain in jail until the jurors get together. The slain man's body has been taken from Somerset Hospital, where he died, to his home. He leaves a widow and six children.

According to the story told by the young woman Dipaolo came to the house where she boarded, on Mechanic street, and tried to gain admittance. She said that he claimed that she had $500 which belonged to him. She said that she was afraid he would kill her and she would not admit him until he had given her a revolver which he carried.

He gave her the revolver and then tried to force an entrance. Then, she asserts, she fired twice, one shot hitting him in the head and the other going wild. The woman gave herself up to the police and Dipaolo was taken to the hospital where he died an hour later. It is asserted that, though he was married, Dipaolo had been paying marked attentions to the Illario girl. He had been indicted on a wife deserting charge, after he had returned from a trip on which, it is asserted, he took the Illario girl.

NEW 'PHONE STRUCTURE

Work on Its Three-Story Brick Building to Begin on Monday.

THE INTERIOR PLANS

New Home Will Be Completed by October 1 but Will Not be Occupied Until March 1 Next.

Plans have been completed for the new building to be erected in East Fourth street, near Park avenue, by the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company. Seaman & Son, of Brooklyn, has received the entire contract. The work of digging the cellar will begin Monday morning. According to the terms of the contract the building is to be completed by October 1. The company will take possession before March 1, 1907, as considerable time will be required to equip it.

The new structure is to be built of North River brick, trimmed with granite. It will be a steel structure and absolutely fireproof. The dimensions will be 70x43. The first floor will be used for the general offices of the company, and the district inspectors and wire chiefs will have the second floor. The whole operating department will be on the third or top floor. A great many improvements will be made not only in the service, but in the construction of the company's new plant. It will be provided with the common battery system, thus doing away with the individual batteries in telephones.

It is the intention of the company to hasten as fast as possible the underground work, that of placing wires in conduits, so that this will be finished when possession of the new building is taken. Manager C. W. Runyon, of the local exchange, inspected the plans yesterday, and he says that when the new structure is completed it will be one of the finest in the country. It will be furnished in the latest and most approved style and have every convenience and comfort for the employees of the company in handling the constantly increasing business. It is also proposed to increase the operating department and raise it to a higher state of efficiency.

FITZSIMMONS-BURNS FIGHT AGAIN PUT OFF

CHANCES ARE THAT IT WILL NEVER TAKE PLACE.

"The fight is again postponed; this time indefinitely" is the message that came from Philadelphia today in reference to the Fitzsimmons-Burns encounter which was to have takes place tonight before the Tuxedo Athletic Club, at Essington, a suburb of the Quaker City. It was originally planned to have the battle on Tuesday, May 29, but at the eleventh hour Governor Pennypacker ordered a company of State constabulary to Essington with orders to arrest principles, officials and spectators if there was any attempt at decideding the heavyweight championship. The fight was accordingly called off and it was hoped to have the State executive view it in a different light so as it could go on tonight but he remained firm. It is a question as to whether it will ever take place with the chances very much against it.

The announcement of a second postponement was received by "Bob" in this city in a philosophical sort of way as it was what he had expected when Pennypacker issued his first order. He continued training yesterday but will break it now and devote his time to getting his Dunellen physical culture farm in shape. The stopping of the fight, that is if it is surely stopped, means a money loss to the big fellow of nearly $10,000.

ALUMNI RECEPTION.

The Annual Affair Given Last Night by St. Mary's Association.

St. Mary's Alumni Association conducted its annual reception and dance in the school hall last night, making it an admission affair for the benefit of the convent fund. Despite the warm weather the attendance was large and a most enjoyable time was had. Fathers Bogan and Delehanty were present for a short time and assisted in receiving the guests. The music was furnished by Suhr's Imperial orchestra and refreshments were served at midnight.

The committee which had the affair incharge comprised Miss Anna Daley, chairman; Miss Mae Smith, Miss Helen Callahan, Dr. Fred Hughes, Cornelius Sullivan and John Caulfield.

MISS HOWARD WEDS HOMER BILLINGS SMITH

CEREMONY AT NOON TODAY IN HOLY TRINITY CHURCH, BROOKLYN.

Miss Leila Howard, daughter of Mrs. Louise E. Howard, formerly of this city, but now of 125 Hicks street, Brooklyn, and Homer Billings Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Craig Smith, of this city, were married at noon today in Holy Trinity church, Brooklyn, in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. Rev. Dr. J. H. Melish, the rector, officiated.

The bride was gowned in crepe de chine, trimmed with duchesse lace, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and white sweet peas. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. G. Harry Squires, of this city, as matron-of-honor. There were no bridesmaids or flower girls.

Daniel Dana Jackson, of New York, was the best man, and the ushers were Frederick Squires, R. M. Smith, Charles Barlow, James Dodd and A. Willis West, all of this city.

A wedding breakfast followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's mother, which was attended by only the relatives and a few intimate friends. After a tour, the couple will reside in Plainfield.

COLBYITE COMMITTEE TALK PLANS FOR MEETING

BIG GATHERING TO BE HELD NEXT IN THE THEATRE.

Plans for the New Idea mass meeting were discussed by the local members of the Executive Committee of the Equal Taxation League, City Judge Runyon, Henry L. Hall and R. Henry Depew, last night.

It was decided to hold the meeting the latter part of next week. The theatre was picked as the place for the gathering. Nothing definite as to speakers was decided upon, but it is the intention of Judge Runyon, who is head of the Colby organization in this county, to have a most attractive programme.

An effort is being made to secure Hamilton Wright Mabie as chairman, and it is believed he will readily consent to serve. He has thrown himself fnto the movement with great enthusiasm, and it is not likely that he will be other than delighted with an opportunity to come over from Summit and help his fellow-soldiers of the common good in their battle.

The full executive and advisory committees of the league will meet in Elizabeth Friday afternoon.

DAY NURSERY'S WORK.

It Takes the Place of the King's Daughters' Mountain Camp.

Although preparations are gradually being perfected for the opening of the King's Daughters' summer camp on the mountains, this will not be done until absolutely necessary. The reason for this is that the work undertaken by the King's Daughters at the Day Nursery largely takes the place of the summer camp endeavor. The camp work is quite expensive and as long as the sick babies can be cared for at the nursery there will be no need for hurry in opening the mountain resort.

The Day Nursery is in a flournishing condition and doing a fine work. There is a steady increase in the number of children cared for and the revenue derived therefrom. It is proposed to close the nursery during the month of August, as originally planned, so as to give the matron, Mrs. Bird, a vacation, as well as the nursery committee in charge.

MISS GODWIN BRIDE OF F. R. RADCLIFFE, JR.

THRONG AT ST. STEPHENS TO WITNESS NUPTIAL CEREMONY.

Miss Elsie Godwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel A. Godwin, of Belvidere avenue, and Frederick P. Radcliffe, Jr., of New York, were married in St. Stephen's church, Netherwood, at 7:30 o'clock, last night. Owing to ill-health which called the rector, Rev. A. S. Peck, away, the ceremony was performed by Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, rector of Grace church. There was a large number of guests, including many from out-of-town, who came from New York in a special car attached to the 6 o'clock express from that place.

The bride, gowned in a lace princess robe, trimmed with duchesse lace, and carrying a bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley, was attended by Miss Olive Weathered, of Cranford, as maid-of-honor, and Miss Mabel Proctor and Miss Nellie Swart, of New York, as bridesmaids. The maid-of-honor was gowned in white silk net, embroidered, and carried American Beauty roses, while the bridesmaids wore gowns of white embroidered chiffon and carried bouquets of white lilacs.

Mr. Radcliffe's best man was Samuel Hollis, of New York, and the ushers were F. C. Baggs and Harry Gallagher, of New York; Wilson Goodbody, of Brooklyn, and Wilbur Baylis, of Cranford. William E. MacClymont, of this city, presided at the organ, playing the wedding marches.

The ushers leading the way, were followed by the maid-of-honor, the bridesmaids and the bride, escorted by her father, who gave her in marriage. At the chapel the bridal party met the groom and his best man and the officiating clergyman.

The church was beautifully decorated, green and white being the prevailing colors. Hymeneal torches were used in the aisle, while about the chancel there was a profusion of white lilacs, palms and roses. Similar decorations were used at the home of the bride's parents, where a reception was held at 8 o'clock. Both the wedding and reception were attended by 300 people.

The bride received a large collection of gifts of use and value. In the exchange of presents among the members of the bridal party, the bride received a pearl and diamond ring from the groom, the maid-of-honor and bridesmaids received gold bracelets from the bride, the ushers received amethyst stick pins from the groom. The bride received a diamond crescent from the mother of the groom, and a check for a substantial amount from her father.

After the reception the couple left for a wedding trip. Upon their return they will reside with the parents of the bride on Belvidere avenue. The bride is well-known here in society circles and both she and her husband were patrons of the Holland dances in New York last season. The groom holds an excellent position with Wellington, Sears & Co., of New York, being in charge of the firm's Philadelphia and Baltimore branch stores.

BRUTAL HUSBAND FLAYED BY JUDGE

CHARLES SCRIBNER A "MISERABLE BRUTE," SAYS THE COURT.

Charles Scribner, 7 DeKalb avenue, was arraigned in the city court this morning, charged with beating and abusing his wife. The latter told a story that moved the court to great indignation. Scribner appears to be a poor sort of a creature, who has no sympathy with his wife and no appreciation of the work she does. He started at her last night because she stayed up later than he thought she should. Ironing and sewing were the things that kept her up, but that appeared to make no difference in Scribner's displeasure.

"You are a miserable brute, Scribner," said the magistrate. "Your wife has asked that you be bound over to keep the peace and if it wasn't for that I'd send you to jail. I will suspend a fine of $50 over your head, and if your wife has occasion to make another complaint against you I will drop it on you, and add another one on the new count."

There were no attendants, and the couples deciding to keep the matter a secret were successful until today when the parents became acquainted with the facts.

The brides are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Floret Wormser, of Watchung, and Frank Sprague is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Sprague, of this city. Mr. Faller was formerly a resident of New Haven, but now lives in Plainfield.

PREST. RANDOLPH'S REPORT.

Details the Year's Doing of Stock and Petroleum Exchange.

Former Mayor L. V. F. Randolph, of East Front street, president of the Consolidated Stock and Petroleum Exchange, of New York, has just issued his annual report. This closes the thirtieth year of the Exchange and the third and last year of Mr. Randolph's service as president.

It is learned from the report that during the past three years, 238 persons have been admitted to membership in the Exchange. Most of these have gone on the "Floor" as active commission men and traders. It is probably safe to say that in the active membership of today are fully 150 men who were not in the Exchange three years ago. During the past year fifty-six new members have been admitted, and all these have entered as active dealers. The report devotes some space and attention to the operation of the stock sales tax, or stock transfer tax, which is now defraying about a quarter of the current expenses of the Empire State.

Republican Club Meeting.

A meeting of the Independent Republican Club will be held in Thomas Bowser's barber shop, 152 East Front street, tomorrow evening. The colored voters of the city are cordially invited to be present and assist in the movement for good government.

JUDGE FORT GOES TO HUDSON COUNTY

JUDGE SWAYZE WILL SUCCEED HIM IN UNION COUNTY.

Chief Judge Gummere, of the Supreme Court, announced yesterday that the place of the late Judge Jonathan Dixon in the Eighth district, consisting of Hudson county, would be filled by Judge Fort, who now sits in the Second district, consisting of Middlesex and Union counties. Judge Fort will be succeeded by Judge Swayze, of Newark, who now sits in the First district, consiting of Atlantic, Cape May, Cumberland and Salem.

When a vacancy occurs in one of the circuits it is customary to make the assignments of circuits in the order of seniority of the judge, each judge in turn being allowed to select any vacant circuit. As the first district has not been chosen by any of the judges now on the bench it will probably be assigned to the new judge who will succeed Judge Dixon.

It is expected he will be Judge Thomas W. Trenchard, of Bridgeton.

JUSTICE HAND FLIES A FLAG OF MOURNING.

Standard Half-Masted At Court Window to Mark Retirement.

To mark his formal retirement as a civil trial judge, Justice Hand is flying a big flag at half-mast from his office window today. The jast jury trial in his court is to be held this afternoon.

"I am not going into the Down-and-Out Club without singing my swan song," he said this morning. "I suppose there will be a to-do, with floral horseshoes and all that, when the district court opens and I don't see why something like that shouldn't mark the passing of old Hezekiah. By Jiminy, if I'd only thought before I left home, my wife could have fixed me up a bouquet from the garden!" and the passing justice sighed with regret as the flag flapped dolefully in the warm wind.

Father Bogan Will Remain Here.

The report in circulation that Father O'Brien, of St. Joseph's church, Roselle, is to succeed Father Bogan as pastor of St. Mary's church, this city, was denied by Father Bogan today.

DR. MAXSON EXPLAINS

School Superintendent Tells the Method of Collecting San Francisco Fund.

PRIVATE; VOLUNTARY

Boxes In Rooms For Offerings and No Rivalry Among the Various Classes.

In view of the fact that some question has been raised as to the propriety of the Board of Education authorizing a collection in the local schools for the rebuilding of school buildings in San Francisco, The Daily Press secured the following statement today from Superintendent H. M. Maxson:

"I am personally opposed to such collections on general principles and have consistently refused to listen to a large number of propositions in the last ten years. In this case, the need seems to be extraordinary and urgent. The appeal comes direct from the school department of San Francisco and is endorsed by the highest educational authority in the United States; but the most important argument for favoring the collection is this: the cause is one which should appeal particularly to children, since the money is to be given for the benefit of other boys and girl in another part of our own country. It is therefore a particularly good opportunity for the children to exercise the virtue of giving. Our country would be much better off if more attention was given to training children in giving.

"The child is all the time receiving. In school, we are constantly giving him mental food and trying to train him personally, but there is little opportunity to lead him to think for and help others. In fact, very little can be done with a view to training up generous, sympathetic citizens. This is one unusual occasion where the matter can be treated naturally and appropriately. I believe that it will do the child good to respond to it, even if the nickel does ultimately come from the parent in some cases."

Mr. Maxson gave the reporter an extract from the directions he has given the principals and said: "From this it will be seen that I have carefully guarded the matter to avoid as fully as possible any appear to vanity or any occasion for a child to feel compelled to give, and to make the occasion one that shall truly and really have an effect on the child's better nature. If, in a few cases, some parent yields to the importunity of a vain child and gives a coin unwillingly, there will be scores of children whose hearts will feel the appeal from their far-off brothers and sisters in need and who will give from a real impulse of generosity and will gain some portion of moral strength by the act."

The directions Mr. Maxson has given the principals of the schools are as follows:

"Make the statement to the children that San Francisco has had more than thirty of its schoolhouses destroyed and the rest seriously damaged, and that so much other property of the city was destroyed that they will have much less money than usual, next year, to provide schools, therefore they have sent out an appeal to the boys and girls all over the United States to contribute a few cents each to make sure that their brothers and sisters in San Francisco will have full school privileges next year.

"Then say to them that every good man and woman feels a sympathy for others that are in need and does what he can to help them, and that if they desire to help in this case, their teacher will receive their money and see that it is forwarded to the superintendent of San Francisco. Impress on them that they ought to give their own money, if they can, and that they ought not to ask their parents if there is any way in which they can earn or obtain the money themselves.

"Provide a box in each classroom into which the pupils may put their contributions. Do not pass the box, as that would call attention to any child who did not give. Simply put it on the teacher's desk and tell them that they may put their money in at any time during the day. No teacher will count the money given by her class, and no report will be made of the money received from any building. It is desired that all that is given shall be given freely, in a way to train the sympathy and generosity of the child."

The boys are beginning to take those mysterious trips every afternoon up through the valley, returning home with the tell tale wet hair. The Back Pond is the favorite spot for the cooling dip. So far this year no ban has been placed upon swimming there and as long as the boys behave themselves it is hardly likely there will be any placed on the pond.

Glenside Park, which is under the management this year of James Bailey, has opened for the summer. A number of cottages are already occupied, and by July 1 all will be taken. Mr. Bailey, who is an old hotel man, has made many improvements about the park, and the outlook for a most successful season are most promising.

Henry Alberts, who has been covering first base for the ball team, made quite a hit behind the bat in Saturday's game with Clinton Avenue. This gives the team two catchers, which will be found to be a good thing before the season is over.

FEEL EVERY CHANGE OF THE WEATHER.

A Bad Back is Always Worse During Wet or Changeable Weather.

Is your back like a barometer?
Does it foretell every change of weather?
Does every cold settle on your kidneys?
Bring aching, throbbing pains?
The kidneys are calling for help.
Use Doan's Kidney Pills,
Guaranteed by Plainfield testimony.

John H. Stewart, carpenter, of 413 New street, Plainfield, N. J., says: "Last winter I suffered with severe pains across my kidneys and what is more commonly called backache. When my back hurt the worst cold sweat stood out on me, and if I caught cold it always settled on my kidneys. I got so bad with these troubles that I had to quit work, but though I doctored faithfully, no medicine struck the right spot until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Randolph's pharmacy. I took in all three boxes and they stopped my many aches and pains and regulated the action of the kidneys. Since taking them I have worked steadily, without any ill effect on the action of the kidneys."

KEEP YOUR HEAD UNCOVERED.

The Constant Wearing of a Hat Propogates Dandruff Germs.

There are many men who wear their hats practically all the time when awake, and are blessed with a heavy shock of hair; yet if the scalps of these same men once became infested with dandruff germs, the parasites would multiply all the quicker for lack of air. Baldness would ensue as the final result. Newbro's Herpicide kills these germs and stimulates unhealthy hair to abundant growth. Herpicide is a pleasant hair dressing as well as a dandruff cure and contains not an atom of injurious substance. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

GERMS CAUSE DYSPEPSIA
IF YOU DON'T KILL THE DISEASE GERMS THEY WILL KILL YOU. PEPSOIDS DRIVE THE GERMS OUT OF THE STOMACH AND REBUILDS IT. WRITE FOR A FULL SIZED BOTTLE—FREE.

A noted physician of Pittsburg, Pa., in a recent letter to Dr. Oidman says:

"In your prescription known as 'Pepsoids' you have given the medical world the greatest and most valued discovery in medicine of the present century. You have at last solved the problem that has baffled the skill of the best physicians of recent times, how to cure permanently all Acute or Chronic Stomach Diseases known as Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Catarrh of the Stomach and Digestive Weakness. I have used your prescription, 'Pepsoids,' in hundreds of cases without a single failure. I attribute the success of your treatment mainly to the fact that the disease germs of the stomach cannot resist Pepsoids. Your theory that most Stomach Diseases are brought about by multitudes of nefarious disease-breeding germs must be correct, judging from the remarkable results attained from the use of your 'Pepsoids.' I consider 'Pepsoids' the best and most valuable remedy yet discovered for the treatment of stubborn stomach ailments."

Pepsoids cure Dyspepsia and all Stomach Diseases, in a new way, by repairing the wornout lining of the Stomach and at the same time, destroy all disease-breeding germs. Dyspepsia and the worst forms of Stomach Disorders once cured in this way never returns.

Pepsoids are sold at drug stores at 50c. a bottle on an absolute guarantee or money refunded.

If you have not used Pepsoids before, we will send you a 50-cent bottle FREE. Send us your name and address and you will receive promptly, a full sized bottle.

You do not obligate yourself to pay a cent. All we ask, after Pepsoids have cured or greatly benefitted you is, that you recommend Pepsoids to your friends. Try Pepsoids to-day—they will cure you. The Vio Chemical Co., Chicago, Ill. 9

JUNIOR SOCIETY AFFAIR.

Entertainment and Festival at First Baptist Church.

Under the auspices of the Junior C. E. Society of the First Baptist church an entertainment and strawberry festival were held in the lecture room of the church yesterday afternoon. The patronage was liberal. The proceeds will be divided between the Netherwood Fresh Air Home, the King's Daughters' summer camp on the mountain and the building of a chapel of the Indians in the West.

The entertainment consisted of recitations by Lucy Douglass, Eleanor Browning, Bessie Case, Everett Case, Margaret Bonnell, Lillian VanWinkle, Dorothy Hull, Dorothy Krewson. There were also piano solos by Bessie Martin, Eleanor Browning, a cradle song by several small children and a lullaby by Elsie Moore.

After the entertainment the festival was held. Those in charge were Mrs. Daniel R. Douglass, Mrs. J. Herbert Case, Mrs. Howard Case, assisted by Miss Alice Drake, Miss Ethel Webster and Miss Helen Robins, together with the members of the Junior Society.

Rev. and Mrs. Walz Heard From.

"The Messenger," the monthly paper of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, contains for June interesting articles concerning the San Francisco earthquake and fire from the pen of Rev. and Mrs. E. L. Walz, who are engaged in mission work there. Mr. Walz was a former Plainfielder, and he and his wife describe graphically heart-rending scenes and incidents during the awful calamity which caused them to lose all their goods. Mr. and Mrs. Walz have not been obliged to give up their work, although it has been with difficulty that they could continue. An effort is now being made to erect a new church to replace the one destroyed by teh earthquake.

Committee Criticised.

While it is not denied that an improvement could be made it is admitted that what is known as the Warrenville road is in fairly good condition, that is, that part which lies in Warren township. There are stretches of this roadway in North Plainfield township which are considered a disgrace to a community which makes a pretence to the maintenance of good roads. No doubt the desired end could be accomplished if the township commitee of Warren and North Plainfield would get together and decide on some plan of action.

Sold Real Estate Business.

Edward E. Nelson, of the First National Bank building, sold out his real estate and insurance business yesterday to Angus P. Atwood, of North avenue. The consideration was not named in the announcement of the sale this morning. Mr. Nelson will devote part of his time to the Ewing Cement Block and Improvement Company, of Trenton, in the incorporation of which he was interested. Mr. Nelson will maintain headquarters here, but will make frequent trips to Trenton.

Marconnier Festival.

Complete success attended the strawberry festival at Marconnier chapel, Oak Tree, last night. It was largely attended, and everything was sold out before the evening closed. It was the most successful affair of its kind ever held at the chapel. A little over $40 was made.

His Last Jury Trial.

The last jury trial in Justice Hand's court will be held this afternoon, when the contract case of Rothberg against Meyers will come up. Curiously enough, one of the lawyers in the case is District Court Judge Newcorn. He represents the defendant.

During May there were reported fifteen marriages, thirty-seven births, two still-births and nineteen deaths. Eighty-two dairies were visted, the majority of which were found to be in good condition. PREPARING TO WIDEN PARK AVENUE NOW

WOODEN-BLOCK FAVORED FOR IMPROVED SECTION OF THOROUGHFARE.

In connection with the work of laying a concrete walk about The Plainfield Trust Company's new building on Park avenue and West Second street, Street Commissioner Gavett has commenced the preliminary work of widening Park avenue, in accordance with the previous action of the Common Council.

Mr. Gavett has found that before the widening can fully be undertaken the storm sewer pipe on Park avenue and West Second street, must be set in to conform to the new arrangement and it is this work that is being done now. As soon as this is completed Mr. Gavett will at once begin the other work of widening the avenue from Second street to the railroad.

One can get an idea as to the new width of the street by the line established for the new concrete walk to be laid in front of The Trust Company building. As yet the street committee of the Common Council has not decided on the kind of pavement to be laid at the point to be widened. O. T. Waring, of the Trust Company, has asked the committee to consider wooden block, such as is being laid in many streets in New York, while others favor the brick pavement similar to that laid on Watchung avenue. One point in favor of the wooden block is the absence of much noise to be found in the use of the brick. It is said that New York officials are more than pleased with the wooden block and that under severe tests has proved satisfactory. It is more expensive than the brick, but its supporters claim that it will outwear the brick and generally be more satisfactory. No doubt the street committee will soon take up this matter and decide it one way or the other. One thing is certain that the committee realizes that it will be economy to put down either brick or wooden block pavement.

C. that it was to be allowed to apply a high rate to industrial concerns.

"Editor, The Daily Press:

"We learned at the meeting of the Plainfield Protective Association on Monday evening, that institutions and merchants who had formerly had the special eighteen-cent and seven cent rate for electricity, were now being charged the flat twelve-cent rate, which change has resulted in a considerable increase in their bills.

"We wish to advise those who have been so charged, that the twelve-cent rate arranged for by President McCarter and our executive committee was for private dwelling consumers and was not intended to apply to merchants, manufacturers and institutions.

"Yours very truly,
"R. HENRY DEPEW.

WORKING FOR MONUMENT IN HIS ACADEMIC TOWN

CONGRESSMAN WOOD RENEWS APPEAL FOR FUNDS FOR SHAFT TO MARK SITE.

The following remarks by Congressman Ira W. Wood, of the Fourth Congressional District, in reference to the bill introduced by him for an appropriation for a monument to commemorate the battle of Princeton appears in the Congressional Record of Saturday. Mr. Wood is an alumnus of Princeton, and is very anxious to secure an appropriation from the government for the monument. The Princeton Battle Monument association was organized January 3, 1887. It numbers among its members many of the most distinguished men in New Jersey. Mr. Wood is hopeful of securing an appropriation at this session, and is exerting every effort to bring about that result.

Mr. Chairman and Members of the Committee:

"On the 13th of December, 1905, I introduced a bill to erect a monument to commemorate the battle of Princeton. In this distinguished body of the representatives of the American people, in the presence of men so well versed in American history, and who are so familiar with the events of our great revolutionary struggle, it is not necessary to say more than a word as to the importance of the battle of Princeton.

"Nearly 130 years have passed since that time, and yet there is no monument in bronze, nor marble, nor granite to commemorate the dauntless valor and heroism displayed on that occasion by our colonial troops, or to testify to the magnificent military skill and strategy there shown by the commander-in-chief, whose reputation from that time forth as a military character attracted the attention of all Europe. Nearly all the other great historic battle grounds of the revolution have their appropriate monuments. This is the last to appeal for similar recognition to the patriotic sentiment of the congress and the American people.

"Princeton will be for all time one of the historic places of America. It was there that the contnental congress held its sessions. It was there that the commander-in-chief issued his proclamation of peace with Great Britain. The fire president of its college, John Witherspoon, was one of the singers of the declaration of independence. The old walls of her academic buildings still bear the imprint of British bullets, and the patriotic wisdom of her founders made imprints deeper and still more lasting on the beginnings of our American life.

"On the third day of January, 1887, the one hundred and tenth anniversary of the battle of Princeton, the Princeton Battle Monument Association was organized.

"This bill provides for the appropriation of $30,000, on condition that a like amount be raised by the Princeton Battle Monument Association. Fifteen thousand dollars of this amount have already been appropriated by the State of New Jersey and the balance will speedily be raised by this association. Bills having a similar object in view passed the fiftieth, the fifty-second, the fifty-seventh and the fifty-eighth congresses, and this bill has been heartily recommended by the committee on library of this house. No better investment, I take it, could be made in the interest of patriotism; none that would bring returns of larger and truer value; none that would pay greater dividends than the appropriation of this amount in the recognition of the mighty deeds wrought in that soul?stirring period of our colonial strife by the mighty heroes of our revolutionary conflict."

When you want to buy, is not as simple an affair as buying a paper of pins or a bag of salt. There is much about a carriage, buggy, runabout or other pleasure vehicle for style and pleasure, that must be considered. Don't buy a carriage you can't see or try. Catalogue carriages look nice on paper, but they don't wear well on the road. Our carriages come from the foremost makers, and have all the new desirable features. You will find quality and price right.

GOTHAM'S AMUSEMENTS

The most successful summer show which has ever been brought into New York is "His Honor the Mayor," which is presented by Alfred E. Aarons at the New York theatre. Its reception at its initial performance was widely enthusiastic and the New York papers the next day pronounced it the most tuneful and most laughable entertainment of its kind that Broadway has seen in many years. The Messrs. Aarons and Sill have made no claims that "His Honor the Mayor" is a pretentious production, but have merely asserted that it is a light, breezy entertainment, not calculated to overtax one's mentality during the hot period. Miss Blanch Ring, who is a popular favorite with theatre-goers, has the leading role and she shares the honor with the famous original English Pony Ballet. These eight young women are a sensation wherever they appear. The other principles, which include Clarence Harvey, Harry Kelly, Fletcher Norton, William Black, Arthur Earnest, John Pratt, E. Van Rensselaer, Mabel Hollins, Madelyn Marshall, Lora Lieb and Lois Tabor, are all well known and are admirably suited for the parts which they assume. The company numbers one hundred persons and the production itself is of rare beauty. There are twenty-two musical numbers in "His Honor the Mayor," written by ulian Edwards and Alfred E. Aarons. Mr. Edwards is one of the best known of American composers, he having written the score of such successes as "Dolly Vardon," "Brian Boru" and "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," while Mr. Aarons is the composer of "Mlle. Awkins," "The Knickerbocker Girl" and other popular successes. The book is from the pen of R. M. Skinner and C. E. Campbell, two well known western librettists. For this engagement at the New York theatre the prices have been fixed by the management at one dollar for the best seats, with very desirable locations at 25, 50 and 75 cents.

CASKET TRUST BOOSTS PRICES 25 PER CENT.

New Jersey Funeral Directors Officially Notified of a Substantial Increase.

Elizabeth, June 6.—Not content with boosting the prices of commodities for the living, the trusts have now begun to boost prices of articles used for the dead. The Casket Trust has put up the price of casket hardware twenty-five per cent. This advance was announced May 18, and it took effect June 1. John F. Martin, secretary of the New Jersey State Funeral Directors' Association, received official announcement of this advance Saturday, and he has notified the trade in this State.

There is to be an advance in the price of caskets, too, shortly, and an advance is looked for by the trade in the price of casket trimmings within a short time. The general increase in the cost of metals and woolens, as well as silks, satins and wood, is responsible for the increases in price. Secretary Martin, in making the announcement of the advance, cautions those who will require the services of the undertakers and embalmers in the future to expect a corresponding increase in the cost of funerals.

Mr. Rafferty—I see in the papers where one of the society gur-ruls had a swell "coming out" and there were 500 people there.

Mrs. Casey—What's that? Why, Mame Riley had a "coming out" and there were 5,000 people there.

Mr. Rafferty—Gee whiz! Was it in her home?

Mrs. Casey—No; in her yard. She fell down the well, an' hollered till they pulled her out.—Chicago News.

THE SPENDERS

By HARRY LEON WILSON

Copyright, by Lothrop Publishing Company.

Then upon the tape he read another chapter of disaster. Western Trolley had gone into the hands of a receiver—a fine, fat, promising stock ruined without a word of warning; and while he tried to master this news the horrible clicking thing declared that Union Cordage was selling down to 58—a drop of exactly 35 points since morning.

Fouts, with a slip of paper in his hand, beckoned him from the door of his private office. He went dazedly in to him—and was awakened from the dream that he had been losing a fortune in his sleep.

Coming out after a few moments, he went up to Uncle Peter, who had been sitting, watchful but unconcerned, in one of the armchairs along the wall. The old man looked up inquiringly.

"Come inside, Uncle Peter!"

They went into the private office of Fouts. Percival shut the door and they were alone.

"Uncle Peter, Burman's been suspended on the board of trade; Fouts just had this over his private wire. Corn broke to-day."

"That so? Oh, well, maybe it was worth a couple of million to find out Burman plays corn like he plays poker; 'twas if you couldn't get it fur any less."

"Uncle Peter, we're wiped out."

"How, wiped out? What do you mean, son?"

"We're done I tell you. We needn't care a damn now where copper goes to. We're out of it—and—Uncle Peter, we're broke."

"Out of copper? Broke? But you said—" He seemed to be making an effort to comprehend. His lack of grasp was pitiful.

"Out of copper, but there's Western Trolley and that Cordage stock—"

"Everything wiped out, I tell you—Union Cordage gone down 35 points, somebody let out the inside secrets—and God only knows how far Western Trolley's gone down."

"Are you all in?"

"Every dollar—you knew that. But say," he brightened out of his despair, "there's the One Girl—a good producer—Shepler knows the property—Shepler's in this block—" and he was gone.

The old man strolled out into the trading-room again. A curious grim smile softened his square jaw for a moment. He resumed his comfortable chair and took up a newspaper, glancing incidentally at the crowd of excited men about the tickers. He had about him that air of repose which comes to big men who have stayed much in big out-of-door solitudes.

"Ain't he a nervy old guy?" said a crisp little money broker to Fouts. "They're wiped out, but you wouldn't think he cared any more about it than Mike, the porter, with his brass polish out there."

The old man held his paper up, but did not read.

Percival rushed in by him, beckoning him to the inner room.

"Shepler's all right about the One Girl. He'll take a mortgage on it for two hundred thousand if you'll recommend it—only he can't get the money before to-morrow. There's bound to be a rally in this stock, and we'll go right back for some of the hair of the—why—what's the matter—Uncle Peter!"

The old man had reeled, and then weakly caught at the top of the desk with both hands for support.

"Ruined!" he cried, hoarsely, as if the extent of the calamity had just borne in upon him. "My God! Ruined, and at my time of life!" He seemed about to collapse. Percival quickly helped him into a chair, where he became limp.

"There, I'm all right. Oh, it's terrible! and we all trusted you so. I thought you had your pa's brains. I'd 'a' trusted you soon's I would Shepler, and now look what you led us into—fortune gone—broke—and all your fault!"

"Don't, Uncle Peter—don't, for God's sake—not when I'm down! I can't stand it!"

"Gamble away your own money—no, that wasn't enough—take your poor ma's share and your sister's, and take what little I had to keep me in my old age—robbed us all—that's what comes of thinkin' a damned tea-drinkin' fop could have a thimbleful of brains!"

"Don't, please—not just now—give it to me good later—to-morrow—all you want to!"

"And here I'm come to want in my last days when I'm too feeble to work. I'll die in bitter privation because I was an old fool, and trusted a young one."

"Please don't, Uncle Peter!"

"You led us in—robbed your poor ma and your sister. I told you I didn't know anything about it and you talked me into trusting you—I might 'a' known better."

"Can't you stop awhile—just a moment?"

"Of course I don't matter. Maybe I can hold a drill, or tram ore, or something, but I can't support your ma and Pishy like they ought to be, with my rheumatiz comin' on again, too. And your ma'll have to take in boarders, and do washin' like as not, and think of poor Pishy—prob'ly she'll have to teach school or clerk in a store—poor Pish—she'll be lucky now if she can marry some common scrub American out in them hills—like as not one of them shoe-clerks in the Boston Cash Store at Montana City! And jest when I was lookin' forward to luxury and palaces in England, and everything so grand! How much you lost?"

"That's right, no use whining! Nearly as I can get the round figures of it, about twelve million."

"Awful—awful! By Cripes! that man Blythe that done himself up the other night had the right of it. What's the use of living if you got to go to the pobrhouse?"

"Come, come!" said Percival, alarm over Uncle Peter crowding out his other emotions. "Be a game loser, just as you said pa would be. Sit up straight and make 'em bring on another deck."

MRS. APPLEGATE WELL AGAIN!

"I have had a bruised leg and foot for several years, caused by the brass eyelets of my shoe, which became very sore and painful especially at night. It itched, burned and ached me till it nearly set me crazy. I used everything I found and was suggested to ease it and nothing gave me any relief till I found and applied Azienza Cream which I think is a wonderful remedy for all sores and inflammation of the skin. The hard knots on my legs were as painful as bee stings, with discolored and purple spots. A running sore on my instep size of a half-dollar; the toe of my foot a seething sore clean around to my heel. The bone was sore for a whole year and very painful. I used five and one-half jars of Azienza Cream and healed the sore all up. The foot remained tender and I continued to use to strengthen and toughen the s in until now it is entirely well." (Signed) Mrs. Hannah Applegate, Evergreen Ave., Avon, N. J., Sept. 3rd, 1905. 50 cents. Ask the druggist or by mail. Azienza Specialties Co., Jersey City, N. J.

ASSOCIATIONAL MEETING

East New Jersey Baptist Association Convenes at New Market.

DELEGATES NUMEROUS

Dr. Chambliss Saves a Measure Proposed By Rev. A. E. Finn From Defeat—Refreshments Al Fresco.

Baptists from a dozen different places, including Newark and Jersey City, gathered at the New Market Baptist church yesterday to attend the sixty-fifth annual meeting of the East New Jersey Baptist Association. The attendance was large.

Delegates, clerical and lay, to the number of 300 were present. They represented churches in Newark, Jersey City, Elizabeth, Harrison, Rahway, Perth Amboy, Piscataway, South Plainfield, Scotch Plains, Roselle, Westfield, New Market and this city. From the First church of this city twenty-three delegates, under the leadership of Dr. Chambliss, attended. The Park Avenue church sent twenty-one. Scotch Plains sent ten delegates and South Plainfield seventeen.

It was the first time in twenty years that the association had met in New Market. Next year it will meet in Scotch Plains.

There were three sessions, morning, afternoon and evening. The first opened at 10 o'clock with a half-hour devotional service led by Rev. William Powell Hill, of Perth Amboy. Rev. Frank Fletcher, pastor of the New Market church, delivered the address of welcome, response to which was made by Rev. Peter Gibb, of Mt. Bethel.

C. Edgar Sutphen, of Newark, a layman, was elected moderator. Mr. Fletcher, the New Market pastor, was elected clerk.

Rev. Dr. Addison Moore, of Jersey City, preached the associational sermon at 11 o'clock. Details of organization were completed after the sermon, and the meeting adjourned for lunch at noon.

Lunch was served on the handsome lawn of F. Percy Vail's place, opposite the church, in the shade of broad trees. The committee of churchwomen in charge of the refreshments was made up of Mrs. Eugene Runyon, chairman; Mrs. Robert L. Pierce, Mrs. DeWitt Giles, Mrs. F. O. Nelson, Mrs. Nelson Giles, Mrs. Herbert Pierce, Mrs. Ziba Osmun, Mrs. Lina Dayton, Mrs. Louis Powlison. John Nelson, William Piddington and Harry Piddington assisted the committee greatly in preparing the grove and the menu.

The following young women of the church acted as waitresses: The Misses Alice Pierce, Estelle Sofield, Iva Dayton, Ethel Garretson, Lulu Boice, Mattie Giles, Fanny Giles, Edith Giles, Lyranthia Nelson, Beatrice Nelson, Vera Nelson, Mary Griscom, Virginia Randolph, May Tappen, Maud Ruppel, Bertha Nelson, Hattie Smith and Mrs. Thurman Ayers. The heads of the tables were Mrs. John Emmons, Mrs. Nelson Giles, Mrs. William Fletcher, Mrs. Mahlon Dayton and Mrs. Herbert Pierce.

The afternoon session opened at 2 o'clock with a devotional service led by Rev. T. Moore-Smith, of Scotch, of Scotch Plains. The first address of the meeting was delivered by Rev. S. J. Skevington, of Newark, on "Correlation of Our Missionary Enterprise." He led up to the general discussion for which the subject was prepared by dwelling on the query, "What is the basis of contribution to the various objects?" In the discussion that followed it was argued generally that specialization in organizations had entered too much into church work; that too many lines were out, and a useless overlapping, as well as a restrictive tendency, resulted. Among those who spoke was Rev. Dr. Chambliss, who declared that the trouble lay not so much in the organizations and the number of them, as in the general drifting away from the ideal of old-fashioned Christianty, the single aim of working for the deliverance of the world to Jesus Christ.

"The Prayer Meeting" was discussed after the subject was presented by Rev. William G. Fennell, of Newark, and Rev. N. A. Merritt, Jr., of Rahway. Mr. Fennell spoke of its place and value in the church of today and Mr. Merritt of the relation of the church members to it. The meeting adjourned after the discussion for supper, which was served, as lunch had been, on the Vail lawn.

The evening session began at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. W. F. Rowley, of Newark, led the devotional service.

Reports of committees were taken up and passed upon after the service. The resolutions committee called attention to the special need of evangelization work among the foreigners here; of San Francisco relief; and of assistance in temperance legislation crusades.

Rev. A. E. Finn, of the Park Avenue Baptist church, aroused an animated discussion by offering an amendment to the resolutions committee report, instructing the arrangements committee to give twenty minutes of next year's programme to presentation of the work of the Baptist State Education Society. It was opposed in several directions on the ground that the time of the associational meeting could not be taken up with special departmental pleas, but Dr. Chambliss came to Mr. Finn's support and saved the amendment with an earnest speech on the importance of encouraging work of the sort done by the Education Society. It was passed by a narrow majority, a number of members not voting.

The Parmalee Memorial church, of Jersey City, and the First Finnish church, of Jersey City, were received into the association.

The invitation of the Scotch Plains Baptist church to meet there next year was accepted. Rev. Benjamin Otto, of Jersey City, was made the associational preacher for the next year, with Rev. G. M. Shott, formerly pastor at Scotch Plains, as alternate.

An increase of forty per cent. in contributions by churches to the association's support was voted. A resolution to restore the two-day meetings was tabled. Thanks were voted to the women of the church, and to Mr. Vail for the use of his lawn.

Mr. Finn was one of those placed on the missionary committee. Mr. Shott's re-election as secretary and treasurer of the permanent council was announced.

Rev. Dr. Thomas J. Villers, of Peddie Memorial church, Newark, delivered a brief address. Mrs. Robert Giddes, of the First church choir, sang a solo at both the afternoon and evening sessions.

Among the delegates from the Baptist churches of this city were Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, Rev. and Mrs. A. E. Finn, Rev. Dr. Buchanan, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cummings, O. B. Leonard, Mrs. Reuben Knox, Mrs. B. J. Shreve, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Moore, Mrs. Dobbins, Mrs. Van Nest, Mrs. Charles Conover, Mrs. Jeremiah Manning, Miss Howlitt, Mrs. Calvin Boice, Miss Helen Boice, Mrs. F. W. Miles, Mrs. J. A. Powlison, John Church, Mrs. Charles Dayton, Mrs. Fountain, Mrs. George Randolph, Mrs. William White, Mrs. Steiner, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. John Stelle, Mrs. James Brown, Mrs. Compton, Mrs. Brokaw, Miss Julia Stelle, Mrs. Bonnell, Mrs. Dunham, Miss Butler, Mrs. Chandler, Nelson Runyon, Misses Jennie and Georgianna Whitney and Mrs. J. A. Powlison.

SEARCH EXTENDS ABROAD

Helen Kuenlen May Have Gone to an Uncle in Germany.

ASKED HER TO COME

Family Had Given No Thought to German Relations In Connection With Search Until This Week.

The search for Helen Kuenlen has turned to Europe. It is thought now that she might have gone to an uncle in Germany, and renewed hope has come to the mother and brother who have waited vainly for tidings of the girl through the weeks since her disappearance.

It was not until this week that the family thought of Germany and their relatives there in connection with the disappearance. The idea that she was somewhere in the metropolitan district was so firmly held by the majority of the searchers, official as well as volunteer, that the possibilities in the German connections never entered the minds of the family.

Charles Kuenlen, the brother, who works in the postoffice at Hoboken, recollected the German relations this week, and circumstances in connection with one of them, an uncle, gave color to the hope that the girl had gone across the ocean.

This uncle moved to Germany from Hoboken only a year ago. He had lived in this country for thirty-five years, and was on close terms with the Kuenlens. His niece was a favorite with him, and before he left he urged her to visit him in his home in the old country.

Charles Kuenlen has started inquiries at all the steamship offices in Hoboken, and will continue them in offices in New York. Queries have been sent to the uncle and other relatives in Germany. Even if the girl did not reach her relatives, it is still possible that she went abroad. It is pretty certain that she was mentally unbalanced when she went away, and any number of ways in which her course might have been deflected after she started for Germany suggest themselves to those who are keeping up the search.

DR. BEN HEDGES WEDS

Married In Chicago Yesterday to Miss Adele Cutts Williams.

A BRILLIANT WEDDING

Doctor and His Bride Will Live On Watchung Avenue — Mrs. Hedges Has Been Here Before.

Dr. Benjamin Van Doren Hedges, of this city, was married in Chicago, yesterday, to Miss Adele Cutts Williams, of that city.

The nuptials were brilliant. They were largely attended by people of social prominence in the Western metropolis.

The bride received a large number of handsome and costly gifts.

Dr. Hedges and his bride will make their home at Watchung avenue and Sixth street, where he purchased the Carman house. It has been prettily remodelled.

Dr. Hedges is one of the most prominent men in local society, and his bride is well-fitted, both in training and personality, to take a leading position in the social life of the city.

Dr. Hedges came to Plainfield about fifteen years ago. He is a graduate of Princton, class of 1888. He took a post graduate course after leaving Princeton, coming here to join his brother, Dr. Ellis Hedges, upon its completion. He is a member of the Country Club and of the Crescent Avenue church. The bride is not entirely unknown in this city. She was a guest at the Netherwood Hotel one season several years ago. She came here with her father, the late General Williams.

LITIGATION OVER COW.

Purchaser Returned Animal After Three Months.

An interesting case was tried in the Somerse County Courts at Somerville yesterday before Judge Schenck and a jury. It was an appead suit. The plaintiffs were Philip and John W. Mundy, of Warren Township, and the defendant, Michael Tullo, of Bound Brook.

The suit was to recover for a cow purchased by Tullo, who returned the animal three months after he got it, which was also after a judgment had been rendered against him in the lower courts. He claimed no purchase contract and filed as a set-off a bill or three months' keep of the cow. A verdict of $38, with $1.45 interest, was rendered the plaintiffs.

POPE HONORS FR. KELLY

Former Plainfielder Made a Monsignor on Completion of Twenty-fifth Year in Orders.

THE BISHOP ANNOUNCES

Popular Priest Educated in Plainfield Schools—Has Officiated at St. Mary's.

Rev. Charles J. Kelly, D. D., rector of Our Lady of Grace church, Hoboken, and a former Plainfield boy, has been made a Monsignor of the Catholic church by the Pope. The official announcement was made this morning by Bishop O'Connor at the celebration of the priest's twenty-five years work in orders. He was ordained at Seton Hall, where he studied for his calling, on June 7, 1881.

Father Kelly was educated in the schools in this city and he is remembered by a large number of local people who were his classmates. He is a nephew of Mrs. Mary Horan, of West Seventh street, and frequently comes to Plainfield to assist in services at St. Mary's church.

Although the ministerial paths of Father Kelly during the past quarter of a century have been strewn with roses of success, and his efforts to uplift mankind and minister unto the wants of the sick and poor has stamped him one of the foremost citizens of the State.

Immediately after his ordination at Seton Hall, Father Kelly was appointed assistant at St. Aloysius church, Newark, where he remained four years. In 1884 he was transferred to Jersey City as an assistant at St. Mary's church. There he made a brilliant record, it being through his instrumentality that the handsome clubhouse of the Catholic Club on Jersey avenue was erected. He remained there for ten years, or until 1894, when he was appointed to the Church of Our Lady of Grace in Hoboken, to suceed the late Father Corrigan.

Miss Ella J. Mackey, the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mackey, of East Front street, and Charles H. Musson, pastor of Faith chapel, performed the ceremony. The affair was a quiet one, being attended only by the immediate relatives and a few intimate friends.

The bride, gowned in silk mull, and carrying a bouquet of white sweet peas, was attended by her sister, Miss Anna L. Mackey, as bridesmaid. Her gown was white organdie and she carried pink sweet peas. The best man was George Mason, of Brooklyn. The wedding march was played on the piano by Miss Margaret B. Wilson, of Brooklyn, sister of the groom. Following the ceremony there were congratulations and supper was then served.

The home was elaborately decorated with oak leaves, palms, ferns and roses. In the parlor, where the ceremony was performed the palms, ferns and flowers were arranged in a large bank in an alcove window.

GET MORE SCHOOL MONEY

State Board of Education Increases the High School Allowance.

RAISES BOROUGH ALSO

Rule Gives $200 Additional For Each Teacher To Districts Having Four-Year Advanced Course.

Through the adoption of new rules by the State Board of Education, of which S. St. John McCutchen, of North Plainfield, is a member, more school money will be received by the city and the borough.

The chief change related to the distribution of money to high schools of the State. Heretofore each school district has received from the State $200 for each teacher, without reference to the grade of work performed. After next year each district having a high school with a four year course of study will receive $200 additional for each teacher employed in the high school. Each district having a three year course of study in the high school will receive $100 additional for each high school teacher.

North Plainfield has had a four-year course only since last year. Mr. Krebs made the change from three years to four when he took over the superintendency. Former Superintendent H. G. Wightman had planned the move, but the difference with the Board that led to his departure arose before he could carry it out. Plainfield has had a four-year course for a number of years.

The meeting at which the change of rules was ordered by the State Board was held in Morristown Tuesday. Some changes in normal and model schools were ordered, and in few cases salaries were increased.

SUES PUBLIC SERVICE FOR $5,000 DAMAGES

ACTION INSTITUTED BY CRANFORD WOMAN ON TRIAL IN COUNTY COURT.

The trial of Miss Mary McIntyre, of Cranford, against the Public Service Corporation, to recover for injuries which she alleges she received on a trolley car on the night of December 7 last, began before Judge Vail in the Union County Court, yesterday, and is still on today. The plaintiff sues for $5,000.

According to her story,, she, in company with her sister, was on her way home from Rahway. En route several young men on the car became involved in a dispute about the payment of fares and finally the conductor ejected the young men from the trolley. Miss McIntyre and her sister, also left the car, and she claims that the conductor gave her a shove in the shoulder and that since then she has been a nervous wreck.

Dr. George B. Gale, representing the defendant company, claims that the blow had nothing to do with the complainant's condition, but that it is due to mental degeneracy and that her hysteria is the result of a weakness of the mind.

While Miss McIntyre's sister was on the witness stand yesterday she fainted and had to be carried from the court. Physicians who examined her declared that she did not faint, nor even lose consciousness, but that her trouble was similar to that of her sister, the complainant.

The High School Concert.

The final rehearsal of the High School this morning gave promise of an unusually attractive concert this evening. The main selection on the programme is the Evening Hymn, a cantata by Reinecke, with obligato solo to be sung by Mr. Lenox. Other school songs are Handel's Largo, The Pilgrims' Chorus from Tannhauser, The Country Fair Waltzers and The Lost Chord. Mrs. Allston, a well-known soloist in New York City, will appear in the programme in several charming songs and there will also be numbers given by the High School Glee Club, and the Orchestra and Mandolin Club.

OPENING OF HORSE SHOW

A Large Attendance at the Court of Equinuus Rex.

MANY LOCAL ENTRIES

Borough and City Fire Teams To Compete For Blue Ribbon—Well Known Horsemen Are Judges.

With almost ideal weather, a big crowd in attendance and an entry list of 350, the Plainfield Riding and Driving Club's third annual horse show began at the new grounds at 1 o'clock this afternoon. It is to continue tomorrow and Saturday and promises to be one of the most successful exhibits of this kind in the East. For the past two days horses and vehicles have been arriving from all parts of the country and there are now 200 high-bred animals in the club's buildings.

Heretofore the show has lasted but two days but another day was added this time to prevent crowding and even this gives the judges only twenty minutes in which to judge the largest classes. The local exhibitors have profited by previous experiences and some great rivalry is expected in the seeking for blue ribbons. Among those who have entries are George A. Beaton, Hugh G. Baldwin, W. J. Buttfield, Mrs. S. A. Cruikshank, P. S. Dayton, Charles J. Fisk, Charles W. Fisk, Ralph Hallock, William Hand, Mrs. E. S. Hooley, Miss Helen R. Hooley, Miss Mabel B. Hooley, Knoll Crest Farm, Craig A. Marsh, C. W. McCutchen, Miss Margaret McCutchen, Miss Lucy Otterson, H. G. Runkle, Marion V. R. Schuyler, William Palmer Smith, Jr., William Palmer Smith, Florence Breese Smith, Miss Eva Arewart, A. C. Vail and John Valiant.

A new class that has attracted much attention locally is teh one for fire horses. It was thought to secure nearly a dozen entries but the only animals to compete are the team attached to the city department stationed at West End house No. 3 and the borough team. Captain George Feiring will drive the former and Lieutenant William Campbell the other.

Of the outside entries great interest centers in "Lord Baltimore," C. W. Watson's beautiful animal that won the $1,000 cup at the Baltimore horse snow a few weeks ago. Bird S. Coler's entries are expected to carry off some blues and Mrs. A. O. Van Heusen and J. W. Harriman are rivals in several classes.

Speaking of the new grounds and the show, one of the prominent out-of-town exhibitors said to-day: "I think the new grounds of the Plainfield and Driving Club are as handsome as any in the country. The site is ideal and I know of instances were clubs have spent many thousands of dollars to get the trees and slopes that Nature has so kindly placed at the disposal of the Plainfielders. I see nothing lacking about the premises and those who planned them are deserving of great praise. The show itself has as fine a lot of entries as in any given in the East outside of Madison Square Garden and there is no reason why Plainfield's annual event should not become one of the best known in the country."

To those who do not already know, it may be said that the Arlington avenue trolley passes the grounds and special cars will be placed on the line while the show lasts. Those going in their own vehicles can go out Woodland avenue to else Park avenue and turn up Randolph road.

The judges who will serve during the three days are the following: Roadsters, George P. Willing, Philadelphia; harness, Joseph W. Ogden, Morristown, and J. F. Carlisle, Brooklyn; hunters and jumpers, Percy Evans, Warrenton, Va.; saddle horses, S. Taber Willets, Roslyn, L. I., and A. B. Maclay, New York.

Summary of Year's Work.

At the meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the First Baptist church, held yesterday afternoon in the church lecture room, the devotional service was led by Mrs. Judson Bonnell, the theme being "The Mother of James and John." Mrs. J. A. Cubberley took part in this service. The president, Mrs. J. A. Chambliss, gave an interesting summary of the year's work and the study of Africa. The day of meeting was changed from Wednesday afternoon to Tuesday afternoon and the next meeting will occur Tuesday, July 3.

P. H. S. Annual Musicale.

The annual musical of the musical clubs of the Plainfield High School will be held in the new High School auditorium this evening at 8 o'clock. The clubs will be assisted by Mrs. Edith M. Elliston, dramatic soprano, and George Seymour Lennox, tenor. The proceeds will be for the benefit of the athletic association.

STOCKTON - CRUIKSHANK

Fashionable Society at Wedding of Miss Leila M. Cruikshank and H. Reeves Stockton

AT THE GRACE CHURCH

Rev. E. L. Stoddard and Rev. E. V. Stevenson Officiate — Vested Choir from Jersey City Sing Wedding March.

In the presence of a large and fashionable assemblage of society people from New York, Brooklyn, Plainfield and many distant points, Miss Leila Moore Cruikshank, of Belvidere avenue, and H. Reeve Stockton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Stockton, of Central avenue, were married at 6:30 o'clock, last evening, at Grace church. It was one of the most brilliant social functions of the season. Rev. E. L. Stoddard, of St. John's church, Jersey City, officiated, assisted by Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, rector of the church.

The bride's attendants were Mrs. C. Y. Hobart, of Chicago, as matron-of-honor; Miss Helen Moore Cruikshank, sister of the bride, as maid-of-honor; Miss Evelyn Cruikshank, of Montclair; Miss Jane Griffiths, Miss Elsie Dixon, of Chicago; Miss Agnes Dunlap, of Philadelphia; Miss Helen Sylvester, of Haverford, Pa., and Miss Virginia Iredell, of Cincinnati, as bridesmaids. T. Earl Stockton, brother of the groom, was the best man, and the ushers were Morris J. Dumont, Willard Wadsworth, George Schoonmaker, Charles W. Fisk, Raymond A. McGee, of this city; Markley Stevenson, of Wyncoote, Pa., and Charles T. Ellis, of New York. Miss Heles Moore Lancaster, of New York, and Master Edward Schellenger, of Wyncotte, Pa., acted as flower girl and page.

The bride was gowned in brussels net, trimmed with old lace. Her veil was fastened with a diamond heart pin, the gift of the groom, and she also wore a ruby and diamond necklace, the gift of her father. Her bouquet was sweet peas and lilies-of-the-valley. The gowns of the matron-of-honor, maid-of-honor and bridesmands were similar, they being of white chiffon princess. The bridesmaids carried silver bon-bon baskets, filled with Jack roses.

The organist from St. John's church, Jersey City, presided at the organ, while the vested choir from that church took part in the ceremony, singing the wedding march. The ushers led the way for the bridal party as it entered the church. They were followed by the bridesmaids, matron-of-honor, maid-of-honor, the page and flower girl and the bride, escorted by her father, who gave her in marriage. At the chancel they were met by the groom, best man and the officiating ministers. After the responsive portion of the marriage ceremony, the bride and groom proceeded to the altar, where Mr. Stevenson performed the bethrothal service.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents at 7 o'clock, which was attended by a large number of society people. An orchestra furnished music throughout the evening and later the young people had a dance. Supper was served by an out-of-town caterer.

The church was beautifully, yet simply decorated for the wedding. Red was the prevailing color, as at the house, and the Jack rose was used chiefly. There was also an arrangement of palms and ferns forming an attractive background. Similar decorations were used at the house with good effect.

The bride received a diamond heart from the groom, while she gave the matron-of-honor, maid-of-honor and bridesmaids silver bon-bon baskets. The groom's gifts to his best man and ushers were gold cuff-buttons. The bride was also the recipient of a wealth of gifts of much value.

Mr. and Mrs. Stockton are socially prominent both in Plainfield and New York society. They are very fond of out-of-door sports, especially golf, and they are devotees of horseback riding. Both own valuable horses which have won many blue ribbons. The couple are active members of the Plainfield Country Club and frequently play golf at the Baltusrol Golf Club.

Upon their return from a wedding trip they will reside in this city.

HOLY CROSS CHURCH CHOIR TEAM A CRACK YOUNG NINE

Holy Cross Choir Boys' Baseball Nine.

As a means of combining entertainment with instruction, Rev. George A. Warner, rector of the Church of the Holy Cross, has organized a crack young nine from among the members of his vested choir. At the beginning of the season, a challenge was made for games with juvenile teams in this section of the State and a lengthy schedule was arranged. So far seven games have been played and Holy Cross remains undefeated.

The rector has had some experience with boys as an instructor at an academy and he is a firm believer in interesting the youth in church work. To strengthen the attachment he formed a boys' club and from its membership a large vested choir has been organized. The baseball team practises every afternoon on the old cricket grounds and it is seldom that the rector is not to be found on the diamond coaching his boys in the art of the National game. One of his parishioners donated the necessary uniforms while another provided the bats, balls, mits and masks.

Russell Conroy is the manager of the team and Ira Vail is captain. The results of the games to date have been: Holy Cross, 17; Denton's team, 5; Holy Cross, 19; Denton's, 7; Holy Cross, 24; Imperials, 9; Holy Cross, 9; Plainfield High School Seconds, 0; Holy Cross, 20; Grace church, Orange, choir nine, 10; Holy Cross, 25; Norwood Club, 5. On Saturday the choir boys will cross bats with the North Plainfield High School Seconds.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY

Among those who attended the Associational meeting at the Baptist church Tuesday was Rev. George W. Clark, of Hightstown, who was pastor of the church fifty-one years ago. Mr. Clark was the second pastor the church had, succeeding Rev. W. D. Hires.

A MONSTER SAENGERFEST

100,000 are Expected at the Greatest Song Festival.

89 VISITING CLUBS

German Ambassador to Be Visitor—Parade at Night—President Expected—Gov. Stokes to Attend.

Newark, June 7.—With the inauguration of the work of converting the First Regiment Armory into a temporary concert auditorium, the execution of the elaborate plans for the twenty-first festival of song of the Northeastern Saengerbund on July 1, 2, 3 and 4, has begun.

The various committees of the United Singers of Newark, which is to be the host, are meeting semi-weekly and gradually putting the plans mapped out weeks ago into operation. Within the next ten days it is expected that tents and cots that have been ordered by the committee on quarters will arrive and the work of distributing them begin.

This committee, which is headed by George Hermann, is calculating on 100,000 visitors, including the 6,000 singers who are to participate in the different contests.

Properly speaking, the festivities will start June 30, when the visiting societies will begin to arrive. Subcommittees of the reception committee will be at the railroad stations and act as escorts to the strangers. At night there will be a torchlight parade, starting from the Market street station and terminating at the Krueger Auditorium. Two thousand marchers are expected to be in line. At the auditorium Mayor Doremus will receive the visitors, with August Koertz, president of the United Singers, and C. William Hallman, chairman of the reception committee. The committee on quarters will then take the societies in hand and assign them to their places of abode.

Altogether there will be eighty-nine visiting societies, but many of them will not arrive till Sunday morning, while some from nearby points, such as New York, Hoboken and Jersey City, will go back and forth every day. The Newark and Philadelphia societies will have their headquarters in the Krueger Auditorium. Those from New York will have theirs in the Colosseum. New York will send twenty organizations, Brooklyn nine, Baltimore twelve, Philadelphia twenty-four, Washington three, Wilkes-Barre two, and one each from Camden, Trenton and Scranton. From Hudson county alone there will be 1,000 singers. The Yunger Maennerchor, of Philadelphia, the present holder of the Kaiser's trophy, have engaged the Continental Hotel, and the Allemania, also of Philadelphia, will put up at the Savoy. The programme of the four days' celebration, as at present arranged, follows:

On Sunday, July 1, the reception of visiting societies will continue until evening, when the united singers, with a chorus of 500 voices, under the direction of Conductor Julius Lorenz, will give a sacred concert in the open-air theatre in Olympic Park.

Monday morning there will be the first rehearsal of the entire bund in the armory. This event will divide interest with the arrival of the German ambassador, Baron Speck von Steinberg, who has promised to remain during the entire festivities. He will be the guest of United States Senator John F. Dryden. In Olympic Park, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, there will be prize singing for societies in the second and third classes. The various city federations will also contest for prizes.

The first grand concert will be given Monday night, commencing at 8 o'clock, in the armory. The soloists will be Mme. Schumann-Heink, who comes from Europe expressly for the purpose, and Giuseppe Campanari, who defers his return to Italy to fulfill the engagement. They will be assisted by a chorus of 5,000 voices. The instrumental music will be furnished by the Philharmonic Orchestra of 150 pieces. Tuesday morning the grand chorus will rehearse for the night concert, which will be on the same scale as the one of the preceding night.

President Roosevelt, if he decides to accept the bund's invitation, will probably arrive in Newark Tuesday afternoon. The committee has made no definite plans for the reception of the President, in view of the uncertainty of his acceptance. The societies entered in the first- and second-class competition will battle for supremacy at Olympic Park during the afternoon. The public school chorus of 5,000 children will hold sway at the armory the same afternoon.

Governor Stokes, the members of his administration and the legislative officials are to be present at the night concert, as well as Mayor Doremus and the city officials. The soloists on this occasion will be Mme. Schumann-Heink and Daniel Beddoe. Provision has been made for the possibility of a speech by the President during these exercises and one by the Governor.

The contest that will bring out the cream of the bund's talent will be the competition for the kaiser's prize on the morning of Independence

Day in Olympic Park. The trophy is a statuette representing a German minnesinger. The German emperor donated it fifteen years ago, and the society that wins it thrice in succession becomes its permanent possessor. Out of the eighty-nine societies in the bund, six have entered the contest. They are the Arion and Germania, of Newark; the Schubert Maennerchor, of New York; the Kreutzer Quartet Club, of New York; the Concordia, of Wilkes-Barre; and the Yunger Maennerchor, of Philadelphia. After this event, which is scheduled for 11 o'clock, the decision of the judges will be announced, and the societies which have been successful in the various competitions will be awarded their prizes.

Wednesday afternoon and night will be devoted to the observance of the Fourth and a picnic in the park. There will probably be an excursion to Coney Island, July 5, if the entertainment committee succeeds in inducing the visitors to remain another day.

DIAMOND DUST.

There are no "ifs" or "con" when it comes to talking about the ball game next Saturday between the Plainfields and Cuban Stars. It's going to be a corker if the rain doesn't interfere or snow flakes fly. It has been related several times that the Cubans gave the Hobokens the hardest tussle of the season at Hoboken Sunday last, when Tommy Curley broke the game up by making a hit that sent Henriques across the plate with the winning run. It was a 10-inning exhibition, the score being 3 to 2. It's the gospel truth, no steam from a busy hot air pipe.

For further particulars address your Uncle Terry, care J. Percival Hall. He indorses the idea that it will be the best game of the season.

Also paste this in your memorandum box. Starting Saturday the games will be called at 3:30 o'clock. Mayor Smalley favors 3 o'clock, but the 3:30 idea will be tried during the month of June.

"Kid" Brogan will be a missing link in the infield chain Saturday. He has gone where ball players dine on ham and eggs, with pie on Sundays—the Connecticut State League—with the Hartford team.

"Ike" Vail is carrying off the honor this season of being the first crank to reach the grounds. Isaac is anxious to see all that's doing, and holds a mortgage on the bleachers opposite third base.

Mayor Smalley is just as good a baseball sport as he is a horseman and declares that Plainfield never had as strong a team as the combination this season. The mayor generally hits the mark and he did not miss the target when he gave vent to this utterance at the meeting of the association Monday night.

Factory Inspector MacCardell denies the yarn published in another paper to the effect that he is going to finance or manage a Westfield ball team.

Courtney and McGoey, of the All Nationals, are about ripe enough for the baseball dump. It must have embarrassed George Mallen to play with such company.

It may be wise for local fans to study up on their Spanish by Saturday as the Cubans are a very talkative aggregation, doing all their coaching in the palm tree language.

The world of baseballdom has sustained an irreparable loss in the mysterious disappearance or death of the fellow in Muncie, Indiana, who for several years back sent forth the annaul yarn to the effect that Amos Rusie, the one time famous New York pitcher, is working in a lumber yard at $1.50 per day. Perhaps he has quit the newspaper business.

Not content with their defeat at the hands of the single men on Decoration Day, George Johnston's Benedicts will try to retrieve their defeat on the afternoon of July 4.

POLITICAL DEBATES.

Seldom if ever in New Jersey has a campaign been launched so early, or, as a practical politician would say, at so unseasonable a time. Of course the "new idea" is responsible for the new order of things and if it accomplishes nothing else, the Colbyite movement has rendered valuable service in placing "gum shoe" politics in disfavor. Already the leader of the party on the floor of the Senate, T. J. Hillery, of Morris, has challenged the head of the reform faction, Senator Everett Colby, to a public debate and the Essex county man has come right up to time in accepting the proposition.

Now comes a still more interesting turn of the political wheel. Corporation Counsel George L. Record, who has announced himself as an aspirant for Senator John F. Dryden's toga, has sent a letter to the President of the Prudential asking him to meet him in debate in every county seat. As a man occupying the exalted office of United States Senator is presumed to be able to hold his own on his feet and more particularly as in this case he is perfectly satisfied with the moral ethics and methods of the regular Republican organization, it is to be expected that the Newarker will accept Mr. Record's offer.

So far as Union county is concerned, both the regular and the reform organizations are getting their breastworks in shape and piling up the ammunition. It is believed that the campaign will be gotten well under way within a few weeks. Why not lead off with a joint debate. It is quite certain that County Chairman Runyon, of the Colbyites, and County Chairman Smith, of the regulars, would prove a drawing card. They understand the situation about as well as it can be understood and they are diametrically opposed on the issues. Surely the public would like to hear them and their arguments would prove most instructive to the voters.

Its foolish of the New Jersey undertakers to get worried because the trust has boosted up the price of caskets twenty-five per cent. They're bound to go down sooner or later.

PHILADELPHIA WOMAN WIN TRI-CITY GOLF CUP.

Mrs. N. P. Rogers Anxious to Attend Exercises at West Point, Loses Her Match.

By defeating the women's team from the Metropolitan Golf Association, yesterday, the Women's Golf Association team from Philadelphia took the tricity cup back to the Quaker City. For the first time since the inauguration of the intercity matches in 1900, the trophy was won by the Philadelphia Women. The team beat the Women's Metropolitan Golf Association team by 9 to 6, the precise score made in the match against Boston on Tuesday. A rift in the lute was that Miss Frances Griscom, daughter of the donor, lost to Miss Vanderhoff. "Our fair players won and the dark ones lost," said Miss Griscom, expressing a coincidence very philosophically.

Mrs. N. Pendleton Rogers, of this city, and Miss A. McNeely were the first to start. Mrs. Rogers was in a hurry to get to West Point to join her son at the commencement drills and dance, and Miss McNeely won by 6 up and 5 to go. Each member of the winning team received a souvenir trophy, the gift of the Boston Women's Golf Association. Today there will be a driving contest, and the first eighteen holes at medal play of the Women's Eastern Golf Association championship.

PLAINFIELD HIGH SCHOOL AGAIN DEFEATS RAHWAY

MEHAFFEY PITCHES FINELY FOR P. H. S. AND LOCALS WIN BY SCORE OF 10-4

Plainfield High School lined up against the team of Rahway High School yesterday afternoon for the second time of the season, and as an on the former occasion Plainfield High School again showed fine form and won by a score of 10 to 4. The game was interesting from start to finish, the visitors starting things agaong in the first inning when they tallied once on a bad throw.

Taylor Mahaffey was in the box for the boys of this city, and he pitched a star game from start to finish. All that the visitors were able to do to his delivery was to obtain four hits, two of them of the scratch order. He accomplished the feat of striking every man on the Rahway team at least once, his total number of victims amounting to fifteen. In addition he himself proved extremely handy with the stick, securing two hits, one a two-bagger, out of four times at bat.

Never during the season has the Plainfield High School nine batted so consistently as a team as it did yesterday. Almost everybody got a hit; Plainfield High School got twelve hits for a total of twenty-six bases, which is "going some," so to speak, even for a team of greater ability.

Plainfield High School did not score until the fourth inning; then they fell on Brown for a single, a double and a triple, scoring three runs in the inning. Rahway scored two in the sixth, two men getting bases on errors and Brown sent them home with a two-base drive. Mehaffey's two-bagger followed by Loizeaux's single scored a run in Plainfield High School's half of the sixth inning. A hit and an error gave Rahway its last run in the seventh and made the score a tie at 4 runs each.

Good base running together with a single, two doubles, a three-bagger and three errors gave Plainfield High School six runs in the eigth, together with the game. Rahway were unable to get men on base in either the eighth or ninth innings and went down to defeat to the tune of 10 to 4.

While Mehaffey starred for the locals, Davis caught him in faultless style, and his throwing to bases was a feature. Van Deventer accepted seven chances out of eight offered and did well around second, as did Howard Freeman on short. Douglass led the locals in hitting with three hits, one a double. Loizeux and Doane each got two hits for extra bases as did Mehaffey. S. Freeman got a pretty triple in the eighth, scoring two men. For Rahway, Stephens and Smith did creditable work.

Plainfield High School will line up against the North Plainfield High School team tomorrow in the third and deciding game of a series, as each team has a victory to its credit. The games promises to be an exciting one.

Middlesex Murderer Captured.

Fred Laing, the young Hungarian who shot and killed his cousin at Bonhamton a few weeks ago and for whom a large reward was offered, was captured in a New Brunswick saloon at 10 o'clock last night. Laing at first denied his identity but when taken to police headquarters he confessed. Laing killed the girl because she refused to marry him. His home was in Bethlehem, Pa.

FOR UNION LABOR TICKET

Printers Start Agitation to Name Their Own County Candidates Next Fall.

TO DECIDE TONIGHT

Rev. Dr. Glazebrook to Address Union County Trades Council at Elizabeth—Labor Day Parade.

The Rev. Dr. O. A. Glazebrook, of St. John's church, Elizabeth, will deliver a speech tonight before the Union County Trades Council at Elizabeth on the subject of labor. The meeting will take place in Washington Hall, on Elizabeth avenue. Plainfield union labor leaders will attend.

Besides listening to the address of Dr. Glazebrook, the delegates will have a number of important matters to consider, notable among them being a decision as to whether the council shall go into politics the coming election. The question of going into politics has been discussed unofficially for some time. Tuesday night it was placed in a position to be acted on by the Trades Council. At a meeting of the printers a resolution was adopted calling upon the Union County Trades Council to go into active politics this coming fall and to nominate a full labor ticket. The resolution will be referred by the printers' delegates to the council tonight.

It is expected that the council will endorse the resolution. Recently it has become the policy of the trades unions throughout the country to make politics a vital principle of the unions. A short time ago the matter came up in the Essex County Trades Council, and though a resolution favoring an entrance into active politics was passed, nothing definite has been done toward this end.

It was explained yesterday that in the beginning the unions, in case they organize for politics, will not strongly insist on naming a full ticket. If they find men on either the Republican or Democratic ticket whom they think show a proper attitude to the ideas of the unions, they will support such men. But if the candidates on the other tickets have no such principles, then they will use their political organization to place men of their own choice in office.

The council will tonight also consider details and reports of various committees in regard to the big labor parade which it is planned to hold on Labor Day.

Guy S. Peck Surprised.

Mrs. Peck gave a surprise party to her husband, Guy S. Peck, at their home, "Highland Farm," in the mountain, last night, which was attended by fifty people from New York, Newark, and this city. The affair was in the nature of a lawn party, the grounds being decorated with Japanese and Chinese lanterns. During the evening there was a dance and refreshments were served. Recitations by Mr. and Mrs. Peck's young son afforded much amusement. The Plainfielders included Mr. and Mrs. Fred Huff, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Gibson, Miss Grace Hewlitt, Ben. LaVere, Mr. and Mrs. William Sharp, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Willard, Mrs. Vincent Sokol.

WILL BE LOCATED IN FRENCH BUILDING ON SOMERSET STREET.

Through plans now being perfected by William Hand & Son, the local truckmen, North Plainfield, will soon have one of the largest and best equipped storage warehouses in this section. It will be located in the building at Somerset street and Somerset place, now occupied by L. Hersh & Bro., the wholesale grocery firm that succeeded the Dunham Grocery Company. Captain William Hand has signed a lease with C. Frank French for the building for ten years and the work of altering it will commence as soon as the present grocery stock is removed. It will be made strictly fireproof and will contain every modern convenience for the receiving and proper care of all classes of goods. One special feature will be the installation of manganese steel vaults for the keeping of silverware, furs and valuable articles.

RECORD CHALLENGES DRYDEN TO DEBATE

COLBY CANDIDATE FOR UNITED STATES SENATE WOULD MEET OPPONENT.

George L. Record, of Jersey City, who is the Colby-Fagan "New Idea" candidate for United States Senator from New Jersey, to succeed Senator John F. Dryden, sent yesterday the following letter to Senator Dryden:

"My Dear Sir—I have read with interest and pleasure the announcement of your candidacy for re-election as United States Senator made by Col. Kuser. I congratulate you upon your determination to make a canvass before the people in advance of the primaries. This action on your part, in my judgment, marks the end in New Jersey of the game of 'gumshoe' politics.

"Taking it for granted, as I do, that your desire to reach the people is sincere, I assume that you will be glad to adopt the most effective and convenient means for that purpose. This means is unquestionably a series of joint debates.

"The Lincoln-Douglas debates are a sufficient precedent for us as Republicans. I therefore request that you join me in a series of joint debates upon our respective candidacies for nomination to the office which you hold, to be held prior to the primaries September 25, and in number to be at least one meeting in the county seat of each county and as many more or you desire."

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

By REV. S. H. DOYLE.

Topic.—Christ's Life VI. His relation to His disciples and what He expects of them.—Matt. x, 16-23.

In the chapter from which the passage for our study is taken we have the record of the sending out of the twelve upon a missionary tour and the instructions given to them for their journey. In connection with these instructions He refers to His relation to them and their relation to Him. The relationships were those of Master and disciple. "The disciple is not above his Master. * * * It is enough for the disciple that he be as his Master." Master and disciple are therefore the relationship that Christ and believers sustain to one another.

The relationship of Christ to the disciples at once determines their relationship to Him and what He expects of them; hence if we will study the full significance of the Mastership of Christ we will see clearly and plainly what is expected of us as His disciples.

1. Christ as our Master is our Teacher. This is one meaning of the word master in the New Testament. Christ is our Teacher. He taught His disciples. This was one mission of His coming to earth. He came to instruct mankind concerning God, salvation and the life to come. If He is our Teacher, we are His pupils. We should sit at His feet and "learn of Him." "Never man spake as He spake," and it is no discredit, but a great honor, to have the greatest of teachers, the Teacher of teachers, as ours. Therefore we should be most diligent students and by all that He said and did learn of Him what He wants us, as His disciples, to know.

2. Christ as our Master is our Lord. He is our divine Master. The word master is used in this sense in the New Testament. This makes the disciple His servant, and it is an honor to be the servant of Christ and therefore to obey Him fully and implicitly. The servant must obey his master, and Christ as our Lord expects obedience of us. It should be cheerfully and willingly given. Christ is no tyrannical Master. He only asks of us what, as our divine Lord, He has a right to ask. He only requires of us that which will be for our present and future good. And in all cases He only demands what we through His strength can perform. He Himself has done all that He asks us to do. Therefore, like Paul, we should glory in being His servants—yea, even His bond servants or slaves—and should with joy and promptness keep all His commandments.

3. Christ as our Master is our guide. The word master as applied to Christ has also this significance. He is our guide, and we should follow where He leads. He is our leader and goes before us. He does not say to us "go," but "come," for He Himself has trod the pathway which He expects His disciple to travel over. He goes before and only asks us to follow. He has given us the example and only expects us to be what He has been, and "It is enough for the disciple that he be as his Master and the servant as his Lord." Can the disciple ask that he be more than his master or the servant that he do less than his lord?

The Geneva Convention Sticker.

In all its announcements for the world's Christian Endeavor convention to be held in Geneva, Switzerland, July 28 to Aug. 1, the convention committee is using the unique sticker which is reproduced herewith. The border inscription is printed in three different languages, that used by English speaking Endeavorers being shown here.

STICKER FOR GENEVA CONVENTION.

All the official general letters are also being printed in the three leading languages of the globe. It is expected that the Geneva convention will be the largest world's Christian Endeavor gathering ever held.

Pitfalls and Points.

Remember that every prayer meeting should have an object as well as a subject.

When committees fail to present their monthly report it is usually because there is nothing to report.

Speak out! No one gets any benefit from the message that cannot be heard. Indeed, low speaking is more likely to irritate than to edify.

That Endeavorer who spoke in your meeting the other night for the first time—you told him at the close how pleased you were to hear his voice, of course.

Don't scold. Encouragement is always better than discouragement. If your meetings are not what they ought to be you are not likely to raise the standard by talking them down.

The height of a tree and the spread of its branches are in proportion to the depth and extension of its roots. Your society must strike root downward into the soil of divine truth and broaden out in its grasp of divine love if it is to bear fruit upward and branch out in manifold Christian service.

A committee—a number of individuals to whom some important work has been committed. Have you thought much about the work that has been committed to you? Do you consider who it is that has assigned you the service?—Irish Endeavorer.

June 3: "Serving by Self Denial." Matt. v, 29, 30; Rom. xiv, 15-21; I Cor. viii, 10-13; Rom. xv, 1-3.

By REV. WALTER J. YATES, D. D.

What is this "self denial" of which we hear so much, and what is its place in the true Christian life? There is much misapprehension regarding it and not a little erroneous teaching and wrong practice. A closer and more careful study of the Bible would correct much of the false thinking and doing.

Because a person likes a thing it does not follow from necessity that the thing is bad for him. It is not a proof of wholesomeness in food that its taste and smell are nauseating nor is it a proof of spiritual value that some exertion is painful and distasteful.

It is not an infallible proof of piety in a person that something agreeable has been given up. That savors too much of heathen penance and has no warrant in the Christian Scriptures, though it has had large place in churchly teaching and practice.

The clear truth is that God has made all things in this world to be good and useful in their proper place and time. By lack of careful thought and by sheer perversity and selfishness we may acquire desires, habits, appetites which crave improper things or clamor for satisfaction at improper times and at the cost of other and higher interests. Sober judgment is needed to guide us at all times. We are ever under imperative obligation to choose the highest and best when more than one course of action is presented to us.

The lower and less worthy end is ever to be denied gratification when a higher and better is open to us. That is clearly the teaching of Jesus when He spoke of the offending eye. It is hard to lose an eye or an arm, but if disease is there and it becomes a question of a surgical operation or death there should be no hesitation in decision. The eye or arm must go to save the rest of the body. This is only an illustration and should have close application in spiritual things.

Let us see how it works. A desire has come upon a young man to enjoy some of the pleasures of the wider world than he has been accustomed to indulge in. He came from country to city. In the social circle to which he has found admission card playing is a favorite pastime. He was brought up to look with disfavor on all such games. Now he uses his new found freedom and soon comes to like the game, to be deeply interested, then fascinated with it. Small stakes at first, just for zest and interest, are played for, then larger ones bring gain which is a welcome addition to his scant wages. Skill is developed, and passion for the game takes interest away from the serious work of the day. Then some little incident, a letter from mother or father, comes along and startles him awake to his condition. What shall be done? How can he go back? Must he break with all the pleasant companionships and lose these social evenings and settle down to an old, dull, tiresome routine? The conflict is sharp. It makes no difference what the questionable indulgence is, this is the usual course it runs. It may all begin in the most innocent indulgence and pass by imperceptible degrees along until its power has become spun like cables of steel about the soul.

What shall be done? Break the bands at all costs and at all hazards. Be free whatever it costs. Allow no pleasure, no profit, no position, no praise, nothing in this world or any world to keep you from your highest, your best good.

If your indulgence is hurting another who is weaker than yourself, call a halt at once. All that is best in you calls on you to sink your selfish indulgence and help your fellow. He needs a friend. You need to be a friend to him.

Self denial is climbing over our weak and base and needless habits to the strong and pure and beautiful. Cultivate all the best, and that only.

Plea For Deeper Study of the Bible.

If we read the Bible aright we read a book which teaches us to go forth and do the work of the Lord, to do the work of the Lord in the world as we find it, to try to make things better in this world, even if only a little better, because we have lived in it. We plead for a closer and wider and deeper study of the Bible, so that our people may be in fact as well as in theory "doers of the word and not hearers only."—Theodore Roosevelt.

Un-Christian Speech.

The early Christians suffered just as we do from un-Christian speech. It is one of the fine things in the early church that it took such firm practical hold of such problems. It did not gloss them over and say that they were too small or personal to deal with. It realized that if Christianity was any good it must be good for the purification and ennobling of human conversation.—Sunday School Times.

Let Something Good Be Said.

When over the fair fame of friend or foe
The shadow of disgrace shall fall, instead
Of words of blame or proof of thus and so,
Let something good be said.

Forget not that no fellow being yet
May fall so low but love may lift his head;
Even the cheek of shame with tears is wet
If something good be said.

No generous heart may vainly turn aside
In ways of sympathy, no soul so dead
But may awaken strong and glorified,
If something good be said.

And so I charge ye, by the thorny crown
And by the cross on which the Saviour bled
And by your own soul's hope of fair renown,
Let something good be said.
—James Whitcomb Riley in Christian Work and Evangelist.

THE SPENDERS

By HARRY LEON WILSON

Copyright, by Lothrop Publishing Company.

He slapped the old man on the back with simulated cheerfulness; but the despairing one only cowered weakly under the blow.

"We can't—we ain't got the stake for a new deck. Oh, dear! think of your ma 'and me not knowin' where to turn fur a meal of victuals at our time of life."

Percival was being forced to cheerfulness in spite of himself.

"Come, it isn't as bad as that, Uncle Peter. We've got properties left, and good ones, too."

Uncle Peter weakly waved the hand of finished discouragement. "Hush, don't speak of that. Then prpoperties need a manager to make 'em pay—a plain business man—a man to stay on the ground and watch 'em and develop 'em with his brains—a young man with his health! What good am I—a poor, broken down old cuss, bent double with rheumatiz—almost—I'm ashamed of you fur suggesting such a thing!"

"I'll do it myself—I never thought of asking you."

Uncle Peter emitted a nasal gasp of disgust.

"You—you—you'd make a purty manager of anything, wouldn't you! As if you could be trusted with anything again that needs a schoolboy's intelligence. Even if you had the brains, you ain't got the taste nor the sperrit in you. You're too lazy—too triflin'. You, agoin' back there, developin' mines, and gettin' out ties, and lumber, and breeding shorthorns, and improvin' some of the finest land God ever made—you bein' sober and industrious, and smart, like a business man has got to be out there nowadays. That ain't any bonanza country any more; now ain't like 1870; don't figure on that. You got to work the low grade ore now for a few dollars a ton, and you got to work it with brains. No, sir, that country ain't what it used to be. There might 'a' been a time when you'd made your board and clothes out there when things come easier. Now it's full of men that hustle and keep their mind on their work, and ain't runnin' off to pink teas in New York. It takes a man with some of the brains your pa had to make the game pay now. But you—don't let me hear any more of that nonsense!"

Percival had entered the room pale. He was now red. The old man's bitter contempt had flushed him into momentary forgetfulness of the disaster.

"Look here, Uncle Peter, you've been telling me right along I did have my father's head and my father's ways and his nerve, and God knows what I didn't have that he had!"

"I was fooled—I can't deny it. What's the use of tryin' to crawl out of it? You did fool me, and I own up to it; I thought you had some sense, some capacity; but you was only like him on the surface; you jest got one or two little ways like his, that's all—Dan'l J. now was good stuff all the way through. He might 'a' guessed wrong on copper, but he'd 'a' saved a get-away stake or borrowed one, and he'd 'a' piked back fur Montana to make his pile right over—and he'd 'a' made it, too—that was the kind of man your pa was—he'd 'a' made it!"

"I have saved a get-away stake."

"Your pa had the head, I tell you—and the spirit—"

"And, by God, I'll show you I've got the head. You think because I wanted to live here, and because I made this wrong play, that I'm like all these pinheads you've seen around here. I'll show you different!—I'll fool you."

"Now don't explode!" said the old man, wearily. "You meant well, poor fellow—I'll say that fur you; you got a good heart. But there's lots of good men that ain't good fur anything in particular. You've got a good heart—yes—you're all right from the neck down."

"See here," said Percival, more calmly, "listen: I've got you all into this thing, and played you broke against copper; and I'm going to get you out—understand that?"

The old man looked at him pityingly.

"I tell you I'm going to get you out. I'm going back there, and get things in action, and I'm going to stay by them. I've got a good idea of these properties—and you hear me, now—I'll finish with a bank roll that'll choke Red Bank Canyon."

Fouts knocked and came in.

"Now you go along uptown, Uncle Peter. I want a few minutes with Mr. Fouts, and I'll come to your place at seven."

The old man arose dejectedly.

"Don't let me interfere a minute with your financial operations. I'm too old a man to be around in folks' way."

He slouched out with his head bent.

A moment later Percival remembered his last words, also his reference to Blythe. He was seized with fear for what he might do in his despair. Uncle Peter would act quickly if his mind had been made up.

He ran out into Wall street, and hurried up to Broadway. A block off on that crowded thoroughfare he saw the tall figure of Uncle Peter turning into the door of a saloon. He might have bought poison. He ran the length of the block and turned in.

Uncle Peter stood at one end of the bar with a glass of creamy beer in front of him. At the moment Percival entered he was inclosing a large slab of Swiss cheese between two slices of rye bread.

He turned and faced Percival, looking from him to his sandwich with vacant eyes.

"I'm that wrought up and distressed, son, I hardly know what I'm doin'! Look at me now with this stuff in my hands."

"I just wanted to be sure you were all right," said Percival, greatly relieved.

"All right," the old man repeated. "All right? My God—ruined! There's nothin' left to do now."

He looked absently at the sandwich and bit a generous semi-circle into it.

"I don't see how you can eat, Uncle Peter. It's so horrible!"

"I don't myself; it ain't a healthy appetite—can't be—must be some kind of a fever inside of me—I s'pose—from all this trouble. And now I've come to poverty and want in my old age. Say, son, I believe there's jest one thing you can do to keep me from goin' crazy."

"Name it, Uncle Peter. You bet I'll do it!"

"Well, it ain't much—of course I wouldn't expect you to do all them things you was jest braggin' about back there—about goin' to work the properties and all that—you would do it if you could, I know—but it ain't that. All I ask is, don't play this Wall street game any more. If we can save out enough by good luck to keep us decently, so your ma won't have to take boarders, why, don't you go and lose that, too. Don't mortgage the One Girl. I may be sort of superstitious, but somehow, I don't believe Wall street is your game. Course, I don't say you ain't got a game—of some kind—but I got one of them presentiments that it ain't Wall street."

"I don't believe it is, Uncle Peter—I won't touch another share, and I won't go near Shepler again. We'll keep the One Girl."

He called a cab for the old man, and saw him started safely off up-town.

At the hotel Uncle Peter met Billy Brue flourishing an evening paper that flared with exclamatory headlines.

"It's all in the papers, Uncle Peter!"

"Dead broke! Ain't it awful, Billy!"

"Say, Uncle Peter, you said you'd raise hell, and you done it. You done it good, didn't you?"

MRS. APPLEGATE WELL AGAIN!

"I have had a bruised leg and foot for several years, caused by the brass eyelets of my shoe, which became very sore and painful especially at night. It itched, burned and ached me till it nearly set me crazy. I used everything I found and was suggested to ease it and nothing gave me any relief till I found and applied Azienza Cream which I think is a wonderful remedy for all sores and inflammation of the skin. The hard knots on my legs were as painful as bee stings, with discolored and purple spots. A running sore on my instep size of a half-dollar; the top of my foot a seething sore clean around to my heel. The bone was sore for a whole year and very painful. I used five and one-half jars of Azienza Cream and healed the sore all up. The foot remained tender and I continued to use to strengthen and toughen the skin until now it is entirely well." (Signed) Mrs. Hannah Applegate, Evergreen Ave., Avon, N. J., Sept. 3rd, 1905. 50 cents. Ask the druggist or by mail. Azienza Specialties Co., Jersey City, N. J.

GOTHAM'S AMUSEMENTS

All the great schools of Europe and America have worked actively for years in the effort to find help for the unfortunate little ones—all with varying results save the Germans, who reached the long fought for goal first andtoday their inventions and remedies make it possible to save nearly, if not all, the lives of the premature or weakly born. The results of the German servants are all embodied in the elaborate exhibition now at Dreamland, Coney Island, where the whole world views an array of infant incubators inhabited by living infants, thus practically demonstrating to the most skeptical this wonderful system's ability to save the most pathetic of cases. Science has at last conquered that which at one time was deemed impossible, and the little lives are saved and children are reared to become a credit and honor to their parents, when once no hope was entertained of saving them. A great work has been undertaken; one of magnitude and far-reaching benefit to mankind in installing so perfect an institution as may be seen at Dreamland. Its work does not stop here, for in every large city similar institutions are to be created and a systematic effort made to instruct the world's motherhood in the care of the prematurely born. It is a well established fact that previous to the installation and use of the infant incubators, all infants weighing less than 2 pounds, 3 ounces, died on the day of their birth. In fact, only about 15 per cent. of all prematurely born infants live according to statistics. It is, therefore, in the nature of a God send that science has presented the world with an instrument with which to do such good work. The employment of incubators as a means of saving the lives of prematurely or very weakly born infants, has not yet become general in America. Yet it is notorious and obvious that the best and almost only means of saving such infants is to protect them absolutely from changes of temperature and from cold. For such purposes children used to be wrapped up in wadding or in sheepskin with the wool adhering.

ASK FOR REFORM IN REFORMED CHURCH.

General Synod Will Take Up Today the Question of Shortening the Ritual.

There is every prospect of a lively time today at the centennial meeting of the General Synod of the Reformed Church in America, to be held in the Collegiate Church of St. Nicholas, Fifth avenue and Forty-eighth street.

The question for discussion will be the adoption of a new ritual or liturgy. New Yorkers, as a rule, are opposed to long prayers, long sermons and long church services of any kind. For fifteen years they have been heading an agitation in the Reformed Church to abridge the ritual. Some parts of it, particularly that pertaining to the celebration of the communion, have been split in two by many pastors, who have adopted the custom of reading half of it at a week-night service and reading the other half on Sunday morning at the time of communion.

The Reformed Church is now exactly and precisely, word for word, as it was a century and more ago, when it was transplanted from Holland. An abridged ritual was offered to the Synod last year, but was referred back to the various classes or local conferences throughout the country. Their delegates will vote on the question today. The Western churches are said to oppose any change.

To the fellow who doesn't who what the talk is all about—it's all about the ball game Saturday afternoon between the Plainfields and Cuban Stars. It will be a great game, one worth going miles to see. The Cubans will come well primed for victory and anxious to atone for the ten-inning defeat at Hoboken Sunday. It is the biggest and best attractions thus far offered to local fans and the management is hopeful of being obliged to take care of a large crowd. Don't forget the new time table goes into effect and the bell will ring promptly at 3:30 p. m.

WEST END TEAM CHANGES ITS LINE-UP

PITCHER NAFIS AND OTHERS ARE RELEASED BY SOMERVILLE.

At a meeting of the Board of Managers of the West End Baseball Association at Somerville yesterday, there was a general "bouncing" of players. Pitcher Nafis, Third Baseman Doyle and substitute Catcher and Centre Fielder Steiner were given their walking papers. The release of Nafis comes as somewhat of a surprise to the rooters. He has won five games and lost one. It is said by some he was regarded by the management as too high priced.

Next Saturday afternoon Edmund Kraft, of Raritan, a youth who has been pitching wonderful ball on the Invincible Club att Raritan, this season, will be given a try-out in the box. He is regarded as one of the best amateurs in the business. Lou. Wiltse, of Plainfield, will be on the bench in case the youngster soars. Washington, N. J., will play the West Ends.

There are rumors in Somerville that Manager Conkling is endeavoring to arrange a series of games with Plainfield and Westfield.

MORE DURABLE PAVE FOR THE BUSINESS STREETS

Board of Trade Makes Report With Suggestions For the Common Council.

PINE BLOCKS ARE BEST

Plan for Benefited Property Owners to Bear Part of Expense—Cost About $55,000.

The Committee on Permanent Pavements made its report to the Board of Trade last night. It recommends that some form of lasting pavement be put down in the business section, and suggests ways in which the cost of the work might be distributed by the city so as to escape bonding in securing the improvement.

The report is as follows; it was prepared by Street Commissioner Andrew J. Gavett, and the figures in it are authoritative:

"Your Committee on Permanent Pavements is of the opinion that a start should be made in Plainfield toward securing better pavements on the more traveled streets of our city. Many cities of less size and wealth are quite liberally provided with brick or other durable pavements, and we suggest that permanent pavements be laid on the following streets:

"East and West Front streets, between Watchung and Central avenues;

"Park avenue, between Front and Fourth streets;

"North avenue, between Park and Watchung avenues;

"Watchung avenue, between Front and Fourth streets.

"We consider that either brick, bituminous macadam or treated yellow pine blocks would be satisfactory. Brick is the cheapest and in many ways the most satisfactory, but is objected to by some as being too noisy. Wood block pavement is free from this objection, has been tested for a number of years in New York and other large cities on streets with the heaviest traffic and its use is being continued. It seems to have great durability and is about fifty per cent. mose expensive than brick. Bituminous macadam or Bitulithic pavement is about midway in price, and while a comparatively new pavement, has been laid to a considerable extent in Newark and elsewhere, and has many of the merits of the other two.

"Asphalt pavement, while largely used in many cities, is difficult to construct with assurance of durability, some pavements lasting well and others breaking up in places in a few years. One of our neighboring cities was obliged to replace large patches of asphalt after one year's use.

"Many of our taxpayers are opposed to bonding the city for any large amount for pavements, and it has been suggested that property owners along the line of the proposed improvements should pay a part of the expense, so that the cost would not be burdensome to any one. We have prepared the following estimates of cost, in which brick has been taken as a basis; the figures for bituminous macadam may be obtained by adding twenty-five per cent., and for treated wood block, fifty per cent to the figures given.

"On East Front street, the street railway company yould pay one-third the cost of the work, and if the city should pay one-third of the remainder and the property owners the balance, the cost to the latter would be about $2 per foot front. On West Front street, the company would pay one-half, and one-third of the remainder would be only about $1.53 per foot front.

"On Park avenue, the price per foot front would be $2,07 between Front and Second streets, $2.81 between Second street and the railroad and $2.55 from there to Fourth street.

"On Watchung avenue, the price would be $1.78 and on North avenue $3.07 per foot front, all on the supposition that the city would pay one-third of the cost per running foot, also the entire cost of the intersections and the general expenses of the work.

"The total cost of the improvement would be about $37,000, of which the street railway company would pay $7,000.

"In case of consent of the property owners to the above plan could not be obtained, we recommend that about $5,000 of the street appropriation be expended each year for permanent paveements; it would require six years, by this plan, to complete

RECEPTION IN HONOR OF MR. MANNING PLANNED

Y. M. C. A. DIRECTORS ACCEPT HIS RESIGNATION—ARRANGE FOR FESTIVAL

The formal resignation of J. H. Manning as general secretary was received and accepted by the Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A. last night. No action regarding his successor was taken. Mr. Manning will remain with the association for the next three months, and it was felt that immediate action on the vacancy was not demanded.

In his resignation, Mr. Manning stated that he had taken the step thoughtfully, and it was final, "and the Directors were requested not to ask that it be reconsidered."

In closing the resignation, he said:

"I need scarcely tell you that my interest in the work will continue and after nearly twenty-three years as general secretary, nineteen years of which have been spent here, that this work will ever have a warm place in my heart.

"With sincere appreciation of the friendship and support of the Directors and members in the past anr with the assurance that it will be my earnest prayer that much greater good may be accomplished in the future by the association in this promising field, I am., etc."

The resolution accepting the resignation expressed the Association's deep regret over Mr. Manning's departure, and its appreciation of his services. The president was instructed to appoint a committee of five to arrange for a farewell reception in October, at which some sort of substantial testimonial will be presented to the retiring secretary.

The board arranged for the organization of a Bible class, next fall, to be taught by Rev. Dr. Jesse Lyman Hurlbut, of Bloomfield, formerly pastor of the First M. E. church. It was voted also to hold five or six theatre meetings during the fall and winter.

CHILDREN'S HOME ANNUAL RECEPTION

MANY FRIENDS OF INSTITUTION INSPECT THE HOUSE.

Patrons and friends of the Children's Home attended in large numbers the annual reception held yesterday afternoon at the Home from 3 to 6 o'clock. Mrs. Horace Kimball, president of the Plainfield Children's Home Association, showed the visitors about and explained the system employed in caring for the children.

The reception was held under the direction of Mrs. Horace Kimball, president; Mrs. Ruth Leonard, secretary; Miss Lucy H. Everett, corresponding secretary; Miss Ella Serrell, treasurer, who together with Mrs. Sarah A. Hendrickson, the matron, and Mrs. Horace K. Phillips, Mrs. James C. Peck, Mrs. A. N. Selter, Mrs. W. W. Dunn and Mrs. Martin I. Cooley received the visitors. Tea was served in the dining room by members of the association, assisted by young women. Over 100 persons visited the Home during the afternoon.

During the latter part of the afternoon an excellent musical programme was enjoyed. There were piano and violin solos and duets by Miss Clyde Burnet and Miss Marguerite Burnet and soprano solos by Miss Mary Hubbell.

At present there are twenty-four boys and girls at the Home, about the average number. There are accommodations for fifty, but great care is exercised in taking children in. They cannot be under two years of age, and name of boy or girl is kept after she or she is fourteen years old. Another rule is that only the children of worthy and poverty-striken parents are admitted.

Since the improvements have been made to the Home, it has been furnished in exceedingly good taste. The association is fortunate in having such a person as Mrs. Hendrickson as matron. She is very careful and painstaking in the management of the Home and the children and not one of the little tots is slighted in any respect. The children make up one big happy family and they all appear to be thriving well under the careful management.

SOMERSET'S NEW COURT

Freeholders Let Contract For Marble Structure to New Yorkers.

IT WILL COST $227,589

Cramp & Co.'s Bid Lower Than That of Fissell & Wagner, Who Won, But It Was Irregular.

The contract for the construction of the new courthouse at Somerville was awarded by the Board of Freeholders of Somerset County, yesterday. The structure will cost $227,589.

Fissell & Wagner, of New York, received the contract. As soon as the papers have been executed, work on the building will be begun. The company intends to rush the construction.

Fissell & Wagner's bid was $500 in excess of the lowest bid filed, which was submitted by Cramp & Company, of Philadelphia. The latter bid, however, was not made out in regular form, and on that, and other grounds, it was rejected. The Cramps failed to comply with the provisions in several ways.

The new courthouse is to be one of the handsomest of its kind in the State. It will be constructed of white marble, and will form a fitting successor to the noble old wooden pile in which the court has been held. An especial effort to secure beauty of line has been made, to meet the objections of those who protested against the destruction of the old courthouse on artistic grounds.

FAREWELL RECEPTION.

To Be Tendered School Teacher Who Becomes Missionary.

A farewell social to Prof. M. K. W. Heicker, of the North Plainfield High School, who will soon leave for Japan as a missionary, will be given in Grace M. E. church, tonight, under the auspices of the Epworth League. The affair will be strictly an informal one. On Sunday night there will be a special service at the church for Prof. Heicker. At that time there will be addresses by Rev. Dr. H. K. Carroll, secretary for the Foreign Missionary Society, under whose auspices Mr. Heicker goes to Japan; Prof. H. C. Krebs, of the North Plainfield High School; W. J. Conroy, superintendent of the Sunday-school and the pastor of the church, Rev. Dr. Charles Wesley Parsons. There will also be special music.

Lawrence A. Mallinson Weds.

Miss Anna Rickter, daughter of Mrs. Bertha Rickter, of 822 East Second street, and Lawrence A. Mallinson, son of Mr and Mrs. Alex. Mallinson, of Liberty and Fourth streets, were married Wednesday evening by Rev. C. H. Schneegas, pastor of the German Reformed church, at his home, Codington and Watchung avenues. The couple was unattended. Afterward an informal reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, which was attended by a number of relatives and friends. The couple will reside at 822 East Second street. The groom is employed by his father at the latter's pharmacy.

Observed Wedding Anniversary.

In celebration of the twelfth anniversary of their wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Coons, of Somerset street, entertained forty friends at their home last night. The time was passed with music, games and refreshments. Guests were in attendance from the city and borough, New York, Newark and Elizabeth.

FIRE CHIEFS TO MEET IN CONFERENCE HERE

FIFTY HEADS OF DEPARTMENTS TO MEET IN PLAINFIELD ON TUESDAY.

Fire Chief T. O. Doane has received notice from Chief Jerome S. Rush, of Ocean City, that several men prominent in insurance and fire matters will attend the semi-annual meeting of the State Fire Chiefs Association to be held in this city next Tuesday. Chief Rush is chairman of the entertainment committee and has practically completed all plans for the gathering.

Among those who have signified their intention of being present to give short talks are William M. Devitt, of Philadelphia, chief of the Insurance patrol; William S. Johnson, ex-chief of the Philadelphia fire department and now general inspector for the National Board of Fire Underwriters; C. J. Cross, of the American-La France Fire Engine Company; and Thomas Torrey, of the Gamewell Fire Alarm Company.

Invitations are also to be extended to Mayors Buckle and Smalley and the fire committees of both local councils, F. W. Shepperd and Fire and Water Engineering, and H. H. Esterbrook, of the Firemen's Herald.

It is thought about fifty chiefs will be present and they will assemble for business in Exempt Firemen's Hall early in the morning. The session will extend to noon when they will adjourn for lunch, reassembling about 2 o'clock. If the business is transacted in time, part of the afternoon will be devoted to taking the visitors about the city.

RAN INTO HORSE.

Boy Bicycle Rider Bruised and Frightened in a Collision.

Arthur Tillotson, twelve years old, son of James K. Tillotson, 346 Franklin place, rode his bicycle into the horse attached to William VanSickle's butcher wagon at Front street and Madison avenue this afternoon, and was painfully bruised in the spill that resulted.

The wagon was driven by Richard Wernecke. It came around the corner of Madison avenue as the boy rode toward the corner on Front Front street. Arthur did not see the wagon coming until too late to avoid a crash. He fell clear of the wheels, but the horse stepped on his left leg, bruising it. Hise face was cut and he was frightened to the verge of nervous collapse. Patrolman Overbaugh carried him to police headquarters in his arms, and he was sent home from there in a carriage.

He "Cut H'it H'out."

One of the animals in the jumping class at the horse show, yesterday, gave evidence of the fact that high-bred animals are familiar with prevalent slang phrases and understand their meaning. This particular equine refused to take the fences and misbehaved badly despite the dignified rider's coaxing tones. The latter became angry when someone in the grandstand advised him to "chew his ear off" and suddenly digging his heels in the animal's sides exclaimed, "Cut h'it h'out, will you." Almost the next instant the horse stopped his prancing and went over the nearest barrier as clean as a whistle.

Fred Nesler's Funeral.

The funeral of Fred A. Nesler, who died yesterday morning, will be held tomorrow morning at 7:45 from the home of his uncle, James Deady, of West Third street, and at 8:30 from St. Mary's church. Interment will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

CONSOLIDATION SHAPENS

Borough Committee to Take Initiative in Starting Joint Investigation.

TO HEAR TAXPAYERS

Satisfaction Over Complexion of Committees—Many More Now Favor the Scheme.

It has been learned that the joint committees appointed by the councils of Plainfield and North Plainfield and by the Plainfield Protective Association to report on the feasibility of uniting the two municipalities without changing the county lines will meet within a fortnight. Councilman Lee, chairman of the borough committee, is expected to take the initiative by appointing a time and place for the meeting.

Both former Mayor Charles J. Fisk, chairman of the P. P. A. committee, and Councilman Buxton, chairman of the city's committee, are said to be favorably disposed on the proposition. This is reported to be also the case with Chairman Lee, of North Plainfield. At least it is known, according to one in authority, that all three chairmen as well as the general membership of the committees, will conduct the investigation in a careful and competent manner.

Within the last three years there has been a decided change in sentiment in the borough regarding the union with Plainfield. Leading citizens who were then pronounced against any merger whatever, are now outspoken in their advocacy of the scheme. On the other hand, the ranks of the original consolidationists have been depleted but little. It is reported that two or three who fought for union three years ago will probably take a stand against it now. Politics alone is said to be responsible for this change of front.

It is said that the joint committee will likely decide to have public hearings on the subject and that taxpayers on both sides of the brook will be asked to express their opinions.

MRS. HIGGINS FOUND.

Report She Was Wandering in the Woods Proves to Be True.

Mrs. Margaret Higgins, formerly of this city, now of Hampton Junction, was found by a crew of a D., L. and W. train at Charlottesburg, N. J., at 1 o'clock this afternoon. She was sitting on the track.

Mrs. Higgins disappeared from Glen Gardner, where she went Saturday with her husband. She transacted some business there and left her husband to make some purchases while he went to work, he being supervisor of the Central Railroad between Somerville and Hampton Junction.

Old Building Soon to Be Vacated.

A. E. Hoagland, the expressman, and Clifton & Campbell, the fruit dealers, have leased the store in the Marsh building, on Park avenue, will take possession on Monday. They now occupy the old building on Park avenue, opposite North avenue, which is to be torn down next week to make room for a modern structure. One colored family occupies the second story of teh old building, but will move elsewhere in a few days.

Fred Merklin to Be Arraigned.

Fred Merklin, who was accused and indicted on a charge of larceny at the Singer Sewing Machine Company's plant at Elizabethport, will be arraigned in the Union County Court tomorrow morning.

NEW YORKERS' HORSES FARE BEST ON FIRST DAY

BOARD OF TRADE MAKES A FACE AT THE P. P. A.

POLITIC SECRETARY SMITH SCANDALIZED BY FRANK EXPRESSION.

Aside from the discussion of permanent pavements, the Board of Trade did little last night. The only other thing that awakened activity was a discussion on the demand for a city weigher of coal put out by the Plainfield Protective Association Monday night.

E. M. Laing started it by asking if the secretary had received "anything from the branch of the Board of Trade regarding a weigher." Secretary Smith said he hadn't, and hazarded an opinion that the P. P. A. might be the tree and the Board of Trade the branch.

"There is more to this weigher business than one might realize at first thought," said V. W. Nash. "Several scales would have to be established in the city; one would not be enough." Mr. Nash is a coal dealer.

President Woolston said the agitation for municipal check on weights and measures was uncalled for. He said there was too much talk nowadays of crookedness in business and it was generally to be found that the man who was suspicious of his neighbor needed watching himself.

"The matter was brought up by the Protective Association," said Mr. Nash.

"Yes, I know they brought it up; I was simply stating how it all strikes me," said Mr. Woolston.

"Those people take a lot on themselves in that association," said Mr. Nash.

"Sh!" said Secretary Smith hastily. He is chairman of the Republican County Committee.

"No 'sh!' about it," said Mr. Nash firmly.

"Move we adjourn," said Mr. Smith, and the motion went through.

Early in the evening a committee of three, consisting of Chief Doane, V. W. Nash and W. A. Woodruff, was appointed to help entertain the fire chiefs who attend the convention here next week. The Board will hold its next meeting at the call of the chair. If nothing important comes up there will be no sessions during the summer.

FIRE HORSES IN EVENT AT THE HORSE SHOW

"ANDY" AND "MAC," CITY'S CONTESTANTS FOR BLUE RIBBON.

Though there are a number of exceptionally good classes on the programme for the horse show tomorrow, great interest has been manifested in the one for fire department horses. The contestants will be "Andy" and "Mack," the proud stepping team attached to No. 3 house of the city department, named in honor of Andrew McCardell and James T. MacMurray, and "Nip" and "Tuck," who haul the borough's chemical engine. Captain George Feiring and Lieutenant William Campbell will be the drivers and as both are adepts at handling the ribbons, some good horsemanship is looked for.

The horses exhibited are to be attached to their regular apparatus, in each instance being a combination chemical and hose machine. The animals are to count sixty per cent. and the apparatus and appointments forty. Lieutenant Campbell may have a slight advantage from the fact that his engine is comparatively new but it will be offset if the judges take service into consideration. The borough's entry has been out but two or three times since it was installed while Captain Feiring's machine has seen a great deal of wear and tear.

Miss Mary Sachar Hurt.

In alighting from a trolley car at Fourth and Liberty streets, last night, Miss Mary Sachar, of West Third street, either jumped or fell and was thrown on her head with great force. An ugly gash was inflicted and when she was assisted to her home it was necessary to call a physician. Drs. Pittis and Clawson both responded and took four stitches in the wound. Miss Sachar was unable to tell just how the accident happened.

Metropolitan Owners Capture Five Blue Ribbons at the Horse Show.

J. W. HARRIMAN GETS 3

Handsome Equipages In Local Event—Miss Hooley's Splendid Horsemanship.

Amid the delightful surroundings of the Plainfield Riding and Driving Club's new grounds at Woodland avenue and Randolph road, society from this city, Newark, Morristown, Bernardsville and New York city and Brooklyn looked on yesterday afternoon, while the first day's programme of the third annual horse show was passed over. Fourteen classes came before the judges, taking from 1 o'clock until 6:30, and the array of blooded equines that competed for ribbons has seldom been seen at any exhibition outside of Madison Square Garden. There were full entries in nearly every instance and it was so difficult to make selections that the officials were frequently an hour behind in the time schedule. Thirteen more classes are to be judged this afternoon and the wind-up comes tomorrow with an additional fourteen.

New York Horses Fare Best.

In the awards yesterday, New York horses fared best, metropolitan owners getting five firsts, four seconds, one third and four fourths. Of these J. W. Harriman was easily the leader, his animals capturing three blue ribbons, one red and one yellow. The Elsinore Stock Farm, of Glen Cove, L. I., did well, and as was expected, C. W. Watson's handsome black gelding, "Lord Baltimore," took first prize in the only class he was entered singly. Paired with "The Kid" in the tandem class he was awarded third after a long deliberation. Mr. Watson has been a determined contestant in the Plainfield shows and each succeeding year finds him present with still better animals. This time he has a large number entered and the close of the exhibition will find him holding many first and second prizes.

Pony Selection Approved.

The selection of the judges in the sub-divided class for ponies in harness met with the approval of everybody around the ring. The blue went to a handsome little brown mare, "Lady Eccles," belonging to J. H. Harriman and driven by Master Harriman, clad in the cutest of white suits. The little fellow handled himself and the rig like a veteran, but he had a hard field to compete with. There were so many entries in this class that it was made into two, one for small size ponies and the other for large, though none could exceed 14.1 hands. "Lady Eccles" was in the former and won out against C. W. Watson's "Chiffon," which got second, Lawrence Breese Smith's "Fox," third, Marion V. R. Schuyler's "Dimples" and several others.

"Sadie McGregor" Wins Roadsters.

The roadster class brought out a strong competition. There were eight entries—manner, conformation of style and going to count and not speed or pedigree. George Willing, of Philadelphia, who was the judge, had a hard time of satisfying himself of the right horse, but finally selected Harvey S. Ladew's "Sadie McGregor," which has been winning blue ribbons with surprising frequency. She was entered from the Elsinore Stock Farm, which is owned by the Ladews. William J. Buttfield's "Miss Banahan," which took two seconds last year, got second again, and F. A. Oatman's "Kitty Giltner" was third. Charles W. McCutchen's "Willie Direct" failed to get a place and the only other local entry in this class, Mr. Buttfield's "Little Elsie," was scratched.

Handsome Equipages in Local Event.

The second event on the programme was a local one, judging twenty horses in harness, and there was a string of equipages in the ring that made visitors take note of the fact that Plainfield is the home of handsome rigs. There were some that were not from Plainfield and a division was decided upon in order to make awards in a satisfactory manner. Of the strictly local entries, first prize went to Charles W. McCutchen's imported Arabian steed, "Bimbashi;" second to Mrs. S. A. Cruikshank's "Ruby;" third to Mrs. H. Reeve Stockton's "Garnet," and fourth to Miss Mabel B. Hooley's

HAIR TELLS CHARACTER.

Color of Hair Said to Indicate a Person's Temperament.

Many people believe that blonde, or light hair denotes affection and dark hair constancy. A person without hair is not devoid of character; far from it. The disposition of the average baldheaded man is to show such solicitude for the welfare of others, that he neglects himself. A germ causes baldness, Prof. Sabouraud, of Paris, France, innocculated a rabbit with Dandruff germs, causing it to become totally bald in five weeks' time. To rid the scalp of these dangerous germs it is necessary to apply Newbro's Herpicide.

"Destroy the cause—you remove the effect."

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

DIAMOND DUST.

The baseball teams from the Plainfield and North Plainfield High Schools will play the third and deciding championship game this afternoon. Each team has won a game.

Follow the crowd to Crescent Oval tomorrow afternoon, and see the stars of the Antilles try to win against Plainfield. It will mark the first appearance of a Cuban team in Plainfield this season and the second time Manager Daab's team has met the Torpedo Destroyers, defeating them in a ten-inning struggle by the score of 3 to 2. The locals are playing ball like the Chicago Cubs and are on a great winning streak which will be hard to break. The contest will be a hummer from start to finish. The batting order of the Cuban Stars will be as follows: Marzan, left field; Hildago, center field; Almeyda, third base; Cabrera, short stop; Prats, right field; Hernandez, first base; Macerina, catcher; Medina, Rodriques, Gonzales, pitchers.

The New Yorks are playing like old world champions.

Phil. Smith got his first baptism of fire of the season Wednesday at Trenton, when he pitched for the Amsterdams, of New York. The score was 18 to 6.

Another pitching phenom has sprung up in our midst. It is Clifford Randolph, of Clinton avenue, who operates on the slab for the Dunellen team. In the last two games he has struck out forty men, twenty men in each game, thus equalling Phil. Smith's school day record.

Begins to look as if Christy Mathewson is going back; but Jack Hall says the Giants will win the pennant again. That talk may go up Tewkesbury way but not down here.

George Allen is back from the Inter-State regions, and he didn't walk it back either. George caught a few weeks for the Washington, Pa., team.

Sammy Hope, the former Alis twirler, is pitching star ball for the Paterson Hudson River League Club. Sunday he will be on the slab for Central Islip against the Hobokens.

At the Polo Grounds Tuesday Manager Burke declared he was anxious to arrange a two-game series with Plainfield the latter part of September. Burke is anxious to try conclusions with the undefeated Plainfields and is confident that he can pull off the championship. It's a good way to think thus. No doubt such a series, if arranged, would prove a popular move and be a money maker to both teams.

Westfield again on June 16. This time Manager Nicholas declares he will win the game. He says his players were attached with stage fright at critical stages in the last game, and the result will be different when the combat takes place. Fans have not yet forgotten the fourteen-inning argument put up by Westfield a few weeks ago and it can be said there will be an abundance of interest displayed in the coming contest.

Somerville Is Waking Up.

It is said the locals will soon arrange a series of games with Plainfield and Westfield nines. That's the stuff! The Somerville fans will welcome these contests.—Somerville Messenger.

CARRIAGE OWNERS INDIGNANT.

Though the management of the horse show grounds has done wonderfully well in getting things in shape in so short a time, there was much criticism yesterday over the manner in which people coming in carriages were treated. Those who had only admission tickets were not informed at the gate where they were to go and most of them drove into the parking spaces. After they had been stationed the police were instructed to drive them out, but there was no place for them to go and many of them indignantly left the grounds. The whole trouble could have been remedied by having a man make it known at the entrance that there was no accommodations for carriages outside of the reserved parking spaces.

Well Known Missionary Passes Away

Edward Dowling, well known here where he visited many times, died at his home in New York on Wednesday. For a great many years he was the missionary in charge of the Church of the Land and Sea, 61 Henry street, New York. The funeral services were held from that church this afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. O. G. Cocks officiating, and interment was in Hillside cemetery, this city, at 5 o'clock, where a brief service was held.

Death of Mrs. Jane Adair.

Mrs. Jane Adair, wife of Shettlesworth Adair, died last night at her home in Scotch Plains, following a long illness. She was one of the old residents of that place and a faithful members of the Scotch Plains Baptist church. The funeral services will be held from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Alexander Macauley, Bartle avenue, Scotch Plains, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and Rev. T. Moore-Smith will officiate.

A Deserving Case.

A widow with three children, living in North Plainfield, is in actual want. RELIGIONS OF JAPAN SUBJECT OF LECTURE

A. C. MACLAY'S TALK BEFORE TRINITY MEN'S ASSOCIATION.

Before a small, but appreciative audience, Arthur C. Maclay, the lawyer and author, of West Eighth street, gave a highly instructive lecture last night in Trinity Reformed church before the Men's Association, on the subject of "The Religions of Japan." Mr. Maclay sketched the origin, history customs and peculiarities of Shintoism, Confucinism and Buddhism.

Former Mayor L. V. F. Randolph made a few remarks commending the very able and instructive lecture by Mr. Maclay. He then asked a few questions directly in line with the subject, the answers to which by Mr. Maclay brought out more clearly several points. Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck also spoke words of commendation, expressing his pleasure, as well as that of the association.

The association will not meet again until October.

MORE DURABLE PAVE

the work above outlined, and we consider that the abutting owners would be so much benefited by such pavements that they should be willing to bear their share of the cost in order to have the business center all improved at once, instead of waiting years for it.

"We understand that it would not be necessary to secure a subscription from each owner, but that an assessment could be made by commissioners.

"The estimated cost of paving the several streets with brick is as follows:

"East and West Front Sts.	$16,500
"Park Ave.	7,900
"Watchung Ave.	6,000
"North Ave.	6,600
	"$37,000

"Respectfully submitted,
"Frank H. Smith,
"B. Frank Coriell,
"Andrew J. Gavett,
"Committee."

The report was accompanied by a map prepared by Mr. Gavett. It was referred to the Common Council, after a short debate on the suggestion that part of the cost be assessed against abutting property owners.

V. W. Nash, who is one of the Park avenue property owners, objected to the idea of assessing. He understood the report recommended the assessment, and he objected to that very vigorously. As to the idea itself, he held that it was the part of every taxpayer in the city to bear a share in the cost, because the improvement was for the entire public and not merely for the abutting owners. Trouble and law suits, he believed, would follow the assessment levy. It was unfair to ask property owners who has already paid one assessment for permanent roadways, to pay another.

E. M. Laing supported Mr. Nash. He held that property owners of a certain district should not be held open to assessments for pavement experiments of different councils.

W. G. Debele supported the committee in its suggestion of assessment, and President Woolston, who, with Mayor Buckle, owns 250 feet along North avenue, the highest priced stretch, said he would be willing enough to pay an assessment to get rid of the present sloppy roadway; although he did feel tnat the entire city should bear the expense.

Mr. Smith, of the committee, explained for Mr. Nash's benefit, that the report did not "recommend" an assessment and merely suggested such a course, with an alternative distinctly presented. Mr. Nash said he didn't like the phraseology of the report, but made no objection when the vote to refer it to Council was taken.

Hit Elderly Couple.

For hitting Harry F. Holland and his wife, both elderly, Arthur Chippendale, a young Englishman, was fined fifteen dollars or twenty days in jail in the City Court, this morning. He didn't have the fifteen, and was committed. Chippendale went into Holland's little grocery on West Third street last week and punched the couple, because he didn't get what he considered a satisfactory explanation of alleged derogatory remarks made about his wife.

NEW YORKERS FARE BEST

"Babe."

Miss Hooley's Splendid Horsemanship.

Miss Hooley rode or drove in nearly all of the classes and if deportment on her part could have been taken into consideration the blue ribbons would have crowded upon her. She displayed splendid horsemanship to good advantage either way but the odds were against her entries.

The Feature Class.

Probably the best class seen during the afternoon was for ten pairs of horses in harness over 15.2 hands. Every team was a prize winner and represented the pick of the best show animals in the East. C. W. Watson's "Wesvirginia" and "Virginia" were prime favorites and there was great surprise when they failed to get a place at all. The coveted blue went to George Watson's "Lord Lonsdale" and "Tennessee," a finely matched pair of black geldings, both six years old and 15.3½ hands. "Banker" and Broker," bay geldings owned by John Doyle, of New York, got second; Lehman Strauss' "Battleaxe" and "Tomahawk," third, and H. G. Runkle's "Duke" and "Duchess" fourth. Though only getting the white ribbon, Mr. Runkle has reason to feel proud of his award as such splendid teams as Mrs. A. O. Van Heusen's "Virginia Coon" and "Ma Honey," Lehman Strauss' "Tip Top" and "Tip Toe" and Charles W. McCutchen's "Orma" and "Lady Gay" were passed over.

"Patsey Palmer" Gets a Blue.

Another hard class to judge was No. 17, for combination and saddle horses, seventeen animals being entered. Miss Emily H. Bedford, of Brooklyn, daughter of the Standard Oil magnate, riding her "Patsey Palmer," took first after a long wait; "My Dream," from the Elsinore Stock Farm got second, J. W. Harriman's "May Morning" was a lucky third and Walter P. Bliss' unnamed bay mare got fourth. Local horses were outclassed in the judging of seventeen in harness in No. 4 and thirteen ladies saddle animals in No. 23.

Miss Beach's Double Victory.

The latter class brought out an unusual result in that two of J. H. Harriman's entries took first and second prizes. Both horses were ridden by Miss Belle Beach, who has been responsible for many a mount getting a blue and is looked upon as a dangerous competitor when deportment counts. She first came into the ring with "Petroleum" and after putting him about until the judges had taken in every detail, changed to "Corrine." The latter got the blue and the former the red.

"Apple Jack" Again Distinguishes Himself.

The last event on the programme for the afternoon was the judging of six hunters, open only to horses owned by members of the Watchung Hunt Club. There were six entries and Charles W. Fisk's brown gelding, "Apple Jack," which distinguished himself by winning the feature race in last Saturday's steeplechase meet, took first prize with ease. He was ridden by Harvey R. Fisk and he went over the fences as prettily as though they had been a foot high instead of five. C. E. S. Bellows rode Peter Hauck, Jr.'s two entries, "Harry G" and "Arch Light" and was compelled to take a lot of good-natured chaffing from the spectators because of his inability to get the former to jump the barriers. He was as stubborn as the proverbial mule and even when grooms induced him to make a run he stopped at the bars with a suddenness that all but threw Bellows into the air.

The Box Holders.

Though the attendance was not as large as was expected, it was gratifying to the management and shows that interest is being taken in its efforts to make Plainfield the home of the best exhibition in the State. There is no doubt but what the crowd will be much larger today and double the original tomorrow. The commodious grandstand contained a large number of local society folk while the boxes are being held by Orville T. Waring, William E. Lowe, Charles W. McCutchen, Marion S. Ackerman, Walter P. Bliss, William J. Buttfield, Robert A. Fairbairn, Tonzo Souvage, Harry L. Terry, C. W. Watson, C. L. Duval, Edward H. Ladd, Jr., Charles J. Fisk, Henry McGee, Edwin S. Hooley, Percy H. Stewart, Thomas J. Mumford, George A. Beaton, George P. Mellick, William Palmer Smith, Lewis E. Waring, Henry C. Irons and J. C. Gilbert, Mrs. Chapman Fisk, Simeon A. Cruikshank, Frank deL. Hyde, Robert H. McCutchen, Harry G. Runkle and the women exhibitors.

Officers of the Club.

The officers of the Plainfield Riding and Driving Club are: President, Charles W. McCutchen; vice president, Lewis E. Waring; secretary, Lewis G. Timpson; assistant secretary, William S. Blitz; treasurer, J. Herbert Case; directors, George A. Beaton, W. J. Buttfield, R. A. Fairbairn, Charles J. Fisk, Edward H. Ladd, Jr., George P. Mellick, Charles W. McCutchen, Orville T. Waring, Lewis E. Waring, Harry G. Runkle and Daniel F. Ginna. The executive committee comprises Lewis E. Waring, chairman; W. J. Buttfield, George P. Mellick, R. A. Fairbairn and Charles J. Fisk; the ring committee, R. A. Fairbairn, chairman; George P. Mellick, W. J. Buttfield, O. T. Waring and L. E. Waring.

The Judges.

The judges who are serving the three days are as follows: Roadsters, George Willing, Philadelphia; harness horses and ponies, Joseph W. Ogden, Morristown, and Jay F. Carlisle, New York; saddle horses and ponies, S. Taber Willets, Roslyn, L. I., and Alfred B. Maclay, New York; hunters, jumpers and polo ponies, Percy Evans, Warrenton, Va. Dr. E. R. Voorhees, of Somerville, is the veterinary inspector.

Champion Gunner.

Petty Officer Giles, of the warship "King Edward VII," who is a brother-in-law of James Kermode, of this city, has made the world's gunnery record. In a recent trial of the Mediterranean fleet, of the British navy, at Malta, Giles secured eleven hits out of eleven from a six-inch weapon, 100 pounds projectile, in a single minute, says the Peel Guardian, which is published at Peel, Isle of Man. The record was made a month ago while the "Henry VII" was steaming at twelve knots an hour and the gun-platform as well as the target were consequently unstable. Gunner Grounds, who previously held the world's record, only put in eight rounds in the same time.

—Think of it—1,000 quarts of the very best strawberries at Neuman Brothers' tomorrow. They have been selected with special care for the local trade.

—Bolton Hall is entertaining the Berkeley Heights school children today at Berkeley Heights. William Jeffrey, the real estate operator of Plainfield, has charge of the matter. Arthur C. Pleydell, Dr. Thomas S. Davis are assisting.

$15,000 THE PRICE OF AN ICE PLANT

NEW OWNERS EXPECT TO TAKE CHARGE OF PLANT ON JUNE 24.

Two Elizabeth saloonkeepers have applied for membership in the co-operative ice company which the Newark liquor dealers are organizing. The new co-operative ice company is called the Ice Consumers and Supply Company. It is to be incorporated for $100,000 in shares of stock worth $0 each. No person is to be allowed to hold more than twenty shares. Although the committee of organizers has not yet gone among the saloonkeepers of Newark to ask them to become stockholders, about sixty have voluntarily come forward and become stockholders, so that there is now over $3,000 on deposit in one of the Newark banks.

Thus far a deposit of $500 has been paid down on the plant of the Quartz Ice Company on Broadway, Elizabeth. The purchase price is $15,000, and the new company is to take possession June 24. P. J. Ryan is acting for the Quartz Ice Company in the deal.

As soon as the new company takes possession about $60,000 will be invested to make the plant equal to the demands to be made upon it. It is planned to turn out 100 tons a day.

Thomas C. Hayes, who is at the head of the project, stated this morning that the plant would be in full operation by September 1. Though this would not help much in bringing down ice this summer, it would be a future protection against extortionate prices. The price of ice, Mr. Hayes said, will be twenty-five cents a hundred.

Mr. Hayes stated this morning that some of the big Newark dealers offered to let down on the price if the idea of a co-operative plant was abandoned. The offer was refused. He said that Newark ice dealers were making fabulous sums of money through the high prices they were charging.

ARROWSMITH FOR RECORD.

Hudson Assemblyman So Declares—Resolutions for Senator Candidate.

Hoboken, June 8.—At a meeting of the committee on resolutions of the new idea movement, in what has recently been designated as the Eighth Assembly District, held in the office of Assemblyman Eusebius W. Arrowsmith, Jr., Wednesday night, resolutions were adopted supporting the candidacy of Geo. L. Record for United States Senator. It is asserted that the sentiment of many of the voters throughout the district, regardless of party lines, is for Record.

Assemblyman Arrowsmith declared yesterday that his remarks at a recent meeting, in which he declared himself a candidate for re-election, were misquoted and misleading in reference to his stand on the question of United States Senator. He declared emphatically that if re-elected his vote will be cast for Record.

The sentiment in North Hudson towns, especially in Weehawken, Union Hill and West Hoboken, is said to be strong for the reform movement. The anti-machine element of this city are not a little dissatisfied over the attitude of Governor Stokes in the matter of appointing a successor to the late Judge Frambach as District Court Judge.

Assemblyman Arrowsmith, who is being backed by Mayor Fagan and the independents, said yesterday that he did not expect to get the appointment.

Fall Kills Lineman.

New Brunswick, June 8.—Word has been received by Mrs. Patrick Harding, of this city, of the death of her brother, William Kelly, formerly of New Brunswick, at Poughkeepsie, N. Y. Kelly worked as line man for a telephone company that is putting a new system through New York State, and was fatally injured by a fall from a pole. His body will be brought here for burial.

MOVING TIME IS HERE.

Many people who have been dissatisfied with their apartments during the past winter would like to move to better themselves, but cannot afford to.

Why not come in and talk with us? If you owe a little back rent or grocery bill or the doctor or coal man, or you need money for rent in advance, it might possibly be an advantage to get a small loan, say $10, $25 or possibly $50, of us, and then pay it back in small amounts, either weekly or monthly, to suit your convenience. We loan from $10 up—any sum—any time. The possession of household goods, piano, or horse and wagon, are sufficient evidence of your ability to pay. A postal will bring us to your door.

MRS. APPLEGATE WELL AGAIN!

"I have had a bruised leg and foot for several years, caused by the brass eyelets of my shoe, which became very sore and painful especially at night. It itched, burned and ached me till it nearly set me crazy. I used everything I found and was suggested to ease it and nothing gave me any relief till I found and applied Azienza Cream which I think is a wonderful remedy for all sores and inflammation of the skin. The hard knots on my legs were as painful as bee stings, with discolored and purple spots. A running sore on my instep size of a half-dollar; the top of my foot a seething sore clean around to my heel. The bone was sore for a whole year and very painful. I used five and one-half jars of Azienza Cream and healed the sore all up. The foot remained tender and I continued to use to strengthen and toughen the skin until now it is entirely well." (Signed) Mrs. Hannah Applegate, Evergreen Ave., Avon, N. J., Sept. 3rd, 1905. 50 cents. Ask the druggist or by mail. Azienza Specialties Co., Jersey City, N. J.

AWAITS ATTORNEY-GENERAL.

State Education Board Wants His Opinion on Recommendations.

Morristown, June 8.—The members of the State Board of Education completed their work at the session here Wednesday, little business of importance being transacted. The committee on manual training and the industrial school for colored youth, at Bordentown, recommended the practical rebuilding of the stables and barns that it may be able to teach agriculture to the students next year.

The committee on grounds and buildings also recommended minor improvements to the present normal school, and for the school for deaf mutes some decided improvements in ventilation and in the sanitary arrangements of the infirmary. These recommendations were all laid over until the board receives the opinion of Attorney-General Robert H. McCarter on the interpretation of the law creating the commissioner of charities and corrections act makes it the duty of the commissioner to "ascertain whether such buildings and improvements are necessary," and the opinion sought for is to define just how far this authority extends.

The board adjourned to meet at the call of the president, which will be made when the attorney-general is heard from.

Wouldn't Treat, Gets Beating.

New Brunswick, June 8.—Andrew Lazo is in jail here with his face all battered up and his condition such that he will be sent to the hospital for treatment. He was brought to jail yesterday from Webers, and was covered with his blood, there being five serious scalp wounds, which were dressed by County Physician Suydam. The man had returned to his boarding house late Monday night, and upon refusing to pay for a treat of beer the other boarders jumped upon him and gave him a good beating. Arrests are expected in the case.

—The Somerset County Board of Freeholders will meet at Somerville on Tuesday, June 12.

MRS. EDGAR WON FINALS IN WOMEN'S SINGLES TOURNEY.

And Miss Lockwood Gets Consolation in East Jersey Club Competition.

The final match in the women's singles tournament of the East Jersey Lawn Tennis Association was played off at the Plainfield Country Club yesterday afternoon between Mrs. B. C. Edgar and Miss Harriette Woodruff, both of the Ilderan Outing Club, of Rahway. Mrs. Edgar won by the score of 6-2, 6-4.

The consolation prize in the same tournament was played for on Wednesday. Miss Elsie Burke and Miss M. E. Valiant, of the Plainfield Country Club, defaulted. Miss Helen Lockwood, Danforth Tennis Club, beat Mrs. W. B. Tyler, Plainfield Country Club, 6-1, 6-2; Miss Adelaide G. Ball, Plainfield Country Club, beat Mrs. S. F. Weaver, Plainfield Country Club, 4-6, 6-2, 6-1. Miss Lockwood won the cup by beating Miss Ball, 6-2, 6-3.

MISS GODDARD AND MR. GLENNEY WINNERS.

Close Match in Mixed Foursomes at Plainfield Country Club.

The mixed foursomes scheduled for Saturday at the Plainfield Country Club were played yesterday afternoon, when two very exciting matches were contested. Miss Margaret Goddard and W. Lester Glenney and Miss Maud Van Boskerck and J. W. Henderson each returned a net score of 94, and in the play-off it required three extra holes to determine the winners, who were Miss Goddard and Mr. Glenney. The match was not completed until nearly 8 o'clock and the darkness made it difficult to play.

Miss Edith Tracy and C. B. Morgan returned a score of 112, 4—108. Other contestants were Miss Hope Ivins and W. T. Glenney, their score being higher.

P. H. S. ENTERTAINMENT PLEASED LARGE CROWD

Mrs. E. M. Allston and G. M. Stricklett Rendered Pleasing Solos.

A packed house enthusiastically greeted the musical work of the Plainfield High School pupils, assisted by the soloists, Mrs. Edith M. Allston, dramatic soprano, and G. Morgan Stricklett, tenor, last night, in the school auditorium. The programme was made up of two full hours of high class music, and the way in which it was rendered reflected great credit upon the school musical trainer, C. L. Lewis.

The original programme called for the appearance of G. Seymour Lenox as the tenor soloist, but Mr. Lenox was unable to be present because of illness, and Stricklett filled the bill in first class style, in his place. Mrs. Allston's selections were very pleasing, while Stricklett was forced to respond to several encores, especially to the "Four Leaf Clover," which he gave by request. The High School orchestra and musical club also had numbers on the programme. Miss Mabel Maxson, of the faculty, presided at the piano.

Among the best songs by the school were the "Evening Hymn," by Reinecke; "Blue Daunbe," Strauss, and "Pilgrim's Chorus," Wagner.

The affair was a great success and will probably help to cancel the indebtedness of the Plainfield High School Boys' A. A.

$2,500 FOR MGR. KELLY.

Congregation Makes Him a Generous Gift at Celebration.

Monsignor Charles Kelly, who celebrated his silver jubilee in the priesthood at Jersey City yesterday, received a magnificent testimonial of their regard from his congregation last night. He was presented with a purse of $2,500.

The presentation came as the climax of the day's rejoicings. Monsignor Kelly was deeply affected by it, and the spirit, made manifest in several ways, that lay back of it.

Gen. Howard Talks at P. H. S.

General Charles Henry Howard, of Chicago, brother of the famous Gen. O. O. Howard, who took part in the battle of Gettysburg, addressed the pupils of the Plainfield High School this morning. He said that his subject was not to be that of famous battle in the war which he participated in, but one connected with war. He spoke, in the main part, about arbitration and how, if employed in deciding great questions of international differences, war might be avoided. He referred in glowing terms of the good work being done today by the international peace conference. General Howard is the father of Rev. L. R. Howard, of Hope chapel.

Judge Swayze in Union County.

—The famous Colburn strawberries are now in the market. Strictly fresh picked consignments are received at Neuman Brothers' store every morning.

PERSONAL.

Otto F. Mueck, of 325 East Second street, returned last night from Alma and Chrystal Lake, Michigan, where he spent two weeks with relatives.

Charles Case, of East Fifth street, has recovered from a ten days' attack of tonsilitis and left today with Mrs. Case for a visit with relatives at Easton, Pa.

Mrs. Joseph A. Robinson, of Watchung avenue, who has been detained at home by illness for a long time, is improved, and tomorrow she sails by the Red Star Liner Kroonland for a two months' trip in Europe.

ADOPT CONSTITUTION.

Colored Independents Align Themselves With Taxation League.

The Independent Republican Club, colored, adopted the constitution of the Union County Equal Taxation League last night. The popular choice of United States Senatorial candidates was strongly endorsed.

The meeting was held at Thomas Bowser's barber shop, 152 East Front street. The next meeting, on June 20, will be held there.

The club is actively enrolling members. Over forty are now on the list. The organization was formed to advance the political interests of the colored voters.

Charity Abuses in Hudson County.

In an investigation into affairs at the Hudson County Almshouse, Mrs. Emily E. Williamson, of Elizabeth, and Hugh F. Fox, of this city, have discovered that there are about forty inmates who should never have been committed there. Thus far it has cost the county about $70,000 for the maintenance of these forty inmates. They are able-bodied and in a position to support themselves or have relatives who were ready to provide for them or should be made to maintain them. The report of this condition was submitted to the Hudson County Board of Freeholders last night, and proper action will be taken at once.

Children's Day.

Children's Day exercises will be held at Grace M. E. church at 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning. There will be recitations and vocal solos and other special music by the Sunday-school, together with baptism of infants by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Charles Wesley Parsons.

ROUNDS OUT ACTIVE LIFE

L.V.F. Randolph Retires Monday After Half Century of Active Work.

INTENDS TO GO ABROAD

Consolidated Exchange to Choose His Successor As President —Sketch of His Career.

Former Mayor L. V. F. Randolph, one of New Jerseyis d'stinguished sons, retires from active business life on Monday, after rounding out half a century in what may be said to be a most strenuous and successful career as banker, financier and man of affairs. The responsibilities that have rested upon his shoulders as president of the Consolidated Stock and Petroleum Exchange, of New York, will end on Monday, when that institution will choose his successor. He has positively declined a fourth term in his present capacity, feeling that he has arrived at the time of life when he is entitled to spend more of his time in the enjoyment of the good things of the world. On Saturday next, Mr. Randolph and his good wife will sail for Europe on the "St. Paul." It is their intention to occupy the summer months visiting the many places of historic note in Scotland and England. They will probably return early in the fall, but in the years to come, it is their hope to spend much of their time seeing favorite spots in the old and the new world.

Lewis Van Syckle Fitz Randolph was born at Somerville, May 16, 1838. His father was Enoch Manning Randolph and his mother Mary Ann Van Syckle. The earliest American ancestor was Edward Fitz Randolph, a native of Nothingham, Eng., whence came Virginia Randolph. He emigrated in 1630, and settled in Scituate, Mass., from where he moved to Barnstable, and finally, 1669, to Piscataway. His descendants were prominent in the Colonial life. By the maternal line, Mr. Randolph is descended from the two ancient Dutch families of Van Syckle and Opdyke. John Laing, one of the first settlers of Plainfield, is one of his ancestors. The Fitz Randolph family is an ancient and noble one in England. Its line touches that of Robert de Bruis, a Norman Knight who came to England with William the Conquerer, A. D., 1066, and who was a progenitor of the royal Scottish family of Bruce, a descendant, Isabel, daughter of Robert de Bruce, fourth earl of Annandale, became the wife of Thomas Fitz Randolph. The name Fitz Randoljh appears first to have been borne by a grand-nephew of William the Conqueror.

Lewis V. F. Randolph was educated in the schools of Plainfield, N. J., with a view to pursuing a college course, but the early death of his father determined him to enter business instead. His first employment was for three years in a mercantile way. Afterwards he was for nearly ten years (1854-63) in the American Exchange Bank, New York City, where his faithful and systematic labors were rewarded by constant promotions. In 1863 he enlisted in the New Jersey militia, and served through the emergency campaign of that year, and until after the battle of Gettysburg. He was discharged ill of a fever contracted in the service during the Confederate invasion. In the following year he accepted the position of private secretary to the president of the Illinois Central Railroad Co., and, was soon after assigned to the company's money department in Chicago. After six months there he was recalled to the financial office in New York city, and was elected assistant treasurer. In 1873 he was chosen a director, and in 1874 was elected treasurer of the company. The latter office he held for eleven years, and, on the occasion of his resignation in March, 1885, the directors adopted flattering resolutions eulogizing his abilities and official record. In 1886 he became secretary to the executors of the Samuel J. Tilden estate, and later

ACCIDENT AT THE SHOW

Tonzo Sauvage's Runabout Rig Overturns Pinning Down the Groom.

GOTTEN OUT UNHURT

Second Day's Judging Brings Many Difficult Classes to the Ring—Local Exhibitors Divide Honors Evenly.

An accident to one of Tonzo Sauvage's rigs which looked as if it might result seriously but which in reality caused no great harm, added a tinge of excitement to the programme of the horse show yesterday afternoon. While class 12, one of the best of the day, was being considered by the judges, Edward Carver, a groom employed by Mr. Sauvage, came in the ring with his "Lord Nelson" attached to a runabout. There were fifteen other competitors and when several of them met at the ends it became necessary for one or more to make a quick turn toward the centre to avoid colliding.

Carver did so several times and finally got to whirling around at a high rate of speed in a dangerous manner. He essayed to cut the north turn very short and in so doing the vehicle went over with himself beneath it. "Lord Nelson" was thrown down and became entangled in the harness, rendering both driver and horse practically helpless. Grooms quickly lifted up the runabout and greatly to the relief of everyone, Carver was found to be unhurt. The animal was also gotten to its feet without a scratch and was re-harnessed to the runabout, which was slightly damaged. The groom pluckily resumed his seat and received fourth prize in the awards.

The blue ribbon for the class went to J. W. Harriman's "Chieftan," with C. W. Watson's "Newmarket," a newcomer locally, second, and the Elsinor Stock Farm's "Katzenjammer Kid" third.

Though there were but seven entries, no class during the afternoon, perhaps, proved more difficult to judge than No. 7 for pairs of horses in harness. The pick of the out-of-town entries was in it and no agreement was reached on first choice for over half an hour. The judges were so much in doubt that they rode around the ring with the drivers to satisfy themselves on several points, the first time they had to do it since the show opened. The lucky contestants were J. W. Harriman's "Chieftan" and Laughing Water," which took first in the tandem class Thursday. "Lord Baltimore" and "My Maryland," C. W. Watson's handsome black geldings, carried off the red; Lehman Strauss' "Flurette" and "Babette" the yellow and Walter Bliss' "The Artist" and "St. Clair" the white.

Mr. Harriman took in all during the day, three firsts, one second, one third and one fourth, but this record was beaten by H. R. Ladew's entries from the Elsinore Stock Farm. They were awarded three firsts, one second, two thirds and one fourth.

But these exhibitors were distanced in Class 20 for fifteen saddle horses, when a superb array of animals responded to the call of the coach horn. W. S. Elliott's "Jasmine," which won first in a similar class at the Philadelphia horse show last week over Mrs. John Gerken's "Surprise," took the blue ribbon, and Mr. Harriman's "Corinne," ridden by Miss Belle Beach, was second. "My Dream" from the Elsinore Farm was third and Miss Emily H. Bedford's "Patsey Palmer," which won a blue Thursday in the combination saddle and harness class, was fourth.

Walter P. Bliss' "Red Fox," a stylish chestnut gelding, was the recipient of the blue in the class for sixteen horses in harness, the next to the last on the day's programme, but one of the most important. More time was spent on this than any other and the result was in doubt until the last moment. "Wesvirginia," C. W. Watson's offering, was second choice; Geo. Watson's "Lord Lonsdale" third, and Charles W. McCutchen's "Bimbashi" fourth. To the ordinary observer, "Bimbashi" was a sure blue and there was great disappointment among his admirers in the grandstand and boxes when he failed to get it. The Elsinore Farm's "Cassia" and "Katzenjammer Kid" were easy winners in the only tandem class of the day, carrying off the blue against five other competitors.

Among the Plainfield contestants, honors for the day, so far as the number of awards are concerned, were pretty evenly divided. William Palmer Smith's "Beresford" and "Belmore" captured the blue in the hardest local class, No. 39, eight pairs of horses in harness; another blue went to Miss Margaret McCutchen's "All Ablaze" in the saddle horse competition and a blue was awarded W. J. Buttfield in the judg-

HONOR NEW MISSIONARY

Farewell to M. K. W. Heicher by the Grace Church Epworth League.

FIANCEE HONORED ALSO

Presented With a Set of Henry Van Dyke's Books—To Leave For Japan Next Month.

The Epworth League of Grace M. E. church tendered a farewell reception, last night, to M. K. W. Heicher, who will shortly leave for Japan as a missionary, and to Miss Margaret S. Hallock, who will sail with him as his bride.

The affair was largely attended. Flowers decorated the platform and the piano.

Informality marked the evening. There was a programme of entertainment, but all the numbers were delightful and only one of them formal in nature.

Mr. Hircher received a complete set of Henry Van Dyke's works as the League's parting gift. Rev. Dr. Parsons, pastor of the church, made the presentation. He spoke briefly. He assured Mr. Heicher that all he would have the Epworth League feel and wish him, it did feel and wish. The spirit of the evening had been jovial and informal, he said, and he felt it was just as well to keep that spirit. He congratulated Mr. Heicher on the happy event that was soon to occur and wished him and his fiancee Godspeed on behalf of all those present.

Mr. Heicher made a feeling response. He said that Grace was the first church at which he really had felt at home. He had come to it by chance one rainy Sunday, and the spirit of fellowship and cordiality that manifested itself had held him to it ever since. He had been inspired by the church and by the Epworth League. It had been said that a man who has a friend is not useless, and the token of the League members' friendship that he held in his hand made him happy in the thought that he was perhaps of some use in the world.

The programme included readings by Miss Helen Whitney, piano duet by the Misses Florence Smalley and Edith Major, song by Miss Agnes Bailey, and violin solo and imitations of bird songs by Mr. Brynildsen.

Refreshments were served. The committee in charge was made up of Miss Mary Hoagland, chairman; Miss Grace Clark, Miss Ada Van Horn, Miss Lucetta Clark, Miss Nettie Banersachs, J. R. Harden, Raymond Miller, Benjamin Schuck and George Parsons.

Mr. Heicher will leave for Rochester next Saturday, to be married at Miss Hallock's home. He will leave for Japan July 25. He is to join the faculty of a missionary school at Nagasaki. He is now an instructor at the borough high school.

FAMOUS CHICAGO HOMESTEAD SCENE OF NUPTIALS.

Lieutenant Commander Williams, U. S. N., Gave His Sister in Marriage.

The Chicago Tribune's society column on Thursday contained the following account of the wedding in that city of Miss Adele Cutts Williams, daughter of the late General Williams, and Dr. B. VanD. Hedges, of this city:

"The old Farwell homestead at 99 Pearson street, which has sheltered hundreds of guests in years past, but which recently has been quiet, save for the small luncheons and dinners given by Mr. and Mrs. Chatfield-Taylor, was the scene of a wedding last night.

"The bride was Miss Adele Cutts Williams, of Washington, a sister of Mrs. Walter Farwell. She was married to Dr. Benjamin Van Doren Hedges, of Plainfield, N. J., the ceremony at 9 o'clock being performed by the Rev. John N. Freeman. Lieut. Commander Philip Williams, U. S. N., gave his sister in marriage. Mrs. Walter Farwell attended as matron of honor, while a brother of the groom, Dr. Ellis W. Hedges, acted as best man.

"The bride wore a gown of soft white satin trimmed with point lace, and her tulle veil was caught with orange blossoms, which flowers she also carried. Mrs. Farwell's gown was of white lace and she carried a large loose bunch of white roses. Fifty guests were present at the ceremony, which was followed by a supper, the newly married couple then leaving for a wedding journey. They will reside in Plainfield, N. J."

STEVENSON CHILDREN AT PLAINFIELD SEMINARY

ANNUAL ENTERTAINMENT BY LITTLE FOLKS MOST DELIGHTFUL.

Stevenson's children from "A Child's Garden of Verse," entertained their parents and friends at the Plainfield Seminary yesterday, it being the annual closing entertainment by the little folks. Lovers of Jessie Wilcox Smith's drawings might have thought a rival illustrator at work. The garden and children were there. But the gate was open and the "grown up people" were allowed to share its delights with the little ones, who in story and song made merry in a fashion to have charmed even the author himself. An original paper by Frances Perkins on Stevenson as a writer added much interest to the entertainment.

The programme arranged by Miss Elvire Kenyon, Miss Jackson and Miss West follows:

"Child's Garden of Verse," by Robert Louis Stevenson. Cast:

"To Any Reader," Alison Williams; song, "The Wind," all; "My Shadow," Dorothy MacClymont; "The Thought," Mary Timpson; "The Wish," Minie Taylor; "Marching Song," Constance Veysey, Wolcott Calkins, Morris VanBuren, Theodore Moldenke, Dorothy Manning; "The Little Land," Edith Palmer; "A Birdie," Dorothy Manning; "The Swing," Theodore Moldenke; "The Land of Nod," Elizabeth Williams; "Singing in the Rain," Helen Strong; "Foreign Lands," Josephine Linkeiscn; "Foreign Cihldren," Caroline Veysey; "The Pirates," Theodore Moldenke, Wolcott Calkins, Morris VanBuren; "At the Seaside," Margaret Condict; "Story Book Land," Marion Coombe; song, "In Winter I Get Up at Night," Helen Strong, Marie Boies, Eleanor Hatch; "The Hayloft," Claire Kenworthy;" "Auntie's" Skirts," Dorothy Simons; "Windy Nights," Catherine Wright; "Where Go the Boats?" Rev. Mr. Deutchner Married Them.

Miss Anna Rickter, daughter of Mrs. Bertha Rickter, of 822 East Second street, and Lawrence A. Mallinson, were married Wednesday night, at St. Peter's German Lutheran church, by Rev. Mr. Deutchner, the pastor, and not Rev. C. H. Schneegas, as previously reported. Irving Van Winkle was the best man and Miss Tillie Collish the bridesmaid.

Smalley's View on Consolidation.

Mayor Smalley said today that he did not favor consolidation without annexation. He believes, he says, that it would not be practical to consolidate Plainfield and North Plainfield while the county line is unchanged.

ADVANCED TO PRIESTHOOD

Sacrament of the Holy Order Conferred Upon Rev. John Butscher This Morning.

IN NEWARK CATHEDRAL

Will Celebrate His First Solemn Mass in St. Mary's Church at 10:30 Tomorrow Morning.

In St. Patrick's cathedral at Newark today at 10 o'clock a class of nine graduates from the Diocesan Seminary at South Orange was ordained to the priesthood, among them being Rev. John J. Butscher, of Plainfield. The Sacrament of the Holy Orders was conferred upon them by Rt. Rev. John J. O'Connor, Bishop of the diocese of Newark. The cathedral was filled with friends of the young men, among them many from here.

Father Butscher will celebrate his first solemn mass in St. Mary's church, this city, tomorrow morning at 10:30. He will be assisted by the Very Rev. Dean Smyth, formerly rector of St. Mary's, as deacon. Rev. Father Delehanty will act as master of ceremonies and Rev. Father B. M. Bogan will preach the sermon of the day. It is expected that the young priest will be greeted by a large congregation.

After the mass Rev. Father Butscher and visiting priests will be guests of Rev. Father Bogan at dinner. It is customary for newly ordained priests to enjoy a vacation of two weeks before taking up the parochial work assigned them by the bishop of the diocese and Father Butscher will make use of the opportunity in securing a much needed rest.

Father Butscher was born in this city and in his boyhood attended St. Mary's Parochial school. In 1897 he entered St. Charles College at Ellicott City, Md., to begin his classical studies. He was afterward graduated from Seton Hall college with the class of 1900 and then entered the Diocesan Seminary at South Orange to begin the study of theology. A year ago he received the Deaconate and his final step to the priesthood was made this morning.

As yet it has not been announced as to what field of labor Father Butscher will be assigned.

Will Open Home July 2.

The officers of the Netherwood Fresh Aid Home are busily engaged in preparing for the opening of the Home on Monday, July 2, when Miss Sara Curry will bring her large family of children out from New York. The Home has been improved in many ways and will be in readiness for the reception of the children and several mothers. This week a number of friends have been busy preparing articles of wearing apparel for the children.

P. H. S. AGAIN CHAMPION

City Public Schools Defeat Borough Nine in Final of Interscholastics.

THE SERIES NOW ENDED

Plainfield High School Won Ten Out of Fourteen Games, Retaining Laurels Won Last Season.

The Plainfield High School baseball team closed its season on the diamond yesterday afternoon by winning the final game with the North Plainfield High School aggregation for the city interscholastic championship. Its record is ten victories out of fourteen games played. Individually the nine was weak at the bat, though remarkably strong in the field at the beginning of the season, but hard practice brought every player up to a good standard of hitting.

By far the largest crowd of the season turned out yesterday afternoon to witness the final game on Crescent Oval. It was the closing game of the season for both nines and to win the game meant much.

From the beginning the borough boys showed stage fright and as a result, with the aid of two large errors the boys of this city's high school scored two runs in the get-a-way. No further scoring was done until the fifth inning, when the boys from across the brook scored their only run, by Smith being hit by the ball. He stole second and third and scored on Dunning's sacrifice to first.

Plainfield High School scored three in the sixth by bunching two hits, a base on balls and good base-running. The last tally for Plainfield High School came in the ninth on S. Freeman's three-bagger and VanDeventer's sacrifice to second. The borough team failed to score in their half of the ninth, leaving the score 6 to 1 in favor of the Plainfield High School nine, and again giving them the city scholastic championship.

Mehaffey occupied the slab for the city team and though wild at times, hitting three men, he held the borough boys well in hand, allowing them but one scratch hit, and striking out every boroughite with the exception of Webster. Peacock, of the North Plainfield boys, pitched in fine style and with better support might well have reversed the score, but the borough boys made seven large errors behind him. The features of the game were Webster's catching for North Plainfield High School and VanDeventer's playing at second for Plainfield High School. Excellent hitting was done for the city team by Mehaffey, Doane, S. Freeman and Loizeaux.

The score and summary follows:

THURLOW GETS NEW JOB

Plainfield Health Officer Appointed to Similar Position in Jersey City.

FAGAN SELECTS HIM

Office Pays $2,000 Salary—Efficient Man for the Place—Larger Field for Him.

Mayor Fagan, of Jersey City, today announced the appointment of Leon Thurlow, of this city, as health officer to succeed Henry Smellie. The appointment takes effect immediately. The salary is $2,000 per annum.

Mr. Thurlow has not yet made any decision. The first news that he had been appointed was conveyed to him this morning by a representative of The Daily Press. When informed of the fact, Plainfield's efficient health officer said: "That's the first I knew about it. Of course, I know that my name was being considered by Mayor Fagan, but he had made no direct offer to me."

Continuing, Mr. Thurlow said: "I have an appointment with Mr. Fagan for tomorrow. Jersey City is a big proposition, the work there being many times as hard as it is here. On Tuesday I will let you know my decision."

It is more likely that Mr. Thurlow will accept the position. Plainfield pays him $100 a month and his duties here take up all his time. Since assuming the office, he has brought about many reforms and has kept a vigilant eye on milk dealers and others who handle commodities that require analytical inspection. The members of the Plainfield Board of Health speak in the highest terms of his work and it is not improbable that they will use every effort to retain his services.

BERGEN DECLINED SEAT ON BENCH

REFUSAL OF GOVERNOR'S TENDER CLEARED WAY FOR TRENCHARD.

Frank Bergen, of Elizabeth, counsel for the Public Service Corporation, is reported to have declined an appointment to the Supreme Court bench, to succeed the late Jonathan Dixon, which was tendered to him by Governor Stokes.

The selection of Mr. Bergen is said to have been urged by Chief Justice Gummere and Chancellor Magie, in the conferences which they have had with the Governor relatives to the vacant judgeship. Mr. Bergen has several times in the past refused to accept a judicial position, one of the first times being in 1899, when he was suggested for a federal position in Porto Rico.

In tendering the appointment to Mr. Bergen, the Governor consulted the wishes of the chief justice, and now that he has declined, it is regarded as a certainty that the place will go to a South Jerseyman.

County Judge Thomas L. Trenchard, of Cumberland, has been appointed to the position.

Will Add Section to Tax Ordinance.

The Common Council will hold an adjourned meeting Tuesday night, when a supplementary section to the tax ordinance will be introduced and adopted. This action will be taken to include the $73,000 which the Board of School Estimate has determined is needed to run the public schools for the coming year. Some other matters or more or less importance will also be taken up at the meeting.

Change Sewer Inlet.

In connection with the relaying the walk of the City National Bank, the storm sewer inlet at the corner has been shifted. It will be located several feet down Front street, instead of directly at the corner. It is believed the change will improve the walk for pedestrians at that point. In slippery weather the iron cover of the inlet has always caused a number of falls, and a good deal of annoyance.

Church Fair.

A fair will be held at the parish house of St. Stephen's P. E. church, Woodland and South avenues, this afternoon and evening, under the auspices of St. Faith's and St. Mary's Guilds. Lemonade, ice cream, cake and candy, besides useful and fancy articles, will be sold. The Netherwood trolley cars pass the parish house door.

Mr. and Mrs. William Symons and daughter, of New York City, are visiting at the home of Mr. Symon's father, Paul Symons, in East Third street.

trust company is in harmony with Mr. Randolph's somewhat unique business experience of the past forty years. In the course of handling, during that period, cash and properties, in many fiduciary capacities, to the extent of hundreds of millions of dollars for persons and corporations, he has never made a single loss—even in the smallest amount."

Upon Mr. Randolph's retirement from the presidency of the Atlantic Trust Company at the close of the year 1902, after eight years of successful and prosperous management on his part of the affairs of that institution, its board of trustees unanimously adopted resolutions expressing the highest appreciation of Mr. Randolph's services and great regret over his resignation.

Almost forty years earlier, on his leaving the clerical associates in the American Exchange Bank, to enter upon his railroad career, they had joined in a similar expression of esteem and good will in giving Mr. Randolph a dinner and in presenting him with Washington Irving's complete works and letters in twenty-six volumes.

On his return from a visit to the West Indies in the spring of 1903, Mr. Randolph was unanimously elected president of the Consolidated Stock and Petroleum Exchange, and after being re-elected without opposition in 1904 and 1905, had in 1906 declined further business propositions and has retired.

In 1901 he published a volume of poems entitled "Survivals." He was married May 16, 1867, to Emily Caroline, daughter of Matthias Price, of Newark, N. J. They have five daughters.

Almost from boyhood Mr. Randolph has been actively interested in literary matters. His poems have been widely commended. He has always been an enthusiastic lover of Nature and has taken great pleasure in gardening. At one time he owned several thousand head of Hereford cattle and has for more than twenty years been a breeder of registered Jersey cattle.

At a regular meeting of the Board of Governors of the Consolidated Stock and Petroleum Exchange, held on Thursday, May 24th, 1906, the following preamble and resolution were, on motion of Mr. Ogden D. Budd (numerously seconded by other governors), unanimously adopted by a rising vote:

Whereas, This meeting of the Board of Governors is the last regular meeting of the fiscal year, which is just ending, and Whereas, Mr. L. V. F. Randolph is soon to terminate his connection with the Exchange as its president, therefore,

Resolved, That this Board of Governors desires to express to Mr. Randolph, on the eve of his retirement from the office of president, its appreciation of his efforts in behalf of the Exchange during his term of three years, and to place on record an expression of high regard and esteem for him coupled with regret that he is no longer to be connected with the Exchange in an official capacity.

Drying the Face.

A soft towel should always be used in drying the face, either after soap or any other, for a rough or bath towel only irritates the skin and serves to work it some injury. The following recipe is also a very good one: Dissolve one can of lye into a quart of cold water. Try out five pounds of mutton tallow until perfectly pure. Have the grease as cool as it can be without congealing, then pour it in a drop at a time, and beat constantly into the dissolved lye.

Two Sunsets in One Day.

The town of Leek in Staffordshire, England, has the rare privilege at a certain season of the year, of witnessing two sunsets in one day. Between the town and the western horizon there is a high mountain, and when the sun dips behind its crest night begins to fall and the lamps are lighted. An hour or two later the sun shines in all its glory through an opening in the range of hills, and out go the lamps until the second sunset brings night in reality.

secretary of the Tilden Trust Library Corporation. Through the five years occupied in litigation over this estate such was the success of the management in investment of funds, and in the careful attention to doubtful assets that the original $5,000,000 was increased to over $7,000,000. In writing of Mr. Randolph's part in this achievement, Hon. John Bigelow, biographer of Mr. Tilden, says: "I feel it to be a duty, as it certainly is a pleasure, for me here to make a public acknowledgment of his invaluable services, and formally to recognize the very substantial obligations under which his varied accomplishments as a business manager, his indefatigable assiduity, and his high personal character have pleaed all who are, or may hereafter be, in any way interested in this estate." Following the death of Hon. Andrew H. Green in 1903, Mr. Randolph was appointed by the court executor and trustee of Governor Tilden's estate, and this position he still holds—his colleagues being Hon. John Bigelow and Hon. George W. Smith—and they have the care of three-quarters of a million of trusts still undisturbed and active.

Besides being for many years treasurer of the Illinois Central Railroad, Mr. Randolph has been president of the Kanona and Prattsburg, and of the Carolina and Cumberland Gap Railroad companies; president of the Illinois and Iowa Fuel Co.; president of the Atlantic Safe Deposit Co.; president of the Lee-Foster Land and Cattle Co.; president of the Excelsior Steamboat Co.; president of the Atlantic Trust Co.; receiver of the New York Iron Mine; director of the Lawyers' Mortgage Insurance Co., and of the Iron Cliffs Co., and trustee of several large estates, and of various benevolent societies and institutions. He has been for half a dozen years treasurer of the New York Zoological Society, having assisted Hon. Andrew H. Green to organize it, and being one of its managers, and he is a past-commander of the Grand Army of the Republic. He is now president of the board of trustees of the First Baptist church of Plainfield. In 1881 and 1882 he was mayor of the city of Plainfield, and made a record quite in keeping with his reputation for faithful discharge of duty. In a recent number of the "Bankers' Magazine," Mr. Randolph's record during his term of service as president of the Atlantic Trust Co. is thus outlined: "During that period the Atlantic Trust Co. has not lost a dollar on any transaction or in business of any description. The ladies who have used Newbro's Herpicide speak of it in the highest terms, for its quick effect in cleansing the scalp of dandruff and also for its excellence as a general hair-dressing. It makes the scalp feel fresh and it allays that itching which dandruff will cause. Newbro's Herpicide effectively cures dandruff, as it destroys the germ that causes it. The same germ causes hair to fall out, and later baldness; in killing it, Herpicide stops falling hair and prevents baldness. C. N. FOWLER'S CREDIT CURRENCY BILL REPORTED.

Favorably Reported in House Thursday, But Not Thought Likely to Pass.

Washington, June 9.—"Crop moving money" is provided for in a bill on which the Banking and Currency Committee of the House of Representatives took favorable action Wednesday. The bill is Chairman Fowler's favorite plan of allowing national banks to issue "credit" currencey. It is not believed that the bill will pass at this session of Congress.

Credit currency, under the terms of the bill, is to be issued with the approval of the controller of the currency by any national bank up to fifty per cent. of its paid up and unimpaired capital. This money is to be issued to the bank by the Treasury Department the same as other national bank notes.

No security in the way of United States Government bonds is to be deposited with the Secretary of the Treasury as in the case of the regular issues of national banks, but a sum equal to five per cent. of the issue is to be deposited with the Secretary of the Treasury in lawful money as a guarantee fund, and the bank is to pay the Secretary of the Treasury a tax of two per cent. on the amount of credit currency issued.

The further restriction is made that no bank shall issue credit and regular notes in excess of its paid up and unimpaired capital. The bill further provides that all national bank notes of whatever kind in sums of $1,000 or any multiple thereof shall be redeemed in lawful money at the United States Treasury or any sub-treasury.

National banks taking out the credit currency are required to maintain in their vaults against such notes the same reserve that is required in the case of the regular issue of such banks. The notes are made a first lien upon the assets of the bank issuing them.

Chairman Fowler has secured careful figures showing that if bank failures in the future occur in the same ratio as in the past this reserve fund will be ten times more than ample to meet the liabilities that may follow the failure of a bank to redeem its credit currency.

ARAB MARES FOR DAVENPORT.

Cartoonist Gets the Permission of the Sultan to Export the Animals.

Morristown, June 9.—Homer Davenport, the cartoonist, has been anxious for some time to secure some genuine Arab mares for his stock farm at Morris Plains. Mr. Davenport has several stallions which are the get of the lot that were sent here at the time of the World's Fair at Chicago. Only one mare out of the lot is still alive, and Mrs. J. P. Ramsdell, of Newburg, N. Y., has it.

In his efforts to secure Arab mares Mr. Davenport has found himself up against an ironbound rule of the Sultan, who won't let the mares leave his domain without special permission. At the time of the World's Fair in Chicago the batch of stallions and mares was seized to satisfy a mortgage against a show company which contracted for bringing the lot here, and the Sultan didn't like it.

Davenport several months ago made arrangements with an agent at Beirut, whereby several mares were to be sent to him here, no matter how it was accomplished, but the Turkish Government spoiled the plan.

According to a statement made by the cartoonist last night, pressure was brought to bear on the Sultan through the offices of the Minister at Washington, stating that the Sultan had given authority for Davenport to export six or eight mares through his agent at Beirut.

Do They Eat in Heaven?

The two young hopefuls had just returned from Sunday-school. They were hungry and seemed more interested in what they were about to eat than in telling their parents what they had learned at the church. The conversation was a mixture of remarks about the golden text, and when the cook had prepared for dessert.

"Say, do they have anything to eat in heaven?" the four-year-old suddenly asked. Before he could be answered he ejaculated:

"When I go to heaven the first thing I'll say will be: 'Have you got anything good to eat here?' If they say no, I won't stay."

Gentlemen:
Always have your church buy linseed oil at barrel prices. Don't let them pay $1.50 a gallon for canned oil, which ought to cost but 60 cents a gallon. Ready-mixed paint is about half oil and half paint. Buy oil fresh from the barrel, and add it to the L. and M. Paint, which is semi-mixed, and you then get a full gallon of paint at the lowest price.
4 gallons L. & M. mixed with 3 gallons Linseed Oil will paint a moderate sized house.
Actual cost L. & M. about $1.20 per gallon.

WEAK KIDNEYS MAKE WEAK BODIES.

Kidney Diseases Cause Half the Common Aches and Ills of Plainfield People.

As one weak link weakens a chain, so weak kidneys weaken the whole body and hasten the final breaking-down.

Overwork, strains, colds and other causes injure the kidneys, and when their activity is lessened the whole body suffers from the excess of uric poison circulated in the blood.

Aches and pains and languor and urinary ills come, and there is an ever-increasing tendency towards diabetes and fatal Bright's disease. There is no real help for the sufferer except kidney help.

Doan's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys and cure every kidney ill. Plainfield cures are the proof.

Mrs. David Arthur, of 111 Grandview avenue, Plainfield, N. J., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been used for several years in our family with the best of results. My husband, my two daughters and myself, each having occasion to use the remedy have found in it just the relief we sought from the backaches and headaches that come from kidney troubles. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to several people, and shall continue to do so."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

A Brand From The Burning

Five Brothers Dead From Consumption. The One Remaining Sister Threatened but Saved by Piso's.

Seven Brothers and Three Nieces and Nephews Die of Consumption. The Remaining Brother Snatched From Death By Piso's.

In the famous suit won definitely by the Piso Co., of Warren, Pa., against unscrupulous pirates who tried to trade on their name and reputation, the following remarkable testimony was brought out under oath:

Eliza Licklider, residing at Jakes Prairie, Crawford County, Missouri, 38 years of age, testified that she had Consumption so pronounced by several doctors, amongst others, Dr. ——, of Redbird; that she had night sweats, chills, fever and hemorrhage of the lungs about every two weeks. She weighed but 114 pounds and had a constant cough. When first taken sick she weighed 135 pounds and now weighs 150 pounds. She was confined to her bed for three months. Finding that the doctors could do nothing for her she commenced taking Piso's Cure for Consumption (and nothing else) and was entirely cured by it. That was two years ago and she has not had a bad symptom since.

She had five brothers, ALL OF WHOM DIED OF CONSUMPTION.

John Bagley, veterinary surgeon and farmer, living two miles south of Camorgo, Douglas County, Ill., being duly put under oath and cautioned stated the following facts:—That he is 66 years old, was taken sick in January, 1892, with a severe cold that seemed to settle on his right lung. He had bad coughing spells, worse at night on lying down, shortness of breath, loss of flesh, severe pains in the lungs after coughing. So enfeebled that he could not attend to his regular business. He had had ten brothers and sisters. Seven of them are dead of Consumption. The oldest member of his family was James H. Bagley. He died of consumption. He had eight children. One or two only are alive. Two or three of them died of pulmonary consumption.

Piso's Cure for Consumption relieved him entirely of his bad symptoms and he occasionally takes a dose or two if he catches cold.

Was there ever testimony stronger and more convincing than this? And yet we do not claim that Piso's will cure every case of consumption. We know it will not, but there are many that, by its use and proper hygienic surroundings, can be fully cured. As a cough killer and preventative we believe there is no remedy in the world to equal it.

Write today for free book, "How Consumptives Ought to Live." Piso's Cure for Consumption has been on sale for 50 years. Price 25 cts. per bottle. The Piso Co., 198 Piso Building, Warren, Pa.

CONDUCTOR OBJECTS TO "SKIDOO" NUMBER.

Hoboken, June 9.—Michael Foley, a conductor in the employ of the Public service Corporation, in his twelve years of service, escaped accidents of all kinds until two weeks ago, when his car rammed a dump cart and a day later ran over a goat in Weehawken. Up to this time Conductor Foley had a spotless record and was proud of it. Monday his troubles opened up again, and his car was delayed because it jumped the track. Foley, of course, was the target of a carload of angry passengers. The number of his hat badge was "23." One of the passengers noticed this and asked Foley if he didn't know that "23" was the "skidoo" number. Foley said nothing. The animated passengers from North Hudson towns, who were thinking of their suppers, threatened dire things against the company. "If I knew you had '23' on your hat I would never have gotten on this car." "Me, too," echoed others. Another yelled "Foley, if you don't 'skido' that badge your car is apt to run off the Palisades some night." That was enough for Foley. "I'll 'skidoo' this badge soon as I get back to Hoboken. I was born and raised in Dublin, and I'm not superstitious, nor do I believe in signs, but this No. 23 badge has 'skidooed' my luck for the past two weeks." When the car got back to Hoboken Conductor Foley rushed to teh office of Superintendent Williams. "I want another badge, 'skidoo' this," he demanded. Superintendent Williams did not know what was the matter with Foley. Finally the conductor declared, "If you won't give me a badge to take the place of this 'skidoo' button I'll throw up the job. The people won't ride on my car. They say "23" is bad luck. Take it away." Foley's complaint was registered with Superintendent of Employment Albert Eastman, and Foley's hat is now adorned with badge No. 202.

Dancing on the Air.

One of the most ingenious and mystifying inventions which has recently aroused the curiosity of New York is to be seen in the great two-sided show window at the extreme north end of the Flatiron Building. It consists of a round, shell-like ball of a reddish gray color, about eight inches in diameter and suspended in the air. Two feet below is a miniature wooden cannon.

As far as the eye can make out the ball is supported by nothing save the air. No threads are anywhere visible, but the sphere dances nimbly about in a space not more than a cubic foot.

Across the mouth of the cannon stretches a tiny wire, which, upon close inspection, is seen to vibrate at intervals. There is also a heavy insulated wire running under the cannon, whose base is concealed with pillows and merchandise.

Some one suggested that an alternating air current and electro magnet is made use of in producing the strange effect. It is needless to add that the affair makes a "bully" advertisement.

PLAINFIELDS UNITED.

Now that the city and borough councils and the Plainfield Protective Association have appointed committees to jointly investigate the merits and demerits of the subject, no time should be lost in bringing about the consolidation of Plainfield and North Plainfield. Situated as they are geographically, it cannot be denied as a business proposition that the maintenance of two distinct municipal governments is most absurd. In every respect, save that of government, the two places constitute one community. Their interests are identical; their government should be one.

Consolidation does not mean annexation. North Plainfield would still be a part of Somerset county. At the same time it would be part of the ever expanding and progressive city of Plainfield, just the same as that section known as "Netherwood" is today. To argue that the proposition would bring about great inconveniences and complications is most erroneous. Greater New York extends over five distinct counties and its government is run as smoothly as though the entire city lay in the county of New York.

Three years ago, factional feeling and personal spite was the major feature of the campaign. The question of consolidation was never reached. The ugly feeling engendered at that time has now largely passed away. A large percentage of those arrayed against either consolidation or annexation are outspokenly in favor of merging the two municipalities. These men contend that their main objection was the method adopted in starting the agitation. This ground of opposition is now removed by the formal manner in which the subject is again being taken up. The right channels are being used in steering through the project. And there should be no delay.

CANNED MEATS.

Much confusion pervades the public understanding of the charges against the Chicago beef trusts. As a result inestimable harm is being done to the retail industry which handles only fresh meats. This is most unfortunate and therefore it is a duty of the public press to clear up the existing doubts in the minds of the people. In his message accompanying the report of the investigators, President Roosevelt distinctly says: "There is not one particle wrong with dressed beef in the carcass; but in the canned product lurks the evil." In other words it is not the fresh meat, put the preserved stuff sold in tin cans that is alleged to be so vile.

HELP FOR POOR WOMEN.

In response to the appeal made by The Daily Press, twelve dollars has been sent to this office for the relief of a poor widow in North Plainfield, who though very ill, is the sole support of three little children. The following donations are acknowledged with thanks: William L. Smalley, Jr., $5; Monarch Printing Company, $5; Mrs. A. M. Wilcox, 1; A Friend, $1. The name and address of this poor woman will be furnished any kindly disposed person on inquiry at this office.

Senator Dryden says he won't play. In other words he declines to meet Corporation Counsel George L. Record to discuss the issues in public. The Jersey City man will have a chance, however, if Stokes comes out for the Senatorship for the Governor is a fighter from fightersville.

Got His Notary Commission.

YOUTHFUL FRUIT STEALERS SPEND THE NIGHT IN CELLS.

Six of Them Arrested by Chief Weiss for Stripping Trees in Washington Park.

Howard and Orrin Hull, Andrew and Thomas Judge, Thomas Staagard and Walter Newton, all boys between the ages of nine and twelve, spent last night and part of this morning in the borough lock-up because of their persistent thefts of fruit from the yards of Washington Park residents. Complaints against them were received by Chief Weiss several times but he refrained from arresting them until yesterday afternoon when they stripped a couple of cherry trees in the same pestered neighborhood.

They were placed in cells despite tearful pleadings to be "good boys forever and ever" and kept there until Mayor Smalley held court shortly before noon today. By that time their repentance was genuine and there is no doubt but what fruit stealing will be stricken from their category. They were released under suspended sentence and will be taken in custody the first time they get over the twenty-yard line of a cherry or apple tree.

An After-Dinner Story.

IN LOVE WITH "SOMEBODY"

Stella returned home from her summer vacation in the mountains with a trunkful of mussed gowns, a large supply of white birch bark, two balsam pillows and a broken heart.

That, at any rate, was what she told Jack Harrington when he called to see her. She never hesitated to tell him anything, however trivial, however vital and momentous. She had the trustful familiarity of their long friendship.

"One of the balsam pillows is for you," she said.

"I am more interested in your shattered heart," he answered. "Who shattered it?"

He could never be sure that Stella was in earnest; and on the other hand he could never be sure that she was not. He looked at her now with an anxiety but ill concealed.

"A man," answered Stella, "a man, of course."

"Young?" inquired Jack, eagerly.

"Young?" repeated Stella, with a dreamy gaze. "I don't know. At least, he would always be fascinating," she added.

"Good looking?"

"I never considered it. I think he was plain—and when a plain man is attractive he is irresistible," said Stella. Jack Harrington was not plain.

"Well, what else?" Jack asked.

"He had a poetic soul," replied Stella, "poetic and artistic. He had a nature above the common things of life, the sordid things. Not that he vaunted it, but it impressed one."

Jack was superintendent and part owner in a large factory, and enjoyed making money. "Ah," he said.

"He had a subtle mind. You have gauged most men's minds when you have talked with them half an hour," said Stella sweepingly. "I could not sound him. He was refreshing and stimulating. It was the quality of his mind that I admired most, but I almost think I might have been in love with him without that. He had a delicate reserve, and he had dignity always. He was beautifully considerate; he was polished—"

"You could have said it all in two or three words," said Jack. "You mean that he was simply a perfect man."

"Yes, I guess that's it," said Stella.

"Well, why don't you marry him?" asked Jack boldly.

"He did not ask me," answered Stella, in a regretful tone. "He walked and talked with me; he danced with me at all the hops, and with almost nobody else. His conduct toward me was at all times most gallant. But after all his many and continued attentions to me he did not offer himself, though several times he seemed near the point of so doing. It is unkind in you, Jack, to ask why I do not marry him, but that is one reason."

She raised her eyes to him and Jack stared at her moodily. For aught he knew she might be in deadly earnest. He himself had asked her severa times to marry him. Did the man live who, knowing her, could resist her?"

"Who is he?" Jack asked. "What is his name?"

"Hendrickson," replied Stella, dwelling pensively on the syllables.

"Not Fremont, Jr., the son of the land owner?" inquired Jack.

Stella nodded an affirmative. "Do you know him?" she asked quickly.

"I knew him—once," replied Jack. He opened his mouth twice, but he said no more.

"What do you know about him?" Stella demanded, after an awful pause.

"Well, for one thing," said Jack, slowly and firmly, "he has a wife."

"Oh!" said Stella, in a long note with a fall at the end. A little color reddened her cheeks. She inquired, after a silence, "Where is his wife?"

"At home with her father. It's the opinion of those who know that there is no doubt of her being able to obtain a divorce."

"Oh!" said Stella, faintly. Then, after a silence of several moments, Jack remarked slowly and quietly, "That no doubt accounts for his delicate reserve in not proposing to you." He rose.

"Sit down," said Stella. She turned upon him a ruminating smile. "If that is what he was," she said; "if he wasn't the person I thought he was at all—why, then I couldn't have been in love with him."

"I don't see that in the least," Jack answered in a critical, dignified tone.

"And if I wasn't in love with him, with whom am I in love?" I must be in love with somebody," argued Stella, serenely.

Jack looked up at the ceiling, his face showing a pronounced frown.

"I must be," Stella declared, "in love with somebody entirely different; as different as possible."

"I fail to see any force or logic in your argument," said Jack.

"It's plain enough, I could prove it," said Stella, "if I had time. I must be fond of somebody that hasn't his qualities. If he was brilliant, I must like somebody that isn't—not so very much. He was dignified and reserved, and I must be in love with some man that hasn't much dignity, and gets confidential when he's feeling good and tells all he knows. Somebody that isn't plain at all, but good looking. And who isn't polite always, but rather blunt when he wants to be. Somebody," said Stella, "that is not poetic—that can't be hired to read poetry; and is matter-of-fact and hard-headed and—and—perhaps—connected somewhat with a factory—"

But ack met her eyes unsmilingly. "Don't trifle with me, Stella," he said. "Do you think it is a thing to joke about? I have asked you more than once to be my wife."

"Three times," said Stella.

"And I shall not ask you again. What would be the use?" There was a tremor in his voice. He rose again and looked around for his hat.

Stella rose, too. She laid her hand on his arm and the smile she lifted to him was suddenly vivid and tender and a valiant confession of unsuspected things.

"Then," she said, "Jack—I shall have to ask you!"—Philadelphia Bulletin.

HISTORY OF 6-5-4.

And Its Discovery In Java—Sacred Java Gum.

An American gentleman, traveling in the Orient, was invited to accompany a party of Dutch scientists on an expedition into the interior of Java, to excavate some prehistoric ruins. As the excavations proceeded he noticed that the native laborers seemed to find something of interest which they would eagerly seize and secrete. Upon investigation he learned that they found pieces of gum, or hardened sap, which had exuded from the roots of a certain tree, and which, they claimed, was sacred and a sure protection against lightning. As a matter of curiosity he obtained a few pieces, one of which he sent to a chemist friend, writing him of the native superstition. The friend chemically treated a small piece and, preparatory to an analysis, reduced it to a thin paste, which he put away until he should have time to analyze it. About that time he was engaged in testing certain samples of paint, from which the street railway company was to select one; the intention being to buy the one that proved to have the best insulating properties. By accident some of this Java paste was applied to the testing plank, along with the paint samples, and, to the surprise of the engineer, he was unable to burn it, blister it, or otherwise affect it, in the slightest degree, no matter how high the electric voltage used. The engineer interested a friend with capital; a trip was made to Java; arrangements perfected to obtain a regular supply and the final result was 6-5-4 Stove Lusta, now being introduced here. It is a stove polish, an iron enamel and screen enamel combined; one application giving a Russia iron, lustrous, black finish. It dries in ten minutes, shines itself and dissolves rust as readily as water dissolves salt. It can be burned by flame, but, for electric stoves, gas stoves, cook stoves or any iron work (like boiler heads and steam pipes), where there is no contact with the flame, it is heart resistant and seems likely to entirely supercede ordinary iron enamels and Japans.—From the Pittsburg Press.

TO DRESS CARELESSLY ACCENTUATES AGE.

Nothing so accentuates fading loveliness as carelessness of dress.

It is wonderful what a little careful grooming will do for a woman.

Let her touch her eyebrows with vaseline to bring out the lsutre, let her bathe her lips with aromatic toilet water, dust her wan cheeks with a bit of pink powder, have her hair dressed in a dainty, pretty way—and lo! there is the light of inspiration and sweetness that is most delightful and bewitching.

There are good and bad cosmetics, sane and insane ways of beautifying.

Choose the right road, then go ahead and you will be amazed to find how you can chop off a year of your life every twelve months, instead of hitching on one.

Try it.

As a usual thing women are unattractive of face and figure for the reason that they are ignorant of the plain laws of health and the more fascinating rules of outward beautifying.

Beauty is a very far-reaching word. It means that one must first of all be nice and neat and clean; second, that one should be amiable; third, that one should make the best of one's good points and learn to hide or overcome the bad ones.

There is many a woman who, having spent a few cents for a little jar of complexion cream, becomes deeply interested in the matter, and, like the butterfly evolving from the caterpillar, gradually transforms herself from an ugly duckling into a very beautiful bird of paradise.

She acquires a certain amount of pride in always looking her best, speaking her best, acting her best and doing her best.

You can't expect more than that from a real angel.—Philadelphia Press.

The Coming Cook.

"You think you will have a cook next week, sure?" asked the caller after a prolonged discussion of the servant problem.

"I shall, if the girl has any regard whatever for the amenities of life," replied the hostess.

"What do you mean?"

"In order to be sure of her favor I have arranged a little dinner in her honor the first evening she is with us. Can't you come?"—Judge.

MRS. APPLEGATE WELL AGAIN!
"I have had a bruised leg and foot for several years, caused by the brass eyelets of my shoe, which became very sore and painful especially at night. It itched, burned and ached me till it nearly set me crazy. I used everything I found and was suggested to ease it and nothing gave me any relief till I found and applied Azienza Cream which I think is a wonderful remedy for all sores and inflammation of the skin. The hard knots on my legs were as painful as bee stings, with discolored and purple spots. A running sore on my instep size of a half-dollar; the top of my foot a seething sore clean around to my heel. The bone was sore for a whole year and very painful. I used five and one-half jars of Azienza Cream and healed the sore all up. The foot remained tender and I continued to use to strengthen and toughen the skin until now it is entirely well." CHAPTER XXV.

THE NEWS BROKEN, WHEREUPON AN ENGAGEMENT IS BROKEN.

At seven Percival found Uncle Peter at his hotel, still in abysmal depths of woe. Together they went to break the awful news to the unsuspecting Mrs. Bines and Psyche.

"If you'd only learned something useful while you had the chance," began Uncle Peter, dismally, as they were driven to the Hightower, "how to do tricks with cards, or how to sing funny songs, like that little friend of yours from Baltimore you was tellin' me about. Look at him, now. He didn't have anything but his own ability. He could tell you every time what card you was thinkin' about, and do a skirt dance and give comic recitations and imitate a dog fight out in the back yard, and now he's married to one of the richest ladies in New York. Why couldn't you 'a' been learnin' some of them clever things, so you could 'a' married some good-hearted woman with lots of money—but no—" Uncle Peter's tones were bitter to excess—"you was a rich man's son and raised in idleness—and now, when the rainy day's come, you can't even take a white rabbit out of a stove-pipe hat!"

To these senile maunderings Percival paid no attention. When they came into the crowd and lights of the Hightower, he sent the old man up alone.

"You go, please, and break it to them, Uncle Peter. I'd rather not be there just at first. I'll come along in a little bit."

So Uncle Peter went, protesting that he was a broken old man and a cumberer of God's green earth.

Mrs. Bines and Psyche had that moment sat down to dinner. Uncle Peter's manner at once alarmed them.

"It's all over," he said, sinking into a chair.

"Why, what's the matter, Uncle Peter?"

"Percival has—"

Mrs. Bines arose quickly, trembling.

"There—I just knew it—it's an auto!—he's been struck by one of those terrible automobiles—Oh, take me to where he is!"

"He ain't been run over—he's gone broke—lost all our money; every last cent."

"He hasn't been run over and killed?"

"He's ruined us, I tell you, Marthy—lost every cent of our money in Wall street."

"Hasn't he been hurt at all?—not even his leg broke or a big gash in his head and knocked senseless?'

"That boy never had any sense. I tell you he's lost all our money."

"And he ain't a bit hurt—nothing the matter with him?"

"Ain't any more hurt than you or me this minute."

"You're not fooling his mother, Uncle Peter?"

"I tell you he's alive and well, only he's lost your money and Pish's and mine and his own."

Mrs. Bines breathed a long, trembling sigh of relief, and sat down to the table again.

"Well, no need to scare a body out of their wits—scaring his mother to death won't bring his money back, will it? If it's gone it's gone."

"But ma, it is awful!" cried Psyche. "Listen to what Uncle Peter says.

"NEVER MIND, MY SON."

We're poor! Don't you understand? Perce has lost all our money."

Mrs. Bines was eating her soup defiantly.

"Long's he's got his health," she began.

"And me windin' up in the poorhouse," whined Uncle Peter.

"Think of it, ma! Oh, what shall we do?"

Percival entered. Uncle Peter did not raise his head. Psyche stared at him. His mother ran to him, satisfied herself that he was sound in wind and limb, that he had not treacherously donned his summer underwear, and that his feet were not wet. Then sled him to the table.

"Now you sit right down here and take some food. If you're all right, everything is all right."

With a weak attempt at his old gayety he began:

"Really, Mrs. Crackenthorpe—" but he caught Psyche's look and had to stop.

"I'm sorry, sis, clear into my bones. I made an ass of myself—a regular fool right from the factory."

"Never mind, my son; eat your soup," said his mother. And then, with honest intent to comfort him: "Remember that saying of your pa's, 'it takes all kinds of fools to make a world.'"

"But there ain't any fool like a damn fool!" said Uncle Peter, shortly. "I been a-tellin' him."

"Well, you just let him alone; you'll spoil his appetite, first thing you know. My son, eat your soup now, before it gets cold."

"If I only hadn't gone in so heavy," groaned Percival. "Or, if I'd only got tied up in some way for a few weeks—something I could tide over."

"Yes," said Uncle Peter, with a cheerful effort at sarcasm, "it's always easy to think up a lot of holes you could get out of—some different kind of a hole besides the one you're in. That's all some folks can do when they get in one hole, they say: 'Oh, if I was only in that other one, now, how slick I could climb out!' I ain't ever met a person yet was satisfied with the hole they was in. Always some complaint to make about 'em."

"And I had a chance to get out a week ago."

"Yes, and you wouldn't take it, of course—you knew too much—swellin' around here about bein' a Napoleon of finance—and a Shepler and a Wizard of Wall street, and all that kind of guff—and you wouldn't take your chance, and old Mr. Chance went right off and left you, that's what. I tell you, what some folks need is a breed of chances that'll stand without hitchin'."

Percival braced himself and began on his soup.

"Never you mind, Uncle Peter. You remember what I told you."

"That takes a different man from what you are. If your pa was alive now—"

"But what are we going to do?" cried Psyche.

"First thing you'll do," said Uncle Peter promptly, "you go write a letter to that beau of your'n, tellin' him it's all off. You don't want to let him be the one to break it because you lost your money, do you? You go sign his release right this minute."

TIRED OUT

That is what so many housewives say almost before the day is begun. With a gas range the house work is made so easy that even the hottest day in summer loses its terror to the woman who does her own work. A gas range does away with the discomforts of carrying coal, dumping and cleaning after ashes, and it also does not over-heat the house or the cook. It takes away the irksome and needless details of old fashioned housekeeping. Order one to-day. Prices $9.50 to $15.00. $2.00 down $2.00 a month. Connections Free.

Baseball and General Sports

By Geo. E. Firstbrook.

DIAMOND DUST.

Follow the push to Crescent Oval this P. M. The game will start 3:30 prompt.

It will be a hummer. The Cubans are no open-face sterm winding jokes. They are ball players.

No telling how they would have acted toward McGraw's "champs" this week if they only had the opportunity.

It's eight straight victories up to date with the result of today's game in the frying pan.

If there are any real ravenous baseball fans left in the burg by Sunday, June 17, their appetites may be curtailed by taking in the contest billed in Hoboken when Manager Daab's team will meet the Jersey Citys for the second time of the season.

Our esteemed aunt, Miss Somerville, seems to be getting real sporty in talking about tackling Plainfield. We enjoy this little flirting bee very much. Keep on and there may be a match.

The smell of powder in the air is already filling the nostrils of Westfield fans. One week from tomorrow the second clash will take place on Crescent Oval.

Charlie Malay, the former Scotch Plains third sacker, is making good with Newark, and is fourth in the batting list.

First Baseman Henriques will be at home in the game this afternoon with the Cuban Stars when it comes to coaching in Spanish.

If Police Commissioner Bingham enforces his recent edict there will be no baseball in Greater New York tomorrow. He has declared war against the Brooklyns and all the independent teams. As a consequence a famine is in sight for the semi-professional artists who have been reaping high prices for their playing during the past three seasons.

Henriques around the initial sack is playing the most sensational ball ever seen on the local grounds. He goes after everything and invariably brings it down in his mit. He isn't afraid of making errors and dashes after everything in sight regardless of consequences. His gingery playing enthuses the rest of the team and his example is being followed all down along the line.

Clinton Avenue will tackle the Rahways on the Clinton avenue diamond this afternoon. The West Enders are playing fast ball and are confident of adding another victory to their long string.

Jimmy Bertwhistle is a real clouter when it comes to talking about hitting the ball. He is probably the best slugger around these regions and can always be relied upon to roll up a hit or so every game. If he fails to make a hit he always has the laugh on the outfielders by giving them a merry chase, over the lots.

Sammy Hope, the former Alis twirler, who will be in the box tomorrow against the Hobokens for Central Islip, is doing grand work in the box this season for the Paterson team in the Hudson River League, and is declared to be the best in that organization.

The Waterbury Club, of the Connecticut State League, will be the guests of the Stars, tomorrow, at Elizabethport, and as the boys from the Nutmeg State have a strong team in O. Hagen, Swander, Wagner, and Bronkie, former stars of the Newark Club, the Stars will have to play fast ball to hold up their end. Red Waller, who is pitching in grand form, will oppose Bronkie, another crackajack twirler. Sunday, June 17, the Chicago National League Club will be the opponents of the Stars.

The Westfield team will play the Monarchs, of New York, at Recreation Park, this afternoon, one of the strongest semi-professional aggregations in the Metropolitan district.

"Lou" Wiltse, of Crescent avenue, has returned from Johnstown, where he was pitching for the Tri-State League Club in that city. Physicians tell him that his arm will soon be all right, all that it needs is plenty of rest. The popular twirler has made arrangements to play in the outfield for the West Ends, of Somerville, for the present.

There will be the weekly competition for the President's and Park Golf Club trophies at the Park Club this afternoon.

PLANNING RACE MEET.

It Will Be Held at the Driving Park On July Fourth.

Plainfield is on the circuit which includes Trenton, Bordentown, Freehold, New Brunswick, Flemington and Hightstown.

At the meet to be held here in the afternoon of July 4, it is expected that there will be horses entered from all places represented on the circuit, as well as from Westfield, Somerville and many other important places throughout this part of the State. The Plainfield members of the association will be in charge and handsome prizes will be offered to competing horses.

COMMITTEE REPORTS FOR MUNICIPAL GARBAGE PLANT

Investigators Place Cost of Improvements to the City's Plant at $24,000.

READY FOR ACTION

Running Expenses Estimated at $10,000 Annually—To Be Raised By Taxation.

After making a through investigation of the matter, the public affairs committee of the Common Council will recommend to that body that a municipal system for the collection and disposal of garbage and ashes be inaugurated. The report will be presented at the next regular meeting, on Monday night, July 2, and Chairman Buxton will move its adoption.

According to the figures compiled by the committee it will cost the city $24,000 approximately to make necessary repairs and to enlarge the plant. The plant purchased by the city through Mayor James F. Buckle for a mere bagatelle is located on DeKalb avenue. It is in a somewhat dilapidated condition owing to its non-usage for a long period.

The running expenses per annum are computated at $10,000. This sum would be raised by taxation and would be included in the regular councilmanic budget. It is unlikely that the plant would be put in operation before the first of next year but the committee is anxious to finish its part of the work as speedily as possible.

In speaking of the matter this morning, Mr. Buxton said: "The committee has done a large amount of work in this conection and I think its findings will be favorably received by the other members of the Common Council. Personally I believe that the city should collect and dispose of garbage and ashes for the householders. That is the view taken by the Board of Health and that body I think will do all in its power to bring about the improvement."

JERSEY CENTRAL SHORE TRAIN IN BAD WRECK.

Twenty Injured and One Killed Near Eatontown This Morning.

Twenty persons were injured and one killed outright in the wreck of the Atlantic City Express on the New Jersey Central, at Eatontown, at 11 o'clock, this morning. The train left Lakewood at 10:15 and was running at the rate of fifty miles an hour when Eatontown was reached. The wreck was due to the disarrangement of a switch.

The train was made up of a mogul engine, combination baggage and smoking car, day coach and two Pullmans. The fatalities occurred in the combination baggage and smaking car. The fireman had his thigh fractured but the engineer escaped uninjured.

It was about fifty feet north of the Eatontown station that the train struck, what was believed to be the open switch. The engine and combination baggage and smoker were ditched and the day coach left the track, colliding with a couple of freight cars on a siding. The Pullmans were badly damaged.

The train was crowded with homeward-bound New Yorkers, who had been spending Sunday at Atlantic City and Lakewood. The train was due in Jersey City at 12:30.

MRS. PHILPOTT DEAD.

Passed Away at Her Home Saturday After Three Months' Illness.

After a painful illness of three months, Mrs. Catharine C. Philpott passed away at her home on Plainfield avenue, Saturday afternoon. She was eighty-seven years old and was a sister of the late Thomas Belts, a Civil War veteran. She was one of the oldest members of Holy Cross church, having been connected with it thirty years, and her pure Christian faith in God was a lesson to all those around her. She was patient and faithful during her severe illness.

Mrs. Philpott leaves on son, Theodore, and four daughters, Adelaide, Julia and Cornelia Philpott and Mrs. George Conover, of the borough. There are also surviving one brother, George W. Belts and one sister, Charlott C. K. Crook, both of Brooklyn. The funeral will be held at her late home tonight at 8 o'clock and interment will be in Cypress Hills cemetery, New York, tomorrow noon.

MEN OF CONGREGATION TO PAINT THEIR CHURCH

VOLUNTEER A DAY'S SERVICES AND THE WOMEN WILL SERVE DINNER.

Lacking the necessary funds but possessed of determination, the members of the First Church of Christ have adopted a novel scheme to have their edifice on Grove street, just over the brook, painted thoroughly inside and out. The men have volunteered to donate a day's service and the women have agreed to provide the dinner and serve it on the grounds. All the necessary help has been secured, and it is thought the work can be done in one day.

It is hoped to raise the money for the paint and other materials by an ice cream and strawberry festival that is to be held on the church grounds this afternoon and evening from 4 until 10. The surroundings will be brilliantly illuminated by electric lights and the committee in charge has planned to make it a complete success and extends a cordial invitation to everyone. The painting is to be done on or about June 22.

CAPTAIN FEIRING'S TEAM GETS THE BLUE RIBBON

"ANDY" AND "MACK" JUDGED TO BE SUPERIOR TO "NIP" AND "TUCK."

Amid the enthusiastic hand-clapping of hundreds of fashionable spectators, Plainfield's crack fire department team, "Andy" and "Mack," stationed at No. 3 house, received the blue ribbon at the horse show, Saturday afternoon. They competed for it in the fire department class with the borough's gray geldings, "Nip" and "Tuck," and at no time during the exhibition were the entries more closely matched.

Captain George Feiring drove the winning team and he had them under absolute control from the moment they entered the ring. In the judging, style, action and conformation of manner in horses counted sixty per cent. and the apparatus forty. In each instance the latter was a combination chemical and hose engine and though the borough's is comparatively new, the city vehicle was every bit as natty and fine appearing despite its years of service.

Lieutenant Campbell handled "Nip" and "Tuck" and while they are two splendid animals they lacked manners and conformation. One is somewhat larger than the other and this fact was apparent at a glance. They also jumped impatiently at critical periods and when the command was given to run, their gait was a gallop. Feiring's team is perfectly matched in size and color and they moved about like clockwork. Not once during the inspection did they misbehave and in the running they did it as prettily as if showing off was any everyday affair to them. These points were all observed by the men who make it a practice to judge prize steeds and was what resulted in Plainfield getting the blue.

The prize that accompanied the ribbon was $50 in plate offered by W. J. Buttfield, of the borough.

Better Mail Service Needed.

Strange as it may seem, residents of Scotch Plains get one mail from Plainfield twelve hours ahead of Fanwood, although the former place is nearly two miles distant from the railroad station. While 'Plains people receive an evening mail, the Fanwood people have to wait until next morning for the same delivery. This condition is due to the fact that an order issued by the postal authorities has cut off the Fanwood evening delivery and mail intended for that place is carried through to New York and then returned the following morning. Fanwood citizens are indignant over the poor service.

At Electricians' Meeting.

RIVALRY AT HORSE SHOW

Oriole City Man Loses Blue Ribbon to New Yorker in Companion in Exhibit.

BEAUTY AND BEAST

Handsome Women Stylishly Gowned a Feature of the Closing Day of Third Annual Show.

With nearly double the number of spectators in attendance than had been noted on the previous two days, Plainfield's third annual horse show closed Saturday afternoon. Threatening showers that hung about the city considerately held off and the last class passed before the judges but a few minutes before pattering rain drops began to fall. In the early part of the afternoon the sun shone gloriously and reflected the bright hues of hundreds of gorgeous gowns word by fashionable women in grandstand and boxes and they presented a very pretty sight. The local contingent of society was added to by smart folk from New York, Brooklyn, Morristown and Newrk, while more than a few represented Philadelphia, Baltimore and even Richmond, Va. All in all the gathering was a representative one and did much to add to the success of the Riding and Driving Club's affair.

The programme for the afternoon's judging comprised fourteen classes and all through them J. W. Harriman, of New York, and C. W. Watson, of Baltimore, stood out prominently as rivals for honors. The former was a little ahead of the latter in the number of ribbons to his credit for the previous two days and naturally when they met in the last class of the day and the most important of the show, there was an undercurrent of excitement. It was the companion harness exhibit, open only to blue ribbon winners, and eight splendid animals attached to smart rigs came into the ring.

Watson's entry was his champion "Lord Baltimore," while Harriman's was the proud-stepping "Chieftan," the choice quickly narrowing down to these two. The judges realized what was at stake and again and again the rival horses were sent around the ring while every move was closely watched. Mr. Watson was his own driver and John Donnolly handled the ribbons over "Chieftan's" back, both sitting with set expressions and the apparent determination to bring out every little detail which they have learned from long experience. Finally the men who were to decide came to an agreement and there was a tremendous clapping of gloved hands when the coveted ribbon was pinned on "Lord Baltimore's" bridle. The smile that lighted up Mr. Watson's face indicated to the spectators that the victory fully repaid him for bringing thirty horses from Baltimore to take part in the show and made him prouder than ever of his favorite.

In the other championship class of the day, for saddle horses, W. S. Elliott's "Jasmine" was the winner while great applause followed the award of the reserve ribbon to Miss Margaret McCutchen's chestnut mare "All Ablaze." The latter stood an even chance for first place and she took second against such blue-ribboners as Miss Emily Bedford's "Patsey Palmer," Joseph Larocque's "Somerset," Otto H. Kahn's "Elsa" and "Lee Rogers," and R. R. Moore's "Gibson Girl." It was a big victory for "All Ablaze" as in addition Saturday, she captured two blues, making a total of three blues and a white for the show. She was unfortunate the first two days, getting the "gate" four times, something that never happened to her sine she has been bidding for honors.

A pretty class of the day was for four-in-hands and entries were made by C. W. Watson and George Watson. Both were handsome equipages, but the Baltimore man's took first prize. In the classes for jumpers, the Westchester Farm's prize animals took the firsts and seconds each tome and T. G. Plant's "Donner" and "Blitzen" were awarded the blue in the only team class of the day.

Besides Miss McClutchen's "All Ablaze," the local winners in the Saturday classes were W. J. Buttfield's "Miss Banahan," one red; Charles J. Fisk's "Careful," one red; Mrs. H. Reeve Stockton's "Garnet," one reda; Miss Mabel B. Hooley's "Brevet," one yellow; Miss Margaret McCutchen's "Blaze Away," one yellow; Miss Mabel B. Hooley's "Babe," one white, and George A. Beaton's "Laddie," one white. In the exhibit of fire horses, attached to apparatus other than steamer or hook-and-ladder truck, the blue was awarded "Andy" and "Mack" of the No. 3 Company, Plainfield, over "Nip" and Tuck," No. 2 Company, North Plainfield. The winners were driven by Captain George Feiring.

The summary of the day's classes is as follows:

The platform was prettily decorated with flowers. An unusual decorative effect was secured with a large frame across the front of the platform, in which daisies were thickly placed; it looked like a field of daisies, and made an attractive foil for the flowers. The decorations were placed by a committee made up of Miss Mabel Wilson, Mrs. Clarence Butz and Miss Anna Searing.

Nine children were baptized by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Schenck. They ranged in age from four months to four years.

First M. E. Church.

Under the auspices of the Sunday-school of the First M. E. church, Children's Day exercises were held yesterday in connection with the morning services. The church was decorated with flowers. James R. Joy, superintendent of the Sunday-school, was in charge of the programme, and the vested choir assisted in the musical numbers.

The programme opened with a processional by the choir and school, prayer by the pastor, Rev. A. C. McCrea, followed with a greeting song by these members of the primary department: Edward Crone, Violet Sutton, Howard Hile, Mildred Burnett, Chester Alpaugh, Jubilee Rowley, Edith Little. There was a song,, solo by Miss Agnes Bailey and the chorus by tne girls from the primary department.

ITS LAST COMMENCEMENT

After Exercises Thursday Night, Scotch Plains Will Use Local High School.

PRINCIPAL RESIGNS

Howard D. White to Be Succeeded by J. B. Stauffer, of Lancaster, Pa.

The Scotch Plains High School commencement exercises are to be held in the Baptist church, Thursday night, and will mark an epoch in the education work at that place from the fact that the class of '06 will probably have the honor of being the last to graduate from one of the oldest schools in this section of the State. The Board of Education has made favorable terms with the Plainfield authorities whereby all pupils wishing to take the finishing course will be permitted to attend the local high school, the 'Plains township committee paying the cost of tuition. A similar plan was agreed upon earlier in the year between Plainfield and Dunellen and will be put into effect at the opening of the Fall term.

Because of the small number of boys and girls taking the high school course in the rural sections, the educational boards have found it a needless expensne to maintain a large corps of teachers and the tendency to send pupils to nearby cities is becoming more and more of a custom. In addition the facilities in the larger places are much better and it means getting the benefit of the best teachers that can be employed at a very moderate cost.

The Plainfield officials gave the subject much consideration when the Dunellen board applied for permission to send its pupils and it became apparent that the outsiders could be taken care of at a profit. The request was then granted with the stipulation that it remain in force only so long as the city classes were not crowded. Scotch Plains watched the negotiations closely and its own application followed. Final action will be taken tonight and arrangements will also be made with the Westfield Board of Education to take the pupils living near its border.

In the past few years, the graduating class at the 'Plains has seldom been more than seven or eight and this year it numbers four. The members are the Misses Maude Merciers, Elsie Cook, Gussie Southard and George Brick. The speaker of the evening will be Rev. Charles E. Herring, of the First Presbyterian church, this city. The graduates will be given the usual reception afterward.

The closing of the present year will also mark an unusually large number of vacancies in the teaching corps. Among the members of the faculty who are to leave are Professor Howard D. White, who has been principal for five years and has done a great deal to bring the 'Plains school to its present state of efficiency. During that time he has made a great many friends in the township, not only among the pupils but with parents and residents. His resignation came as a surprise and will be received with great regret by all as he has been the most popular principal the school has ever had. As yet Mr. White has not announced his plans for the future. He will be succeeded by J. B. Stauffer, who has been for several years principal of the Lancaster, Pa., schools. Mr. Stauffer, like his predecessor, is a graduate of the Franklin-Marshall college, Lancaster, and comes highly recommended for the work.

Miss Sadie E. Reger, who has had charge of the music in the school as well as teaching first Grammar department for eight years, severs her connection with the school to take a better position at Bloomfield; Miss Gowan, teacher of drawing, will also leave and Miss Mary A. Ross, teacher at Willow Grove school No. 2, is yet another who has tendered her resignation.

ANNUAL LAWN PARTY.

W. D. Murray Entertained One Hundred Children.

William D. Murray, superintendent of the primary department of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church Sunday-school, entertained the children from that department, as well as the cradle roll and intermediate department, at his home Saturday afternoon. The affair was in a nature of a lawn party and was very informal.

During the afternoon the 120 little tots enjoyed themselves playing games, while a pleasing diversion was a Punch and Judy show and some tricks by an entertainer. Later refreshments were served. Mr. Murray was assisted in entertaining by his wife and the various teachers in the departments represented. There were about 150 persons present.

SENATOR REED NOT TO FIGHT FOR CONSOLIDATION

Annexation Needed to Make Consolidation Successful He Declares in Interview.

N. S. SMALLEY'S VIEW

Borough Executive Also Not in Favor of Consolidation Without Annexation—Not Likely to Be Active.

Former Senator Charles A. Reed's reply to question the doubt cast on him by supporters of consolidation was secured this morning by a Daily Press reporter. The Somerset county leader was seen at his law office on North avenue.

He said:

"That the real union of the two Plainfields would be greatly beneficial to both," said Mr. Reed, "seems to me so clear as to admit of no argument. Such a union means both annexation and consolidation, and not one without the other.

"My position has never changed on this subject since the time I served, some ten years ago, as a member of the joint committee at that time appointed to investigate the subject."

"So far as the present movement is concerned I do not intend to take any part in it one way or the other. It seems to me peculiarly fitting that those who defeated the movement four years ago should now assume the burden of correcting the mistake which they then made. They assumed the responsibility at the time and I am quite willing to leave it with them."

Mayor Newton B. Smalley expresses the opinion that consolidation of Plainfield and North Plainfield before the annexation of the borough to Union county is consummated is impracticable and unwise. In other words he believes it is like putting the cart before the horse. In some quarters there has been much doubt expressed as to his position in the campaign about to be undertaken for the merger of the borough into the city.

That he is opposed to the present movement, Mayor Smalley does not deny. He says that the first thing to be done, provided consolidation is to come to pass, would be to annex North Plainfield's territory to Union county. Consolidation, however, he states, was never a hobby of his. Four years ago he worked for annexation. It is unlikely that he will figure prominently in the present movement.

COMPANY K DEFEATED.

Lost Three-Cornered Rifle Match at Newark by 27 Points.

In a three-cornered rifle match shot at Newark, Saturday night, Company K, of this city, and Company C, Fourth Regiment, Jersey City, were defeated by Company I, First Regiment, of Newark. The winners made a total of 869 points while the local militiamen were close behind with 842. The Jersey City boys scored 788. Though losing the match, the Plainfielders are highly pleased with the result as the Newarkers are crack shots and are feared by the best New York and Brooklyn teams.

Company K's shooters were Captain William B. Martin, Sergeants Hort, Pearsall, Apgar and Tranchand; Corporals Conkling and Bilyeu and Privates Frazee, Porst and Slingland. In the near future a return match will be shot between the same companies on the outdoor range at Somerville.

A Plainfield Bred Blue Winner.

Michael Quinn, the local horse shoer, is feeling justly proud after the horse show because of the fact that he is the breeder of "Ixion," the first Plainfield bred horse to take a blue ribbon. "Ixion" is a three-year-old stallion and was raised by Mr. Quinn at his place on Park avenue, but was sold by him a year ago to Dr. Voorhees, of Somerville, the exhibitor. Mr. Quinn has another home bred stallion that he will exhibit in 1907.

AUTO OWNERS PLAN A MUTUAL GARAGE

LOCAL MEN INTERESTED IN CONCERN TO HAVE $25,000 CAPITAL.

At a meeting held in the Casino, Saturday night, preliminary steps were taken by local owners of automobiles to organize what is to be knokn as "The Owners Garage of New Jersey," whose business it will be to conduct a thoroughly first class garage. The step was taken to promote the sport by dispelling the illusion that cars and maintenance cost tremendous sums. Concerns with this purpose in view have been organized at Summit and at Greenwich, Conn., and reports declare them to have been successful.

The meeting was well attended and the following organization committee was named: Benjamin Wood, C. W. Holland, Daniel Ginna and G. M. Kirkner. H. W. Stover was elected chairman of the preliminary organization with G. M. Kirkner secretary. It was decided to have the committee conduct a thorough canvass among the owners residing in this vicinity and recommend plans and other details in connection with permanent organization Thursday.

It is proposed to incorporate under the laws of New ersey with an authorized capital of $25,000 divided into 500 shares of a par value of $500 each. The stock is to be sold under the following conditions: That not more than ten shares will be allowed to any one person who is the owner of a motor vehicle and not more than two to a non-owner; that the financial and general management of the company be entirely in the hands of the Board of Directors, and the president and directors must be owners of machines. In addition to the committee and temporary officials named those who have signed for certain shares of stock are Dr. D. C. Adams, H. Alfred Janke, Edward H. Sebring, N. R. Titsworth, J. J. Slevin, F. R. Stevens, M. D. Rae, R. M. Huse, Dr. P. J. Zeglio, Judd Stewart, G. Gesswein, C. W. Smith, Walter H. P. Veysey, T. F. Hylan, F. W. Yates and many others.

The promoters have plans under consideration to have a building put up for them under lease in the event of not being able to rent a suitable place. They also propose, they say, to act as agent for the first class cars, selling them at a very moderate profit, keep others for rent and give special attention to overhauling and storage.

DEPARTMENT ORDERS POSTOFFICE ENLARGED.

When Improvements Are Made, It Will Have Fifty-three Feet Frontage.

Postmaster E. H. Bird received word from Washington this morning that his request for increased room at the postoffice, obtainable by the lease of the corner store in the Babcock building, has been granted and that the work of making the necessary changes would begin at once. This will give a frontage to the office of fifty-one feet and will make it one of the finest in the State, outside of a government building.

As near as he is able to determine at present the registry and money order departments will be given more room. The partitions will be moved out about six feet, and it is likely that one of the present entrances will be closed and a main entrance will be located at the corner of the building.

Among the interior improvements will be the removal of the partition now separating the office from the corner store, thus giving the office more light and air from the Madison avenue side of the building. The changes will require many new fixtures and greater room will be given the carriers for the preparation of the mail for delivery.

Superintendent Norris, of the allowance and salary department, is expected here in a few days and the plan of improvement will be decided upon.

Good Attendance.

The first Sunday evening meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society of Trinity Reformed church, last night, was very encouraging as regards attendance, there being forty-five persons present, notwithstanding the threatening weather. Another feature that was gratifying to pastor and officers was the fact that thirty-eight of those attending the Endeavor meeting were present at the preaching service that followed in the church sanctuary.

Home Is Grateful.

The officers of the Children's Home Association extend cordial thanks to the women whose music was a source of much pleasure and to all the friends whose generous gifts of lovely flowers made the Home's reception so enjoyable.

JOURNALISTIC OPINIONS

Congressional Representation.

A request has come to the Newark News from an old-time politician to print a statement showing the Congressional districts in this State as formed by the Legislature of 1901 in accordance with the apportionment following the federal census of 1900. While the correspondent said that he was familiar with the outlines of the districts himself, he constantly found well-informed people who did not have a correct idea concerning them, and who seemed to think that South Jersey had as much strength in the lower House of Congress as North Jersey. For information of these inquiring people, therefore, the News complies with the request, as follows:

First District—The counties of Camden, Gloucester and Salem.

Second District—The counties of Cape May, Cumberland, Atlantic and Burlington.

Third District—The counties of Middlesex, Monmouth and Ocean.

Fourth District—The counties of Hunterdon, Somerset and Mercer.

Fifth District—The counties of Union, Morris and Warren.

Seventh District—The First, Fourth, Sixth (except the Vailsburgh section), Seventh, Eighth, Eleventh and Fifteen Wards of the city of Newark, and the city of Orange, and the towns of Bloomfield, Montclair and West Orange, and the boroughs of Glen Ridge, Caldwell and North Caldwell, and the townships of Franklin, Belleville, Livingston, Verona and Caldwell, all in the county of Essex.

Eighth District—The Second, Third, Fifth, the Vailsburgh section of the Sixth, Ninth, Tenth, Twelfth, Thirteenth and Fourteenth Wards of the City of Newark and the city of East Orange, and the town of Irvington, and the village and township of South Orange, and the township of Millburn, all in the county of Essex.

Ninth District—The city of Bayonne, the Seventh, Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh and Twelfth Wards of the city of Jersey City, and all of the Sixth Ward of Jersey City excepting the first and second precincts, and the towns of Kearny and Harrison, and the borough of East Newark, all in the county of Hudson.

Tenth District—The First, Second, Third, Fourth and Fifth Wards of the city of ersey City, and the first and second precincts of the Sixth Ward of that city, and the city of Hoboken, and the towns of West Hoboken, Union, West New York and Guttenburg, and the townships of North Bergen and Weehawken, and the borough of Secaucus, all in the county of Hudson.

Geographically divided, there are two Congressional districts in South Jersey, two in Middle Jersey and six in North Jersey. All of these districts except one, the Tenth, are now represented in Congress by Republicans. The successors to these ten Congressmen are to be elected this year. It is well for those who are talking about the Colby movement being confined to North Jersey to remember this little matter of Congressional representation in their calculations. The people who are holding that they are the only Republicans in the State, and who propose to defy the Colby movement as a purely sectional struggle, will discover that they have not so much to say about the aggregate representation of New Jersey in Washington as they have pretended, even admitting, for the sake of argument, their claim that South Jersey will be unaffected by the "new idea."—Newark News.

FEMININE PHILOSOPHY.

Man's description of the ideal woman: The other fellow's wife.

Whether flattery is pleasing or not depends to a large extent upon the flatterer.

Wonder why it is that bachelors always pose as the best judges of home cooking?

As soon as he gets grown most every mother begins to worry about her son for fear that he will get baldheaded before his time.

If you must flirt, girls, for heaven's sake flirt with something that you won't be ashamed of if it should happen "to take" seriously.

Papa is always willing to take little Willie to the circus, but he raises a long and loud howl if he is asked to take little Annie to Sunday-school. —Woman's Magazine.

To Have Sweet Peas All Summer.

When the sweet peas come into bloom, cut their flowers off as soon as they begin to fade. This, says The Outing Magazine, prevents them from forming seed, and the plants, in their efforts to perpetuate their kind, will straightway produce more flowers, and keep on doing this as long as interfered with. In this manner flowers are secured thorughout the entire season. But, if seed is allowed to form, you will have comparatively few flowers during the latter part of summer.

FEDERATED LABOR MEN'S CONVENTION IN AUGUST.

Larger Number of Delegates Than Usual Expected—Growing Rapidly Recently.

The New Jersey State Federation of Labor will have its next convention at Trenton in August. There will be a larger representation than in previous years from unions throughout the State, judging from reports.

The State Federation of Labor has been growing rapidly in the last few years, and it is expected this year's convention will be the most representative gathering ever held in this State. Cornelius Ford, of Hoboken, is the president of the State body, having held that position for four terms.

To interest the local unions in the convention the State Federation some time ago sent a communication to the different central labor unions of the State, which are affiliated with the State organization, requesting that they recommend special deputy organizers for this purpose.

The New Jersey Federation of Labor has for years taken an active interest in legislative affairs and it was mainly through its efforts that the child labor law was adopted several years ago. Vice President H. J. Gottlob is chairman of the legislative committee.

STOKES VETOES THE FREE ANTITOXIN BILL.

Governor's Disapproval Due to Other Reasons Than Measure's Number "23."

Trenton, June 11.—Senator Jackson's bill, providing for a State laboratory to prepare diphtheria antitoxin, and authorizing its distribution by the State Board of Health, was vetoed by Governor Stokes Friday. The bill was No. 23, but the Governor found other reasons than this for withholding his approval.

The veto message which he wrote on the bill follows:

"Senate bill 23 is disapproved for the following reasons:

First—The successful employment of diphtheria and antitoxin requires that it shall be immediately available when the sickness is discovered, and the distribution of this substance must, therefore, necessarily be made throuh many local agents. These agents could not be adequately compensated for prompt and reliable service in dispensing fresh supplies without a much larger appropriation than that named in this bill, and dependence upon voluntary or underpaid persons for the distribution of a remedy of this character would not be advantageous to the sick, nor creditable to the State.

HEAD OF HUMORISTS.

Robert A. Towne Is Honored by Funnymen at Their Meeting.

Philadelphia, June 11—The American Press Humorists' Association was taking in the sights here Friday, and last night was entertained by the Poor Richard Club at Belmont Mansion. The election of officers was held Thursday during a meeting at the Bellevue-Stratford, at which the only disappointing feature was the reading of a real letter from John D. Rockefeller, in which he said he regretted that he was unable to be present.

Thomas A. Daly, poet and writer of The Catholic Standard-Times, of this city, will be president during the ensuing year, and the vice president is Robert A. Towne, of Newark, N. J., editor of Judge, who under the pseudonym of Perkin Warbeck, originated the "How Old Is Ann?" puzzle while connected with the Newark Evening News. Frank T. Searight, of the Los Angeles Express, was elected secretary-treasurer. Incidentally Mr. Searight so graphically portrayed the glorious charms of his city that the jokers unanimously decided to hold next year's convention in that city, instead of Pittsburg. The 1907 convention will be held in September.

The jokesmiths and their wives were entertained at the Pen and Pencil Club Thursday afternoon, and in the evening they went to Willow Grove in a special car. Yesterday they went to Atlantic City.

Basking Ridge School Program.

J. T. Reeve; salutatory, Alice D. Sleighter; Bohemian Song, by school; recitation, "Righteous Indignation," Louis Craig; recitation, "What Have We Done Today," Robert Hurling; song, "The Brave Old Oak," by school; reading, "A June Morning," Ruth A. Tolman; recitation, "My Shadow," William Lampe; Japanese Fan Drill, primary; class prophecy, Agatha T. D. Kearns; recitation, "Blue Bird," Elwood Nicholson; piano solo, Ethel Cross; valedictory, Helen M. Voorhees; address, W. J. Kearns; presentation of diplomas, Rev. W. I. Dice; song, "Our Own Dear Land," by school; musical picnic.

At the last meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the First Baptist church it was voted to change the day of meeting from the first Wednesday to the first Tuesday of each month. The Women's Home Missionary Society also has changed the meeting day to the third Tuesday of each month.

PLAN FUND TO HELP THE CATHOLIC FAITH.

Knights of Columbus Will Raise $180,000 to Assist Work of Paulist Fathers.

New Haven, Conn., June 11.—A final adjournment of the business session of the delegates to the national convention of the Knights of Columbus was taken late Thursday night. The fourth degree delegates held an exemplification at Music Hall late yesterday afternoon. Norfolk, Va., has been selected as the place for next year's convention, in August. The new national directors chosen are: J. C. Pelletier, Boston; E. W. Buckley, St. Paul, Minn.; D. B. Lucey, Ogdensburg, N. Y.; D. J. Callahan, Norfolk, Va., for the three-year term, and J. S. Leahy, St. Louis, for two years.

The California delegates Thursday presented an appeal to the convention in behalf of the members of the order in San Francisco. The convention voted a sum which will approach $100,000 for relief work. This money will be forthcoming immediately from the national fund, which in turn will be reimbursed by two assessments of forty cents placed on each member. The assessments will be payable in July and the following January.

Rev. A. P. Doyle, of Washington, appeared before the national body for the purpose of making an appeal to the order that it act as sponsor for the Paulists in its work among non-Catholics in the United States. It was voted to give a contribution which it is hoped will amount to $180,000. Considerable time was spent during the afternoon session in considering some revisions of the by-laws and constitution, the most important of which was the raising of the minimum initiation fee from $5 to $10. This was adopted.

MIDDLESEX AND THE AUTO.

Freeholders Trying to Form Plan to Put an End to the Speeding.

New Brunswick, June 11.—How to stop automobile speeding on the macadam roads of Middlesex county was the problem to which the Board of Freeholders gave nearly an hour Friday at the regular meeting for June. Freeholder Hanson, of Perth Amboy, brought up the matter by reporting that the macadam roads had been damaged in many places by armored tires, while the dry weather, combined with the auto speeding, had converted the top dressing into dust, which had been blown away, leaving the foundation stones exposed.

Director Pownall recommended that public notice be given of the provisions of the new law, which, he said, provided that in cases of collection of fines for auto speeding half the fine went to the person making the complaint. He thought it would be feasible, as well as a good investment, for an auto owner to equip his machine with a speedometer and pursue autoists suspected of breaking the law. The number could be observed, and the pursuer would be in a position to testify as to the illegal speed.

Other members of the board directed his attention to the fact that the pursuer would violate the speed restriction just as would the original offender, and a counter charge could be made, and so on, ad infinitum. It was decided, however, that during the season the county roads will be policed in some manner, and an efforet made to break up the scorching, or which farmers and drivers are complaining.

HUDSON SPAN CONFERENCE.

Commissions of New Jersey and New York May Meet in Metropolis.

Hoboken, June 11.—A joint meetin of the New Jersey and New York Hudson River span commission may take place in New York City some day this week. To bring that about Senator James F. Minturn, who is a member of the New Jersey commission has written to McDougall Hawkes, a member of the New York commission. Mr. Minturn's Jersey colleagues are Victor L. Mason, of Passaic, and former Governor Geo. T. Worts, of Jersey City.

They were appointed under Senate joint resolution No. 26, which provides that they confer with Governor and Legislature of New York looking to the appointments of a joint commission for the purpose of purchasing the necessary lands and water rights and of obtaining the necessary federal consent to the construction of one or more bridges over the Hudson river from the city of Hoboken to New York city. The New York commissioners include McDugall Hawkes, Alexander J. Shamberg and Emanuel W. Bloomingdale, of New York city.

Ellis, Burlington, prepared at Priscilla, Braislin School, holder of first Bryn Mawr matriculation scholarship for New York, New Jersey and Dalaware, 1902 and 1903; Jessie Cremiam Hewitt, Burlington, prepared at Roseman Hall, Greenwich, Conn., by private tuition.

The meetings of the Junior Society of the First Baptist church have been discontinued for the summer. There will be no meeting on Friday of this week.

THE GARBAGE QUESTION.

Assurance is given by the public affairs committee of the Common Council that an exhaustive report on the practicability of municipal control of garbage and ashes collection and disposal will be presented to the Common Ccuncil at its next meeting. A thorough investigation has been made. Much information has been obtained from other cities where public plants of this sort are in operation and the results are said to be especially favorable to the undertaking here.

Plainfield already owns the necessary plant but some improvements must necessarily be made. The cost of these improvements is roughly estimated at $24,000 and the running expenses at $10,000. Surely the city can well afford the expense, particularly as the Board of Health has stated that it is for the well being of the community.

When the report is presented, we believe that every member of the Common Council will vote for its adoption and further will do all in his power to bring the improvement about.

TO AUTO OWNERS.

The fire chiefs of New Jersey will meet here tomorrow and it is but proper that something in the way of entertainment should be provided by the people of Plainfield. Chief Doane suggests that a sight-seeing tour of the city would be pleasing to the visitors. Owners of automobiles are asked to lend their services in order to carry out this suggestion. The "rubberneck" trip will be started from fire headquarters at 4 o'clock.

Two dollars were received today for the poor woman, who though ill is the sole support of three children. A. J. Leader has sent one dollar and "Unsigned" another dollar, making the fund fourteen dollars.

CONJUNCTION CHANGES.

Gets His Chicken Honestly Now and Is For Reform.

Conjunction Jones has changed his ways. In the city court this morning, Conjunction announced that he was a Colbyite and for referm in every department of life. He demonstrated his sincerity by proving that he had come honestly by a big rooster, a basket of beans and a coat that were found in his possession when he was arrested Saturday night. It was the first time on record at headquarters that Conjunction got anything like chicken and beans except by smouching them.

Conjunction was arrested because the police have a standing rule to investigate him whenever he is seen with things like chicken and superfluous coats. When Judge Runyon suspended sentence Conjunction heaved a big sigh of relief.

"I didn't expect it," he said; "it's the flust time it have eruptuate unduh coinciduhnt occasions."

He went out with the rooster clutched under his arm.

Buys Valuable Property.

M. Weinberger, the clothier, has closed a deal whereby he purchased of Mrs. Peck, of Brooklyn, through her agent, J. P. Emmons, the brick row of nine houses on Grove street, extending from Green brook almost to Prospect place. This has a frontage of 180 feet and a depth of 300, the land comprising about an acre and a half. Mr. Weinberger will continue to rent the property as at present. This is considered one of the largest deals in residential property in many months.

Incongruous.

"Of course, he's a bit of a bore, but everybody agrees that he's a genius."

"Impossible! Genius is 'an infinite capacity for 'taking' pains not 'giving' them."

Held Saturday at St. Stephen's New Parish House.

Under the auspices of the St. Mary and St. Faith Guilds of St. Stephen's church, a successful festival and bazaar was held at the new parish house Saturday afternoon and evening from 4 to 10 o'clock. The two societies, under the direction of Mrs. James Buckley and Mrs. Robert McCready, decorated the house attractively with flowers, bunting and flags. During the afternoon and evening ice cream, cake, candy, strawberries and fancy articles were sold and at a late hour all that was left was auctioned off. About $50 was realized as profit to be used for the running expenses of the church.

Those assisting at the affair were the Misses Knox, Lacey, Kahrman, Willis, Mary J. Tygard, Eleanor Gulberg, Helen Borup, Carrie Borup. These young women were also assisted by other members of the church and all were gratified with the large attendance and liberal patronage.

WORKING OUT HORSES FOR JULY TH RACES.

Fast Steppers Going Over Course at the Driving Park.

Owners of fast-stepping horses who are interested in the big circuit race meet to be held at the Driving Park Fourth of July, are getting things ready for the event. A number of the horses have been brought to the Park already for training over the course.

Garrison & Co., Philadelphia, have Gidney King, a pacer with a mark of 2:20¼; Black Dart, a green pacer, by Directum; Frank Dale, a trotter with a mark of 2:23¼; Harry Gayton, a stallion that promises a lot as a trotter; and Ocean Princess, a trotter with a mark of 2:18¼, at the track.

The Raritan Stock Farm has two fast horses there, in Col. Delmar, half-brother to Major Delmar, with a mark of 2:14¼ on that trot; and Ikey, a green pacer. Ikey has made a mile in 2:16 an a half-mile track.

Several other fast and promising youngsters are going over the track, including colts by Baron Dillon and other noted sires. Among the local horses are Adam Blair's Harry Dawson, a stallion by Night Hawk, with a mark of 2:20, made on a local track; Tom Brantingham's fast green pacer, that has made a mark of 2:14 on a half-mile track, and chestnut pacer, Ben Butler, with plenty of speed promises; and John Osman's Hartwood Bel, by Lind Bel, with a mark of 2:26¼ on a trot.

JERSEYLAND PARK OPENS ITS GATE FOR THE SEASON.

Management Will Present Good Attractions Only on the Midway.

Jerseyland Park was opened to the public Saturday night. It is under the management of the Jerseyland Real Estate Company. The concern has paid Fanwood township the usual amusement fee of $150. A number of improvements will be made about the grounds, a clean vaudeville show is to be conducted, while dancing will be another feature.

The reputation of the place in the past does not seem to scare the new promoters who say they believe the hoodoo can be broken by keeping the park up-to-date and allowing nothing but bonifide attractions on the midway. This, they claim, may be a losing venture for a time, but they are willing to stand this as they believe, with Jerseyland Park changed to a popular family resort, the future of their investment is an assured success.

gramme was closed with a recessional by the vested choir.

Park Avenue Baptist Church.

Elaborate Children's Day exercises were held at the Park Avenue Baptist church, yesterday morning, under the auspices of the Sunday-school. Assisting in the rendition of the musical numbers was the Sunday-school orchestra. The opening numbers included a prelude by the orchestra, a selection, "Keep in Step," choir; "A June Carol," school; carol, "Summer Days," school; exercise, "My Choice," Wesley Johnson, Marjorie Lee, Eleanor Stover, Irene Mou and John Thompson; carol, "Flowers of June," school; recitation, "Growing," Sarah Johnson; flower drill, Clara Hadley, Hilda Van Winkle, Edith Lowry, Ida Odam, Isabel Harvey, Madeline Moy, Ethel Naylor; offertory, orchestra; selection, "Nature's Teachings," choir; ong, "The Lily's Lesson," primary department.

The last half of the programme was devoted to an emblematic piece descriptive of the Christian's life, entitled "The Voyage of Life." The pupils acting as crew of the boat were Elinore Stutsman, Ethel Van Winkle, Arline Brown, Iva Hadley, Lillian Cuming, Marjorie Brown, Mabel Stutsman, Ethel Neilson, Joseph Hadley, Hugo Hansen, Ethel Lorton, Edith Whitney, Susie Whitney, Marion Mortimer, Isabel von Brakle, Anna Clark, Marjorie Miller, Irene Moy, William Ponsford and Gordon Moy.

The piece closed with a vocal selection, "Homeward Bound," and a carol, "Rose Strewn Way," by the school. Another special feature was the singing of "The Holy City," by Mrs. William H. Sebring, while Miss Arline Brown in Greek costume acted the part. The exercises which were in charge of the superintendent of the school, assisted by the pastor, Rev. A. E. Finn, concluded with a carol, "On This Happy Children's Day," by the school, the benediction and postlude by the orchestra. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers, under the direction of Mrs. Charles Van Winkle, chairman.

Faith Chapel.

Children's Day exercises were held at Faith chapel, last night, when the children presented an excellent programme, under the direction of Superintendent L. W. Randolph, assisted by the pastor, Rev. J. W. Musson. The programme opened with an organ voluntary by W. A. Conger, followed by the singing of "Beautiful Summer," by the school. An anthem by the choir preceded an address of welcome by Roy Haffner and Verna Stewart; a song by the primary department, a recitation, "My Little Apple," Helen Marie Harold; recitations, girls from the primary department; recitation, Helen Myers; anthem by the choir; song, Bessie Carson. Pastor Musson then made a few appropriate remarks, speaking of the significance of the day. There was another anthem by the choir, and the programme closed with the benediction.

Bethel Chapel.

Children's Day evercises were held yesterday afternon at Bethel chapel. The programme included an address by William D. Murray, appropriate songs by the school, a solo by Mr. Staleny, of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church choir, and recitations by the pupils. Those who took part are as follows: Julius Smith, Petwyn Robinson, Morris Somerset, Fidella Potter, Mary Johnson. An offering was made for the Sunday-school Board.

First Baptist Church.

Children's Day exercises were held in the afternoon at the First Baptist church, under the auspices of the Sunday-school, Mrs. J. A. Powlison, superintendent of the primary department, being in charge of the programme. There was an address of welcome by Lawrence French, recitations by Elmer French, Miss Florence Neal and Willie Rickett. There were also songs by the primary department and the main school. The Sunday-school room was appropriately decorated, a feature being a large cross made of daisies, which occupied a prominent place in front of the platform. Roses were also used extensively. During the exercises the Junior lesson was taught by Miss Edith Cairns.

ODDITIES IN THE NEWS.

Frank Wilson, of Woodbury, N. J., has a hen that is doing peculiar stunts. She lays an egg every other day. One contains the yolk and the other the white. This routine has been kept up several days.

Thinking he might soon have use for it, Joseph Venables, of Chestertown, Md., twenty-five years ago had his coffin made. He began soon thereafter to enjoy better health and continued to do so until a few days ago. His death occurred recently, and he was buried in the coffin he had made.

Drivers of automobiles report a huge fighting gander at the farm house along the Lancaster Pike, near Villa Nova, Pa., which has taken possession of the road. The fowl takes its stand in the middle of the pike as the machines come along, and the drivers are compelled to turn out suddenly to avoid killing it, as it tries to peck at the wheels.

Veazie, Me., has a little family puzzle. An old man of fifty and a young man of twenty-eight, both widowers. The young man has a stepdaughter thirty-eight years old, who has married the older gentleman, and in return the younger man has taken the old man's daughter for a wife. Now what relation are those four people to one another? asks the Lewiston Journal.

Getting into his bed room by a window while he slept and pecking at his beard to secure material for a nest, a robin nearly frightened W. W. Heed, of West Chester, Pa., out of a year's growth.

Thomas McCarthy, a bartender in New Castle, Pa., has been toiling hard twelve hours a day for the past six years, blissfully ignorant that he was a millionaire. His brother, Michael McCarthy, was working even harder than Thomas, for Michael is foreman of a gang of section hands on the Pittsburg and Lake Erie Railroad, and lives in a little house in Wampum, just below that city. And all these years each has been the possessor of $1,000,000 in his own right, and didn't know it, though attorneys have been hunting everywhere for them. Six years ago their uncle died in Denver, leaving them $1,000,000 each, which he had made in the Australia gold fields. A firm of Denver lawyers has just succeeded in locating the two men and has forwarded them money to take them to Denver.

A rattlesnake which has crawled on a boiler in the sawmill in Martinsburg, Ind., to keep warm, wound itself around the rope of the whistle while trying to escape the heat when steam was raised. The weight of the snake was sufficient to cause the whistle to blow continuously. The people of the village, thinking the mill was on fire, hurried there with buckets and found Irvin Durnhill, the engineer, shaking with fear. He had seen the snake and was afraid to enter the engine room. Sam Sterling got a shotgun and killed the reptile, says the correspondent.

WAYS OF SERVING EGGS AT LUNCHEON.

Eggs can be prepared in many ways and often fill the gaps in a menu. Poached eggs are delicious. Use a skillet, or muffin rings placed in a pan of water, not too deep. The water should barely cover the eggs. Bring the water to a boiling point, drop in the eggs carefully, one at a time, and remove from the fire immediately. Cover the pan and let it stand until cooked. A teaspoonful of lemon juice or vinegar in the water will keep the whites firm and preserve the shape of the egg. Serve on thin slices of buttered toast.

Scrambled eggs with asparagus tips should be prepared as follows: Put two heaping tablespoonfuls of butter into a frying pan. When it sizzles break into it quickly six fresh eggs and mix thoroughly with a silver spoon for two minutes without stopping. Season with salt and pepper and a slight grating of nutmeg, if desired. Add one cupful of cold, cooked asparagus tips.

Creamed eggs are prepared as follows: Make a cream sauce, using one tablespoonful of butter, two of flour, two cupfuls of milk, and pepper and salt to season. When the sauce is thick and creamy add hard-boiled eggs, coarsely chopped, and serve at once on toast. Sprinkle with minced parsley.

Eggs a la paysanne are prepared as follows: Put one cupful of cream or rich milk into a baking dish, break into it six fresh eggs and place in a hot oven until the eggs are set. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, minced parsley and sweet green pepper.

Eggs a la tripe may be prepared as follows. Fry two sliced onions in butter, but do not brown. Stir in one cupful of milk or cream and enough flour to thicken, rub smooth in a little of the cream or milk. Season with salt, white pepper and a bit of grated nutmeg. Stir until thick, then add eight hard-boiled eggs, sliced crosswise. Heat thoroughly and serve.

Eggs our miror can be prepared by buttering a stone platter that will stand the heat of an oven. Break into it carefully enough fresh eggs to cover it, taking care not to break the yolks. Place in the oven until the eggs are set. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and minced parsley and serve at once.

WON IN FOURTEEN INNINGS.

Dunellen Take Stiff Game From Somersets, of North Plainfield.

It took Dunellen fourteen innings to capture the game from the Somerset A. C., Saturday afternoon. It was the best contest ever played on the Dunellen grounds. Russell pitched a great game, using his underhand delivery with great effectiveness. Conover, who succeeded McLaughlin for the Somersets, also pitched well up to the fourteenth.

Both teams played well in the field. The feature of the game was Garretson's throw to the plate from deep center in the sixth, catching Mullen, who tried to score from second on Mehaffey's single. Titsworth also made a great catch in the eleventh, pulling down a drive that looked good for three bags, and doubling McVoy up at second.

STATE MOVE FOR CLEAN RAILROADS.

Cleanliness and Sanitation in Railroad Terminal Stations.

Trenton, June 11.—Secretary Henry Mitchell, of the State Board of Health, has inaugurated a movement for cleanliness and sanitation in the terminal stations of all railroad lines in New Jersey, and in furtherance of this plan has sent to the inspectors of the board in localities where there are terminal stations directing them as to their duties in this regard.

The circular instructs them to make inspections of the stations for the purpose of learning the frequency with which day coaches are cleaned, the facilities provided and the efficiency of the methods employed. The inspectors are instructed to ascertain the sources of supply of drinking water used in the waiting rooms, the number and conditions of the lavatories and the degree of cleanliness maintained in the waiting room.

The inspectors are required to answer the following questions:

"Is the shelf or counter over which tickets are sold kept clean and free from accumulation from unclean hands?

"Are the door knobs and other woodwork kept clean by frequent washing?

"Is spitting permitted upon the platforms of the stations or upon the floors of the waiting rooms?"

The purpose of the board in causing these inspections to be made is to draw the attention of the responsible parties to any unhealthful conditions which may be reported, and especially to secure such improvements in sanitary construction in and about railroad stations as will assist in restricting the spread of tuberculosis.

Many Deals in Borough Realty.

That borough property is on the boom just now is indicated by the deals made this week by George F. Brown, the Somerset street real estate broker. O. T. Waring's property at Giraud and Willow avenues, has been sold to Judd Stewart, auditor for the American Smelting and Refining Company; A. R. Phillips, of Washingtonville, has purchased from George H. Fairchild the latter's home at 36 Grandview avenue; Oscar Peterson has bought the property at 35 Codington avenue, owned by Frank Cleaves and Mrs. Newton B. Smalley has closed a deal with Judd Stewart for the latter's homestead property at 20 Willow avenue, and after improvements are made will live there.

New Zealand to Broadway.

That "All roads lead to Broadway" was exemplified a few evenings ago in the Marlborough rathskeller. A New Yorker from the west was dining an old friend of years ago, whom he had met in the "main street" a few moments before. They were discussing "meals I have eaten," when the guest remarked:

"The worst deal I ever got was a plate of wheat cakes served in Auckland, New Zealand, about ten years ago, while I was spending a few weeks there."

"I served you those cakes, sir," remarked the waiter, who was listening to the conversation. "They certainly were the limit."

A short talk with the waiter proved that he was right, and it earned him an addition to the usual tip.

Reggy Sappy—Aw, waiter, you say it is a pleasure to wait on me. Then you must be accustomed to waiting on fellahs liks myself?

Waiter—Sure! Why, I used to work in a Maine hatchery and had to feed lobsters every day.—Chicago News.

Will It Comes to This?

"What does this mean, waiter? I find $10 charged on this check for champagne. I haven't had any champagne."

"It's your own fault, sir. Why didn't you take some? It's on the bill of fare."—Translated for Tales from Meggendorfer Blatter.

MRS. APPLEGATE WELL AGAIN!
"I have had a bruised leg and foot for several years, caused by the brass eyelets of my shoe, which became very sore and painful especially at night. It itched, burned and ached me till it nearly set me crazy. I used everything I found and was suggested to ease it and nothing gave me any relief till I found and applied Azienza Cream which I think is a wonderful remedy for all sores and inflammation of the skin. The hard knots on my legs were as painful as bee stings, with discolored and purple spots. A running sore on my instep size of a half-dollar; the top of my foot a seething sore clean around to my heel. The bone was sore for a whole year and very painful. I used five and one-half jars of Azienza Cream and healed the sore all up. The foot remained tender and I continued to use to strengthen and toughen the skin until now it is entirely well." (Signed) Mrs. Hannah Applegate, Evergreen Ave., Avon, N. J., Sept. 3rd, 1905. 50 cents. Ask the druggist or by mail. Azienza Specialties Co., Jersey City, N. J.

FREEHOLDERS APPOINT COLLECTOR PRO TEM.

Nathan R. Leavitt to Act for Edward M. Wood.

Nathan R. Leavitt, of Elizabeth, has been chosen by the Board of Freeholders to act as county collector pro tem. during the illness of County Collector Edward M. Wood. Mr. Leavitt will receive the salary voted to Mr. Wood while he is serving. He has furnished bonds in the sum of $20,000, his securities being Hamilton F. Kean, Louis F. Hersh and Richard T. Potts.

Checks against the county will be signed by Mr. Leavitt and countersigned by the director of the board, Major King. This is in accordance with the resolution providing for the appointment of a collector pro tem. All the banks in which lie any of the county's money are to be notified of the resolution creating the change.

Freeholder Cady said that for some time the board had been confronted with the fact that County Collector Wood had been incapacitated by sickness from attending to the duties of his office. He said County Attorney Codington had been approached on the subject and had prepared an opinion. Clerk Ryno read this. It stated that since the board was desirous of retaining the services of Mr. Wood in spite of his illness, and as the work of the county had to go on, it would be permissible to select someone to sign checks against the county, the checks to be countersigned by the director of the board, sufficient bonds to be furnished, and the various banks holding the county's money to be notified of the change. This opinion was ordered placed on file.

Wise Youth.

Uncle John—I didn't think you liked school so much.

Willie—I don't like it at all.

Uncle John—But your mother said you could stay home today and you began right off to complain—

Willie—O! when mom says I can stay home dat's a sign she's got a whole lot of errans for me to do.

THE SPENDERS

By HARRY LEON WILSON

Copyright, by Lothrop Publishing Company.

"Yes—you're right, Uncle Peter—I suppose it must be done—but the poor fellow really cares for me."

"Oh, of course," answered the old man, "it'll fairly break his heart. You do it just the same!"

She withdrew, and presently came back with a note which she dispatched to Mauburn.

Percival and his mother had continued their dinner, the former shaking his head between the intervals of the old man's lashings, and appearing to hold silent converse with himself.

This was an encouraging sign. It is a curious fact that people never talk to themselves except triumphantly. In moments of real despair we are inwardly dumb. But observe the holders of imaginary conversations. They are conquerors to the last one. They administer stinging rebukes that leave the adversary writhing. They rise to Alpine heights of pure wisdom and power, leaving him to flounder ignobly in the mire of his own fatuity. They achieve repartee the brilliance of which dazzles him to contemptible silence. If statistics were at hand we should doubtless learn that no man has ever talked to himself save by way of demonstrating his own godlike superiority, and the tawdry impotence of all obstacles and opponents. Percival talked to himself and mentally lived the next five years in a style that reduced Uncle Peter to grudging but imperative awe for his superb gifts of administration. He bathed in this imaginary future as in the waters of omnipotence. As time went on he foresaw the shafts of Uncle Peter being turned back upon him with such deadliness that, by the time the roast came, his breast was swelling with pity for that senile scoffer.

Uncle Peter had first declared that the thought of food sickened him. Prevailed upon at last by Mrs. Bines to taste the soup, he was soon eating as those present had of late rarely seen him eat.

"Tain't a natural appetite, though," he warned them. "It's a kind of a mania before I go all to pieces, I s'pose."

"Nonsense! We'll have you all right in a week," said Percival. "Just remember that I'm going to take care of you."

"My son can do anything he makes up his mind to," declared Mrs. Bines—"just anything he lays out to do."

They talked until late into the night of what he should "lay out" to do.

Meantime the stronghold of Mauburn's optimism was being desperately stormed.

In an evening paper he had read of Percival's losses. The afternoon press of New York is not apt to understate the facts of a given case. The account Mauburn read stated that the young western millionaire had beggared his family.

Mauburn had gone to his room to be alone with this bitter news. He had begun to face it when Psyche's note of release came. While he was adjusting this development, another knock came on his door. It was the same maid who had brought Psyche's note. This time she brought what he saw to be a cablegram.

"Excuse me, Mr. Mauburn—now this came early to-day, and you wasn't in your room, and when you came in Mrs. Ferguson forgot it till just now."

He tore open the envelope and read:

"Male twins born to Lady Casselthorpe. Mother and sons doing finely.

"HINKIE."

Mauburn felt the rock foundations of Manhattan Island to be crumbling to dust. For an hour he sat staring at the message. He did not talk to himself once.

Then he hurriedly dressed, took the note and the cablegram, and sought Mrs. Drelmer.

He found that capable lady gowned for the opera. She received his bits of news with the aplomb of a resourceful commander.

"Now, don't go seedy all at once—you've a chance."

"Hang it all, Mrs. Drelmer, I've not. Life isn't worth living—"

"Tut, tut! Death isn't, either!"

"But we'd have been so nicely set up, even without the title, and now Bines, the clumsy ass, has come this infernal cropper, and knocked everything on the head. I say, you know, it's beastly!"

"Hush, and let me think!"

He paced the floor while his matrimonial adviser tapped a white kidded foot on the floor, and appeared to read plans of new battle in a mother-of-pearl paper-knife which she held between the tips of her fingers.

"I have it—and we'll do it quickly! —Mrs. Wybert!"

Mauburn's eyes opened widely.

"That absurd old Peter Bines has spoken to me of her three times lately. She's made a lot more money than she had in this same copper deal, and she'd a lot to begin with. I wondered why he spoke so enthusiastically of her, and I don't see now, but—"

"Well?"

"She'll take you, and you'll be as well set up as you were before. Listen. I met her last week at the Critchleys. She spoke of having seen you. I could see she was dead set to make a good marriage. You know she wanted to marry Fred Milbrey, but Horace and his mother wouldn't hear of it after Avice became engaged to Rulon Knepler. I'm in the Critchleys' box to-night and I understand she's to be there. Leave it to me. Now it's after nine, so run along."

"But, Mrs. Drelmer, there's that poor girl—she cares for me, and I like her immensely, you know—truly I do—and she's a trump—see where she says here she couldn't possibly leave her people now they've come down—even if matters were not otherwise impossible."

"Well, you see they're not only otherwise impossible, but every wise impossible. What could you do? Go to Montana with them and learn to be an Indian? Don't, for heaven's sake, sentimentalize! Go home and sleep like a rational creature. Come in by 11 to-morrow. Even without the title you'll be a splendid match for Mrs. Wybert, and she must have a tidy lot of millions after this deal."

Sorely distressed, he walked back to his lodgings in Thirty-second street. Wild, quixotic notions of sacrifice flooded his mood of dejection. If the worst came, he could go west with the family and learn how to do something. And yet—Mrs. Wybert. Of course it must be that. The other idea was absurd—too wild for serious consideration. He was 30 years old, and there was only one may for an English gentleman live—even if it must break the heart of a poor girl who had loved him devotedly, and for whom he had felt a steady and genuine affection. He passed a troubled night.

Down at the hotel of Peter Bines was an intimation from Mrs. Wybert herself, bearing upon this same fortuity. When Uncle Peter reached there at two a. m., he found in his box a small scented envelope which he opened with wonder.

Two inclosures fell out. One was a clipping from an evening paper, announcing the birth of twin sons to Lord Casselthorpe. The other was the card he had left with Mrs. Wybert on the day of his call; his name on one side, announcing him; on the other the words he had written:

"Sell Consolidated Copper all you can until it goes down to 65. Do this up to the limit of your capital, and I will make good anything you lose.

"PETER BINES."

He read the note:

"Arlingham Hotel—7:30.

"Mr. Peter Bines.

"Dear Sir: You funny old man, you. I don't pretend to understand your game, but you may rely on my secrecy. I am more grateful to you than words can utter—and I will always be glad to do anything for you. Yours very truly,

"BLANCHE CATHERTON WYBERT.

"P. S.—About that other matter—him you know—you will see from this notice I cut from the paper that the party won't get any title at all now, so a dead swell New York man is in every way more eligible. In fact the other party is not to be thought of for one moment, as I am positive you would agree with me."

He tore the note and the card to fine bits.

"It does beat all," he complained later to Billy Brue. "Put a beggar on horseback and they begin right away to fuss around because the bridle ain't set with diamonds—give 'em a little, and they want the whole ball of wax!"

HORSE SHOW AND HEAT AFFECT GOLF ATTENDANCES

SMALL FIELDS ON BOTH LOCAL LINKS SATURDAY AFTERNOON.

The horse show had its effect in the attendance at the Plainfield Country Club, on Saturday, and in consequence there was not a large field out to take part in the scheduled events. The heat was almost insufferable even on the course and there was not much enthusiasm displayed on the part of the contestants.

Five contestants posted their scores for the Golf Committee cup. E. A. Stevenson won first honors with the low score of 76, while the remaining points were divided between W. Lester Glenney and L. A. Chase, each returning a net score of 77. These scores were posted:

E. A. Stevenson, 96, 20—76; W. Lester Glenney, 75, plus 2—77; L. A. Chase, 87, 10—77; J. W. Sandford, 99, 18—81; W. D. Riggs, 99, 15—84.

In the play-off for the semi-scratch cup, W. Lester Glenney was the winner with a score of 75, and in the competition for the June handicap cup, L. A. Chase won a leg on the trophy, returning a score of 87, 10—77, being all even with bogie.

There were very few contestants at the Park Golf Club to compete for the President's and Club trophies. With a net score of 91, Rev. J. O. McKelvey won first honors for the President's cup, and he also won first three points for the scratch cup, with a gross score of 95. Rev. Dr. H. K. Carroll won second honors for the handicap cup and Charles A. Reed the one point. For the scratch cup second honors went to Mr. Reed and the one point to Dr. Carroll. These scores were posted:

Rev. J. O. McKelvey, 95, 4—91; Rev. Dr. H. K. Carroll, 106, 12—94; Charles A. Reed, 103, 8—95; Reuben Knox, 114, 14—100.

Match play was continued on the links of the Westfield Golf Club Saturday afternon for the June handicap cup. Woodward beat W. P. Tuttle, Jr., 1 up on 20 holes; Simpson beat Barr 8 up and 6 to go; Worth beat Middleditch 6 up and 5 to go; R. I. Townley beat Kirchner 3 up and 2 to go; Lyons won from Howe by default; Cruse beat Condit by default; Bogart beat Van Dyke 7 up and 5 to go; Carroll beat McCullom 1 up.

The ladies' putting contest, which closed today, was won by Mrs. Thayer. The contest lasted four Saturday afternoons. The prize is a handsome silver cup.

KRAFT SHUT OUT THE WASHINGTON BATTERS.

West Ends, of Somerville, 9; Washington, N. J., 0, On Saturday.

The West End management at Somerville has not released Nafis, its star twirler. He sat on the bench Saturday, when Edmund G. Kraft, of Raritan, a local boy, was given a tryout. To say that the youngster made good is putting it mildly. He held the heavy-hitting Washington team, from Warren county, safe all the way, and scored a 9 to 0 victory for the Somervillians. Seven strike outs and two hits is a great record for a local amateur to make against a husky team like the Washingtons. Nelson played at third and Alberts at short, with Lou Wiltse in left. The latter performer some great batting and fielding stunts. The score was:

West Ends	1 0 2 0 0 4 2 0 x—9

MURDERED HIS FRIEND

Ditmars Blamed His Victim For Having Broken Up His Home.

CARRIED OUT THREAT

Boss Moulder Kills An Employe —Crime at East Somerville.

David Howard, an iron moulder, was shot to death at Fred Smith's boarding-house in East Somerville yesterday afternoon by William Ditmars, a boss in the Somerville Iron Works.

Howard had just returned from work in the foundry and was resting in the shade of a vine-clad portico in front of the boarding-house when Ditmars, somewhat under the influence of liquor, walked up the street accompanied by Fred Rohn, a companion, and stopped at the gate. Addressing Howard he said:

"Red,' come out here a minute, I want to see you."

Howard, who apparently scented trouble, refused to move or to make any reply. Ditmars then stepped inside of the gate and exclaimed:

"Red,' I'm going to shoot you."

Howard looked the man who threatened him straight in the eye and coolly said:

"Well, go ahead and shoot."

Ditmars whipped a revolver from his pocket and taking deliberate aim as Howard remained seated on the portico fired one shot. The bullet struck Howard square between the eyes and entered his brain. He fell back on the portico. The shooting was done in the presence of a number of Howard's fellow-boarders, who were astounded at what had taken place that they made no effort to apprehend Ditmars as he replaced the revolver in his pocket and started to walk away.

Special Policeman Edward Ramsay, who lives two doors from the scene of the shooting, heard the shot and ran from his house just in time to take Ditmars in custody as he passed his door. Ditmars was placed in the county jail at Somerville to await examination. Ditmars said he killed Howard because he broke up his home.

Ditmars and Howard came to Somerville from Baltimore several months ago to work in the Somerville Iron Works. The men were old friends, and Howard was a frequent visitor at the Ditmars home on East High street. Ditmars' neighbors say that Ditmars had a quarrel with his wife Saturday. Mrs. Ditmars left Somerville yesterday morning to go to her relatives in Baltimore.

Ditmars began to drink heavily after his wife left town. He procured a revolver and his neighbors say they saw him shooting at a target for practice during the day. When arrested he said he was unable to sleep Saturday night. He got up at 4 a. m., he said, and went for a walk. When he returned to his home several hours later he found that his wife had left for Baltimore.

The fact that his home had been broken up so preyed upon his mind, he said, that he got the revolver intending to frighten Howard, but did not intend to kill him when he shot. Howard lived three hours after he was shot.

FATHER BUTSCHER SAYS FIRST MASS.

Young Plainfield Priest Celebrates at St. Mary's Church.

Father John Butscher, of this city, who was ordained to the priesthool in Newark on Saturday morning by Rt. Rev. J. J. O'Connor, Bishop of Newark, celebrated his first solemn high mass in St. Mary's church, yesterday morning. There was an unusually large number of worshippers, including many from New York, Brooklyn, Newark, as well as this city.

Father Butscher was assisted by Very Reverned Dean Smyth, former pastor of St. Mary's church, but now of St. Joseph's church, Jersey City. Father Delehanty was deacon of the mass and Father Fererici was the sub-deacon. Rev. Mr. O'Connor, of Seton Hall College, was master of ceremonies, and the sermon was preached by Rev. B. M. Bogan, pastor of the church.

Afterward Father Butscher and the other pastors were entertained at dinner by Father Bogan. In the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Philip Butscher and Miss Butscher gave a reception to Father Butscher at their home on Spooner avenue.

CUBANS WELL TROUNCED

Plainfields Hit Their Pitcher Freely and Score Seven Runs.

VISITORS DISCOURAGED

Hits and Errors Got On Their Nerve In the Sixth and They Quit Trying to Play.

Free hitting gave Plainfield an easy victory over the Cuban Stars Saturday afternoon. The score was 7 to 2. Errors figured in amassing the total, but the bat swinging of the locals held the visitors in the hole into which the twirling of Smith and Deegan put them.

It was a good game until the sixth inning, when the Cubans lost heart and quit. Bertwhistle's batting was a feature, his heavy stickwork including a home run. Goodman, of Columbia, was one second in Brogan's place.

Smith pitched six innings and Deegan finished the game. The youngster gave way to the senior twirler at Mayor Smalley's request. The Mayor likes to see Willie perform, and as there was no room to doubt the excellence of Smith's pitching and none of the crowd could misunderstand the move, Manager Daab acceded to His Honor's request. The Cubans got only three hits off Phil. and two off Willie.

The visitors scored in the first after two were out, on Leonard's low throw of Almeyda's nasty grounder, and Cabrona's three-bagger to center. Calbera was an easy out. Bertwhistle started one home for Plainfield when the locals wen in with a single to center. Goodman sacrificed him to second, and Henriques sent him in with a two-bagger to left. Henriques went to third on a high return but Reardon and Leonard went out on infield taps.

Plainfield tallied two in the third on Bertwhistle's hit to center and steal, Reardon's left field single, which scored Bert, and the first baseman's error on Leonard's grounder.

In the fourth Cabrona, first up, made second on Reardon's muff of a high fly. Calbera hit to Smith and both runners got a bag on a slow throw to third. Cabrona was caught at the plate on a quick return of a throw down as Calbera started on a steal, but Calbera made third on the jockeying, and scored on Marzan's right field hit. Borges hit into a double.

There was nothing to it but Plainfield after that. In the fifth, Reardon scored another, on a left field grounder, Leonard's hit to center, Heffron's walk and Curley's hit by pitcher. Leonard was forced at the plate and O'Neil died by the same method at second. Bertwhistle, first up, slammed out his homer in the sixth, and in the eighth the last two came in on Goodman's walk and steal, Henriques' long single to center, which scored Goodman, errors on the return by the second and third basemen which allowed Henriques to make third, and Reardon's timely two-bagger to left. Reardon went to third on left field's bad throw-in, but none of the next three men could come up to the scratch with a safety.

The score:

Notes on the Game.

They played like Cuban "seconds" after the sixth.

The way to put an end to this kind of biz is to get a reputation for cutting guarantees in half to teams who fail to put up the right grade of goods.

Second Baseman Goodman is a good-man indeed. He has an excellent head. That belt he got on the head in the sixth had force enough to send ten players into the land of nod.

Jimmy Bertwhistle is batting like old sixty. The home run Saturday netted to him the pair of Van Arsdale shoes which the East Front street merchant offered for home runs in the early part of the season.

New York is getting better since Dr. Parkhurst took his departure for Europe. Gov. Higgins has stopped prize fighting; while Police Chief Bingham has stopped his cussing, also Sunday ball games.

Phil. Smith has yet his first error to make of the season. Without doubt he is the best fielding twirler in the business.

Saturday's victory was the ninth straight. Still there's more to follow.

Willie Deegan swelled up considerable when he struck three men out in the sixth.

The team just started to lambast the leather in good shape. Hits were mighty scare in the early games.

Bertwhistle wrecked a bat in making his second hit in the game over second. The first casualty of its kind during the season.

The Westfield team plus Official Scorer Schaefer will be here next Saturday looking for revenge.

DIAMOND DUST.

Manager Murray, of the Jerseys, is a happy man nowadays over the showing of the Skeeters. It was a remarkable jump from the rear end to second place. His players are now in good condition and it is hoped they will continue on their winning streak. Billy Foxen, the former Hobokenite, has loomed up as one of the best twirlers in the league.

All jokes can now be called off on Patsy Donavan's Spireville team.

"Zeke" Smithers, of the Canajaharie Rangers, may have been a great pitcher, but Phil. Smith is greater.

"Kid" Brogan is said to be dissatisfied in Hartford and it wouldn't be surprising to see him once again in the Hoboken-Plainfield family.

GERMAN RELATIVES ANSWER.

Nothing Seen of Helen Kuenlen Abroad, They Cable Family.

Discouraging intelligence has been received by the family of Helen Kuenlen from abroad. The uncle to whose home it was thought last week she might have gone, has cabled in answer to queries, that nothing has been seen of the girl by his family.

The search has now reached its limits. The mother is hopeless of ever seeing her daughter alive again, and is very nearly hopeless of even recovering the remains.

O. Doane, Mayor James F. Buckle and Councilman Frank Randolph and after inspecting the local fire houses were escorted to Exempt Firemen's Hall, where the session is being held. An adjournment was made shortly after 2 o'clock for dinner and they will reassemble this afternoon.

This morning's session was opened by prayer made by Rev. A. E. Finn, of the Park Avenue Baptist church, after which Mayor Buckle gave a welcoming address. He referred to the fact that he himself had been a volunteer fireman in the days before the paid department put him among the "has beens" and he paid a warm compliment to the efficiency of Chief Doane and the Plainfield men. His remarks were seconded by Councilman Frank Randolph, chairman of the fire committee, who also bade the visitors "to make themselves at home" and derive pleasure from their trip to Plainfield as well as profiting by the interchange of ideas. Response to both these addresses was made by Chief D. J. O'Neill, of Ridgewood, vice president of the association.

Chief John Stagg, of Paterson, who is president and is in the chair, next told of legislative action affecting firemen since the last meeting and then introduced Rev. Dr. J. S. Zelie, of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, who is ex-chaplain of the Schenectady, N. Y., fire department. Dr. Zelie made a splendid address, telling of his experiences with firemen and his work at Schenectady, and he placed himself on an intimate footing with the visitors by stating that though he was no longer chaplain he still considered himself "one of the boys and was always glad to meet a fire fighter."

William Cross, of Philadelphia, was presented and spoke in behalf of the Gamewell Fire Alarm Company, giving the association the latest details of improvements in the system. He asserted that it has practically reached the limit of its efficiency and that now much attention is being devoted to the private systems intended for installation in large manufacturing plants. At Chief Stagg's request he told of the improvements made recently in public alarm systems to guard against confusion when two boxes are pulled simultaneously.

F. A. Shepperd, an editor on the staff of Fire and Water Engineering, and H. H. Esterbrook, of the Firemen's Herald, gave short talks on conventions and Chief Doane, as treasurer, reported a balance of $69 in the association's treasury. Ex-Chief Johnson, of the Philadelphia fire department, and John McDevitt, chief of the Philadelphia fire patrol, wer expected to attend and give addresses but neither appeared.

Just before adjourning for lunch, a discussion was held as to whether it was advisable or not to work for the passage of a mandatory law regarding the pay of fire chiefs in cities and municipalities. The members decided that it was.

This afternoon the final business matters will be transacted and the visitors will then be given an automobile outing about the city under Chief Doane's direction.

Among the chiefs attending the meeting in addition to Chiefs Stagg, O'Neill and Doane, are Secretary C. S. Blount, of Red Bank; George W. Arnett, of Lambertville; August Gerstung, Elizabeth; C. S. A. Allen, Trenton; J. S. Rush, Ocean City; Fred Decker, Westfield; G. M. Fetzer, Maywood; H. F. Woolston, North Plainfield; Charles E. Burr, Bordentown; William Howell, Somerville; Frank Drake, Long Branch; Fred E. Williams, Montclair; George J. Lawrence, chief of the Lehigh Valley department at Jersey City; William Bill, of Hackensack.

GUINN VERDICT CONFIRMED

Supreme Court Upholds the Award of County Court Against the P. S. C.

TO RECEIVE $17,000

Mrs. Guinn Recovered $10,000 Damages—$7,000 Additional Given Husband.

Judges Reed, Fort and Pitney, in the Supreme Court, at Trenton, yesterday, handed down an opinion confirming the verdict rendered in favor of the Mr. and Mrs. George H. Guinn, of this city, for $17,000 damages against the Public Service Corporation and its subsidiary company, the Elizabeth, Plainfield and Central Jersey Street Railway Company.

At the time of the trial in the Union County Court at Elizabeth, last January, Mrs. Guinn, who claimed damages for injuries she received in a trolley accident on East Second Street, near Leland avenue, she was given $10,000 and her husband, who joined her in the suit, was given $7,000.

The decision given yesterday was on the appeal from the verdict recovered at Elizabeth last January, which was for $15,000 for the wife and $7,000 for the husband. The only change is in the reduction of $5,000 from the jury's verdict to the wife.

Hon. Alvah A. Clark appeared for the defendant company and Craig A. Marsh, Esq., was counsel for Mr. and Mrs. Guinn.

LAUNCHED HIS LAUNCH.

Capt. "Bill" Jaeger's Converted Craft Slides Back Into Water.

William Jaeger launched his 20-foot converted gasolene launch on Sunday in the Raritan canal. The craft behaved splendidly in the water.

With a party of eleven friends aboard, Capt. Jaeger drove the launch through to the Sound and on to Sewaren, around where he cruised all day. The boat made a total of about fifty miles without going cranky anywhere. She has been christened the Louvia.

Jaeger and Jack Mehl, tillerman of the fire truck, changed the craft from a life-boat to a launch on the grounds at fire headquarters. Jaeger is driver of the chemical engine. He will spend his entire vacation aboard the boat. It is berthed at Ackor's, Sewaren.

W. L. SAUNDERS ON MR. REED'S INTERVIEW

HIS WORST ENEMY COULD NOT DO HIM GREATER HARM.

"Senator Reed's greatest enemy could not have done him greater harm than his interview in last night's Courier-News," said former Mayor William L. Saunders, leader of the new consolidation movement, this morning. "I hope he will be able to deny its authenticity."

Senator Reed's interview was secured in connection with published charges by friends of the movement that he was now opposed to consolidation. This is the way the interview reads:

"Asked is he had anything to say in regard to the article, Senator Reed said:

"'Yes. I think I can say something in reply to that. I have always maintained that so long as Plainfield and North Plainfield remained in two counties there could be no real union without consolidation. This has been my stand ever since the question was first mooted over ten years ago. Unless it is expected to have annexation, I do not believe that consolidation is a good thing.

"'It is believed, however, by those favorable to consolidation, that it would result in annexation. I am not prepared to say whether it would or wouldn't.'"

"'And for that reason you do not stand opposed to consolidation?'" he was asked.

"'No. I am not opposed to it, but I believe that those who defeated annexation are the ones to take the burden of the work this time, and undue their own mistakes. I was so abused and maligned in regard to my position on the annexation question that I don't feel like taking an active interest one way or the other in the present discussion. I am not an advocate of consolidation without annexation, and I am not opposed to it either openly or secretly.'"

DEBATING SOCIETY CHOOSES NEW OFFICERS.

At P. H. S. Club Meeting Miss Ball Tells of Her Experiences.

The debating society of the Plainfield High School met yesterday afternoon for the last time this year, in its rooms in the new High School building, and instead of the customary debate the members enjoyad a story by Miss Katherine F. Ball of her experiences in San Francisco during the earthquake and fire. This was followed by a summary of the year's work given by Miss Ruth Bullock, secretary of the association. She spoke upon the success of the debates which the pupils had participated in and voiced the opinion of the association that the aim had been carried out. Miss Gertrude Hunter has served in the past year as president and her efforts have been satisfactory.

After the meeting these officers were elected for next term: President, George Henry Fisher; vice-president, Horace Vail; secretary, Miss Cornelia Lounsbury; treasurer, Orlando Lounsbury. There were about thirty-five persons at the meeting and ice cream and cake were served.

GRAND JURY'S WORK ENDS ON THURSDAY.

Most of the 155 Indicted So Far Are Foreigners.

The Union County Grand Jury will meet at Elizabeth on Thursday and conclude its labors for the present term. In all there were presented 155 complaints and those accused are chiefly Hungarians, Poles, Slavs, Hebrews and Italians. The services of two interpreters were required by the Grand Jury during its entire session. There are practically very few cases from Plainfield, the majority being from Elizabeth and nearby points.

Owing to the fact that a majority of the cases were those of foreigners the progress of the Grand Jury work was naturally very slow, much of the evidence being obtained through interpreters. After all the indictments are presented the court will then begin its work.

Newarker Hurt.

John Myers, aged forty-seven years, of Orange street, Newark, slipped while trying to board a moving train on the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, Belle Mead, this morning, and received abrasions and contusions of the back, right arm and side. He was brought to this city on the same passenger train he was trying to board and removed to the hospital in the ambulance. His condition is not serious and will probably be able to leave the hospital within a short time. Myers claims to be an old sailor, and it is his proud boast that he has been in nearly all of the important ports of the world.

PLAN SCHOOL MEETING

North Plainfield District to Vote on Repairs and Improvements.

ON THURSDAY, JUNE 28

Board Considering the Purchase of Two More Tracts of Ground—Ready for Commencement.

The borough Board of Education held a special session, last night, for the purpose of making arrangements to hold a public meeting on Thursday night, June 28, to vote on the following questions:

"To authorize the Board of Education to repair and paint the Somerset school building at an estimated cost of $1,800.

"To improve the Somerset street school grounds by the erection of a fence and a flag staff, the amount thought to be necessary being $850.

"To further improve the school grounds by laying a sidewalk at an estimated cost of $675.

"To authorize the Board of Education to borrow money to defray the expenses of the foregoing for the payment of the same by issuing the notes of the school district in such amounts and for such time or terms of years as the Board shall direct, but for no longer time than five years."

The school authorities have been anxious for a long time to improve the grounds about the Somerset street building but a lack of funds has held them back. The erection of the new addition left the surroundings in anything but presentable shape and the items mentioned are all necessary in order to give them an attractive appearance. As it stands now also, one part of the building is painted, though it was done a long time ago, and the other has nothing but its natural brick color.

The board has under consideration the purchase of the two pieces of property at Park place and Vine street in order to secure a larger playground but his matter is to remain undecided for the present.

Several other matters of business were transacted at the meeting, among them the completion of plans for the commencement exercises Friday night and the approval of the teachers' committe report of the corps engaged for the coming school year.

COLBY CONFERENCE TO BE HELD IN SOMERVILLE

BOROUGHITES INVITED TO PRELIMINARY GATHERING TOMORROW NIGHT.

Conditions facing the advocates of reform in Somerset county will be discussed at a conference in Somerville tomorrow night. Invitations to attend the meeting have been sent to a number of North Plainfielders who are known to be in sympathy with the Colby movement and the new idea, and the borough is expected to be well represented at the gathering.

The conference will be one of the sort that the leaders of the movement always hold in new counties before proceeding with organization. It is designed to find out whether an organization is desired or not and whether conditions are such as to make it desirable.

The conference, as is usual, will not be open to the generad public. Those who are best posted on conditions in various parts of the county have been asked to attend, and if the sense of the conference is favorable to organization, arrangements for a mass meeting and for the formation of auxiliary clubs throughout the county.

SEMINARY GRADUATION

Charming Programme Marks Commencement For Four Students.

THE PRINCIPALS SPEAK

Many Improvements to Be Made at Local Private Institution.

June with its rare beauty, a wealth of flowers tastefully arranged, music exquisitely rendered and fair girl graduates were parts of the beautiful picture seen this morning at the Plainfield Seminary on West Seventh street, the pretily decorated walls and attractive surroundings of the seminary making an appropriate setting for the fair scene.

In the presence of a large audience of relatives and friends Miss Kenyon and Miss Arnold, the principals, made the presentation of the school diploma to the graduating class, Misses Dorothy Averill, Marion Hortense Hall, Mary Anna Davenport Perkins and Lucy Roberts Budlong. Miss Kenyon's impressive address was full of truest wisdom and highest aspirations for the best success of the class. She said the diploma from a preparatory school like this meant that the recipient was ready to go on with the higher education. Whether in college halls or in domestic and social spheres the education would be carried on, the student had learned how to learn. From experience and observation Miss Runyon said she had learned that the pursuit of happiness as an aim would prove elusive and unsatisfying. Happiness could not be found in fields of idleness or in the highway of self-indulgence, but in treading the path of duty with unselfish love and service for our fellow men as an aim in life. At the close of her remarks she referred to the prophecy of one of the graduates twelve years ago when in a crystal globe the class prophet saw changes in the school as the line of march would be lengthened and the school edifice would be enlarged. This prophecy, Miss Kenyon said, was about to be fulfilled, for on the return of the pupils in the autumn they would find a new primary department, a gymansium, several class rooms and other improvements to the building.

Many and choice offerings of flowers were made the graduates at the conclusion of the address, Miss Kenyon and Miss Arnold also receiving beautiful clusters of flowers.

Preceding and succeeding the presentation of diplomas the following programme of music of a high order was exquisitely rendered by the following artists: Miss Mary Henry, violinst; Miss Anna Louise Finley, soprano; and Miss Jennie Rogers May, pianist.

The programme:

Sonata for piano and violin, op. 8, Allegretto quasi Andantino, Allegro molto Vivace, Grieg, Miss May and Miss Henry; (a) Im Kahne, Grieg, (b) Canzonetta, C. Gomez, Miss Finley; Prieslied, Wagner-Wilhelm, Miss Henry; (a) The Robin Sings in the Apple Tree, (b) A Midsummer Lullaby, MacDowell, (c) The Year's at the Spring, Mrs. H. A. Beach, Miss Finley; (a) Le Cygne, Saint-Saens, (b) Humoreske, Dvorak, (c) Scherzo, Van Goens, Miss Henry; (a) In Autumn, (b) Spring Song, Weil, (with violin obligato) Miss Finley.

Each performer gave the greatest pleasure as several encores testified. Miss Finley's sweetly modulated voice and careful enunciation, Miss Henry's wonderful interpretations on the violin and Miss May's delightful accompaniments were full of exquisite charm worthy of the occasion and such a June morning.

The graduating class have before them these pleasant prospects: Miss Dorothy Averill will enter Smith College; Miss Budlong will go to Wellesley College; Miss Perkins is planning to spend a year with her aunt, Lady Beaumont, in England, sailing next week, and Miss Hall will pursue her musical studies at the Seminary. The ushers were members of the junior class: Misses Mabel Hooley, Florence Stewart, Helen Adams, Anna Dulton, Katharine Titus and Edith Griscom.

DISTRICT COURT OPENING

Lawyers Send a Big Floral Horseshoe to Judge Newcorn.

SPEECH FROM BENCH

Judge Expresses His Appreciation of Testimonial and Tells the Bar of His High Aims.

Judge Newcorn opened the new District Court in the Council chamber this morning. The opening came promptly on time, at 10 o'clock, without ceremony or frills.

The court's business went through with expedition and dispatch. A list of eight cases was gone through, and three of them disposed of, within twenty-five minutes. Court was adjourned by 10:30 o'clock.

There was a big floral horseshoe on Judge Newcorn's desk, from the members of the bar in this city. A big bouquet of cut flowers from Justice Hezekiah Hand, balanced the horseshoe on the other side of the desk.

Mayor Buckle, President R. I. Tolles, of the Common Council, and Assessors C. H. Hand and Harry VanEmburgh were at the opening, and a goodly representation of the Plainfield bar. Among the lawyers were Judge W. A. Coddington, W. S. Angleman, C. L. Murphy, S. S. Swackhamer, F. J. Blatz, H. C. Runyon, V. W. Nash, Jr., L. A. Clement, Charles J. McNabb, Carlos C. Gallup, J. P. Owens, W. L. Hetfield, Sr., W. L. Hetfield, Jr., J. Henry Crane and N. Douglas Drake. Justice Hand beamed on tne new court from inside the rail. He came downtown in a hack, with his bouquet beside him. Constable Jim Babbitt delivered it.

Deputy Sheriff Peter Weaver was the court officer for the day. Neither he nor Clerk Adams got any flowers, but they were warmly congratulated by their friends among the spectators after adjournment. A regular court officer has not been appointed yet, but Weaver hopes to land the job.

The first case desposed of was H. L. Laning, a civil engineer, who sued D. F. Updike, on a note. Judgment of $50.22 was rendered. H. C. Runyon was the plaintiff's lawyer. Judgment of $58.76 was entered against Walter E. Howarth for the International Textbook Co. V. W. Nash, Jr., appeared for the plaintiff. In the landlord and tenant case of W. D. Thickstun against Martha Probasco, judgment, if desired, was entered.

The case of the International Text Book Co. against Herbert L. Randolph, V. W. Nash for the plaintiff, was put off for a week. William Hand & Son against Anna E. Case, on contract, was not moved. Smalley Bros. against W. C. Workman was settled. Swift & Co. against William and Peter Schlicher, on contract, and Elisa Genot against James Trimmer, landlord and tenant, were put over for a week.

When the court business had been disposed of, Judge Newcorn arose and expressed his appreciation of the horseshoe and the good wishes accompanying it.

"It was quite a surprise to me, when I came into court, to see it on my desk," he said, "and I feel glad in more senses than one in being able to say that I certainly appreciate this little testimonial.

"This is a new court in our city, and I wish to state at this time that it will be my privilege to say always that it is no man's court. I will ever aim to keep this court on the same plane and up to the same high standard of the other district courts of the State.

"I hope it will be a pleasure to the members of the Plainfield bar to practice here. I will strive to administer justice in accordance with the best of my ability. No man is infallible, and mistakes may be made, but you may always be certain that my mistakes are of the mind and not of the heart. I ask the cooperation of you all in making this a model court of record, and a court of standing."

The court will go on next Tuesday, and every Tuesday thereafter. All cases are set for 10 o'clock, and will be taken up in the order of their priority.

Hook-and-Ladder Truck Back.

The local fire department's aerial hook-and-ladder truck was returned to headquarters this morning after undergoing extensive alterations and improvements. It has been equipped with rubber tires and has been entirely repainted and fitted with new iron and steel parts. In its present condition it will give good service for many years and stands as one of the best pieces of apparatus of its kind in the State.

"PEEK-A-BOO" WAISTS COME IN FOR SCORING.

Put Them Aside for the Sake of Modesty, Declares Trenton Priest.

Trenton, June 12.—"Peek-a-boo" shirtwaists and similar styles of dress were denounced Sunday by Rev. Thaddeus Hogan in the Church of Sacred Heart. In scoring the "peek-a-boo" waists the rector said in part: "I have noticed that it seems to be the prevailing fashion among women to leave their arms uncovered. Some come to church with bare arms to the elbow; others have scarcely any sleeves at all. It is a mistaken and unchristian notion that women should thus expose themselves.

"Twice I have seen a word used in the daily press in connection with the attire of women. I did not know what this word meant at first glance, but after pondering over it awhile the meaning struck me fully, and absolutely startled me. The word was 'peek-a-boo,' and it was applied to shirtwaists."

Light laughter could be heard when the priest spoke these words. When the word "peek-a-boo" was mentioned there were numerous blushing faces and downcast eyes. The priest continued: "Such garments as these are not proper for our Christian women. They must not come to church in them, at least. The very name of this objectionable article of dress should condemn it. 'Peek-a-boo' is a term which stands for immodesty. Put it aside for the sake of purity."

In making the announcement that the Young Men's League would decorate graves of departed members, the rector said he would tell the people of the event, although he did not approve of the general decorating of graves.

Speaking of the custom, the Rev. Father Hogan said: "I should not object if a brother, a sister or a parent should go to the cemetery and place wreaths of flowers on the graves of their own departed, but why should a society of young men who never knew a majority of their departed members in life carry on this custom? It is a relic of paganism."

DRYDEN-KUSER AUTO HELD UP AT BOUND BROOK.

Watchers, Not in Sympathy With "Regular Movement," Halted the Party.

Bound Brook, June 12.—Senator John F. Dryden had an object lesson Sunday of how his determination to keep in close touch and travel with his son-in-law, Colonel A. R. Kuser, might prevent his return to the upper branch of Congress, if not for a full term, temporarily at least.

The Senator and Mr. Kuser had come up from Washington to their Bernardsville home Friday night, and Sunday afternoon both left in the colonel's big touring car at 1:30 p. m. to reach the Bound Brook station at 2:57 p. m., to catch a Royal Blue limited due in Washington at 7 p. m.

The distance over the road is, according to the map, eighteen miles and having an hour and twenty-seven minutes to make it, a twelve-mile rate would almost have been sufficient. According to the Mayor and police force of Bound Brook, as the colonel's car was approaching the main street of the town it was going at a thirty-mile gait. Stop watches held by the police proved that and a stout rope held across the street brought the car to a standstill.

Mr. Kuser expostulated, but all in vain. The law was read, Mayor Brokaw was summoned, a fine imposed, the depot reached in time and Senator Dryden and Mr. Kuser went on their way, while the car returned to Bernardsville. Mr. Kuser's chauffeur thought so little of the event that it is said he did not mention it on his return, but it caused great commotion in this Central Jersey railroad town.

This was the first "arrest" of the day, because it was said auto enthusiasts had agents stationed at Dunellen and Somerville on either side of the town to warn approaching tourists. There is a suspicion that the watchers were acquainted with the Senator, and not being in sympathy with the "regular" movement did not signal the colonel's car.

FOOD INSPECTORS STIRRED.

Aroused in New Jersey and May Make a Crusade.

Trenton, June 12.—The publication of the meat conditions in New Jersey has stirred the State Board of Health to action, and a crusade for the improvement of the situation, it is understood, will be undertaken at once.

Chief Food Inspector George W. Maguire, of the State Board, discussing the inspection of meats in this State, shows how it is possible for even condemned products to be placed on the markets. Mr. Maguire says that in some of the big abbatoirs in Jersey City butchers and commission men have stalls near the inclosures and to them is consigned, in some instances, the live stock which has been condemned by the government inspectors. This stock is slaughtered outside of the abattoirs and sold wherever a market can be found.

Mr. Maguire says that the slaughtering should be done under State inspection. He also suggests the raising of cattle here for home consumption. He asserts that in this way it would be easy to overcome the necessity of eating Western prepared meat of unknown standard of cleanliness.

GOT HIS HAIR BACK.

Was Perfectly Bald When He Started to Use Newbro's Herpicide.

Frederick Manuell, Maryland block, Butte, Montana, bought a bottle of Newbro's Herpicide, April 6, '99, and began to use it for entire baldness. The hair follicles in his scalp were not dead and in 20 days he had hair all over his head. On July 2 he writes, "and today my hair is as thick and luxuriant as any one could wish." Newbro's Herpicide works on an old principle and with a new discovery—destroy the cause and you remove the effect. Herpicide destroys the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair, and finally baldness, so that with the cause gone the effect cannot remain. Stops falling hair at once and a new growth starts. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

A Veteran of the Civil War

Judge Wilton Monroe Lindsey, ex-Senator and now Presiding Judge of the 37th Judicial District of Pennsylvania.

Swears in Court that Piso's Cure for Consumption Made Him a Well Man After Three Physicians of the U. S. Examination Board Had Pronounced Him Consumptive and Discharged Him From the Army to Go Home and Die.

In the suit just won at a cost of over $30,000 by The Pisco Company, of Warren, Pa., against the sharks who were trying to rob them of the fruit of 50 years' labor and reputation, the eminent jurist, Judge Wilton Monroe Lindsey, hale, hearty, standing over six feet high, full chested and healthfully stout, with rosy cheeks and brilliant eyes, dignified and of commanding presence, told the interesting details of his enlistment, stay in the army until after being sent from camp hospital to camp hospital he was finally passed as consumptive by three physicians of the U. S. Examining Board, and sent home to die.

As soon as possible after his arrival at his home in charge of a friend he sought out Dr. Talbott, who likewise lived at Warren, Pa., and who was the discoverer of the famous Piso's Cure for Consumption. The doctor went over him very carefully, gave him certain general directions and started him on the Piso medicine. That summer he was able to farm it lightly a little, in the fall took up his studies and from that day to this has never had a particle of lung trouble and feels that Piso did it, as that was the only medicine he took. He was very feeble and hopeless when he began, but today at the age of 63 is a fine type of a healthy and happy American.

"How a Consumptive Ought to Live," is a beutiful and exceedingly useful and practical little book that The Pisco Co., 198 Piso Bldg., Warren, Pa., publish and will be sent to any one free of cost.

THE GREAT NORTH COUNTRY.

Nimrod was a mighty hunter, but had he hunted in the "Temagami" region he would have been a mightier one. Nimrod hunted for glory, but Temagamians hunt for game. Those Indians who made the first canoe of birch bark long ago, were our greatest benefactors. The children of these Indians know the canoe, and they know how to use it, and if you go to Temagami this summer they will paddle your canoe in their own superb way. They will be the best guides you ever had. Students who camp in summer along the Temagami lakes are able to do two years' work in one. Finest of fishing and hunting. Easy of access by the Grand Trunk Railway System. For information and beautiful descriptive publication sent free apply to F. P. Dwyer, 290 Broadway, New York.

Colby's Summer Home.

Senator Colby has taken a house in the Thousand Islands of the St. Lawrence river, and will make Bluff Island his home for the summer. It is an attractive spot and there is fishing a-plenty and much else to do. Mr. Colby will probably not take much part in the summer campaign this year, although he will miss the interest and excitement. He has been constantly engaged in politics for a year now and wants some rest. Last year he had a cottage near Seabright, but saw little of it during his campaign, and preferred a place further removed from excitements and interruptions. The Senator will have a number of Jerseymen as neighbors, including William Riker, of Orange, clerk of the Supreme Court.—Newark Call.

Bertwhistle Got His Shoes.

Jimmey Bertwhistle, the fast left fielder of the Plainfield nine, got a handsome pair of patent leather shoes from M. C. VanArsdale, the East Front street shoe dealer, Saturday night, for knocking out a home run in the game against the Cuban Stars. Jimmey says he is going to stock up on shoes for the next three years at Mr. VanArsdale's expense. He is the heaviest hitter on the team and may do as he says. It was the first home run of the season, and consequently the first time Mr. VanArsdale was called on to meet his offer of footwear for four-base hits.

Her Escort Was Thumped.

The sharp, piercing cries of a woman yelling "help!" "murder!" and "police!" about 11 o'clock Saturday night, alarmed Scotch Plains and drew a crowd to the corner of Barth and Park avenues. A much excited woman was trying to prevent her escort from following another man, whom they claimed had walked up behind them and hit the man in the jaw, knocking out three teeth. The alleged assailant made good his escape. The escort said he knew him and would square up accounts.

Cared for Judge Barrett.

Judge George C. Barrett, whose funeral took place at the Church of the Transfiguration yesterday, was probably the most notable of the justices of the Supreme Court of New York, having been on the bench since 1871. For the past two summers he has been at Saratoga under the care of Dr. F. W. Carnwell, of this city, who also spent the winter of 1904-05 with him in Florida. The judge had many warm friends in Plainfield.

He Left Town.

Harry Winters was arrested for panhandling Saturday. Judge Runyon suspended sentence yesterday morning, in the City Court, on his promise to steer clear of the town hereafter.

Plainfield, N. J., June 12, 1906.

A Chicago man, thirty-eight years of age, with no apparent cause, has suddenly recovered his speech after having been dumb since an attack of fever in his seventeenth year. Perhaps, after a perusal of the stock yard revelations, the impulse to give audible expression to his feelings became irresistible.

The Daily Press acknowledges the receipt of additional contributions for the poor widow, who, as told in this paper on Friday, must support three children though she is afflicted with a lingering disease. "Friend of Humanity" sends five dollars and the Epworth League of the First M. E. church ten dollars, and Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., one dollar, making the total to date thirty dollars.

JOURNALISTIC OPINIONS

Mayor Fagan on "Politics."

To many of those in the audience at last Friday night's Colby meeting here it must have been amusing to hear Mayor Fagan describing the dangers to State and municipal government that attend the management of public affairs by "politicians." He declared that the failure of all citizens to attend primaries invariably resulted in the different offices being controlled by politicians and such control in the eyes of the speaker seemed to be the worst thing that could happen to a State or city. To hear the speech one would suppose that Fagan was absolutely proof against the wiles and snares of latter-day politics; that the word had no place in his official make-up and that he was familiar with it only from having studied its meaning solely with a view to saving the citizens of Jersey City from the depredations attending its injection in their affairs. The amusing phase of this portion of the speech was in the fact that those who have followed the management of Jersey City's government by Fagan know that never in its history was it so thoroughly permeated with politics of the most practical kind. It has been a political government pure and simple. Fagan has demonstrated that he can play politics more persistently, consistently and we might add cleverly that the most consummate politicians of either the Democratic or Republican machine in that city. The police, fire and water departments, the liquor dealers and every branch of the city government are forced to furnish grist for his political mill and every department is honeycombed with useless offices and sinecures established for men who do nothing but draw salaries and attend to the detail work for primaries and elections. Fagan and Record have taught the old-time politicians of Hudson county tricks they never dreamed of in the line of audacious and in some respects degrading manipulation of public affairs for political purposes and that they are able to have their speeches on the dangers of political government regarded seriously is one of the wonders of this summer campaign.—Summit Record.

FRISCO RECTOR THANKS HOLY CROSS FOR CHECK

LETTER TELLS OF THE TEERIBLE CATASTROPHE AT GOLDEN GATE.

In appreciation for the money contribution by the Holy Cross church for the benefit of St. Paul's church, of San Francisco, Rev. George A. Warner, the rector, has received this letter from Rev. W. M. Reilly, rector of St. Paul's church:

"Your letter came yesterday and enclosed in it a substantial token of the sympathy of your people and yourself. Accept our heartfelt thanks. St. Paul's church, though it escaped the fire yet suffered to the extent of $2,500—by the earthquake. The Bishop has promised to give me $800, the amount required to replace the stones which were thrown out of the front of the church. I do not yet know where we shall get money for interior repairs. The plastering is all cracked and a great deal of it down. Our people have lost everything and can do nothing either for repairs or parish support. In order to lessen expenses I am going to give up my house and move into the Sunday-school room on the first of June.

"But few people in the East can form a conception of the terrible calamity that has befallen us. The earthquake was awful, hardly a building escaped damage, while most of our costly and beautiful churches were completely wrecked. Then the fire followed. Fire broke out almost instantly in several places and owing to the water pipes having been broken by the earthquake, the firemen were helpless. The fire raged for three days and nights and until four hundred and fifty blocks of buildings were burned.

"The fire came within seven blocks of St. Paul's church. We were ordered out of our homes by the soldiers and slept one night out by the ocean under the stars. We left our house at is was, only taking with us the parish books, the communion vessels, some of the vestments, and a beautiful processional cross that was dedicated on Easter Day. Of course, we took also a roll of blankets. It was with great joy that we learned that the fire was under control and returned to find everything just as we left it.

"It was a great mercy that the earthquake took place when it did, 5:13 a. m., as had it come later when people filled the streets, thousands or rather tens of thousands would have been killed. Though the outlook seems dark, indeed, I purpose to remain here at my post. Two days after the earthquake a friend came over from Oakland in an auto to take us to his home there, but I refused to go, and that very night a poor man came to task me to officiate at the funeral of his father, who died from shock. He had spent the early part of the day trying to get a coffin for his father, but not one was to be had as all had been burned, so he himself, though not a carpenter, had to make one out of some rough boards and cover it with black muslin. He then sought a clergyman, but was unable to find one till he was directed to my home. This is but one of the many sad duties I have had to perform during the past four weeks. I have had more funerals and baptisms since the earthquake than in any like period during the twelve or more years I have been rector of St. Paul's church. So I have determined to remain here and be of what service I can. Thanking you again and asking you to thank your people for their generous contribution to our needs, I am,

"Yours very faithfully,
"W. M. Reilly."

MONEY FOR SETON HALL.

College Will Announce the Receipt of $35,000 to Pay Indebtedness.

South Orange, June 12.—One of the gratifying features of the golden jubilee of Seton Hall College, which will begin today, will be the announcement that $35,000 has been raised during the year toward clearing off the debt of $65,000 on the college. The appeal for funds this year was the first the college has made since the buildings were destroyed by fire twenty yeads ago. The jubilee today will begain with a mass for deceased alumni, which will be celebrated by Bishop John J. O'Connor in the Chapel of the Immaculate Conception. The chapel has been redecorated by the alumni at an expense of $4,000.

A reception, given by the faculty, will follow the mass, and then will come the alumni breakfast, at which the speakers will be John D. Kernan, of New York, one of the first graduates of the college; former United States Senator James Smith, Jr., of New Jersey; Monsignor Charles J. Kelly, of Hoboken; Bishop Bernard J. McQuaid, of Rochester, who was the first president of the college, and Bishop James A. McFaul, of Trenton.

Riverside, June 12.—After six years' service Professor James H. Wilson ceases to be supervising principal of the public schools here, and his friends declare that his dismissal is due to his activity as a member of the Law and Order Society. Theodore Green, of Rockaway, has been chosen to succeed Professor Wilson at the reopening of the schools in the fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brokaw and Mrs. J. K. VanArsdale, formerly of this place, passed through town yesterday on an automobile trip from Rocky Hill, where they had spent Sunday to their home in New York.

FIVE LITTLE GIRLS AID A WORTHY CAUSE.

Present An Entertainment and Net Neat Sum for King's Daughters' Baby Camp.

In sympathy with the cause of the King's Daughters' Baby Camp, five girls, the Misses Helen Woolley, Ethel Runyon, Madeline Streader, Margaret Winn and Helen Roberts, gave an entertainment for its benefit at Miss Roberts' home on Prospect place, last night. An attractive programme was presented before a good sized audience and a neat sum was realized, making the first that has been secured for the purpose in this way this season.

The feature number of the affair was the repetition by request of an original "comedy drama" by the young misses, entitled "Russell's Troubles." It was received with enthusiasm by those in attendance and the young artists were liberally applauded. Two delightful character readings were given by Miss Justine Roberts, of Brooklyn, who is very clever in dialect and has a charming method of expression. Miss Helen Woolley and Miss Helen Roberts contributed two vocal duetts, "Beneath the Oak Tree" and "The Marionette" and the same girls with Miss Streader gave a dumb-bell drill.

The entertainment throughout was greatly enjoyed and may be repeated in the near future.

Boy Hit with Baseball Bat.

Sterling, June 12.—John Newsboinan, ten years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Newsboinan, is suffering from the effects of an accident at a baseball game Saturday. The little bay was standing near the home plate, and as the batter swung at the ball he accidentally hit young Newsboinan with the bat a little above the eye. The boy was knocked senseless, and was taken to Dr. K. McGrath's office, where several stitches were required to sew up the wound.

Festival at Christian Church.

A successful ice cream and strawberry festival was held at the Christian church, last night, under the auspices of the women of the church. The affair was held on the lawn, which was brilliantly lighted with Japanese lanterns and electric lights. The patronage was liberal and before 10 o'clock everything was sold out. The festival will be repeated Wednesday night, June 20. Among those in charge last night were Mrs. William C. Smith, Mrs. Sarah Summers, Mrs. John Naylor and Mrs. William Townley and several others.

GOTHAM'S AMUSEMENTS

"The Social Whirl" at the Casino, New York, has an extremely novel finale. The scene represents the steeplechase course of the Bronxville Hunt Club. Upon the result of a race in which women members of the club are riders depends the success and happiness of most of the characters in the play. The heroine, played by Adele Ritchie, is mounted on the favorite, a mare named "The Belle of Kentucky." The race proper is not seen by the audience, being excitedly described in music and action by the players who are gathered near the "hedge jump" at the finish line. At the critical moment rapid hoof beats are heard in the wings and then The Belle of Kentucky, with Miss Ritchie gracefully astride, soars clear of the five-foot barrier and lands painting in the centre of the stage. This is quite a feat considering that 100 persons are on the stage and it might result disastrously for some, if Miss Ritchie was not a skillful horsewoman.

Bernhardt's most successful American tour will end with an engagement of three performances at the Lyric theatre, New York, on June 12 and 13, when she will give one performance of "Camile" and two of a composite bill including Act II of "Hamlet" Act III of "From Frou," Act II of "L'Aiglon," and Act IV of "La Sorciere." The great French actress will sail for home on June 14.

DeWolf Hopper will play "Happyland" another year. The Ranken-DeKoven comic opera de luxe has proved the best medium for exploitation of Hopper humor that he has had since "Wang." Marguerite Clark will remain the comedian's leading woman another season after which she will be featured by the Shuberts in a new musical comedy to be written especially for her.

Date for "Fox Hll Fair."

Califon, June 12.—The Fairmount Methodist Episcopal church has chosen September 5 and 6 for its biennial fair and harvest home. Probably no church fair is more widely known than the Fairmount church fair, or, as it is commonly called, the Fox Hill fair. The fair, while it is known as a biennial fair, is in fact an annual event, being held alternately under the auspices of the Fairmount Presbyterian and Fairmount Methodist Episcopal churches.

State Sues Captain Casto.

An After-Dinner Story.

A MASTER OF PAINTING.

Roderick St. Brieuc was half French and half English, speaking both languages with equal facility, and blending in his life a curious mixture of English breeding and French studio ideals, that made him rather a puzzle to those who knew him best.

But the charm and cleverness of his portraits were indisputable, and the fame of these led the beautiful Miss Ormond to sit for him.

The first time that she came he suggested that the portrait might be finished for the following Academy, whereupon she looked rather pleased.

Nevertheless he had unlimited trouble over the very first sketch. The likeness—all very well, but the soul of the thing—absolutely dead. Yet how was a man to put expression into a face that perfectly lacked it? The features were Greek, the coloring exquisite in its delicate, pale, evanescent tints, but the soul was asleep.

St. Brieuc, pacing the floor of his studio after the lady had departed, stopped short with a shrug. "Unless the picture is to be a dead failure, I must make love to her; it is the only way."

There he found no difficulty, having had much experience in Paris and in Rome. He knew the exact moment when Miss Ormond's companion would be far enough away, or absorbed in a book or the dog, knew the exact words that would call up the expression and the tint that he wanted. He was skillful in making manipulations of drapery that suggest caresses. He looked everything and said nothing, and said everything with a manner that belied his words.

She gazed at him with sincere eyes and believed it all. Wooed she had been for her money, admired for her beauty, loved only by men so obviously her inferiors that their devotion she considered an insult. But now, day after day, she opened her soul to this magician,artist, and cunningly he transferred its loveliness to his canvas. And day after day, when she had gone, he stood before his work and exulted: "It will outstrip everything that I have done—that most of my contemporaries have done. It is not once in a century that a man gets a model as I have found—and made!"

On the day of the last sitting, Miss Ormond came late, a little breathless and alone. "We were delayed, and Miss St. John had an important errand," she explained. "She will be here presently. I thought you might like to begin while the light is good."

Somehow the work went badly that day. Perhaps he was over-fastidious in regard to the finishing touches. Certainly her face was rather sad and dull; the eyes seemed appealing, almost frightened; not at all as he wanted them to be. Moreover in his impatience at the way the work was going, the pretty phrases did not come easily, and things grew worse instead of better. At last he put down his manistick and palette, and went to stand before her, with his hands in the pockets of his velveteen jacket.

"What's wrong today?" he asked abruptly. "Are you troubled about anything?"

"Oh, no!" she began, but the tears rose to her eyes and stood there, and her lips trembled so that in a second inspiration came to him, and he kissed her—not once, or twice, but until the quiver became the exquisite smile that he was struggling to represent. Then he drew back a little and looked; she was perfect.

"Julia! Julia!" he murmured softly as he took up his brush.

"It is an ugly name!" she protested, for the pleasure of being contradicted.

After that there was no difficulty with the picture. St. Brieuc decided that another touch to the face would be superfluous, but the hands—the slender, long, white hands, like those of a medieval Madonna—the stood for character, and would repay attention. He went over to place them more exactly, and as she trembled under his touch, and looked up expectantly, he was obliged, though with a reluctance that seemed to him strange, to kiss her again.

"I wonder," she said, smiling happily, "that you have not married long ago."

But the eyes wene bent critically upon his canvas. Yes, he had certainly caught the expression; it could not be improved.

Still, her last words troubled him with a sense that, unless he began speedily to retrench, she might have him bound by a promise, and then—michief! Where was that woman, Miss St. John? What the dickens was keeping her so long?

As he painted the hands, he began to talk—smoothly, smiling, easily—with perfect ease—about the claims of Art, the sacrifices one made for her, the wrongs that were done in her name.

At first Julia Ormond was sympathetic and happily responsive, then she wondered a little, and at last she was silent.

"Do you know," he said at length, with a laugh intended to rob the words of all meaning, "I may get myself hanged some day. Suppose I were to strangle a man—slowly—in order to get exactly his dying expression?"

She sat very still, and her face had lost the look of the portrait, but as he was doing the hands that did not matter. When he spoke again she turned her face to him reluctantly, as if fearful of what she should see. "I think we may call it finished," he was saying. "Will you come and look?"

She came and stood by his side in silence.

"Do you think it will do?" he asked, eager for appreciation.

"es," she said, without interest, and then faced him squarely. "Did you make love to me in order to paint my expression?"

"My dear lady," he began.

"Art is non-moral," she continued, as if repeating a lesson. "Oh I understand — perfectly! Would you mind ringing for my carriage? And ask the footman to come up?"

There was a look on her face that he dared not disobey. When he returned she held out a blank check, with the ink of her name still wet.

"I don't know your terms," she said, "but I suppose you are not a thief. I shall take the portrait with me."

"It is wet," he answered, flushing dark red under her contempt.

"We can manage it."

"But the frame—the exhibition—"

"I do not care to be exhibited," she added quietly—"any further."

He was genuinely alarmed. Any means must serve until he had won his point. He had no other work half so good.

"Julia!"—he held out entreating hands that endeavored to seize hers.

"Don't try that again," she said with curling lips.

Through all his rage, and shame, and determination to exhibit the masterpiece his crowning emotion was the sense of her magnificence in scorn. Paint her again he must and would.

"Julia, by our love, by my love for you," he began. "I swear—"

"Swear by something of more importance," she interrupted.

"My name would be made by this picture—for ever"—he appealed to her generosity.

Her eyes became cruel. "Then let it be posthumous. It won't heart you to wait until you're dead. I shall not destroy the portrait."

He turned away with a a gesture of despair. Perhaps the sight if his bowed head touched her a little; perhaps she heard the approach of the footman. She came swiftly behind him and laid her hand on his arm. "You waked me to love and now you are strangling me. You kissed me often for the sake of your fame. Kiss me once for myself—that I may forget, for a single instant, the rest—and I will be generous."

He shrank away from her at first, and then slowly—almost freafully—he clasped her in his arms and bowed his face to her; his punishment was complete, with the awakening sense that he loved her.

The footman knocked at the door.

"I had intended to ask you to carry this picture down, Bowers," said Miss Ormond composedly, drawing on her gloves, "but I have changed my mind."

"Miss St. John has just arrived and asks if she shall wait in the carriage?" said the man.

"Yes, I am coming down at once," she replied.

As she turned to St. Brieuc she saw the fragments of her check fluttering to the floor.

"I shall send you another by post," she said quietly, "and I do not wish you to give me further trouble by destroying it."

"Julia, do you not see—"

"That you think you love me—now—at this moment? What matter for that? Art is your mistress; return to her! Good-by. You art a master of painting, but—not a man at all! And so your penitence is of no use. You cannot make yourself a man. Goodby!"

The success of Miss Ormond's portrait was bitter enough to the artist, his regret for that other picture that might, but for his folly, have been his to do, was a sting even deeper; but the pain at his heart which gave him no peace day and night was harder to bear, and led finally to his suicide at the age of 39.

His masterpiece, the portrait of Miss Julia Ormond, has lately been placed in one of the national galleries.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

MRS. APPLEGATE WELL AGAIN!
"I have had a bruised leg and foot for several years, caused by the brass eyelets of my shoe, which became very sore and painful especially at night. It itched, burned and ached me till it nearly set me crazy. I used everything I found and was suggested to ease it and nothing gave me any relief till I found and applied Azienza Cream which I think is a wonderful remedy for all sores and inflammation of the skin. The hard knots on my legs were as painful as bee stings, with discolored and purple spots. A running sore on my instep size of a half-dollar; the top of my foot a seething sore clean around to my heel. The bone was sore for a whole year and very painful. I used five and one-half jars of Azienza Cream and healed the sore all up. The foot remained tender and I continued to use to strengthen and toughen the skin until now it is entirely well." (Signed) Mrs. Hannah Applegate, Evergreen Ave., Avon, N. J., Sept. 3rd, 1905. 50 cents. Ask the druggist or by mail. Azienza Specialties Co., Jersey City, N. J.

THE SPENDERS

By HARRY LEON WILSON

Copyright, by Lothrop Publishing Company.

"That's right," said Billy Brue, with the quick sympathy of the experienced. "That guy that doped me, he wa'n't satisfied with my good $30 wad. Not by no means! He had to go take my breastpin nugget from the Early Bird."

At 11 o'clock the next morning Mauburn waited in Mrs. Drelmer's drawing-room for the news sae might have.

When that competent person sailed in, he saw temporary defeat written on her brow. His heart sank to its low level of the night before.

"Well, I saw the creature," she began, "and it required no time at all to reach a very definite understanding with her. I had feared it might be rather a delicate matter, talking to her at once, you know—and we needed to hurry—but she's a woman one can talk to. She's made heaps of money, and the poor thing is society-mad—so afraid the modish world won't take her at her true value—but she talked very frankly about marriage—really she's cool-headed for all the fire she seems to have—and the short of it is that she's determined to marry some one of the smart men here in New York. The creature's fascinated by the very idea."

"Did you mention me?"

"You may be sure I did, but she'd read the papers, and, like so many of these people, she has no use at all for an Englishman without a title. Of course I couldn't be too definite with her, but she understood perfectly, and she let me see she wouldn't hear of it at all. So she's off the list. But don't give up. Now, there's—"

But Mauburn was determinedly downcast.

"It's uncommon handsome of you, Mrs. Drelmer, really, but we'll have to leave off that, you know. If a chap isn't heir to a peerage or a city fortune there's no getting on that way."

"Why, the man is actually discouraged. Now you need some American pluck, old chap. An American of your age wouldn't give up."

"But, hang it all! an American knows how to do things, you know, and like as not he'd nothing to begin with, by Jove! Now I'd a lot to begin with, and here's it's all taken away."

"Look at young Bines. He's had a lot taken away, but I'll wager he makes it all back again and more, too, before he's 40."

"He might in this country; he'd never do it at home, you know."

"This country is for you as much as fo' him. Now, there's Augusta Hartong—those mixed-pickle millionaires, you know. I was chatting with Augusta's mother only the other day, and if I'd only suspected this—"

"Awfully kind of you, Mrs. Drelmer, but it's no use. I'm fairly played out. I shall go to see Miss Bines, and have a chat with her people, you know."

"Now, for heaven's sake, don't make a silly of yourself, whatever you do! Mind, the girl released you of her own accord!"

"Awfully obliged. I'll think about it jolly well, first. See you soon. Good-by!" And Mauburn was off.

He was reproaching himself. "That poor girl has been eating her heart out for a word of love from me. I'm a brute!"

CHAPTER XXVI.

THE GOD IN THE MACHINE.

Uncle Peter next morning was up to a late breakfast with the stricken family. Percival found him a trifle less bitter, but not less convinced in his despair. The young man himself had recovered his spirits wonderfully. The utter collapse of the old man, always so reliant before, had served to fire all his latent energy. He was now voluble with plans for the future; not only determined to reassure Uncle Peter that the family would be provided for, but not a little anxious to justify the old man's earlier praise, and refute his calumnies of the night before.

Mrs. Bines, so complacent overnight, was the most disconsolate one of the group. With her low tastes she was now regarding the loss of the fortune as a calamity to the worthy infants of her own chosen field.

"And there, I had promised to give $5,000 to the new home for crippled children, and $5,000 to St. John's Guild for the floating hospitals this summer—just yesterday—and I do declare, I just couldn't stay in New York without money, and see those poor babies suffer."

"You couldn't stay in New York without money, Mrs. Good-thing," said her son—"not even if you couldn't see a thing; but don't you welsh on any of your plans—we'll make that ten thousand good if I have to get a sandbag, and lay out a few of these lads around here some dark night."

"But anyway you can't do much to relieve them. I don't know but what it's honester to be poor while the authorities allow such goings on."

"You have the makings of a very dangerous anarchist in you, ma. I've seen that for some time. But we're an honest family all right now, with the exception of a few properties that I'll have to sit up with nights—sit right by their sick beds and wake them up to take their meds every half hour—"

"Now, my son, don't you get to going without your sleep," began his mother.

"And wasn't it lucky about my sending that note to George," said Psyche. "Here in this morning's paper we find he isn't going to be Lord Casselthorpe, after all. What could I have done if we hadn't lost the money?" From which it might be inferred that certain people who had declared Miss Bines to be very hard-headed were not so far wrong as the notorious "casual observer" is very apt to be.

"Never you mind, sis," said her brother, cheerfully, "we'll be all right yet. You wait a little, and hear Uncle Peter take back what he's said about me. Uncle Peter, I'll have you taking off that hat of yours every time you get sight of me, in about a year."

He went again over the plans. The income from the One Girl was to be used in developing the other properties; the stock ranch up on the Bitter Root, the other mines that had been worked but little and with crude appliances; the irrigation and land improvement enterprises, and the big timber tracts.

"I got something of an idea of it when Uncle Peter took me around summer before last, and I learned a lot more getting the stuff together with Coplen. Now, I'm ready to buckle down to it." He looked at Uncle Peter, hungry for a word of encouragement to soothe the hurts the old man had put upon him.

But all Uncle Peter would say was: "That sounds very well," compelling the inference that he regarded sound and substance as phenomena not necessarily related.

"But give me a chance, Uncle Peter. Just don't jump on me too hard for a year!"

"Well, I know that country. There's big chances for a young man with brains—understand?—that has got all the high-living nonsense blasted out of his upper levels—but it takes work. You may do something—there are white blackbirds—but you're on a nasty piece of roadbed—curves all down on the outside—wheels flattened under every truck, and you've had her down in the corner so long I doubt if you can even slow up, say nothin' of reversin'. And think of me gettin' fooled that way at my time of life," he continued, as if in confidence to himself. "But then, I always was a terrible poor judge of human nature."

"Well, have your own way; but I'll fool you again, while you're coppering me. You watch, that's all I ask. Just sit around and talk wise about me all you want to, but watch. Now, I must go down and get to work with Fouts. Thank the Lord, we didn't have to welsh either, any more than Mrs. Give-un there did."

MAN AND HIS WAYS.

What is the tonneau on an automobile? Oh, that is the part of the car a pedestrian lands in when you throw up in the air instead of going over him.—Yonkers Statesman.

The tramp wha was arrested in New York for kicking an American flag along the street has probably been reading some of the sensational magazine articles on national corruption and has taken them seriously.—Washington Star.

The Emperor of China rises at 4 o'clock in the morning to study English and Manchu before breakfast, which meal is at 5. He makes up for this output of energy, however, by retiring to bed at sunset.—Tit Bits.

J. D. McFall, of Wichita, Kan., has had half of a grapeshot removed from his right leg. The ball entered his limb at the battle of Shiloh, on April 6, 1862—forty-four years ago. The ball was plit in two at the time it entered his leg and it weighed nearly a pound. After carrying this shot around all these years it began to hurt him for the first time recently.—Detroit News.

Emerson B. Nichols, of Lehman, near Wilkesbarre, and Miss Lottie J. Schoenerr, of Reading, two deaf mutes, married recently after a courtship which brought considerable romance into their lives. The bride was a pupil at the Philadelphia Institute for the Deaf and Dumb, and Nichols was employed there as a carpenter. When they met last September it was a case of love at first sight. Nichols said the officers at the institution tried to discourage it in every way, and when he desired to go to Reading with Miss Schoenerr, at Easter, they told him he would be discharged if he followed her. He followed, nevertheless, and the two were married by the Rev. L. Lindenstruth, a Lutheran minister. He gave them copies of the marriage service to read, then wrote the questions, and they answered in writing.—Philadelphia North American.

Love is a panic; do not expect it to clear up the dishes and carry them home. Love is all right while it lasts, and can be depended upon, but we have such sentimental notions on the subject that we demand a great deal of it after it is dead. When a man dies his body is buried, and we expect no more of him, but it too often happens that after love is dead we expect as much of it as ever. The trouble with love is the sentiment surrounding it; it is a very serious thing while it lasts, and sweeps everything before it, but after it is over there is nothing but harmless ashes. Women make more of the ashes than men do; we have known a woman to soundly abuse a man while telling him she loves him. A quarrel extinguishes love as surely as water extinguishes fire. Let an angry woman say a cutting thing to a man she pretends to love and he will never love her again.—Atchison Globe.

Laughter and Tears.

The little boy came out of the room in which his father was tacking down a carpet. He was crying lustily.

"Why, Tommy, what's the matter?" asked his mother.

"P-p-papa hit h-h-his finger with the h-h-hammer,' answered Tommy.

"Well, you should not cry at a think like that," said his mother. "Why didn't you laugh?"

"I-I did," sobbed Tommy.—Judge's Magazine for Fun.

DIAMOND DUST.

The Norwood A. C. defeated the Imperials by a score of 14 to 4 on Hope Common, yesterday. Russell Miller and W. Coyle was the battery for the Norwoods and Ricketts and Schenck for the Imperials. Teams averaging 14 years, desiring games, will communicate with W. Dorthy, manager for the Norwoods, 78 Sandford avenue.

The following will probably be seen on the Plainfield High School baseball team next year: Mahaffey, pitcher; Loizeaux, catcher; Douglass, first base; Van Deventer, second base; Brakeley, Flanders, Doane and Harding, outfielders, all of this year's successful aggregation. There will also be a large number of candidates from the lower classes to pick from for open positions. The prospects are unusually bright and with good coaching the school will have a good team. No manager or captain has as yet been elected, but Douglass, Brakeley and Van Deventer, who are upper classmen, are likely candidates for the position. Henry Pound, this year's manager, will undoubtedly be chosen to manage next year's nine. There is some talk that Stuart and Howard Freeman may return next year for post-graduate courses and in that event will again be seen on the team, as each of them has played but three years.

Some Plainfield fans hardly realize the fact that the town is represented by the strongest team in the State and has yet to be defeated this season. Manager Daab's team stands at the top of the list as the appended table of records will show without a single defeat, to say nothing of the remarkable record of the team at Hoboken in its Sunday games. In this summary is included the records of the Lackawanna League teams.

Club.	Won.	Lost.
Plainfield	9	0
Morristown	6	1
Elizabeth Stars	7	3
Chatham	5	2
Somerville	4	1
Westfield	5	3
Dover	3	4
Irvington	3	4
Summit	2	5
Orange	2	5

With such a record there should be no cause for knocking. Get out and root for the team.

It's just what the fans of any of the above named towns would do if they had such a team.

There was a good deal of crowing over the wonderful performances of the Westfields before Plainfield was represented by a semi-professional team. Why not now?

Brother Charlie Dixon was pretty well upset over those three defeats thrust on the "World's Champions" by the Chicagos last week. The fact of Mathewson getting chased from the box in the 19 to 0 Massacre was the biggest jar the former official scorer experienced in his B. B. career.

"Warry" Mc Laughlin is keeping up his fast work for the New London team and in addition to his gilt-edged twirling he is hitting the ball in tornado style and is rated as one of the most reliable hitters on the nine.

Sunday was blue Sunday among the independent players in New York and Brooklyn who were compelled to lay off because of the law's interference. Pete Cregan enjoyed his holiday watching the game from the bench in Hoboken.

The presence of Lou Wiltse on the Somerville team should result in saturating a sufficient quantity of spunk or nerve into the management of the West End team to get on a series with Plainfield.

Goodman, the Columbia second bagger, who took Kid Brogan's place in Saturday's game, looks to be every inch of a ball player. He goes after everything in sight whether he gets it or not. He shows the proper spirit which is one of the virtues in the make-up of a ball player the spectators like to see.

Hurrah, McGrath, Hank Mathewson, and the All National outfit won a game Sunday. It all happened in New Rochelle.

Heffron is beginning to hit the ball. He has acquired the art of getting free passes and when it comes to counting up the runs in a game he is there with the rest of the crew.

As the Manhattan Beach team has decided to play all of its games away from the shore Saturdays it is possible Lindeman, Driscoll and Company will be seen on Crescent Oval before the season is over. It would be a good test of strength of the respective teams.

"Red" Waller is back into his old time form and is pitching fast ball for Bridgeport and the Elizabeth Stars on Sundays. He pitched an eighteen inning contest recently in New Haven but lost by the score of 2 to 1. Pitching for New Haven was Corcoran. Each twirler struck out ten men.

Sammy Hope was ripe as a red cherry Sunday and was a puzzle throughout the game to the Hobokens. On the other hand Deegan was hit freely, which coupled with some punky playing at critical stages, resulted in the loss of the game.

"Dave" Driscoll has caught on with Chatham and played his initial game with the Lackawanna leaguers Saturday. He accepted ten chances without an error.

"Happy Pete" Kiernan, who is out of the game owing to a bad attack of blood poisoning, is improving and is hopeful of getting back again before the season ends.

"Wally" Cosgrave, the former center fielder of the Plainfields, is naturally very jubilant over the Princeton team winning the intercollegiate championship. Cosgrave is well up in all of the fine points of the game and now can be reckoned as one of the most successful coaches in the country or college world. Now that the college season is ended Cosgrave will doubtless fill in his time during the summer playing in the Vermont State league or on independent teams in and around New York.

With the edict enforced against Sunday baseball in New York, Billy Brady's Manhattan Beach baseball venture is considered a lemon. A small crowd witnessed the Saturday game two weeks ago and for that reason the management has decided to travel on that day.

GOLF.

There are two specially big events for women in golf this week that will afford opportunity for more good golfing of the order displayed last week at the Nassau Country Club. The first competition for feminine golfers held in some years at the Ardsley Club is announced for Friday. It will be an eighteen hole medal contest, best gross and best net prizes for all members of the Women's Metropolitan Golf Association. The first invitation tournament for women at the Huntingdon Valley Country Club begins today and continues throughout the week.

One of the notable contests of the Princeton year, the sixth annual golf match between the graduates and undergraduates, resulted this year in a victory for the undergraduates, by a score of 23 to 22. Plainfield was represented on both teams. J. Whitney Baker, '04, who was 5 up on his opponent, and Dudley H. Barrows, who was 11 up on his opponent.

Nearly all of the golf clubs east of the Mississippi are represented in the Freight Traffic Golf Association, which will hold its summer tournament next week at the Fox Hills Golf Club.

The weekly competition for the Golf Committee cup at the Plainfield Country Club continues to be full of interest. Edward J. Patterson, who held first position, is now in second place, Edward A. Stevenson having won first place with a total of eight points. There are seventeen players who have won from a half point to eight points and all are pretty close together. The standing for the cup to date is as follows:

E. A. Stevenson	8
E. J. Patterson	6
H. W. Beebe	5
L. A. Chase	4½
C. A. Stover	4
W. B. Tyler	3
H. D. Hibbard	3
E. B. Shoemaker	2½
F. O. Reinhart	2
Arthur Peck	2
W. L. Glenney	1½
Alex. Gilbert	1½
W. D. Riggs	1½
C. B. Morgan	1
J. A. Lane	1
S. H. Patterson	1
D. W. Taylor	½

The Junior Endeavor Society of the Congregational church will have its annual picnic Saturday morning. Chimney Rock will be the destination, starting from the trolley terminus at 8:15. In the event of rain, it will be held a week later.

Mrs. Isabelle Charles Davis, former secretary of the King's Daughters' Union, will speak to the Missionary and Aid Society of Warren shapel Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. This is the last meeting of the season and all outsiders are cordially invited to hear Mrs. Davis.

—William Jockel, of Newark, accompanied by his six-year-old boy, was struck by a Blue Line flyer while attempting to cross the New Jersey Central tracks at Spring street, Elizabeth, Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock. The man was removed to the Elizabeth General Hospital, where he died a half-hour later. The boy was uninjured.

CAPTAIN MARTIN MADE HIGH SCORE IN MATCH.

Second Best Individual Mark in Rifle Team Match at Newark.

The First Regiment, Newark, and Fourth Regiment, Jersey City, won out in the team matches with Co. K, of this city, at the First Regiment Armory, Newark, Saturday night. The Plainfielders not having practiced to an extent were not in condition to go up against the Newark and Jersey City cracks and they made the lowest score, a total of 842.

It was a three cornered shoot in which the crack marksmen of Companies I, C and K were selected to shoot, standing and prone. The Newark riflemen managed to shoot the steadier and excelled in scoring on each target. The Fourth Regiment sharpshooters made a fair showing, but their work was not up to standard attained in previous matches in Newark. Co. C was a strong favorite and was picked by many to win inasmuch as it has been invincible for years in indoor shooting. Captain Martin made a fine score for the Second Regiment, finishing second to Private O'Hare. The former made a score of 94 against 96 for O'Hare.

Col. Hine Names Officers.

Col. Edwin M. Hine, of the Fifth Regiment, New Jersey National Guard, made yesterday the following appointments of officers in his regiment: Quartermaster, Louis R. Cowdrey, of Passaic; Paymaster, Frank S. Delonde, of Englewood; Regimental Commissary, C. S. Squires, of Orange; Judge Advocate, John Leavitt Griggs, and Dudley S. Van Antwerp, William P. Lennan and Edward M. Slocomb, Jr., as commissary officers for the three battalions. These appointments are provided for under the provisions of the new military bill, which conforms to Federal requirements.

Autos Twice Scare Horse.

New Providence, June 12.—John Peck, a groceryman of this place, owns a horse which, through its fear of automobiles, caused two accidents in two days. Rufus Sampson was driving up Passaic street Saturday, when an automobile went by, and the horse bolted into a ditch, up a high embankment and into a field. The wagon was upset and Sampson was badly bruised. John Peck was driving the horse himself yesterday to a carriage with Simon Mole. An automobile passed, and again the horse started off on a run. The carriage was overturned in a ditch and the occupants were thrown to the ground. Neither was badly hurt.

Postal's Twenty-year Trip.

Camden, June 12.—A postal card mailed to John F. Harned, a local lawyer, twenty years ago, was received at his office Saturday. The card was left by the letter-carrier in the ordinary manner, notwithstanding the fact that it had turned to pinkish brown and attracted attention. The card was mailed to Mr. Harned on June 2, 1886, and the only reason the lawyer can give for not receiving it is that it must have rested in such a position in the box that the collectors failed to discover it. The postal was written by N. W. Pulsifer, Philadelphia, who has been dead over ten years.

THE FIRE CHIEFS JUNKET

Members of State Association See the City and Borough By Auto.

TRIP GREATLY ENJOYED

In Closing Business Session Mandatory Measure for Pay of Department Heads Is Discussed.

Completing all their business and discussions at 4 o'clock, yesterday afternoon, the members of the New Jersey State Fire Chiefs' Association who came to this city for the semi-annual meeting, ended their visit in a pleasure jaunt that was hugely enjoyed by everyone. In eight big automobiles that had been kindly placed at Chief Doane's disposal by local owners, they were taken from one end of Plainfield to the other and in addition a part of the borough and Scotch Plains. They inspected the North Plainfield fire house, the Netherwood pumping station and several other points of interest and left for home sounding the praises of Plainfield and the head of its fire department.

Following the adjournment at noon yesterday, the chiefs repaired to the Hotel Waldorf, where dinner was served and a short social session enjoyed. As honorary guests they had Mayor James F. Buckle, Councilman Frank Randolph, Chief of Police Kiely and Overseer Alex. D. Ayers. Addresses were made by each and also by F. A. Shepperd, of Fire and Water Engineering; H. H. Esterbrook, of the Firemen's Herald, and William Cross, of the Gamewell Fire Alarm Company. Chief Doane, Chief Stagg, of Paterson, and several others responded.

Returning to Exempt Firemen's Hall, several matters were thoroughly discussed, among them the question of advocating a mandatory law regarding the pay of chiefs and the best methods of fighting fires in cities where apparatus is limited. In the former it was stated that Governor Stokes is opposed to mandatory measures because they take authority away from local officials but the point was raised that this is what was done when the Boards for the Equalization of Taxes were appointed. The Boards of Freeholders have nothing to say as to what salaries they shall receive but are compelled to pay them. In the end it was the concensus of opinion that a mandatory measure should be urged.

The local auto owners who kindly contributed machines for the junket are Frank L. C. Martin Company, Morris Brothers, Allen B. Laing, William McCullough and Charles Woolston.

CLAIMS EVICTION ILLEGAL.

Mrs. Jessie Sullivan Sues Kussell Sachar for $300 Damages.

Through her lawyer, F. J. Blatz, Mrs. Jessie Sullivan has brought the most interesting suit started so far in the District Court. She is suing Kussel Sachar for $300 damages, for alleged illegal eviction.

According to the plaintiff's claims she rented the upstairs rooms at 682 West Third street from Samuel Kline, who occupied the lower floor. Sachar got a verdict for possession of the premises in an action against Kline. A day or two later a constable came to the house and put Mrs. Sullivan's goods on the street. It is claimed that she was never served with papers in any act,oni and it is alleged further that Kline's goods were not disturbed, pointing to a settlement of the only action that had been instituted.

The case is set down for next Tuesday. Mrs. Sullivan is a widow.

Groszmann School Exercises.

Miss Woolly received a number of gifts. Those present were the Misses Madeline Strader, Helen Roberts, Edith Richards and Ethel Runyon.

St. Gabriel's Closing Exercises.

The closing exercises of St. Gabriel's Academy will be held at the Park Club, Wednesday afternoon, June 20, at 2 o'clock. Rt. Rev. Mgr. John A. O'Grady, of New Brunswick, will preside.

MISS MINNIE WYMAN IS NOW MRS. KRINEY

NUPTIAL CEREMONY WITNESSED BY 200 FRIENDS AND FRIENDS.

Miss Minnie Wyman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Wyman, of East Front street, and William Richardson Kriney, of West Front street, were married at 7:30 o'clock last night at the home of the bride's parents by Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, of which the bride and groom are both active members. There were about 200 relatives and friends present from Elizabeth, Westfield, Dunellen, Bound Brook, Somerville, Flemington, Neshanic, High Bridge, Englewood, Middle Valley and this city.

The bride was attended by Miss Mary Kriney, sister of the groom, as maid-of-honor; Miss Lydia A. Wyman, sister of the bride, and Miss Mamie Davenport, of this city, as bridesmaids. Frank Marcley, formerly of this city, but now of Summit, was best man, and the ushers were Henry Wyman, brother of the bride, and Harry E. Kenyon, of Dunellen.

The bride was gowned in white silk over white taffeta and carried a bouquet of bride roses. The maid-of-honor's gown was of white swiss and she carried a bouquet of sweet peas. The bridesmaids were gowned in brussels net over white silk and carried bouquets of pink carnations.

While Miss Estelle Boss was playing the wedding march, the bridal party descended the main staircase and entered the parlor. The ushers led the way, followed by the groom and best man, the bridesmaids, maid-of-honor and the bride escorted by her father, who gave her in marriage. The ceremony was performed in front of a solid bank of palms, greens and ferns, arranged in one corner of the parlor. An effective decorative scheme was strings of daisies draped from the chandeliers to the sides of the room.

Congratulations followed the ceremony and then supper was served. The home was beautifully decorated with greens, ferns and flowers, every room being attractively arranged. The main stircase was completely covered with flowers, allowing just enough room for the bridal party to descend, and the scheme was much admired.

The bride received a very large number of gifts, consisting of cut-glass, silverware, linen and furniture. A special gift was from the choir of Trinity Reformed church, of which the bride has been a member for a long time. The gift was a Morris rocking chair.

Mr. and Mrs. Kriney left Plainfield on the 9:30 o'clock train, with the good wishes of everyone, to enjoy a honeymoon. They were showered with rice, while a large painted sign of muslin bore the announcement, "Just married." This was attached to the coach which carried the couple to the railroad station. Upon their return they will reside on East Sixth street, where the groom has a new house completely furnished and awaiting them.

THREE-STORY ADDITION TO GIRLS' SEMINARY

PLANS PROVIDE FOR MAIN ENTRANCE ON ARLINGTON AVENUE.

Owing to the growth in attendance at the Plainfield Seminary, it has been decided to build an addition to the building on West Seventh street, as told in The Daily Press yesterday, and work will be started at once so that it can be completed for the fall term. The new addition will be three stories high and will be constructed at the back of the present building. This arrangement will provide for seven extra rooms, one for the primary department, a large room to be used as a gymnasium, new dressing rooms, additional recitation rooms, an office and a new stairway.

The plans have been prepared by Frank Stimson, a nephew of Miss E. E. Kenyon, who is in the office of MacKim, Mead & White, New York. Mr. Holske, of New York, is the supervising architect.

By the new arrangements the entrance to the seminary will be from Arlington avenue, instead of West Seventh street, as at present. There are now ten rooms used for school purposes at the seminary and with the new rooms there will be a total of seventeen, which allow for even better work than this excellent school has been doing. John Abbott has the contract for the work.

Justice Snape's Court.

Judgment for $56 was rendered against Charles Drake, in favor of Lewis Brock, in a contract action before Justice Snape yesterday. F. J. Blatz appeared for the plaintiff.

SENIORS' FLAG HAULED DOWN BY FRESHMEN

IN CONSEQUENCE PITCHED BATTLE ENSUES AMONG STUDENTS.

Within a few minutes after it had been defiantly flung to the breeze from the staff on the Somerset school, this morning, the emblem of the Senior class was ignominiously hauled down and confiscated by five Freshmen. According to time-honored custom an action of this kind cannot be tolerated by the graduating students and there was a concerted rush for the captors, Harry Smith, Clarence Steiner, Lester Hamilton, George Bailey and Arthur VanArsdale. Though outnumbered two to one, they put up a valiant fight and in the end succeeded in getting away with the coveted flag. It was taken to the Park Club, where the class exercises are to be held tonight, and again unfurled but so badly marked by the Freshmen that it could not be told from the ribbons of a Mongolian junk.

In order to get the emblem, two of the captors had to remain in the attic of the school all night and emerged from their hiding places immediately after the Seniors had trooped down stairs and locked the door leading to the cupola. It is the first time in several years that the older students have failed to keep their flag on the school staff and as a result joy is rampant among the Freshmen today.

COLBY MASS MEETING HAS BEEN ARRANGED

WILL BE HELD NEXT TUESDAY, WITH SENATOR COLBY CHIEF ORATOR.

The Colby mass meeting will be held at the New Plainfield theatre next Tuesday night. Arrangements for the event have been made by County Chairman Runyon.

Senator Colby will come down from the Thousand Islands especially to speak at that meeting. It is probable that Mayor Mark Fagan will also speak, and John S. Gibson, of Newark, who has been bucking the Essex county ring for more than a score of years, may also be here.

There will be music at the meeting. The doors will open at 7 o'clock and the meeting will begin promptly at 8.

Complete and final plans for the meeting will be made by the county committee of the Colby organization at a meeting to be held in Newark tomorrow afternoon and evening. The chairman of the meeting has not yet been chosen.

UNKNOWN MAN KILLED.

Thrown On His Head In Attempting to Board a Coal Train.

The body of an unknown man evidently a Swede or a Dane was brought to this city this morning from Cranford, where he was killed by a New Jersey Central train. It was said that he attempted to jump on a coal car and was thrown on his head. His skull was crushed in, causing probable instant death.

The victim was about thirty years old, six feet tall, smooth faced and sandy haired. His clothing was of good material and consisted of a brown coat, black trousers, heavy laced shoes, white underwear and a new outing cap. In the pockets were a silver watch, a pocket-knife, a pocketbook containing forty cents and a card case with a list of Westfield carpentering firms.

The body is being held at Cole's undertaking rooms and the local and county police are trying to learn the man's identity.

WEALTH COSTS HEALTH

Dr. Norman H. Probasco Points Out the Danger In Money Hunt.

BEFORE A CHURCH CLUB

New Men's Association of Hope Chapel Has Unusually Interesting Programme at First Public Meeting.

Instruction and entertainment marked the first public social meeting of the newly-organized Men's Club of Hope chapel, last night. There were talks on health by physicians, as well as much and refreshments, on the programme.

The affair was a great success. It was largely attended, and the audience manifested great interest and enjoyment all through the evening.

Two talks on health were the features of the programme. Dr. P. B. Cregar spoke on tuberculosis and Dr. Norman H. Probasco read a paper on "Hints to Health."

Dr. Cregar told his audience of the nature of consumption and how it spread. He touched on the care of consumptive patients, and dwelt on the preventative methods. He emphasized the necessity of disposing of the sputum in a sanitary manner, and told how it could be done. His talk was part of the general campaign of education on tuberculosis that is being carried on by doctors all over the State, and restated the different warnings that have been voiced at the several other meetings of the kind in this city during the past few months.

Dr. Probasco's paper was very much in the nature of a general guide to normal health from infancy-hood to old age.

He told the mothers of the care of the child, explaining what the baby's cries meant, and he told the young and the old of both sexes what not to do if they desired a healthful and unracked middle age.

He warned them against hurrying at meals, against worrying over business affairs, and warned them, with especial emphasis, against a frenzied, incessant chase after dollars. A restless, hectic pursuit of money might lead to wealth, he said, but the task would undo those who had a predisposition to pulmonary troubles, and those who had a tendency to stomach ailments would have constant and poignant reminders of the grievous mistake they had made. Their nervous system might be wrecked, leading to melancholia, and then what?

"Never shorten sleep," said the Doctor. "Sleep is Nature's best tonic, and man can make no substitute to compare with it.

"Don't forget that the normal, healthy man is at his prime at 40. Such a man, however, never can have been a great wine-bibber, a glutton, or a sensualist. Learn to study yourself and the needs of your frame, so that you may live happy and healthily."

Piano solos were played by Miss Bertha Jones. Mrs. L. R. Howard sang two songs.

Refreshments were served after the platform programme was ended. Members of the Christian Endeavor Society passed them. David Bowden, chairman of the entertainment committee, presided over the meeting.

REV. ANDREW ARMSTRONG.

Former Local Resident Died at His Home In Avon-by-the-Sea.

Following a lingering illness, Rev. Andrew Armstrong, a former resident of this city and at one time pastor of the South Plainfield Baptist church, died last night at his home in Avon-by-the-Sea. He was ninety-two years old and for more than half a century had been engaged in ministerial work in New Jersey. He was at South Plainfield about sixteen years ago.

He was an uncle to T. S. Armstrong, the local druggist, who left his home last night just a short time before he died. He leaves a sister who lives at Bridgeton and a brother in Oakland, Cal. The funeral and interment will be at Pemberton.

Took Father's Rig.

BOARD'S LAST SESSION IN OLD COURT HOUSE

SOMERST FREEHOLDERS DISPOSE OF COUNTY BUILDINGS FOR $308.

There was business aplenty at the regular meeting of the Somerset County Board of Freeholders in the Court House at Somerville yesterday. It is probably the last time the board will meet in regular session in the old Court House at Somerville.

A petition was presented for the improvement under the State Aid Road Act for the improvement of the road from Liberty Corner, through Martinsville and Chimney Rock, intersecting Union avenue between Somerville and Bound Brook. Filed.

The sale of the old county buildings for $308 was approved, and it was ordered that the old Court House be advertised at public auction to take place June 21 at 2 p. m.

The matter of paying the claim made by William Elitzer for damages to his horse at a bridge in Bernards township was adversely reported.

A resolution was passed, providing for the erection of the Alleine Lord fountain, for which she left $12,000, in the Court House yard.

The board approved the improvement of the road from Bound Brook to Springdale and the road from South Somerville to Millstone under the State Aid Act and authorized that they be surveyed by County Engineer Doughty as soon as the State Road Commissioner consents.

The County Collector was authorized to borrow $20,000 in anticipation of taxes.

The board will meet tomorrow in Bedminister township to inspect bridges.

THINK THEY'VE FOUND MISSING YOUNG WOMAN

REPORT FROM LANCASTER, PA., THAT MISS KUENLEN IS FOUND.

Lancaster Pa., June 13.—A woman answering very closely the description of Miss Helen Kuenlen, daughter of Mrs. Marie Kuenlen, who disappeared suddenly from her home in Plainfield about two months ago, has been located here at the home of Mrs. Mary Melbert. The woman's mind appears to be a blank and she is inclined to seek retirement.

Word has been sent to Mrs. Kuenlen at Plainfield and she is expected to try and identify the woman. The stranger has been seen about Lancaster for two or three days and finally stopped at the home of Mrs. Melbert, who fortunately had heard of the disappearance and recognized a resemblance to the description sent out.

MR. HONEYMAN NOT UNALTERABLY AGAINST UNION

Anti-Annexation Leader Never Opposed to Consoldiation Under All Conditions.

OPEN TO CONVICTION

In Interview, He Says Merger of Municipalities Without County Line Change Is Practicable.

A reporter of The Daily Press called at the office of A. V. D. Honeyman on North avenue this morning, to ask him what he thought of the new movement for consolidation of city and borough. As Mr. Honeyman goes abroad again next week for two months The Daily Press was desirous of securing some statement from him before he leaves. Mr. Honeyman said:

"I am not prepared at present to give my views on the subject of consolidation pure and simple. If a proposition comes up in a business shape, as divorced from any attempt to steal territory from Somerset county, I shall certainly give it thoughtful consideration. Of course I have read, and with more amusement than interest, the statements made through the daily newspapers by ex-Senator Reed and the borough mayor concerning the project. Amusement, because when the movement was up four years ago for annexation it professed to be one wholly based on the desire for the consolidation of the two municipalities, and nearly the whole burden of remark then made in letters or speeches was the importance of a Greater Plainfield. Some of us then knew, what everybody knows now, that the borough mayor and the then Senator desired annexation above everything else, and never expected to lend a helping hand toward consolidation. The latter would wipe out the local offices held by these gentlemen, and whoever knew of a political officeholder voluntarily relinguishing his office? In other words, everything possible was to be done to get North Plainfield out of Somerset county in order that these two astute politicians might get their hands upon new loaves and fishes, and secure a political standing in a larger and richer county, especially as their day in Somerset was well-known to be at an end. Those who really had a Greater Plainfield in mind were simply hoodwinked. Sincere and honest as they were, especially Mr. Saunders, whom everybody knew had at heart a Greater Plainfield, they linked their cause with the Philistines, and very likely lost it upon that account. Nobody will be surprised, therefore, that the mayor and borough counsel do not expect, now or hereafter, to surrender their offices without a desperate struggle to retain them, especially as the mayor has just received a thousand dollar appointment in Somerset county, given him under political terms which the public very generally understands.

"I do not expect to change my mind as to the impropriety, not to say want of wisdom, in transferring a rich portion of territory from Somerset County to Union, but I do not understand that the new movement for consolidation has this in view. If I am rightly informed, the idea is to open up the subject of consolidation on a purely business basis, expecting that county lines will remain as they are. On this subject I am open to reason and to any further light, if such can be given. It may or may not be a wise thing under all the circumstances for the borough and city to vote to consolidate. Those who are looking toward the future growth and welfare of the borough, instead of the advancement of political schemes, ought to treat the subject in a fair and openhanded manner, and I have no doubt they will. Like Dr. Carroll and others, I never was averse to consolidation at all times and under all circumstances. It is a case where the views of the majority should prevail, and there ought to be no party or personal feeling involved in it. That consolidation without disturbance of county lines is perfectly practicable, from both a legal and business point of view, just as in the case of Greater New York, and the still greater city of London, there is no question. When the plan is fully matured, whether it be this year or at some future time, everybody will make up their minds upon it, and act accordingly. For myself, I shall treat the matter without prejudice as to past discussions, or as to any past or present political or personal feelings engendered in the borough."

CITY FATHERS AGREE ON SCHOOL ESTIMATE

TO PUT $73,000 IN TAX BUDGET FOR RUNNING EXPENSES.

Provision was made at the adjourned meeting of the Common Council, last night, to incorporate in the tax budget the $73,000 to be levied and collected for school purposes for the coming year, as reported by the Board of School Estimate. Mr. Daniel, chairman of the finance committee, presented the report of the board stating that it had determined on the sum of $73,000, exclusive of that apportioned by the county superintendent of schools, and then offered an ordinance, which was adopted on first and second readings and ordered advertised.

The ordinance provides that the $73,000 shall be collected the same as other tax money and that upon the final adoption of the ordinance it shall be merged into the regular tax ordinance.

For the purpose of further relieving Richmond street in time of heavy rains, Mr. Gloak had read for the information of the members a proposed ordinance for building an addition to the storm sewer in that section of the city. Accompanying the ordinance was a map showing where it is proposed to extend the sewer. It provides for outlets at East Fourth street, at the New Jersey Central railroad bridge and North avenue, and will be an extension to that sewer recently completed. It is further provided that a public hearing will be held on Monday night, July 2, for the benefit of those wishing to speak for or against the improvements. The expense for this sewer is to be paid out of money received from the general tax, as in the case of the other storm sewer built. It is the purpose of the street and sewer committee to add to this storm sewer from time to time until the east end of the city is properly provided with storm drains to prevent the flooding of property.

Plans are also underway for a similar storm sewer in Plainfield avenue. This matter came up last year, but was finally laid over for the 1906 Common Council. It will probably come up in the course of time.

PLEAD PARTY REFORM AT ASBURY PARK.

Hundred Representative Colby Republicans at Asbury Meeting.

Asbury Park, June 13.—One hundred representative Republicans of Asbury Park and Ocean Grove turned out Monday and listened to the pleas by Mayor Mark Fagan and Corporation Counsel George L. Record for cleaner politic . The meeting was held in the casino of the Grand Avenue Hotel. William H. Bannard, the former Princeton athlete, was made chairman. Those present included Clarence E. F. Hetrick, secretary of the Monmouth County Republican executive committee, and Wesley B. Stout, Everett Foster and J. Edward Wortman, who are members of the same organization and who have announced their belief in the theories advanced by the leaders of "the new movement."

Senator Colby was unable to be present, owing to a recent family afflictel. The principal speaker was George L. Record, who told at length of the corruption in both the Republican and Democratic parties. He outlined the plans of the Colby faction of the Republican party, and urged those present to lend their aid in making that party a power by relegating to the rear the leaders who are controlled by the corporations. He especially urged that the voters insist that candidates for the Legislature announce before election their choice for Senator in Congress.

Mayor Fagan told of the opposition encountered from the Republican leaders in Jersey City when he first attempted to compel the railroads to bear their fair share of the taxes. The Republican party in New Jersey, he charged, was controlled by the giant corporations.

Gardner Colby, of Essex county, was the last speaker. He urged the formation of Republican clubs pledged to the task of driving dishonest leaders from the party.

At the close of the meeting a temporary organization was formed by the selection of Harold B. Ayres as temporary president, and C. E. F. Hetrick, Edward C. Wyckoff, Howard D. Leroy and Jesse Minot as a committee on permanent organization for Monmouth county. Branch organizations are to be formed at once in every town and hamlet in Monmouth county.

Homeopathic Congress at Shore.

Atlantic City, June 13.—What is expected to be an epoch-making event in the medical world is to take place here from September 10 to 15. when the seventh quinquennial International Homeopathic Congress will bei n session, in connection with the American Institute of Homeopathy, for the consideration of reports and papers that will present authoritatively the status of the new school of medical practise founded by Samuel Hahnemann. Dr. Charles Gatchel, of Chicago, the secretary of the International Congress, has the assurance that among the notables who will read papers are Dr. J. Knox Shaw, renowned as a surgeon of the London Homeopathic Hospital; Dr. John H. Clark, author of a dictionary of materia medica; Dr. Dyce Brown, Dr. J. It contains no oil or grease, it will not stain or dye. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Now is teh time to select trees, shrubbery and plants for your grounds. The Beleview Nursery has a full line of each at very low prices.

Ask anyone in the city who has ever traded with him and you will be informed that Fred H. Firstbrook, the Liberty street grocer, has a reputation for fair dealing. He makes it a point to give his customers the very best goods at the very lowest prices and that is one of the reasons for his continued success.

Neuman Brothers, the Watchung avenue grocers, have always made it a point to have large vegetable displays every day in the year and at the present time the assortment at their store is not equalled anywhere in the city. It is replenished by fresh consignments that are brought in regularly and as the firm buys in large lots they are enabled to lower the prices for their customers. Keep these facts in mind when preparing the list for dinner.

Negro Not the Murderer.

Bridgeton, June 13. — Sheriff Hunt, of Howard County, Md., has pronounced the negro in jail not the Al Carter who is wanted in Howard county for the murder of Contractor Rhinehart. Everybody here is puzzled to know why the prisoner confessed being the murderer. His half-witted conditions seems the only explanation.

Church's 194th Anniversary.

Cape May, June 13.—The First Baptist Church Sunday celebrated the 194th anniversary of its establishment. Rev. W. W. Bullock, of Bridgeton, preached the anniversary sermon. BOUND BROOK'S WAY OF CURBING SPEED

MAYOR HOLDS COURT UNDER TREES AND FINES AUTOISTS.

The police force of Bound Brook had a chance to demonstrate its ability Sunday when Mayor Brokaw passed the word to them that automobiles must be made to observe the speed laws. Union avenue has long been made a speedway on Sundays and so many narrow escapes from injury and death have made it necessary to put a stop summarily to fast motoring through the town.

So early in the morning the entire force of seven, under command of Chief Marshal Flammer, gathered on Union avenue and measured off a course where the speeding proclivities of their Sunday visitors could be properly tested. A stout two-inch rope was tied about a tree, and then began the long wait for victims.

Somebody bent on butting-in had notified parties on both sides of the town, and nearly every auto crawled along intent on keeping well within the limit, the occupants good-naturedly pointing at the rope and laughing at the police. No arrests were made in the morning.

But shortly after noon when the cops saw a big French car approaching at a thiry-five mile clip, the stop-watches, warning flag, and the rope across the street did the trick. The auto was occupied by Col. A. R. Kuser, vice president of the Public Service, and a gentleman who strongly resembled one of New Jersey's Senators at Washington.

Mayor Brokaw held court under a tree and the financial arrangement was quickly attended to. The annual Children's Day parade of the Sunday-schools halted long enough to view the novelty and a crowd quickly gathered, and helped watch for more autos. Later several more were gathered in the toils until rain brought an end to the entertainment.

The Mayor and his assistants were incensed that anyone should tip off the expected speeders, and one resident automobilist was threatened with arrest for waving an association flag in the middle of the course, thereby slowing up the offenders and losing to the borough several substantial fines.

COURT GIVES HARD KNOCK TO FAGAN.

Decides Against Jersey City Mayor In Two Suits Against the Public Service.

Trenton, N. J., June 13.—Mayor Fagan, of Jersey City, and his Corporation Counsel, George L. Record, have lost the first of their fights with the Public Service Corporation and its constituent companies.

The Supreme Court held Monday that the suit of Jersey City against the North Jersey Traction Company should not be pressed, because the company's charter is plainly not void, as the city claimed it was.

The court holds legal an act extending the charter, and also that even if this was not the case the company could legally operate under the Traction act.

The Supreme Court also gave a decision holding that a person or corporation liable to franchise tax for the use of the public streets under the Act of 1900 is not liable for a property tax on the same property.

Jersey City claimed the right to tax the properties of the Public Service Corporation. The company, under the Act of 1900, pays a license tax for the right to use the highways. The city claimed the further right to tax the real value of the tracks and rolling stock.

Fifty Bills Await Governor's Action.

Trenton, June 13.—Almost two months have passed since the Legislature adjourned, and the Governor still has in his hands about fifty bills awaiting his action. He gives as a reason for the delay in disposing of these measures that he is giving each of them careful consideration and study before passing upon them. One of the bills being thus considered is Assemblyman Jones' municipal lighting bill, the approval of which is earnestly desired by many citizens, while the interested corporations hope the Governor can see his way clear to veto it.

Woman's Band Makes Hit.

Asbury Park, June 13.—Much interest was taken here Sunday night in the preformance at the Beach Casino of the Navassar Band, composed of women, led by Hans S. Linne. So we did the band acquit itself that it has been engaged to give two concerts at the casino next Sunday, afternoon and evening.

Yerner—The last time I saw Luscher he was bound for Europe. Don't you wish you could travel the way he did?

Bitter—No, he's dead.

Yerner—I know he is now, but—

Bitter—Well, I hope to travel in the opposite direction.

Catching the Idea.

Tommy—Pa, what does it mean to say "people disagree?"

Pa—Well, when people think alike they are said to agree and so when—

Tommy—Oh, I see! When only one people thinks alike he disagrees.

Plainfield, N. J., June 13, 1906.

John D. Rockefeller offers twenty-five cents for every snake killed on his Pocantico Hills estates. What extravagance this must be in the mind of Russell Sage.

The American flag, which is respected today in every quarter of the globe, will be one hundred and twenty-nine years old tomorrow. Let the anniversary of the glorious banner be appropriately observed by unfurling it on every housetop and business property.

On Tuesday night, the people of Plainfield and North Plainfield will have the opportunity of hearing State Senator Everett Colby discuss political conditions in New Jersey. The leader of the reform movement, who has many friends here, will no doubt be greeted by an audience that will tax the capacity of the theatre.

No one will disagree with A. V. D. Honeyman when he says that the question of consolidation of city and borough should be discussed in a fair and open manner, stripped of personalities and practical politics. Consolidation is bound to come sooner or later and the quicker an agreement is reached the better for both Plainfield and North Plainfield.

Car Damages Roselle Station.

Two freight cars jumped the rails of the track leading into the freight-yard at Roselle yesterday morning. The cars left the rail near the freight-house and pounded over the ties and up upon the cement platform. Before the train could be stopped the first car crashed into the station splintering the woodwork and tearing off the tiling of the main platform covering. The damage done to the roof of the station will cost nearly $200 to repair. Just how the accident happened is a mystery. Freight train No. 297 was pulling the two cars from the siding when the rear trucks of the forward car and the front trucks of the second car jumped the track. One of the freight cars was badly damaged. The accident happened at 8 o'clock.

Weakfish Biting.

Weakfish have commenced biting off Boynton Beach. On Sunday, June 10, George Cladek, of Rahway, reported the first catch and Dick Lewis, of Newark, brought in three nice ones. As far as can be ascertained these are the first catches of the season. The Boat House at Boynton Beach claims supremacy over all this year, boasting a new pier, splendid sleeping accommodations for all, restaurant and excellent table space. A prosperous season is looked for.

Mrs. William Scribner, of West Front street, is spending sometime at Lake Pleasant, N. Y.

Elmer Hale, of South McAllister, Indian Territory, who has been a student at John Leal's School, left this morning for his home. He will probably return here next fall and continue his studies.

LIBRARY REPORT RECEIVED BY COUNCIL

NUMBER OF VOLUMES ON THE SHELVES NOW 24,118.

Among the communications received at the adjourned meeting of the Common Council, last night, was one from the Board of Trade regarding the subject of permanent pavement for the business section of the city, as reported extensively at the time of the Board of Trade meeting. The report was in the nature of a suggestion, the board asking the Common Council to consider the qestion favorably. The report made reference to the various kinds of permanent pavement worth considering, giving estimates of the cost of each per street in the business section. The matter was referred to the street committee for further consideration. The total cost estimated to lay a permanent pavement in the business part of the city was $37,000, of which amount it was estimated that the Public Service Corporation would pay $7,000.

Chairman Daniel, of the finance committee, reported back the communications from Judge William Newcorn, of Plainfield's new district court, stating that one request, that for quarters to hold court had been attended to, and he then offered a resolution providing that $150 be appropriated and that so much as was considered necessary be used to purchase a court seal, stationery, books and records for the court and that the expenditure of the money be left to Judge Newcorn. The resolution was adopted.

During the evening the members took a recess to consider the requests of D. C. Smalley, D. T. Kenney and the Unitarian Society to have certain streets closed. Upon the return to the regular order of business, Mr. Daniel had the matters referred to Street Commissioner A. J. Gavett, it being the desire of the Common Council that affidavits of ownership be obtained before any action is taken.

The annual report of the treasurer, J. Herbert Case, of the Plainfield Public Library and Reading Room, together with a statement as to the number of volumes on hand was presented to the Common Council at its adjourned meeting last night.

Jersey City, June 13.—Chief of Police Benjamin Murphy yesterday issued an order that precinct commanders bring to his office a list of all places in their bailiwicks where liquor is sold that in their judgment should not be granted a renewal of license. In addition, precinct commanders will give the addresses of all women who are licensed to keep either an inn, tavern or restaurant. This report will specify the kind of license now held by women and the length of time they have been in business. Captains will show the location of inns and taverns in their precincts, giving the names of those licensed, the length of time they have been in business and the number of rooms in each place that are equipped to be rented.

DRYDEN DECLINES TO MEET RECORD

U. S. SENATOR WILL NOT HAVE PUBLIC DEBATES WITH ASPIRANT FOR HIS SEAT

George L. Record, the candidate of the reform element of the Republican party in New Jersey for United States Senator against John F. Dryden, received yesterday this letter from Mr. Dryden in reply to Mr. Record's letter inviting Mr. Dryden to a joint debate:

"June 11, 1906.

"Dear Sir—Upon my return to Washington after a few days' absence I find your typewritten letter of June 6, signed 'George L. Record,' with the intials 'K. G.' underneath, which I assume to be those of your stenographer, inviting me to join you in a series of joint debates in the several counties of our State.

"I have other plans, after my duties during the present session of Congress have been performed, for presenting to the people of New Jersey my views upon issues, national in their character, such as would be likely to come before a United States Senator for his official action, and I therefore feel constrained to decline your invitation. Very truly yours,

"John F. Dryden."

Mr. Record declined to comment upon the letter. He said he would have something to say later.

MR. AND MRS. BLEECKER FIFTY YEARS MARRIED

FORMER PLAINFIELD COUPLE MARK EVENT BY LARGE RECEPTION.

The golden weddings of neighbors in East Orange on two successive days go to show that fifty years ago, June was as popular a month for weddings as at the present day. On Monday, Mr. and Mrs. Philip A. Harrison, of East Orange, celebrated their golden wedding, and yesterday, in the same city, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Bleecker, of 74 Sussex avenue, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage.

Mr. Bleecker and family were residents of this place a number of years ago, and they have relatives and many friends here. Mrs. Bleecker is a sister of the late Mrs. William C. Butler, of East Front street. Mr. and Mrs. Bleecker were married in New York by the Rev. A. D. Gillette in 1856. Mr. Bleecker's grandfather was Major Leonard Bleecker, being attached to the staff of General George Washington. Mrs. Bleecker was Miss Elizabeth Lee, and she, like her husband, was a native of New York. Both were born in 1834. The couple have had seven children, five of whom are living. They are Mrs. Luther M. Merrill, of Brookline, Mass., Miss Helen Bleecker, of East Orange, George W. Bleecker, of Chicago, H. E. Bleecker, of Maplewood, and C. L. Bleecker, of East Orange. They have seven grandchildren.

A large number of guests from East Orange and adjacent cities and towns joined in the congratulatory occasion yesterday afternoon and evenin. Among the guests from this place were Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, Misses Linda and Isabel Butler, Miss Madeline Evans, Miss Jobs and Miss Allen. Many gifts of interest and value gave tangible proof of remembrance. A solid brick of bright new pennies to the number of 1806 was among the golden gifts, being a tribute of remembrance from a large number of friends. Another unique gift was labelled "Diggings in the Klondike" and consisted of a box covered with gold foil and filled with sand in which a large number of gold coins were buried, a small golden spade accompanying the box for unearthing the coins.

ALUMNI CELEBRATION MOST SUCCESSFUL EVENT.

March of Cheers Precede Regular Programme—President and Mrs. Wilson Entertain.

Princeton, June 13.—The alumni of the university held sway in yesterday's celebration and commencement week. Every preparation was made that they might enjoy themselves and the day proved a very successful one.

During the entire day receptional drawings and the like, which had been done by students of the engineering and graphic departments of the universcity, were on exhibition in the school for science building. This exhibition was largely attended and the work highly commended.

At 10 a. m. the annual meeting of the Phi Beta Kappa society was held in Murray-Dodge Hall. This society is made up of honor men from the graduating class and membership in it is the highest scholastic attainment that can be reached by a graduating student.

At 11 the annual meeting of the American Whig and Cliosophic societies, Princeton's literary secret orders, were held in the respective halls. The meetings were the occasions of excellent literary exercises. Both societies paraded about the campus and then cheered on the steps before taking up their regular programms indoors.

The alumni luncheon was served at 1 o'clock in the gymnasium. At 12:45 the procession formed in front of Nassau Hall and from there marched to the banquet room. Following the luncheon short speeches were made by a number of graduates from the older classes.

During the afternoon the gymnasium team gave an exhibition of swimming and gymnastics in Brokaw tank.

From 4 to 6 p. m. President and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson received at their home at Prospect on the campus.

The Lynde debate was held in Alexander Hall during the evening.

PASTOR J. A. CUBBERLEY A VICTIM OF THIEVES.

The Baptist Parsonage at South Plainfield Entered Last Night.

Thieves effected an entrance to the parsonage at the Baptist church, South Plainfield, last night, and made off with a number of articles left there by the former pastor, Rev. J. A. Cubberley, who has moved to Plainfield. The thieves secured an entrance through a read window and worked undisturbed for several hours.

The goods taken were all pacyed for removal to Plainfield in a few days and the intruders did not experience much difficulty in getting away with them. They overlooked some valuable articles in the upper part of the house, probably due to the fact that they saw so many things on the first floor they wanted that they did not care to look any further. The South Plainfield police are at work on the case.

BETTER MILK NOW LIKELY.

Dairies and Creameries to Undergo Rigid Inspection.

Trenton, June 13.—The new law regulating the handling and sale of milk and its products in New Jersey will go into effect on July 4, and the State Board of Health has prepared a circular letter which will be sent this week to all parts of the State, calling the attention of those concerned to what will be required of them by the new regulations. For a number of years the board, through its inspectors, has been devoting itself to the cleansing of the farms and places where the milk is originally produced, and under the new law it will have strict supervision over milk and its products from the time they leave the producer until they reach the consumer. These precautions have been taken because it is generally recognized that milk is a prolific breeder and an apt conveyer of disease germs.

Beginning with July 4, all creameries must be licensed and conducted according to the regulations of the new law. There are 126 regular creameries in the State, and under the new law the word "creamery" is made to include all establishments where milk is received, stored, offered for sale or distributed wholesale, also places where milk is manufactured into butter, cheese or other food products. Nearly 200 establishments will be affected.

Under the new law it is required that none of these places can be in any way connected with living apartments, kitchens or laundries; cleanliness must be observed.

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL.

Health Is Worth Saving, and Some Plainfield People Know How to Save It.

Many Plainfield people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Sick kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill-health, but there is no need to suffer nor to remain in danger when all diseases and aches and pains due to weak kidneys can be quickly and permanently cured by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. Here is the statement of a Plainfield citizen who has reclaimed good health by the use of this remedy:

Richard Day, of 208 East Front street, Plainfield, N. J., says: "I have given a statement which has appeared in our papers for several years. I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills because I know there is no reason why they will not do for others what they did for me. I had a miserable pain across my back and a sort of lameness across my kidneys. Standing any length of time or walking any distance aggravated it greatly. I was never sick much and did not like to take medicine but these attacks grew worse instead of better, and reading frequently about Doan's Kidney Pills I bought a box and used it. After taking two boxes I was cured."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

DRUGGISTS.

DO not neglect that cough. An exceptionally trifling ailment often leads to extremely serious consequences. The wise thing to do would be to cure IT promptly by taking POWERS' Honey Coltstoot of Tar. If you have just caught cold, a 25c bottle will cure you, but you must get it NOW

LITERARY NOTES.

In the July number of The Smart Set a host of entertaining stories will be found. The novelette, in particular, will prove interesting reading. It is called "The Purple Border," and is written by Beatrix Demarest Lloyd, a young writer of rare promise. The story opens in Ireland, where Michael Derevaragh, the eccentric young hero, is preparing to leave for America, after relinquishing his claims to the title of an earl. Upon his arrival in Newport, where he visits an old boyhood friend, the real story begins, and a story more full of charm and fine sentiment has seldom apepared in any magazine. It will win many admiring readers.

The short stories are varied and uniformly excellent. William Hamilton Osborne, in "The Writ of Habeas Corpus," has told with much skill a tale which reads like a chapter from real life. "When the Girls Came Out to Play," by Dorothy Deakin, is a bright, light comedy, just the thing for a summer day. "A Matter of Habit," by Ludwig Lewisohn, is a powerful study of a woman and an egotist of whom she became enamored. Her final awakening to the man's selfishness is brought about in an unusual way.

AUTO ETHICS.

When a rich friend who owns an automobile places his "machine" at your disposal, and you take a ride with his chauffeur, are you responsible for the latter's violations of the speed regulations?

This may seem an easy question, for the master's guest is the master for the time being as regards the operatior.

But suppose the owner is also present, or that the owner is his own operator, and that the speed law is violated. Are you then responsible?

The natural answer is that only the owner and operator should be held responsible, for it would be rude for a guest to offer any suggestions with regard to the desirability of respecting legal regulations. One does not look gift horses in the mouth, and one does not tell an auto owner how to operate his machine with the least amount of risk from the legal side.

Usually, when an autoist is "pulled in," the guests who happen to have been in the machine are permitted to depart without any other unpleasantness than the loss of anticipated pleasure. But the Supreme Court of Massachusetts has decided that this won't do. It holds that all the occupants of an auto are legally responsible for any violation of the law, provided they "know and allow" the operator to run at a prohibited rate of speed.

In other words, it is your duty to remonstrate with the frisky owner and threaten to get out. If you stay, you are liable for having sanctioned, connived at or benefited by an offence against the law.

Invitations to take auto rides with exuberant owners of automobiles will not be sought or accepted in the Bay State with the same eagerness or lively anticipation of fun as in the past. The responsibility put upon knowing and tacitly approving "occupants" is sobering.—Chicago Record-Herald.

THE SPENDERS

By HARRY LEON WILSON

Copyright, by Lothrop Publishing Company.

"You won't touch any more stock; you won't get that money from Shepler?"

"I won t; I won't go near Shepler, I promise you. Now you'll believe me in one thing, I know you will. Uncle Peter." He went over to the old man.

"I want to thank you for pulling me up on that play as you did last night. You saved me, and I'm more grateful to you than I can yay. But for you I'd have gone in and dug the hole deeper." He made the old man shake hands with him—though Uncle Peter's hand remained limp and cheerless. "You can shake on that, at least. You saved me, and I thank you for it."

"Well, I'm glad you got some sense," answered the old man, grudgingly. "It's always the way in that stock game. There's always goin' to be a big killing made in Wall street to-morrow, only to-morrow never comes. Reminds me of Hollings' old turtle out at Spokane—Hollings that keeps the Little Gem restaurant. He's got an enormous big turtle in his cellar that he's kept to my knowledge fur 15 years. Every time he gets a little turtle from the coast he takes a can of red paint down cellar, and touches up the sign on old Ben's back—they call the turtle Ben, after Holl ngs' father-in-law that won't do a thing but lay around the house all the time, and kick about the meals. Well, the sign on Ben's back is, 'Green Turtle Soup To-Morrow,' and Ben is drug up to the sidewalk in front of the Little Gem. And Hollings does have turtle soup next day, but it's always the little turtles that's kined, and old Ben is hiked back to his boudoir until another killing comes off. It's a good deal like that in Wall street; there's killings made, but the big fellers with the signs on their back don't worry none."

"You're right, Uncle Peter. It certainly wasn't my game. Will you come down with me?"

"Me? Shucks, no! I'm jest a poor, broken old man, now. I'm goin' down to the square if I can walk that fur, and set on a bench in the sun."

Uncle Peter did succeed in walking as far as Madison square. He walked, indeed, with a step of amazing springiness for a man of his years. But there, instead of reposing in the sun, he entered a cab and was driven to the Vandevere building, where he sent in his name to Rulon Shepler.

He was ushered into Shepler's office after a little delay. The two men shook hands warmly. Uncle Peter was grinning now with rare enjoyment—ne who had in the presence of the family shown naught but broken age and utter despondency.

"You rough-noused the boy considerable yesterday."

"I never believed the fellow would hold on," said Shepler. "I'm sure you're right in a way about the w st. There isn't another man in this section who'd have plunged as he did. Really, Mr. Bines, the street's never known anything like it. Here are those matters."

He handed the old man a dozen or so certified checks on as many different banks. Each check had many figures on it. Uncle Peter placed them in his old leather wallet.

"I knew he'd plunge," he said, taking the chair proffered him, near Shepler's desk. "I knew he was a natural born plunger, and I knew that once he gets an idea in his head you can't blast it out; makes no difference what he starts on, he'll play the string out. H's pa was jest that way. Then of course he wa'n't used to money, and he was ignorant of this game, and he didn't realize what he was doin'. He sort of distrusted himself along toward the last—but I kept him swelled up good and plenty."

"Well, I'm glad it's over, Mr. Bines. Of course I concede the relative insignificance of money to a young man of his qualities—"

"Not it's relative insignificance, Mr. Shepler—it's plain damned insignificance, if you'll excuse the word. If that boy'd gone on he u 'a' been one of what Billy Brue calls them high-collared Clarences—no good fur anything but to spend money, and get apoplexy or worse by 40. As it is now, he'll be a man. He's got his health turned on like a steam radiator, he's full of responsibility, and he's really long-headed."

"How did he take the loss?"

"He acted jest like a healthy baby does when you take one toy away from him. He cries a minute, then forgets all about it, and grabs up something else to play with. His other toy was bad. What he's playin' with now will do him a lot of good."

"He's, not discouraged, then—he's really hopeful?"

"That ain't any name fur it. Why, he's actin' this mornin' jest like the world's his oyster—and every month had an 'r' in it at that."

"I'm delighted to hear it. I've always been taken with the chap; and I'm very glad you read him correctly. It seemed to me you were taking a risk. It would have broken the spirit of most men."

"Well, you see I knew the stock. It's pushin', tightin' stock. My grandfather fought his way west to Pennsylvania when that country was wilder'n Africa, and my father fought his way to Ohio when that was the frontier. I seen some hard times myself, and this boy's father was a fighter, too. So I knew the boy had it in him, all right. He's got his faults, but they don't hurt him none."

"Will he return west?"

"He will that—and the west is the only place fur him. He was gettin' bad notions about his own country here from them folks that's always crackin' up the 'other side' 'sif there wa'n't any 'this side,' worth speakin' of in company. This was no place fur him. Mr. Shepler, this whole country is God's country. I don't talk much about them things, but I believe in God—a man has to if he lives so much alone in them wild places as I have—and I believe this country is His favorite. I believe He set it apart fur great works. The history of the United States bears me out so fur. And I didn't want any of my stock growin' up without feelin' that he had the best native land on earth, and without bein' ready to fight fur it at the drop of the hat. And jest between you and me, I believe we can raise that kind in the west better'n you can here in New York. You got a fine, handsome town here, it's a corkin' good place to see—and get out of—but it ain't any breedin' place—there ain't the room to grow. Now we produce everything in the west, includin' men. Here you don't do anything but consume—includin' men. If the west stopped producin' men fur you, you'd be as bad off as if it stopped producin' food. You can't grow a big man on this island any more than you can grow wheat out there on Broadway. You're all right. You folks have your uses. I ain't like one of these crazy fools that thinks you're rascals and all like that; but my point is that you don't get the fun out of life. You don't get the big feelin's. Out in the west they're the flesh and blood and bone; and you people here, meanin' no disrespect—you're the dimples and wrinkles and—the warts. You spend and gamble back and forth with that money we raise and dig out of the ground, and you think you're gettin' the best end of it, but you ain't. I found that out 32 years ago this spring. I had a crazy fool notion then to go back there even when I hadn't gone broke—and I done well to go. And that's why I wanted that boy back there. And that's why I'm mighty proud of him, to see he's so hot to go and take hold, like I knew he would be."

GOTHAM'S AMUSEMENTS

What promises to become one of the popular features at "Brighton Beach Park" this summer is the "Pike," which branches off the Esplanade at right angles and follows the line of the ocean front for nearly a quarter of a mile. On either side will be shows of all kinds, a regular street fair, and it will be a difficult person indeed who cannot find a great deal there which will amuse them. There are laughter making devices, rifle shooting, illusions, a dog, pony and monkey show, which is called "Monkeytown" and in which the little animals give a reproduction of the famous "Fighting the Flames" act which has attracted so much attention in other localities. Then there is the famous Mexican Midget, Chiquita, who is said to be the most perfectly formed little bit of femininity in the world. Another attraction which seems certain to attract a lot of attention is the collection of pythons and boa constrictors which are exhibited by Professor Lewis. The smallest of these reptiles is said to measure twenty-four feet in length and to weigh over three hundred pounds and there are fifty-two of them besides a most interesting collection of smaller reptiles. The "Pike" and the Ferari Wild Animal Kingdom which opened to the public on Saturday were well patronized. On Decoration Day the Manhattan Beach Baseball Club played its first game to an immense audience. On June 14, The Pawnee Bill Wild West and Far East show take possession of the big arena which has been prepared for its reception.

JOURNALISTIC OPINIONS

Have "Always Existed."

President A. V. V. Raymond, of Union College, Schenectady, who was at one time pastor of the First Reformed church in this city, in his baccalaureate sermon yesterday considered the social and business evils that have attracted such wide public attention of late. Dr. Raymond said: "It is well to remember, however, that the evils now denounced have always been denounced, at least in such unmeasured terms. Graft is a new name for an old practice." This is all true. The encouraging thing is that evils which have existed for generations, and practices which were once winked at as almost indigenous in business, political and official life are now held to be vicious and intolerable and are denounced by a regenerated public sentiment that pervades our whole nation. This moral—shall it not rather be called this religious—revival will be of incalculable benefit if the "new idea" which it represents shall permanently supplant the old and rotten one that Dr. Raymond refers to as having "always existed." He probably was quite as correct in his prediction that "the moral demands of the future will be greater than those of the past."—Paterson Daily Press.

His Nightgown.

"Come, come, Tommy," said mamma to the youngster who showed no signs of sleep, but was kicking up his heels upon the bed, "just put your dress down."

"Iss ain't my dress-down, muvver," replied the little tot, "it's my nightgown."

Taking Him Down.

"Well," said Mr. Marryat, during their quarrel, "you'll give me credit for a good disposition, at least."

"Not at all," replied the wife; "it isn't that you have a good disposition, but that you're simply too lazy to kick."

MRS. APPLEGATE WELL AGAIN!

"I have had a bruised leg and foot for several years, caused by the brass eyelets of my shoe, which became very sore and painful especially at night. It itched, burned and ached me till it nearly set me crazy. I used everything I found and was suggested to ease it and nothing gave me any relief till I found and applied Azienza Cream, which I think is a wonderful remedy for all sores and inflammation of the skin. The hard knots on my legs were as painful as bee stings, with discolored and purple spots. A running sore on my instep size of a half-dollar; the top of my foot a seething sore clean around to my heel. The bone was sore for a whole year and very painful. I used five and one-half jars of Azienza Cream and healed the sore all up. The foot remained tender and I continued to use to strengthen and toughen the skin until now it is entirely well." (Signed) Mrs. Hannah Applegate, Evergreen Ave., Avon, N. J., Sept. 3rd, 1905. 50 cents. Ask the druggist or by mail. Azienza Specialties Co., Jersey City, N. J.

"KID" WALTON MAY WEAR A PLAINFIELD UNIFORM

DAAB WILL STRENGTHEN TEAM WITH A NEW SHORT-STOP AND SLAB ARTIST.

According to reports in Hoboken papers Manager Daab is laying lines for a shake-up in the team which is billed to take place in the near future, or before the end of the week. Willie Deegan has failed to come up to expectations and has failed to show his old time form or speed, except on rare occasions, this season. Such being the case when the Hobokens face the Jersey Citys next Sunday there will be a new slab artist on hand. Who it will be it is impossible to say at the present time.

Another man will be secured to take Tommy Curley's place at short stop. While the Montclair boy plays a brilliant game in streaks he is far from being the reliable player Manager Daab wants for that busy spot in the diamond. Curley has shown that he has a faculty of making errors at critical stages of the game, and this weak point in a player easily unbalances a team. It is a foregone conclusion that "Happy Pete" Kiernan will be unable to play this season owing to illness so Manager Daab expects to land a fast player, and that fellow may be none the less than Charlie "Kid" Walton, who played the short field three seasons ago on the Alis team for George Johnston. Walton also played with the Stars on Sundays at Elizabeth; since leaving Plainfield he has played on Bangor, Ingersoll Sergeant and Trenton teams. At the present time he is playing short for the Ingersoll Sergeant team. Walton is said to have improved very much in batting since leaving Plainfield and has been recommended very highly to Manager Daab.

DIAMOND DUST.

Thomas Timbo and W. W. St. John were spectators at the New York-Cincinnati game at the Polo Grounds yesterday.

True to his word, Morris C. VanArsdale, the shoe dealer, presented Jimmie Bertwhistle with a fine pair of patent leather shoes Saturday night for the home run he made in the afternoon in the game between Plainfield and the Cuban Stars. Jimmie appreciated the gift very much and thanked Mr. VanArsdale for it.

Determined to win Manager Nicolas and his fast Westfield aggregation will make their second appearance of the season on Crescent Oval Saturday afternoon. The 14-inning contest of a few weeks ago in which the locals barely won out by the score of 4 to 3 is still fresh in the minds of the fans and the contest Saturday will doubtless bring out the largest crowd of the season. Manager Nicolas will have the same team including Harry Levy, the crack Bayonne slab artist, and Seery, to go behind the bat. The combination showed by its last performance that they are one of the fastest batteries in the semi-professional ranks. The batting order of the Westfield will be as follows: Smith and O'neill will be the batters for Plainfield. Eickler, left field; Campbell, second base; Sweeney, first base; Harder, short stop; Kavanaugh, third base; Levy, pitcher; Greiger, right field; Kenna, centre field; Seery, catcher; Fritz, extra.

Jack Rothfus, the veteran Newark player was dropped by the Harrisburg Tri-State team because of a slump in batting. He is now playing Sundays with the Elizabeth Stars and signalized his return to his old stamping grounds by batting out two home runs in his first game against the Amsterdams, besides winning the game from Waterbury last Sunday by his stick work.

A player who can't bat is of little use in the Tri-State league. Over thirty players are hitting above the 300 mark.

"Cy" Barger, of Lancaster, is the winning pitcher of the outlaw combination, having won 14 games and lost 1. He is a youngster, 20 years old, and over six feet in length. He was picked up off of some farm around Lancaster.

Manager Murray, of the Jersey Citys, has seven twirlers on his payroll, yet the fans of that burg are clamoring for more, declaring that he hasn't enough to win the pennant.

"Red" Waller is making hay while the sun shines these days. He is the iron man of the independent clubs and it pitin two games every Sunday in Elizabeth. In the morning ne twirls for the Palmers and in the afternoon for the Stars.

"Rube" Ramsey, the former High Bridge twirler, who was given a tryout by Manager Murray two years ago, is with the Flemington aggregation this season where he is executing gilt-edged work on the slab.

Lou Wiltse, the Baltimore jumper, expects to repoin the Johnstown team in two weeks. He is nursing his arm and is keeping in trim playing the outfield for the Somerville teams.

The city of Elizabeth could never support a semi-professional team on Saturdays, although the Y. M. C. A. tried the experiment on several occasions without success. Last season the association had a star team and quit the year at a loss. The average attendance ranged all the way from 200 to 500. This year, however, the city has five clubs in the county amateur league, the spectators at the games running into the thousands.

The Chicago Nationals have a game booked with the Elizabeth Stars Sunday afternoon. Manager Burnham, of the Newarks, is trying his utmost to have the game called off on the claim that the Chicago management is violating the rules of the National Commission by taking a team there. Burnham also claims that the attractions at Elizabeth on Sundays interferes with his games. Manager Burke, of the Stars, declares than Burnham's game will not work and that the Chicagos will play in Elizabeth as booked. On the other hand Burnham threatens to prefer charges against the Windy City management if the game is pulled off.

They say the Chicagos subsist chiefly on potatoes. If the insinuation be true, the diet appears to be a good one for pennant chasers.

Clark Griffith's Highlanders have evidently struck their gait and are making a good showing on the western trip. It now begins to look as if the Yankees can be termed "pennant possibilities."

"Hank" Mathewson is getting some gruelling experience as slab artist for Jack McGrath's All Nationals.

A ball player who looks to be a comer is young Piel who covers second bag for the Yonkers team.

"Phil" Smith Gets Offer.

"Phil" Smith, the twirler of the Plainfields, received and declined an offer from the Hartford Connecticut League team last week. Smith has decided to remain for another season at least with Manager Daab.

REFUSED FATHER PERMIT TAKE SONS ON A TRIP

APPLICATION MADE BY EX-ASSEMBLYMAN FOOTE IN CHANCERY COURT.

An application made by former Assemblyman Charles W. Foote, formerly of this city but now of New York, for permission to take his two sons on a vacation during the month of August, was denied by Chancellor Magie in the Chancery Court at Trenton yesterday. In addition, his request for a modification of the present order of the court extending the periods when he is permitted to see them was also denied. The decree of divorce contained a provision that if Mr. Foote should be denied reasonable access to the children, he should be at liberty to apply to the Chancellor for a modification of that part of the decree. Both Mr. and Mrs. Foote and the children were in court during the argument.

This action on the part of the chancellor recalls the divorce proceedings brought a few years ago by Mrs. Foote, who still resides on Franklin place, and in which she was successful. Beside securing other things that she asked for in her petition she was awarded the custody of their two small sons. They have been in her care constantly, the father being permitted to see them only at intervals. Foote said the mother was alienating the affections of the boys and wished to offset this by having them in his company.

Craig A. Marsh, of this city, represented Mrs. Foote, while Frank Bergen, of Elizabeth, was attorney for Mr. Foote.

The former Assemblyman is a lawyer practicing in New York city.

LICENSING OF HEALTH OFFICERS' ACT VETOED.

Governor Says Measure Would Retard Progress of Local Sanitation.

Trenton, N. J., June 13.—Governor Stokes yesterday vetoed Senator Hillery's bill requiring the local health officers to hold health officers' licenses and sanitary inspectors to have sanitary inspectors' licenses. The bill further provided that examinations before the State Board of Health be required for these licenses.

The Governor says: "This bill would deprive all communities, except the large cities, from the benefits of a former act, which is operating very satisfactorily and would tend to retard the progress in local sanitary administration, in which New Jersey is taking a leading position."

MUST TAKE LESS, COURT SAYS.

Mr. Caffray Got a Verdict Against the Pennsylvania for $4,200.

Trenton, N. J., June 13.—United States Judge Cross filed a memorandum in the United States Circuit Court yesterday decreeing that if Mary B. McCaffray and her husband, John McCaffray, of New York, would accept a reduction of $1,000 in the jury verdict of $4,200 for injuries received by Mrs. McCaffray on a Pennsylvania Railroad train just east of Newark, he would allow the verdict to stand. Otherwise a new trial will be ordered.

The McCaffrays contended that Mrs. McCaffray was injured by a loose bolt flying from a freight car and entering the window of a passenger coach. The railroad company said that the station master of Newark sent a detective back, and that he found boys throwing stones half a mile from Newark.

Shinplaster Redeemed.

A 25-cent shinplaster, issued by the City of Newark during the hard times of 1837, was received yesterday for collection by the Merchants' National Bank from a bank of Fitchburg, Mass. Richard H. A. Berkfeldt, chief guard in the safe-deposit department, was sent to the City Hall to have it redeemed. It was thought the shinplaster might be worth considerable if interest at 1 per cent. a year was paid since 1837. City Auditor George Forman said the shinplaster was issued for one year, and was worth only 26 cents.

Christian Science Rebuff.

According to a decision handed down yesterday in the New Jersey Supreme Court at Trenton, Faith Curists cannot claim the privileges of a church in regard to teh presence of saloons in the vicinity of their meeting places. The opinion was given in the case of Ferdinand George and others against the Elizabeth Excise Board on certiorari to set aside the granting of a license. The court holds that a body of Faith Curists does not constitute a church and that therefore saloons may be licensed within 200 feet of their meeting places.

A HOME CEREMONY

PLAINFIELD YOUNG MAN CLIMBING FAME'S LADDER

DR. EDWARD GALBRAITH'S GRADUATION RECALLS HIS RISE FROM A POOR BOY.

At the annual Commencement exercises of the dental department of the University of Pennsylvania, held in the American Academy of Music, Philadelphia, yesterday, the degree of Doctor of Dental Surgery was conferred upon Edward Carroll Galbraith, son of Maria and the late Peter Galbraith, of West Fourth street, this city. In addition he received a special diploma for oral surgery from the mayor and health authorities of Philadelphia in recognition of his work and research in the correction of cleft palate cancer of the mouth and oral deformities pursued under the celebrated oral surgeon Prof. Cryer, of Brockley hospital.

Dr. Galbraith's graduation and rise to the dental profession is an example of what can be done by pluck and perserverance and he represents a distinct type of the self-made man. Only a few years ago he was a poor boy in Plainfield, but on leaving St. Mary's Parochial school he determined to make his mark in the world and all his time since has been devoted to climbing the latter of success. Without resources at the start he has worked himself through the New York Preparatory school, securing the degree of A. B., completed a three years course in the New York College of Dental Surgery and took the full course in the University of Pennsylvania which he finished yesterday.

While pursuing his college career, the young man was active in other directions and held the position of private secretary to Dr. Stack, one of the best known politicians in Hudson county and who was candidate for mayor in Hoboken last Fall. He directed all of Dr. Stack's campaigns and was successful many times. He enjoys the confidence and respect of many of the State's prominent officials and while at the U. of P., formed the acquaintance of Drs. Villian, Goyheneix and Beltrami, of Paris; Schultz and Wagner, of Berlin; Booker T. Washington and other celebrated scientists and educators.

Dr. Galbraith is a member of the Houston Club, of the U. of P.; the Newman Club, a Catholic organization in the university named in honor of Cardinal Newman, the Jersey Club of the U. and P., and the Xipsi Phi fraternity. In Plainfield he is known from one end of the city to the other and all his friends have been highly pleased to hear of his success.

After a month's vacation in the woods of Maine with some college friends, the doctor will take up the practice of dental and oral surgery in New York and make his home in Plainfield.

SECRETLY WEDDED A YEAR

Dr. Sidney Titsworth Married at "Little Church Around the Corner."

HAS JUST GRADUATED

In College At Time He Fell In Love With Miss Snydecker, a Nurse at Hood Wright Hospital.

Dr. Sydney R. Titsworth, of West Fifth street, who was graduated yesterday from the College of Physicians and Surgeons, surprised his family and friends today by announcing that he had been married for a year. His bride was Miss Ethel M. Snydecker, of New York.

The marriage was the culmination of a romance of hospital work. A year ago Dr. Titsworth, then still pursuing his studies at college, was interne at the J. Hood Wright Hospital, New York. Miss Sneidecker pital, New York. Miss Ethel M. Snydecker was a trained nurse at the institution, and the two became acquainted. Their friendship rapidly became something warmer, and one June day they went to the Little Church Around the Corner. When they came out Miss Snydecker was Mrs. Titsworth.

Dr. Titsworth did not care to make his marriage known at that time, and the secret was closely kept. A few days ago he brought his wife to Plainfield and announced the marriage. His mother was as much surprised as anyone to hear of it.

Dr. and Mrs. Titsworth are in town today. They will spend a short time here, prior to going to Bridgeport, Conn., where Dr. Titsworth has been appointed as interne in a hospital. They will be there eighteen months.

Dr. Titsworth was born in Plainfield and has always lived here. He was graduated from the Plainfield High School, after which he entered Columbia University, where he began his preparation for a professional career.

COURT PRECEDENT AS TO CROP-SHARING

JUSTICE DECLARES WORKING PARTNER MUST DELIVER OTHER'S SHARE.

By a verdict rendered yesterday, in the case of Christopher Herlich against George Bowers, of Warrenville, Justice Brampton, of Bound Brook, has established a precedent in relation to farming on shares. The ruling is, that in cases where there is no express agreement as to other disposition, the working partner must deliver the other's share to him, as well as harvest it.

Herlich and Bowers entered into an agreement on a corn crop grown on Bowers' farm in Warrenville. The yield was 160 shocks. Bowers put his share, eighty shocks, in his barn, but allowed Herlich's to rot in the field.

Herlich sued for the value of his share, on the ground that Bowers should have delivered it at his, Herlich's barn. Bowers contended that he was not required to deliver the Herlich share. Evidence was brought, however, to show that it was the custom in all such cases for the one who harvested the crop to deliver it, and Justice Brampton ruled against the defendant on that evidence. He gave Herlich a verdict on a basis of the market value of the corn, which is thirty cents a shock. With costs, the verdict against Bowers amounted to $28.

F. J. Blatz, of this city, appeared for Herlich. Bowers' lawyer was Horace Coddington, of Somerville.

SENIORS PRESENT PLAY

IT PROVES AMUSING

Following the Entertainment at Park Club a Dance Is Enjoyed By Graduates and Their Friends.

Class Day exercises which are looked forward to by the members of a senior class with an interest second only to commencement, were held at the Park Club last night by the graduates of the North Plainfield High School. The capacity of the clubhouse was tested to the limit by the parents and friends. The programme, a little different than those of the past, took the form of a play in three acts, entitled "The Bachelor's Congress," and it afforded plenty of amusement for all. The cast was an excellent one and each one took his or her part exceptionally well.

The plot was a light one, but was sufficient to hold the attention of the audience from first to last. The play opened with a prologue in which the scene was the drawing room of Jack Benton's bachelor quarters at Groveland on the Delaware, and the finale was the same as the prologue. The second act represented "The Bachelor's Congress," a dream of Jack Benton, the action of which takes place in the town hall. Jack Benton, a millionaire, which part was taken by Jack Peacock, was in love with Betty Sawyer, which part was taken by Mary Robley. She turns him down by mistake, becomes disgusted with all the women and vows he'll have nothing to do with them. Count Alphonse Jaquette, an amateur hypnotist, Frank Webster, puts Peacock in an hypnotic state and the second scene, the congress of bachelors is a dream, in which the young met set forth the advantages of single life. Particularly good was the acting of Frank Webster, and a song, "Ma Honey," by Clarence Steiner, also won much applause. There were other specialties which kept the audience in continual laughter. In the finale Peacock is awakened from his trance, he forgives Betty and everything is lovely.

The women who were present at the congress watching the proceedings, become boisterous and finally so disgusted the men that they give up their seats to the fair sex and retire. The young women then take hold of affairs and entertain with recitations, songs and instrumental music. There was a vocal duet by the Misses Edith Mager and Mabel Gano, while Miss Myra Emmons played several selections on the piano. Miss Mary Robley read the usual paper, in which every member of the class came in for a share of "roast." Those taking part in the play were all in costume of old-fashioned style.

Following the play the seniors and their friends remained for a dance. Miss Mary Collier presided at the piano.

The characters in the prologue and finale was as follows: Jack Benton, a millionaire in love with Betty, Jack Peacock; Count Alphonse Jaquette, an amateur hypnotist, Frank Webster; Hezekiah Kennedy, professional mesmerist, Ralph Kutz; James, Jack's valot, William Burtis; Mrs. Percy Benton, Jack's mother, Miss Mary Neal; Helen Benton, Jack's sister, Miss Mabel Gano; Julia Benton, Jack's sister, Miss Bessie Wyckoff;

MISS EDITH G. VAIL WEDDED YESTERDAY

BECOMES MRS. FRANK KNIGHT BY FRIENDS' CEREMONY.

In the Friends meeting house on Watchung avenue, yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, Miss Edith Gertrude Vail, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adelbert Vail, of East Sixth street, and Frank Corman Knight, of Elmwood place, pledged themselves as man and wife. The ceremony was conducted strictly in accordance with the Friends custom, the vows being taken in the presence of a committee appointed by the sect, and the families and friends, no clergyman officiating. In all there was an attendance of 150, guests being present from Jersey City, Lakewood, North Branch, Dunellen, Fanwood, Easton, Phillipsburg and New York.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Mabel Vail, as bridesmaid, and John Knight, Jr., was best man. The ushers were Clarence B. Vail, Harry Knight, Horace Vail, Percy Vail and Harvey Vail. The bride and bridesmaid entered the meeting house and proceeded up one side to the front where they were met by the groom and best man who had walked up opposite them. Standing before the gathering the bride and groom recited the marriage obligation after which they shook hands and kissed. The bridal party then took seats beside each other and the head usher produced the wedding certificate which was signed by all four. This completed it was passed to Margaret Vail who read it aloud. W. D. Williams and Mrs. C. B. Vail made appropriate remarks and Rev. C. E. Herring, the groom's pastor, was introduced and offered prayer. In conclusion the young couple were greeted by the Friends' Committee consisting of W. D. Williams, Mrs. Thomas S. Young, Catherine Webster and William Angel. All present were afterward invited to append their names to the certificate.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, and Mr. and Mrs. Knight received congratulations. They left in the evening for a wedding trip of a week or ten days and on returning will make their home on East Sixth street. The groom is an employee of the Pond Tool Works and is widely known in the city and borough. He and his bride received a large array of gifts comprising silverware, cut glass and articles of furniture.

At the ceremony, the bride's mother wore the gown of pearl gray silk in which she was married thirty-two years ago tomorrow. The meeting house was prettily decorated with flowers and at the house a color scheme of green and white was maintained.

Mrs. A. C. Nickerson Injured.

While passing the golf course of the Plainfield Country Club, Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Nickerson, wife of Rev. A. C. Nickerson, of All Souls' church, was struck in the face by a golf ball driven by one of the players, inflicting a painful cut and knocking out two teeth. Mrs. Nickerson was returning home with a number of children from the church, from the annual picnic. A carriage was summoned and the injured woman was removed to her home where a physician was called. It is not known who drove the ball.

Another M. D.

Howard Lewis, of Arlington avenue, was graduated from the College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York, yesterday, and has secured a position as interne for eighteen months.

LAWYERS MEET TUESDAY

Date Set for Organization of An Independent Bar Association Here.

COMMITTEE AT WORK

W. S. Angleman, Francis J. Blatz and V. W. Nash, Jr., in Charge of Plans—Reasons for Movement.

The movement on foot to organize a Plainfield Bar Association, as exclusively told by the Daily Press on May 23, is now taking definite shape and it is expected that the organization will be effected on Tuesday, following the session of the district court. W. S. Angleman, Francis J. Blatz and V. W. Nash, Jr., who have been interested in the matter, have been selected as a committee to arrange the preliminaries. They have secured from Judge Newcorn permission to hold the first meeting in the district court rooms.

As previously stated the effort to organize a local bar association is the result of a dissatisfaction experienced by many in being members of the Union County Bar Association, where the dues are $12 a year and but few members can enjoy any benefits. The county association has a library in Elizabeth, but it is of little benefit to the Plainfield members or offers but little inducement for other lawyers to join. The county association holds a banquet once a year, generally in New York, and judging from past experience Plainfield is not usually represented by more tnan a half dozen members at the most.

The plan of the local lawyers is to make the dues nominal, say a dollar or two a year and this could be used to establish a fund, whereby it would be possible to hold a banquet once a year, and while it would not be as elaborate as the county association dinner, it would be just as enjoyable. The lawyers also say that it would be possible to establish a library here if it was deemed wise and in a few years it would become a valuable one.

The fact that Plainfield now has a district court has had the tendency to bring about the organization of a bar association here. It is realized that the lawyers have interests which need protection and it would establish a harmony among the legal lights not obtainable in any other way.

Nearly every lawyer in Plainfield approached on the subject has signified his desire and willingness to join the new association and there now seems to be no doubt but that it will go through. At the meeting to be held on Tuesday, if it is thought best to effect an organization, officers will be chosen and further details arranged.

Eaton Again Remanded.

Charles Eaton, colored, who was arrested yesterday on a grave charge, was again remanded this morning by Justice Mosher. The hearing was laid over until tomorrow morning, at the request of the prosecution. Eaton has retained S. S. Swackhamer to defend him. F. J. Blatz is lawyer for the State.

Open Aid Meeting.

The W. C. T. U. will hold an open air meeting at Band Concert Park, Watchung avenue, Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. William Carey, the converted locomotive engineer, will speak. There will be special music.

RUNYON FOR ASSEMBLY

Local Friends Start Boom for President of Union Co. Equal Tax League.

HE REFUSES TO TALK

Record, Fagan and Colby Accept Invitations to Speak Here Tuesday Night—A Meeting Tonight.

Friends of Judge William N. Runyon are urging him to accept a nomination for a county office on the Colby ticket and it was reported today that they are anxious for him to run for Assembly. When the city magistrate was asked about it this morning, he refused to discuss the matter in any way. He admitted that he had heard of the boom but said that he was not seeking office any any attempt to force his name to the front was not of his doing.

The followers of the Colby movement are anxious to have the judge head the ticket as they realize what a following he has. In Plainfield he always polls a large personal vote and with him in the running it is allaged the reform element's chances would be doubly strengthened. It is not known whether he would be opposed by the regular organization. The executive committee of the Equal Tax League of Union county will have a meeting at Elizabeth tonight to make plans for the campaign and it is likely that something definite will be heard regarding his candidacy.

A telegram was received today by Judge Runyon from Corporation Counsel George L. Record, of Jersey City, who has announced his candidacy for Senator Dryden's seat, that he will be on hand Tuesday night to speak at the big mass meeting to be held in the New Plainfield theatre. Mayor Mark Fagan, of Jersey City, has also telegraphed his acceptance of Judge Runyon's invitation to speak on that occasion. These two reform leaders together with State Senator Everett Colby, will be the principal speakers. It is also expected that the Judge, himself, will have something to say.

The chairman for the mass meeting has not been announced, but it is stated that his name will be given out after tonight's meeting.

DR. DOYLE IS NOT BEING CONSIDERED

HEALTH BOARD MEMBERS SAYS HE WILL NOT BE HEALTH OFFICER.

A member of the Board of Health said today that the report that Dr. Lawrence Doyle is to succeed Health Officer Leon R. Thurlow, is without foundation, and that no application has been received from him for the position. Mr. Thurlow has not resigned and has not made known his decision as to whether he will accept the position offered to him by Mayor Mark Fagan, of Jersey City, until Tuesday.

Regarding the report that Dr. Doyle is likely to succeed Mr. Thurlow, other health officialls say that the latter is not eligible for the office, inasmuch as he has not successfully passed the required examination for such a place.

Other inaccuracies in the report circulated yesterday was that Mr. Thurlow was receiving a salary of $1,200 a year and that the Board of Health had offered him an additional $200 a year to remain here. Mr. Thurlow's salary is and has been $1,500 and the board has not made any inducement for him to remain.

While it was stated that the position in Jersey City would be worth $2,000, as a matter of fact the top-notch salary for the position is $4,500, but it is customary to ascertain whether a man is capable of filling the office first before giving him the highest salary.

It is known that Mr. Thurlow has been in communication with Mayor Fagan and other officials of Jersey City, and it is said to be safe to say that the delay in giving a decision is due to the fact that Mr. Thurlow is exacting conditions before accepting the office. The position is a political one and if it is only good for a year, with no reasonable assurance of being continued in office, it is argued by some that it would be better for Mr. Thurlow to remain here.

Sewer Meeting Postponed.

The borough council's open session for the discussion of sewer matters, originally planned for tomorrow night, has been postponed until Friday night, June 22.

GIRL ELUDES SEARCHERS

Mysterious Boarder at Lancaster Slips Away Before Mrs. Kuenlen Comes.

MOTHER STAYS THERE

Detective McCarthy Returns Home Leaving Her At Boarding House—Missed Her by Four Hours.

Detective McCarthy returned from Lancaster, Pa., this morning, with the mystery of Helen Kuenlen's disappearance still unsolved. The mysterious girl at the boarding house of Mrs. Mary Melbert, in Lancaster, who was supposed to have been the missing girl, disappeared from the place before the officer and Mrs. Kuenlen, who accompanied him to Pennsylvania, reached there. Mrs. Kuenlen remained at the house to watch for her return, but it is believed she was frightened away by stories published yesterday regarding the search, and will not come back.

The girl came to Mrs. Melbert's house last Saturday. She carried no baggage. She acted in a rational way, giving her name as Digm. Mrs. Melbert connected her with the Kuenlen girl through descriptions of the latter that appeared in Philadelphia papers.

The police here were told of the new clue yesterday forenoon, and McCarthy and Mrs. Kuenlen immediately made arrangements to go to Lancaster. They arrived there at 7:20 o'clock. Mrs. Melbert told them that the girl had gone out at 3 o'clock. The description Mrs. Melbert gave of her boarder tallied exactly with that of the Kuenlen girl, and the mother waited hopefully for Miss "Digm's" return. As hour after hour slipped by without her appearance, the conviction that she had left the house to keep out of sight grew on the watchers.

McCarthy returned home this morning, convinced that the girl would not reappear at the boarding house. Mrs. Kuenlen will remain on watch until the girl either does appear or it becomes quite certain that she will not return.

KELLER'S ROOSTER RETURNS AFTER TWENTY-ONE DAYS

NOW ALL PRIDEVILLE BREATHES EASY OVER AVERTED FEUD.

Weighing ten pounds and looked upon as one of the plumpest members of the Plymouth Rock family in the State, a champion rooster belonging to Charles Keller, of Harrison avenue, disappeared the latter part of last week. All efforts to locate it proved futile until yesterday when exactly twenty-one days from the time it dropped out of sight it was found in Keller's barn, held in an out-of-way corner through its foot catching in a crevice in the floor. It had dwindled in size to a handful of skin, bones and feathers, weighing two pounds, but was still alive and is already being coaxed back to health.

The discovery of the rooster clears up a mystery that promised to become a feud in "Prideville," as that section of the borough is known. When the fowl disappeared, everybody was soon made aware of the fact and a systematic search was conducted. Keller located in a neighbor's flock, a rooster he thought was his and didn't hesitate to say so but the owner refused to turn it over. The whole neighborhood came around by turns and looked at it and there was a diversity of opinion. Some backed up Keller while others arrayed themselves against him and the two factions have been argueing it out ever since. The missing rooster and the question of ownership in the other has been a topic for conversation daily in homes and on the street and some interesting developments were promised when the discovery was made in Keller's barn. A lot of hay had been piled about the "bird" and this is what prevented it from being seen.

Local poultry fanciers say the rooster went without food and water the longest they have ever known one to do it and live.

Smith Was Drunk.

James C. Smith, of Bayonne, came to town yesterday to visit his brother. He celebrated the visit by collecting a jag in the West End, and lay down to dream of the joyful day in the gutter on Spooner avenue last night. Somebody telephoned to police headquarters and the visitor finished his slumber in jail. Judge Runyon suspended sentence this morning.

NEW LAW FOR N.G. OF N.J.

Three-Year Enlistment Term To Improve the Service.

DROP MEN FROM ROLLS

Law Approved by Governor Is Put In Pamphlet Form — Its Substance.

The State military bill, which was approved by Governor Stokes on May 16, has been put in pamphlet form, and copies of it are being distributed to the officers of the guard. It contains many interesting features. Probably the most important to the majority of the rank and file is the provision in paragraph 79, which makes the maximum strength of each of the companies 107 officers and enlisted men. Another feature—one that is pleasing to the company commandants as well as to the higher officials in the various regimenst—is the three instead of five year term of enlistment, which should tend to increase and improve the membership in the various commands. Company commandants, under the new bill, are empowered to have dropped from the roll names of men who are engaged in such employment as will prevent them from properly attending to the duties required of them as guardsmen.

The three-year term of enlistment has already had a good effect in the regiments. Many men have enlisted under the three-year term who would not have done so if they were compelled to serve the longer period of service. In this way the company commandants will have a much easier time in keeping their respective commands up to the mark, and, by having power to drop from the old roll men who are unable to attend to military duty, will find it much easier to make a respectable showing at the inspections conducted by the State and regular army officers.

The companies, as they will be made up under the provisions of the new law, will be comprised of one captain, one first lieutenant, one second lieutenant, one first sergeant or one quartermaster sergeant, four sergeants, eight corporals, two cooks, one artificer and eighty-seven privates. Formerly the strength of a company was three commissioned officers and eighty-one enlisted men. The minimum strength was fifty, as it will also be under the provisions of the new law. No man who has been dishonorably discharged from any military organization of this State, except those who have been discharged for the non-payment of a fine and have subsequently paid the same, will be eligible for enlistment, and men who have been discharged by reason of disbandment or for physical disability, if re-enlisted, shall receive credit for the period of service served prior to their discharge. Every man who enlists or re-enlists will have to pass a physical examination before being mustered into the service.

Paragraph 103, relating to "dropping from the roll," which will be of interest to the men of the various commands, reads as follows:

"An enlisted man who shall remove his residence from the State or to such distance from the armory of his organization or enter into such employ as in the judgment of his company, troop, battery, signal and telegraphic corps, or a naval reserve commander, will render it impracticable for him to perform his duties properly, or who, after due diligence, cannot be found, or who shall be convicted of a felony, may be dropped from the roll by order of the commanding officer of his division. An enlisted man dropped from the roll by reason of his removal or character of employment, may be taken up at any time upon his return to the State or change in his employment, in his former organization or in any other organizations, upon the approval of the commandant of the organization to which he formerly belonged, and men thus taken up shall receive credit for the time served before having been dropped."

Paragraph 114 of the law provides that the colonels of the five regiments and the senior officer of the naval reserve be added to the State Military Board, which board will have full charge of armories and shall issue from time to time regulations for the control and use thereof, and also will prepare and submit such rules to the commander-in-chief as they may deem wise for the betterment of the organization.

In the future a musical organization of the regiment will be classified as a company and when the appropriation for the maintenance of the respective regiments is made the musical organization will figure as if it were a regular company of infantrymen. Referring to this section 120 provides that on the first Monday of April in each year, for the purpose of procuring drill rooms or armories, or to defray other expenses incident to the existence of such regiments or other organizations, the following sums will be paid, respectively: To the commandant officer of each troop of cavalry, $2,000; Battery A, $1,750; Battery B, $750; signal and telegraphic corps, $1,750, and to each regimental commander a sum

NEWS IN THE SUBURBS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY

Marshal Mohan made another of his noteworthy captures late Tuesday night, in gathering in Frank Johnson, colored, of nowhere in particular. Johnson and another man were spotted lounging about the borough in a suspicious manner and Mohan stalked them. When he had seen enough to convince him that the men were up to no good, he pounced on them and secured a grip on Johnson. The other man ran, and Johnson put up a fight that prevented the officer from paying any attention to the fleeing suspect. Mohan went back at Johnson and speedily subdued him. When searched at the lock-up, Johnson's pockets bore damning evidence against him. They yielded a bottle of chloroform, a blackjack and a bunch of skeleton keys. Johnson was brought before Justice Von Minden yesterday, on a State charge, and was sent to jail for three months.

Complaint is being made by residents of New Market over the practice certain young Dunellenites make of coming to the village Sunday afternoons and stealing flowers. A number of fine rosebushes were badly damaged last Monday, and steps for legal action have been taken.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Commencement exercises of the public school will be held tonight in the audience room of the Baptist church. The graduating class, the Misses Elsie Cook, Gussie Southard, Maud Merceirs, valedictorian, and George Brick, will probably be the last class to graduate from the school, owing to the new arrangement entered into by the local Board of Education with the Plainfield Board. Rev. Charles E. Herring, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, of Plainfield, will be the speaker of the evening. Following the exercises at the church the graduates will hold a reception and dance in the assembly room of the school.

The Jerseyland Real Estate Company has purchased a large tract of land near the Park and intends laying it out in building lots. This is the reason they claim they are going to keep the Park up-to-date, even if it proves a losing venture, as they claim it will prove an attractive advertisement to help along their boom of the property.

The local fans will have an opportunity of seeing a fine game Saturday afternoon when the home team meets the Clinton Avenue team on the local diamond. The two teams met several weeks ago, but rain put an end in the fourth inning with the score 2 to 0 in favor of the home team.

The report that Manager Daab has released "Willie" Deegan from the Hoboken team does not seem to worry Willie, as he will have no trouble to fall in line with some of the fast teams.

THROWS POTASH ON HER HUSBAND LYING IN BED.

Paterson Grocer Frightfully Burned by His Wife, Who Is Said to Be Demented.

Paterson, June 14.—Max Hauser, a grocer, of 91 Market street, is dying in the General Hospital, having been burned in a frightful condition by his wife, Rebecca, who is suffering from melancholia. While her husband lay in bed yesterday Mrs. Hauser mixed a quantity of caustic potash with water and pulling the clothes from her husband threw the concoction over him.

Hauser screamed with pain, but despite his condition fought off his wife, who was trying to scratch out his eyes with her nails. Hauser has five daughters, and they ran screaming into the street. Neighbors subdued the woman and sent for the police and the ambulance. At the hospital it was said Hauser cannot live. The caustic burned his face, neck and back. Mrs. Hauser, it is said, has been demented for two weeks and was to have been taken last week to an asylum.

SCIENCE PREVENTS BALDNESS.

The Fatal Germ and Its Remedy Now Facts of Science.

It is the rarest thing in the world for a man to be necessarily bald. No man whose hair is not dead at the roots, need be bald if he will use Newbro's Herpicide, the new scalp antiseptic. Herpicide destroys the germ that cuts the hair off at the root; and cleans the scalp of dandruff and leaves it in a perfectly healthy condition. Mr. Mannett, in the Maryland Block, Butte, Mont., was entirely bald. In less than a month Herpicide had removed the enemies of hair growth, and nature did its work by covering his head with thick hair an inch long, and in six weeks he had a normal suit of hair. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

equal to $500 for each company and musical orgaization of his regiment; this money to be expended by the board of officers of the respective commands, subject to the approval of the commanding officer.

The bill also created a new medical department, which will be known as the "medical department of the militia," and will be under the control and direction of the surgeon general. All candidates for appointment as medical officers will be examined as to their ability to discharge, in a satisfactory manner, all the duties of surgeon, assistant surgeon, or hospital steward, such examination to be conducted by the surgeon general.

A sum of $30 has been allowed every officer of regiments, troops, batteries, companies, signal corps and naval reserves, for the purpose of aiding them in providing themselves with the arms, uniforms and equipment as provided by the regulation and bill of dress of the State. The appropriation will not be forthcoming this year, owing to the fact that no provision was made for such in the appropriation bill which was recently passed by the Legislature.

STOKES' NAME TO SEVEN BILLS.

Governor Signs Assemblyman Martin's Measure Amending the Practise Act.

Trenton, June 14. — Governor Stokes did not go to Seabright Monday to address the Funeral Benefit Association there, as it was announced that he would do. Instead he sent a telegram stating that the press of public business at the State house would prevent his being present. He did not appear at his office in the Capitol until after noon, however. He signed eight bills yesterday and vetoed two.

Those disapproved are Assemblyman Heck's measure, No. 7, which repeals the Hillery maximum tax law, and that of Mr. Marelli, No. 450, which increases the term of office for constables from three to five years. The objection to the Heck bill given by the Governor is that the new Hillery act repeals the same law repealed by the bill. The Marelli act is vetoed because the increase of the term of office of constables from three to five years does not seem to meet any public demand.

The bills which tne Governor signed are:

House 127, Mr. Scott, which authorizes governing bodies of cities to pass ordinances to grade, pave, curb, etc., streets, becomes operative by referendum.

House 355, by Mr. Mills, legalizes borough ordinances already passed and recorded, whether or not they have the approval of the Mayor indorsed upon them.

House 171, Mr. Martin, amends the practise act.

House 441, Mr. Dippel, increases the pay of county boards of examiners for teachers, except county suerintendent, from $10 to $25.

House 374, Mr. Drake, amends the act relative to procedure in committing insane persons to State hospitals for the insane.

House 147, Mr. Walsh, authorizes two or more municipalities to jointly construct and maintain outlet or trunk sewers.

Senate 18, Mr. Lee, providing for the making of channels in the counties of Cape May and Atlantic.

House 521, for the Speaker, supplement to the volunteer firemen's act.

Harmless!!

Not a Grain of Opium, Morphine or Other Injurious Ingredients in the Celebrated Piso's Cure for Consumption.

PROVEN IN COURT.

In the remarkable trial, costing over thirty thousand dollars to the real Piso Co., alone, and in which this company proved in open court where they had cured case after case of consumption, advanced even to the point of hemorrhage, and which The Piso Co. won on the evidence of persons from every part of the country and from every walk in life, for coughs, colds, consumption and all forms of throat and lung diseases, the sworn testimony given proves it to be a real "Wonder Worker."

Nor was this all that was proven under oath at that trial before the Superior Court of Cincinnati, Ohio. It was shown conclusively that it left no habit or desire, that a patient stopped its use because he was cured, and didn't think of it again until it was needed to cure another cold.

Parents testified under oath that they had given Piso's Cure for Consumption freely to their own children for croup and for colds. No harm had ever resulted and in one case a three-year-old youngster drank half a bottle because he liked the taste. The mother was very much alarmed and wanted to send post haste for a doctor, but the father who had used the remedy for many years laughed at her and the child was let alone. Not a bad symptom developed. Indeed, nothing happened.

A BEAUTIFUL LITTLE BOOK IS SENT FREE to any one that wants or needs to read it. Its title is "How a Consumptive Ought to Live." Send today.

Piso's Cure for Consumption is for sale at all drug stores, has been selling steadily and increasingly for 50 years and costs but 25 cts. a bottle. The Piso Co., 198 Piso Building, Warren, Pa.

SAVES CHURCH FROM REVERTING TO HEIRS.

Yale Graduate Does It By Securing Pastor for Murray Hill Congregation.

Murray Hill, June 14.—St. Luke's Reformed Episcopal church, said to be the smallest complete church of its denomination in the country, after remaining for seven months without a regular pastor, has at last secured one in the person of Rev. George Read, a recent graduate of St. Luke's Reformed Episcopal Theological Seminary, Philadelphia. Frederick Rubsamen, a recent Yale graduate, who was instrumental in obtaining the new pastor, has been the main prop of the little church for a long time. Seven months ago, when it was left without a pastor through the resignation of Rev. W. A. L. Jett, and the church property was in danger of reverting back to the heirs, Mr. Rubsamen himself assumed the role of lay pastor and conducted the services. Rev. W. D. Stevens, of Emmanual Reformed Episcopal church, Newark, and Rev. Robert Rudolf, of the First Reformed church, New York city, frequently assisted the young man in his work by preaching in the church. Herbert S. Fish, of Murray Hill, was also a great help to Mr. Rubsamen. The other officers and the congregation have done their share, and the church has maintained a high standard. The history of this church is an interesting one. In 1888 seven members of the Reformed Episcopalian denomination held services in the Murray Hill railroad station. Mrs. Samuel H. Bassenger, the first wife of the late Samuel H. Bassenger, was one of these, and in 1890 she and her husband built the present church and presented it to their fellow believers. Rev. W. A. L. Jett, the first pastor, came from Virginia in 1891 with his wife and young daughter. Dr. Bassenger's wife, who was an invalid, died in 1893. She left a legacy to endow a home for aged and infirm ministers near the church, which has since been built and used for that purpose. She also left a clause in her will to the effect that if services were not held in the church for an interval of six months the property and buildings would revert back to the estate. About a year after her death there was a short courtship between Dr. Bassenger, who was over seventy, and Mr. Jett's young daughter, which resulted in their marriage. Mr. Jett's first resignation was in 1897, and a young man from a seminary, Rev. D. T. VanHorne, preached for a few months, but he went to India as a missionary, and Mr. Jett was recalled. An addition was built to the church in 1903 from another legacy left by Mrs. Bassenger, consisting of a bell tower. The bell was donated by the "Buds of Promise" Society, composed of the children of former Mayor Ernest Rubsamen. Mr. Jett resigned in October, 1905, when his son-in-law, Dr. Bassenger, was on his deathbed. The latter died December 1, 1905. The church now has a membership of about fifty. Rev. George Read will move here this week, and will occupy the pulpit on Sunday. The wardens are F. R. Rubsamen, senior warden, and Harry Young, junior warden. The vestrymen are E. R. Rubsamen, Percy Fish, Bert Fish, Eugene Farewell, Harvey Dean, George Sawyer, Harry Young, W. T. Decker and John Parker.

POLITICAL EPIGRAMS.

In the course of his remarks at the graduating exercises of Union College, of which Rev. Dr. A. V. V. Raymond, former pastor of Trinity Reformed church, is president, Mayor George B. McClellan framed some maxims and epigrams that will make his speech rank as one of the best commencement day addresses of the season. The distinguished son of "Little Mac" gave a practical lesson in politics, urging the college youths to adopt public life as a profession and not as a trade. Here are some of his sagely sayings:

A professional politician may be a statesman; a political tradesman may be a criminal.

Politicians are no more made to order than are lawyers or doctors or clergymen or soldiers.

Those of you who are called to the profession of politics should answer.

There is no such thing as "honest graft."

If you abuse a public man long enough and vleverly enough you will end, by making him either famous or infamous.

The public is a hard master to serve.

Politics, as well as religion, has its martyrs.

We are cursed by the worship of opportunity.

Mediocrity swims with the tide, while greatness struggles against it.

It takes courage deliberately to breast the popular current.

It is not always the man who fills the most columns of the newspapers that accomplishes the greatest results.

We Americans are a curious combination of scoffers and hero-worshippers.

Civilization increases and public morals improve as the years go by.

The rank and file of the politicians in this country are sound.

A partnership, even with Providence, cannot be one-sided.

Too few men enter politics as a profession.

There is a sad over-supply of political tradesmen.

There is no royal road to success in politics.

The prizes (in politics) are few, but they are as numerous as in any other profession.

Two dollars has been received from M. E. D. for the poor widow who is the sole support of two children, making the total fund thirty-two dollars.

Cadet N. Pendleton Rogers, Jr., U. S. Military Academy, at West Point, has been promoted to color sergeant of the corps of cadets in consequence of his high efficiency and military standing. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Pendleton Rogers, of East Front street.

IS BISHOPS' BILL LEGAL?

Lindabury and Hudspeth Urges New Law be Tested in Supreme Court.

IS IT CONSTITUTIONAL

Rub Comes in Fifth Section—To Find Out How the Law Works.

Trenton, June 14.—Despite the interest in the Senatorial fight and in the insurance and riparian investigation, the liquor question continues to loom up. Richard V. Lindabury, of Essex, and ex-Judge Robert S. Hudspeth, of Hudson, have submitted opinions to the brewers and saloonkeepers, advising that the Bishops' bill be taken to the Supreme Court about the first of July, or just before the law goes into effect. The result of this legal decision naturally renders the opinions of the temperance element of interest.

Though ex-Judge Gilbert Collins drafted the original Bishops' bill, he was assisted by Peter Backes, of this city, who spoke freely about the situation today. He said it was, in his judgment, a close question whether the fifth section of the act which was finally enacted was not unconstitutional. He said he had urged Senator Avis and the committee to be careful how they reported this proposed amendment. He told them he was fearful what view the court might take of the question if it were carried up. Though he had not seen the opinions of Meers. Lindabury and Hudspeth, he was inclined to believe tney based the appeal on the phraseology of that section.

Going further, however, Mr. Backes said that, while the court might declare the fifth section unconstitutional, he saw no reason why the rest of the bill should be thrown out. He considered the balance of the bill entirely constitutional, and believed it would be declared so by the courts. While the elimination of the section in question might cripple the situation somewhat, he thought the measure would not be injured much eventually.

Unless the courts hurry the case along after a fashion rarely adopted, it will be February before both courts have passed on the subject. One side or the other will be pretty sure to appeal to the higher court from the decision of the Supreme Court. The large number of reversals of the lower court by the higher in the decisions rendered on Monday last makes an appeal all the more certain. So in the natural course of things the election will be held and the Legislature will convene and be in session several weeks before the courts finally give the decisions.

Mr. Backes is preparing to ascertain the present condition of affairs in the various towns, cities and counties of the State. He expects to send a circular letter to all the town, city and county clerks about July 1, asking how the regulations are enforced, whether they are prescribed by ordinance or law, whether the saloons are open on Sunday, etc. This was the plan Mr. Backes adopted while tne bill was pending before the Legislature. The answers were numerous and intelligent.

The temperance people are much interested in Mayor Fagan's fight in Jersey City to enforce higher license fees. They believe that Mayor Fagan, assisted by the priests and the better element, will win out, although there seems to be some doubt as to the expediency of the action at the present time. If Mayor Fagan's campaign is successful he will accomplish in Jersey City just what the Bishops' bill would accomplish in all the cities embraced in its provisions, namely, cut out a lot of the small saloons which cannot afford to exist under a higher license fee.

Senator Wakelee, of Bergen, is apparently in a quandary. He is a member of both the committee to investigate the insurance companies and the committee to investigate the riparian board and its conduct for some years. He cannot meet with both committees at once. He says he means business in both cases, but seems to think the insurance investigation has the floor just at present.

Chairman Avis of the riparian investigating committee is urging Mr. Wakelee to arrange his affairs so he can be present at the riparian hearings, which Mr. Avis wants to have begin without further delay. Mr. Wakelee is expected to come to some decision by the end of this week.

HELD STRAWBERRY FETE ON NEW CHAPEL SITE

BRILLIANT AFFAIR OF WARREN ENDEAVORERS SCORES A SUCCESS.

On the site of the new chapel, at Fairview and Watchung avenues, the Christian Endeavor Society of Warren Chapel held its first strawberry festival last night. The affair was a complete success.

The grounds presented a brilliant appearance when the festival opened at 7:30 o'clock. Japanese lanterns to the number of 225 or more were strung about, and flags and bunting were hung in profusion. All the tables scattered about for the serving of cream were decorated with flowers, and the booths were dressed with different colors. The candy booth was decorated in green and white, the ice cream booth in red, white and blue, the lemonade booth in two shades of green, and the cashier's booth in purple and white. The grounds looked very much like a miniature carnival, and the large crowd that attended was delighted with the effect.

All the cream and cake was sold, and the net proceeds were over $100. The money will be devoted to the furnishing fund of the new chapel.

Music was a feature of the affair. It was furnished all through the evening by the Liberty Brass Band of twenty pieces.

The general committee in charge of the affair was made up of the Misses Hattie Squires, Nora Schenck, McKane, May Christafferson and Minna Bock. The lemonade booth was in charge of Charles Bryan and William Kenney; ice cream booth, Theodore Martin and Mrs. Charles Schenck; cake, Mrs. Gibson Smith; strawberries, Mrs. Underhill; candy, Miss Minnia Bock.

Theodore Martin assisted the committee greatly in preparing the grounds. J. W. Gavett gave the society all the dishes used. The committee was delighted with the way in which the neighbors assisted them. Kitchens all about were thrown open to them, and the chapel members were made to feel that the new church home would be heartily welcomed to the neighborhood.

COULD NOT MAKE REPORTS AND NOT BREAK LAWS.

For That Reason Stokes Turns Down Bill Requiring State Boards to Report Before Summer.

Governor Stokes yesterday afternoon vetoed Assemblyman Morgan's bill requiring all reports from State boards and State officers to be delivered ten days previous to the annual session of the Legislature, unless otherwise directed. The vetoed message filed with the bill follows:

"This bill is disapproved. Its object is wise, but under our present laws its provisions could not be carried out. The only two reports of consequence now printed at the opening of the Legislature are the reports of the State treasurer and comptroller. It is practically impossible for some of the departments to present their reports until after the first of February, notably the reports of the commissioner of banking and insurance, parts one and two, and the reports on banks, and the railroad and canal report issued by the comptroller's department. The railroad and canal report is made from the reports of the railroads as to conditions on December 31. These reports are frequently not received until two months thereafter. It would be hardly fair to place upon the statute books an act which could put the State officials in a position of dereliction of duty, when by reason of other laws they could not comply with the provisions of this act."

SIXTY-FOUR INDICTMENTS.

Union County Grand Jury Completes Its Labors and Reports.

The Union County Grand Jury came into court this morning and returned thirty additional indictments, making a total of sixty-four in all, thus concluding its labors for the present term. There were also two presentments, one calling on all Justices of the Peace and peace officers generally throughout the county to see that the law concerning the carrying of concealed weapons is strictly enforced. The case of the Italian, who shot and killed a fellow-countryman in Cottage place, was an instance of a violation of the law cited.

The other presentment was that regarding the enforcement of the law prohibiting persons from throwing refuse into the Rahway river. It was charged that property-owners and others living along the banks of the river were found guilty of this, thus making the stream dangerous to health.

After presenting its report the usual presentation was made to the foreman of the Grand Jury and the clerk.

GOT HIS MONEY BACK.

Tale of a $25 Loan Repaid 2,400 Per Cent.

A Plainfielder was stopped by a fellow-townsman on West street one day last week and asked for a loan of $25.

"I'll be honest with you," said the toucher. "I want to play the races."

The touchee looked at the toucher thoughtfully.

"Look here," said the latter, "I'll not only pay you back, but I'll give you half of my winnings."

He got the twenty-five.

Next day he stopped the lender on Broadway and pulled him into a cafe. From his change pocket he fished five $5 bills and handed them over. After this phenomenon had had time to soak in, he fished some more bills from his trousers pocket and counted six $100 notes into the other man's hand. Then he waved a light good-bye and jaunted gayly away.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

June 10: "Christian Education a National Safeguard"—II Chron. xvii, 7-9.

By REV. WALTER J. YATES, D. D.

"The love and fear of God is indeed the keystone of the political arch." So wrote one of the wisest of modern statesmen and an authority in jurisprudence.

The pillars on which the arch must rest, if it rest securely, are the integrity and intelligence of the common people.

The early settlers of various sections of this country saw clearly that no free government could long stand unless the young people were properly trained intellectually and morally. In many sections they erected a meeting house, as it was called. Here they met on all public occasions, religious and political. And often it was the schoolhouse also.

They made no mistake in supposing the young could be fitted for life's duties by a purely secular education alone. In New England especially the town made provision for the support of the minister and the schoolteacher by the whole people. The young had religious instruction in the home also. Whoever studies attentively the history of our country cannot fail to discern the potent influence the school and church have had on our destinies as a people.

Hitherto all attempts to break down our free school system in favor of any sectarian interest has met well deserved defeat. No one will claim that our system has yet reached the highest possible development and efficiency, but compared with the systems of other lands it is far superior for us to any other yet devised.

Our church schools are supplementary to the public school system, and in no sense or degree should be made competitors or antagonists. So far as we can now discern private and denomination beneficence will be needed to give the proper complement and supplement to the free school and state college system.

Our Education society, by its aid in loans to the needy students in our own schools, is doing a vast good, not only to the individuals assisted, to the church in aiding in the proper equipment of preachers, teachers and missionaries, but also to the land and nation in securing the adequate training of such selected ones as those to whom the aid is given.

The manual training and technical schools of all kinds and degrees throughout the land are worthy of all needed support. Such institutions as Tuskegee in Alabama, under the management of Booker T. Washington, for negroes, and Mount Hermon at Northfield, established by Mr. Moody, are doing grand work.

But a wider and deeper work is being done in the schools of our own Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education society. The country is not yet fully awake to the duty which the emancipation of the slaves placed on this nation. The issue has never been fairly faced. There is in dire reality a negro problem. There is a real "white man's burden," which this nation will have to lift or under which it may be crushed.

It is not to be settled in politics. It cannot be adequately stated in one article nor in many in magazine or newspaper. It is more than the question of labor or ballot or social equality.

The negro race of our southland must be educated in a Christian way or it will weight this nation down with an inert mass which no power can carry. The only hope is in our Christian schools. The New York Independent in a recent issue shows conclusively the attempts made in many states of the south to keep the negro in ignorance by withholding funds from public schools. Many if not the majority of whites in the south, if the public press and officers of state speak correctly, are much opposed to the education of the negroes, holding that it will unfit them for the menial position which it is determined they shall alone occupy, but the ignorance of a part will ever prove the degradation of the whole people.

Backbone of Character.

Character is made up of small duties faithfully performed, of self denial, of self sacrifices, of kindly acts of love and duty. The backbone of character is laid at home, and whether the constitutional tendencies be good or bad home influences will, as a rule, fan them into activity. Kindness begets kindness, and truth and trust will bear a rich harvest of truth and trust. There are many trivial acts of kindness which teach us more about a man's character than many vague phrases.—Smiles.

Use of the Tongue.

James ever hangs perfection on the one matter of the use of the tongue. The tongue, in his view, is like the rudder of a ship in its importance. The rudder is a little thing, but it turns the great ship. So the tongue is a little thing, but what it does has terrible consequences, even as a little fire may kindle a great conflagration. Because of its power a good man will guard its use.—Robert E. Speer.

Do It Today.

That deed of kindliness you would do—
Do it today.
That word to help your brother be true—
Speak it today.
The time is rapidly passing by
When service is open, and you and I,
If we mean to answer our neighbor's cry,
Must do it today.

That straying one that you mean to seek—
Seek him today.
That helping hand for one who is weak—
Give it today.
Be helpful today—how foolish to wait
Till dear ones pass through the pearly gate
And then remorsefully cry, "Too late!"—
Help them today.

MRS. APPLEGATE WELL AGAIN!
"I have had a bruised leg and foot for several years, caused by the brass eyelets of my shoe, which became very sore and painful especially at night. It itched, burned and ached me till it nearly set me crazy. I used everything I found and was suggested to ease it and nothing gave me any relief till I found and applied Azienza Cream which I think is a wonderful remedy for all sores and inflammation of the skin. The hard knots on my legs were as painful as bee stings, with discolored and purple spots. A running sore on my instep size of a half-dollar; the top of my foot a seething sore clean around to my heel. The bone was sore for a whole year and very painful. I used five and one-half jars of Azienza Cream and healed the sore all up. The foot remained tender and I continued to use to strengthen and toughen the skin until now it is entirely well." (Signed) Mrs. Hannah Applegate, Evergreen Ave., Avon, N. J., Sept. 3rd, 1905. 50 cents. Ask the druggist or by mail. Azienza Specialties Co., Jersey City, N. J.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

By REV. S. H. DOYLE.

Topic.—The glorified life.—John xvii, 1-10, 22-24.

The seventeenth chapter of John contains what is called Christ's "intercessory prayer." It is His prayer for His disciples following His address to them after the institution of the Lord's supper and preceding His entrance into the garden of Gethsemane just before His arrest and subsequent crucifixion. In this address and especially in the prayer the subject of glory has an important place, and it very appropriately does so. His life of trials and tribulations is almost over. Within twenty-four hours His work on earth will have been done, and He will have entered into the glory which was His before His coming to this sin cursed earth. The shadow of the cross is immediately before Him, but even this fact cannot keep out the glory soon to be His and later to be His disciples'. Little wonder, then, that glory should be a principal theme in His last address and last prayer before His crucifixion. That over and the glory of the resurrection was soon to follow, then the glory of the ascension and then eternal glory as a reconciling Saviour at the right hand of God.

In this prayer Christ speaks of the glory of God, the glory of Himself and the glory of His disciples. Of the Father He says, "I have glorified Thee on earth." God's gift to man of His Son is His supreme glory on earth. "The heavens declare the glory of God," but in no sense to the high degree that Christ's death declares it. The angels forever taught this fact when at His birth they sang, "Glory to God in the highest." Christ also speaks of His own glory. "I have glorified Thee on earth * * * and now, Father, glorify Thou me with Thine own self with the glory which I had with Thee before the world began." And last of all Christ speaks of the glory of his disciples, "And the glory which Thou gavest me I have given them." And thus are linked together the glory of God, of Christ and of man. God's glory is to be given to Christ and through Him to His disciples, and thus divine glory is a part of the life of all heaven.

This life of glory even begins on earth, but it obtains its full fruition in heaven. Like Christ, the glory on earth shines through clouds of darkness—"dark Gethsemanes and cross crowned Calvaries"—and, like Him, the crown of glory comes through the cross of suffering. "If we suffer with Him, we shall reign with Him." And last of all Christ speaks of the Christians' supreme glory in heaven—beholding His glory. That will be our chief glory.

When by His grace
I shall look on His face,
That will be glory, be glory for me.

Evangelistic Endeavor.

In the Christian Endeavor society of the First Baptist church of Chicago last season a band of workers signed a pledge, the results of which were remarkable.

It read thus: "I promise to attend the regular preaching services and after meetings of our church unless absolutely prevented and to request at least one stranger or visitor to remain at each after meeting and take part in these meetings if there is an opportunity."

Out of the large results from the keeping of this I was led to propose a special pledge to help Endeavorers carry out the suggestion to co-operate with their pastors in every evangelistic effort.

That pledge is as follows:

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR EVANGELISTIC COVENANT.

By God's help I promise prayerfully to—

Co-operate with my pastor in every evangelistic effort that he may make as far as I may be able;

Invite my unconverted friends and acquaintances to our services and welcome them when they come;

Attend the regular preaching services and after meetings of our church unless absolutely prevented;

Request at least one stranger or visitor to remain to each after meeting and take part in these meetings if there is an opportunity;

Endeavor to win at least one person to the Saviour within a month.

THE SPENDERS

By HARRY LEON WILSON

Copyright, by Lothrop Publishing Company.

"That's excellent. Now, Mr. Bines, I like him and I dare say you've done the best thing for him, unusual as it was. But don't grind him. Might it not be well to ease up a little after he's out there? You might let it be understood that I am willing to finance any of those propositions there liberally—"

"No, no—that ain't the way to handle him. Say, I don't expect to quit cussin' him fur another 30 days yet. I want him to think he ain't got a friend on earth but himself. Why, I'd have made this play just as I have done, Mr. Shepler, if there hadn't been a chance to get back a cent of it—if we'd had to go plumb broke—back to the west in an emigrant car, with bologna and crackers to eat, that's what I'd have done. No, sir, no help fur him!"

"Aren't you a little hard on him?"

"Not a bit! don't I know the stock, and know just what he needs? Most men you couldn't treat as I'm treatin' him; but with him, the harder you bear down on him the more you'll get out of him. That was the way with his pa—he was a different man after things got to comin' too easy fur him. This fellow, the way I'm treatin' him, will keep his head even after he gets things comin' easy again, or I miss my guess. He thinks I despise him now. If you told him I was proud of him, I almost believe you could get a bet out of him, sick as he is of gamblin'."

"Has he suspected anything?"

"Sure not! Why, he just thanked me about an hour ago fur savin' him—made me shake hands with him—and I could see the tears back in his eyes."

The old man chuckled.

"It was like Len Carey's Nigger Jim. Len had Jim set apart on the plantation fur his own nigger. They fished and went huntin' and swimmin' together. One day they'd been swimmin', and was lyin' up on the bank. Len got thinkin' he'd never seen anyone drown. He knew Jim couldn't swim a lick, so he thought he'd have Jim go drown. He says to him: 'Jim, go jump off that rock there!' That was where the deep hole was. Jim was scar't, but he had to go. After he'd gone down once, Len says to him: 'Drown now, you damn nigger!' and Jim come up and went down twice more. Then Len begun to think Jim was worth a good bit of money, and mebbe he'd be almighty walloped if the truth come out, so he dives in after Jim and gets him ashore, and after while he brought him to. Anyway, he said, Jim had already sure-enough drowned as fur as there was any fun in it. Well, Len Carey is an old man now, and Jim is an old white-headed nigger still hangin' around the old place, and when Len goes back there to visit his relatives, old Nigger Jim hunts him up with tears in his eyes, and thanks Mister Leonard fur savin' his life that time. Say, I felt this mornin' like Len Carey must feel them times when Jim's thankin' him."

"HAS HE SUSPECTED ANYTHING?"

Shepler laughed.

"You're a rare man, Mr. Bines. I'll hope to have your cheerful, easy views of life if I ever lose my hold here in the street. I hope I'll have the old Bines philosophy and the young Bines spirit. That reminds me," he continued, as Uncle Peter rose to go, "we've been pretty confidential, Mr. Bines, and I don't mind telling you I was a bit afraid of that young man until yesterday. Oh, not on the stock proposition. On another matter. You may have noticed that night at the Oldaker's—well, women, Mr. Bines, are uncertain. I know something about markets and the ways of a dollar, but all I know about women is that they're good to have. You can't know any more about them, because they don't know any more themselves. Just between us, now, I never felt any too sure of a certain young woman's state of mind until copper reached 51 and Union Cordage had been blown up from inside."

They parted with warm expressions of good-will, and Uncle Peter, in high spirits at the success of his machinations, had himself driven up-town.

The only point where his plans had failed was in Mrs. Wybert's refusal to consider Mauburn since the [illegible] Casselthorpe twins. Yet he felt that matters, in spite of this happening, must go as he wished them to. The Englishman—Uncle Peter cherished the strong anti-British sentiment peculiar to his generation—would surely never marry a girl who was all but penniless, and the consideration of an alliance with Mrs. Wybert, when the fortune should be lost, had, after all, been an incident—a means of showing the girl, if she should prove to be too deeply infatuated with Mauburn for her own peace of mind—how unworthy and mercenary he was; for he had meant, in that event, to disillusion her by disclosing something of Mrs. Wybert's history—the woman Mauburn should prefer to her. He still counted confidently on the loss of the fortune sufficing to break the match.

When he reached the Hightower that night for dinner, he found Percival downstairs in great glee over what he conceived to be a funny situation.

"Don't ask me, Uncle Peter. I couldn't get it straight; but as near as I could make out, Mauburn came up here afraid the blow of losing him was going to kill sis with a broken heart, and sis was afraid the blow was going to kill Mauburn, because she wouldn't have married him anyway, rich or poor, after he'd lost the title. They found each other out some way, and then Mauburn accused her of being heartless, of caring only for his title, and she accused him of caring only for her money, and he insisted she ought to marry him anyway, but she wouldn't have it because of the twins—"

Uncle Peter rubbed his big brown hands with the first signs of cheerfulness he had permitted Percival to detect in him.

"Good fur Pish—that's the way to take down them conceited Britishers—'

"But then they went at matters again from a new standpoint, and the result is they've made it up."

"What? Has them precious twin Casselthorpes perished?"

"Not at all, both doing finely—haven't even had colic—growing fast—probably learned to say 'fancy, now,' by this time. But Mauburn's going west with us if we'll take him."

"Get out!"
